

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR, DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY

Try This! Hair Gets Thick, Glossy, Wavy and Beautiful at Once.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain!—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents.—Adv.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of sage tea and sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—Adv.

DRIVING TOWARD PEACE TREATY

President Wilson and the Premiers Are Hurrying to Avoid Further Unrest

MEETINGS WILL BE CONTINUOUS

Till a Treaty of Peace Shall Have Been Drawn Up

Paris, Tuesday, March 25 (By the Associated Press).—In President Wilson's study at the Paris "White House" occurred today the first gathering of premiers under the plan proposed by the president, that continuous meetings be held until great questions which have been obstructing the early conclusions of the peace treaty should be resolved. The session began at 11 o'clock this morning, was resumed after lunch and continued into the evening, with no other councils or conferences to distract the attention of the president and the premiers. It marked the initial step by this super-council in taking direction of affairs and in meeting apprehension due to the revolution blazing up in eastern Europe.

It is expected that many sharp divergencies will have been reconciled before the next meeting of the council of ten, as the four conferees intend to continue their work until this is accomplished. Mr. Wilson and the premiers spent a large part of the day on the questions of reparations by Germany and an early disposal of this problem was expected when the meeting began.

The Russian situation, particularly in relation to the political upheaval in Hungary, was considered at today's conference, and it was understood that boundary questions would also be taken up.

During the day the Hungarian revolt and its effect in bringing bolshevism into central Europe was also, without doubt, examined, as experts had prepared a huge map showing the vast extent of bolshevik authority which now embraces virtually half of Europe. On this map heavy red lines mark the outer limits of bolshevik authority, with red arrows showing the main avenues of advance westward. This line around Russia takes in Hungary and shows bolshevik infection in parts of Ukraine, Lithuania and other independent sections of Russia.

The premiers also had access to reports showing the extent of disorder in all sections of eastern Europe, including private reports of a grave character concerning regions in the southeastern part of the continent and around Odessa which have not yet been made public.

HARD WORK GOING TO DANCE.

Newell Parker, with the A. E. F., "Biked" It 25 Kilometers Through Mud.

Pet. F. Newell Parker, with the A. E. F. in France, has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Parker, of Spaulding street, a letter which his acquaintances in Barre will be glad of an opportunity to read. It is dated Feb. 28. He says:

"Last Saturday was a holiday for us and believe me I made the most of it. There is a bunch of fellows in our department that call themselves the Coolie club and they decided to hold a banquet and dance Saturday night at St. Honorie Les Bains, a town about 25 kilometers away. I was one of the lucky ones to be invited and believe me I had some time. We tried to get a couple of trucks, but it was impossible, so we decided to get there any way we could, foot, train or bike. Sergt. Jack Bauer, a friend that I have made in the M. T. C., and myself decided to try and make it on bikes.

"For a wonder, Saturday morning the sun came out and it was very fine, so we started out about 9 o'clock and took the road along the canal. It was pretty hot and tiresome after we had been riding a short time and when we got to Cerey La Tour, seven kilometers away we were willing to stop for a time and have a drink of wine.

"After a short rest, we started on our way again along the canal, but soon had to take the road. We hadn't ridden along the road for more than 100 yards before we came to a place where the fields and road were covered with about three feet of water. We didn't know just what to do, as it was the only road that we knew of and the village of Vandenesse was just around a bend. We waited a while, thinking someone might come along with a donkey and cart and carry us over, but nothing doing, so we decided to ride along the canal a little farther and then try and cross the fields. At last we came to another road, but that was also covered with water. As luck would have it, we met a French soldier, who showed us how to ride through it, but both of us had to get off and walk when we got in the middle of it.

"At last, after a long and mighty tire-some ride, we arrived at St. Honorie, pretty near all in. We rode up to the hotel about noon and the lady came to the door and began talking to us in English. You ought to have seen the dinner that she set before us. Gee, it sure did make me homesick, as it was the best feed that I have sat down to since I have been in France—two or three kinds of meat, potatoes, salad, wine and real pie. It seems that this woman used to be in Boston and came back here since the war.

"After dinner we dried our clothes and then went out to look the town over. There isn't much doing there now, but it must be a wonderful place in summer, as there are mineral springs and baths there. There are about 30 hotels and some of them are very large and handsome. Believe me, I am going to find my way up there again this summer, if I am not transferred somewhere else by that time.

"At 6 o'clock about 40 of us sat down to a swell banquet and without any exception it was one of the swiftest feeds that I ever sat down to. You sure have got to hand it to these French women when it comes to cooking pastry and such.

"We were seated till about 10 o'clock, when the young ladies came and we began to dance. Don't think much of their dancing and was pretty tired, so sat around and looked on. About one I went up in my room and got what a bed I had. First came springs about a foot high, then a mattress and on top of that was a big feather mattress, with real sheets and puffs. That sure was hard to take, after sleeping between dirty blankets for several months. Believe me, if I ever get home I'll never

... and cigarettes helped to win it

What a part the cigarette played!

In those grim, tense moments, waiting for the word to "go"; in that blessed lull, hours afterward, just before the relief party came; in those other, sterner moments when his spirit fought to smile, what was the thing he wanted most?

The cigarette!

And now, with the big job done, what so much as the cigarette will help "keep him smiling" until he's home again?

A fact:

get out of bed. I slept right through till about 11 bells and got up and had real hot water to wash and shave in.

"For breakfast I had wheat cakes, fried eggs and real coffee, the first that I have had on this side. A half hour later we sat down to another swell dinner and I sure did hate to get up. As it was raining as usual in this country, we started out about 3 and got back here about 6 o'clock all in and soaked to the skin, but happy, for once. It sure was the best time that I have had and the best that I expect till I get home.

"Have put in application for a seven-day furlough and probably will get it in a couple of months, but don't know as I will have much of a time, as money is pretty scarce with me, although we get our pay regularly, but $13.50 a month doesn't go far. At one time I thought I was going to get home sometime this summer, but I guess that I am out of luck as usual and expect to spend another fall and part of a winter here unless I get a pull to get me back.

"You ask about our clothes. We sure have enough to carry around, and as it hasn't been really cold here, we have got along O. K., although it was bad when we were sleeping on the haylofts. About the only thing one needs in this country is a rain coat and hip boots.

"Well, will ring off for now and get to bed. Am sending along some cards and the menu of our banquet. Let me know if you get them O. K."

SCHOOL GIRL TELLS OTHERS

How They Can Find Relief From Periodic Sufferings.

Nashua, N.H.—"I am nineteen years old and every month for two years I had such pains that I would often faint and have to leave school. I had such pain I did not know what to do with myself and tried so many remedies that were of no use. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and decided to try it, and that is how I found relief from pain and feel so much better than I use to. When I hear of any girl suffering as I did I tell them how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me."—DELINA MARTIN, 29 Bowers St., Nashua, N.H. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, therefore is a perfectly safe remedy to give your daughter, who suffers from such painful periods as did Miss Martin.

The reason so many girls write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice, is because from their 40 years experience they have a store of knowledge which is invariably helpful.
