

No Medicine-Chest Without Its Family Laxative

From the baby to the grandparent a good laxative is the necessary medicine in the little ills. It wards off serious sickness and saves doctor's bills. Many a cold has been prevented from running into grippe and pneumonia by its timely use.

Many a racking headache has been quickly dispelled by it. And it is a laxative rather than a drastic cathartic or purgative that should be in every family medicine-chest, for a laxative can be used at all ages.

Thousands of good American families have for more than a quarter century used a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known to druggists as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a laxative- tonic that acts on the bowels and stomach. Infants take it with perfect safety, and it is equally effective for grownups.

Grandparents are now seeing their children give it to their babies. It is excellent for all the family in constipation no matter how chronic, indigestion, wind colic, biliousness, headaches, dyspepsia and similar ills.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

Reports Say That the Men Are Being Treated Well

Archangel, Wednesday, April 2 (By the Associated Press).—At allied headquarters this afternoon it was reported that the situation was unchanged on all fronts. The enemy has made no new attacks since being severely repulsed yesterday, but the artillery on both sides continues active in the Odozerskaia sector.

After the bolsheviks had held a position for several hours astride the road between Bolshoia Ozerka and Odozerskaia on Sunday afternoon they were driven out, and prisoners report that their losses were extremely heavy. One shell from a Russian battery exploded in the midst of a party of bolsheviks, killing 15 men. The allied machine gun fire also caused many casualties. It was during the period when the

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Just try it! IRISH QUESTION WAS DEBATED

Sir Edward Carson Urged Postponement to End of the War

NEAR A REVOLUTION, DECLARED IN IRELAND

Capt. William A. Redmond Held the Government Responsible

London, April 4.—The House of Commons debated the Irish question last evening, liberal members endeavoring to elicit some indication of the government's policy. The most notable point in the debate was reached when Sir Edward Carson urged a postponement of the question until the end of the war and declared that at present he regarded the question of reconstruction in Ireland, with education, health, housing, and similar matters, as far more important than "the raising of old controversies over home rule."

Joseph Devlin, a nationalist leader, said he thought Sir Edward's speech was "the most powerful indictment of British rule in Ireland."

Captain William Archer Redmond of Waterford said:

"Ireland is almost on the verge of a revolution and the government is responsible. Let the government say frankly whether it intends to repeal the home rule act."

Sir James Ian MacPherson, making his maiden address as chief secretary for Ireland, replied to the criticisms made by members of the House. After indicating that measures were projected to improve educational facilities and housing, he said:

"The political unrest in Ireland is unabated and outrages of the most cruel and unforgivable kind are occurring. That is why it is necessary to have military forces there to maintain order. Ireland is one of the most prosperous countries in the world, but she must be freed of the shackles of terrorism. The menace of Sinn Feinism, with its cruel and wanton oppression, is an enemy of constitutionalism and progress. There can be no self-determination on constitutional line under Sinn Fein rule."
