GIRLS! HAVE A MASS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR, SOFT, GLOSSY, WAVY

A Small Bottle Destroys Dandruff and Doubles Beauty of Your Hair

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderrine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair, and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderrine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderrine.—Adv.

RANDOLPH

Mrs. W. S. S. Buck has been quite ill this week with an attack of indigestion, which affected her heart seriously.

Mrs. E. W. Carlisle went to Northfield Tuesday to remain over Easter Sunday with her sisters.

Mrs. Leslie Rumlill, who has been several weeks in Barre with her sister, Mrs. Tenney, is now here at her home to remain for the season.

Mrs. Ben Comstock and her youngest child went to South Royalton Tuesday to visit her mother for a few days.

Mrs. Bonnet arrived here Tuesday from St. Johnsbury and has taken rooms in the home of Mrs. G. W. Pridé, where she is to make her home for the present.

The annual meeting of Phoenix lodge, F. and A. M. was held on Tuesday afternoon at the Masonic hall, when the annual reports were received and officers were elected as follows: W. M., E. F. Kibby; S. W., L. S. Brigham; J. W., Charles C. Morse; treasurer, A. G. Osgood; secretary, A. J. Huse.

The appointive officers will be made known later and all will be installed together at some date, which will be announced.

Mr. and Mrs. George Waters moved their household goods from storage on Tuesday and have gone to housekeeping in the house of Mrs. G. L. Spear.

Mrs. Harry Chase accompanied her daughter, Miss Helene Ranney, to Boston on Sunday night, where she expected to meet Mr. Chase, whose headquarters are in the city for the present.

Miss Ranney will take a stenographer's position in Greenfield, it is expected.

The eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Chadwick was taken with an attack of appendicitis last Friday, and he was rushed to the sanatorium for an operation on the following morning.

Since that time, the boy has been very ill, but is now thought to be improving. The family moved from Bethel this week into the Dr. Gifford house on Highland avenue, known as the Thayer place.

John Dumas is passing several days here with his parents, returning from Montpelier Monday, where he was an over-Sunday guest of his brother, Frederick Dumas.

Mrs. L. S. Cleveland left Tuesday morning for Boston, where she will pass two weeks with her daughter and husband, Mrs. H. A. Skinner.

Lucius Webb, who is critically ill at his home in East Granville, was not as well Tuesday and his sister, Mrs. Fannie Vinton, who is here, was summoned to that place. Mr. Webb's son, Commander Webb, who has also been critically ill with erysipelas at the hospital in Charleston, S. C., was thought to be more comfortable at the last accounts.

Horses

Will arrive in Randolph, Vt., Friday, April 18 with a carload of CANADIAN HORSES bought off the farms, ranging in weight from 1,200 to 1,500. R. B. OSHA

HARDWICK

Mrs. Eliza Magoon, 95, Active and Does Considerable Work.

Mrs. Eliza Magoon, one of Hardwick's oldest residents, observed her 95th birthday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Smith, last Friday, April 11.

This old lady retains all her faculties and is an active woman and able to do quite a good deal of work.

M. M. Stooker, county highway commissioner, was in town Monday in consultation with the selectmen and road commission relative to highway work the coming season.

H. S. Peck of Burlington was a visitor in town Monday.

Miss Ila Hoyt of Johnson was at her home here over Sunday.

R. H. Blake and wife of Swanton visited friends in town over Sunday.

K. S. Belmont has moved into the Wheatley house on Kellogg street.

The listers are getting along fairly well with their work. They have not been burdened with applications from the women to pay poll taxes if they want to vote.

Miss Marian Webber visited relatives at the county seat over Sunday and Monday.

Eddie Barr, jr., of Barre, was a guest of former friends here Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Mary Waters was at her home in Johnson last Saturday.

John Falvey was home from his work in Barre over Sunday.

Eddie Pope, a member of the 26th division, who was nine months in a German prison camp, was at home from Camp Devens last Friday and Saturday.

The Hardwick boy scouts, 47 strong, hiked to Herb Smith's sugar orchard last Sunday afternoon and got away with a generous amount of the sweet product, as well as 100 of the nicest home-made plain doughnuts and as many pickles, sandwiches and cakes.

To show their appreciation of the generosity of their hosts, the boys left Herb a dozen good cigars. The 10-mile round trip was made in two hours, which was some hiking, considering the condition of the roads and fields.

The boy scout orchestra was in Johnson last Friday night to furnish music for a dance. They will furnish music for a dance at North Montpelier April 25, Pythian hall here May 1, May ball in North Hyde Park, May 2, a community dance at Greensboro May 9, and may play in Stowe May 5, date undecided upon as yet.

This orchestra is fast gaining an enviable reputation for snappy music and no doubt this summer will have all the engagements they can fill. They have recently got out some neat advertising cards.

The sugar season is practically over in this section, most of the sugarmakers having made about a pound to a tree on an average.

DECLARES THIS IS IDEAL REMEDY FOR SPRING ILLS

This Vermont Woman Was Run Down and Weak Until She Used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Do you find it hard these spring days to apply yourself to your work? Do you feel tired, without ambition or energy? These are the symptoms of a condition which our grandparents used to meet each spring with a tonic and medical practice to-day supports their wisdom.

Weak blood frequently causes indigestion, lack of appetite, sleeplessness, exhaustion and palpitation of the heart. All of these symptoms will yield to the right tonic as was demonstrated in the case of Mrs. John Gregware, of No. 61 South Main street, Barre, Vt. She says: "I generally need a tonic in the spring but last year I was so badly run down that I was a great effort for me to do my work."

Several years ago I had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided to give them a trial again and found them even more effective than usual. After taking one box I recovered my strength, felt like doing my work and had no feeling of exhaustion nor spells of breathlessness. I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fine spring tonic and have recommended them to several of my friends."

The purpose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is to build up the blood. They do this for one thing and they do it well. They are for this reason an invaluable remedy in diseases arising from bad or deficient blood, as rheumatism, neuralgia, fainting, effects of the grip and fevers. The pills are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any harmful drug and cannot injure the most delicate system.

"Building Up the Blood" is a booklet full of useful information. Every mother and every growing girl should have one. It is sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, fifty cents per box; six boxes for $2.50.—Adv.

Man Named Drown Was Saved

George L. Drown, the well-known box-maker of 22 Cherry St., Burlington, Vt., was in pretty bad shape with stomach trouble when Goldine saved him further discomfort. Mr. Drown says: "Yes, I'd be glad to tell anyone about Goldine and how it helped me. I suffered for three months with stomach trouble. Everything I ate seemed to lodge in the passage into my stomach, and I suffered terrible distress."

"Finally I heard of Goldine and began taking it. I have an appetite like a horse now since taking Goldine and feel better in every way."

PLAINFIELD

The theme of "Naughty, Naughty!" is not, as the name would indicate, a travesty on light opera, but a true life story of a girl. It entirely lives up to its reductive title and shows the struggle of a girl to overcome the deep-rooted prejudice of her charming, though old-fashioned, sweetheart, with what success will be seen at the Plainfield opera house April 18. We also have a Mack Bennett comedy, entitled, "Tanning Target Center." This is one of the best comedies ever shown, so don't miss this show. Come everyone and have a good time.—adv.

COAL INFORMATION

This Space is Purchased By the Barre Coal Dealers in Order to Explain in Detail to Their Customers the Coal Situation

Coal is so essential in our daily life that it may be called a public utility. For the past two years almost insurmountable difficulties have surrounded the trade. In the face of these difficulties in the fuel situation, Barre has been cared for and better protected than the majority of cities in New England. This has been due to the co-operation of the Consumers, the local Fuel Committee and the Coal Dealers: the Consumer by his willingness to conserve coal and substitute other fuels; the Fuel Committee by its fine work in equalizing and superintending the distribution; and the Coal Dealers by the energy displayed in securing large stocks and their rigid adherence to the rules of distribution as laid down by the local Fuel Board.

War conditions have passed, but pre-war conditions have not returned. It is our purpose to give to the public such information as we have, relative to coal, under the existing conditions.

Price

In making up the schedule of prices for coal, the Fuel Administration investigated the cost of doing business of the coal dealer, in order that it might allow him in the prices it fixed a fair return on his investment. It is important to note that after this investigation prices were not reduced by the Fuel Administration, showing that the Retailer had not been exacting undue and improper profit from his customers.

In viewing the present fuel situation and the probable cost of coal, it is well to inspect carefully the various elements which go to control the prices of coal.

In the first place, the Dealer's cost of doing business has materially increased in the last three years; his labor costs are higher; his delivery system is more expensive; and his overhead expenses have increased, as has that of every other business. In addition to this, since last spring there have been two increases in the price of coal at the mines, the first of 30c per ton and the second of $1.05 per ton. During the same period, the Federal Railroad Administration has imposed two raises in freight rates, the first of 15c per ton and the second of 60c per ton. Consequently, causes over which the local coal dealer had no control have increased the cost of each ton of coal since last spring, approximately $2.10. The coal dealers must also pay a 3 per cent war tax on freight rates paid. This amounts to about 13c per ton.

When you pay out $1.00 for coal, you are only paying one-fourth of that dollar for the actual heat-producing material which comes out of the ground. Seventy cents out of each dollar spent for coal goes to the labor which mines it, handles it when it reaches the surface, loads it into cars, hauls it to destination, unloads it from the cars, hauls it to your dwelling and delivers it into your coal bin.

When you realize that 70 per cent of the cost of coal represents labor cost, and you also recall the tremendous increase in the cost of labor during the past three years, then you will begin to understand why the price of coal has gone so high; but, even in spite of this, the retail price of practically every essential commodity in the same period has increased more than has the retail price of coal.

Supply

There is no surplus of mined coal. In normal times the supply just about meets the demand, and any curtailment of output results in a corresponding shortage during the winter months. Production during the past three months has fallen below the average. Weather conditions are to blame. Mild weather has made us forget the rigors of last winter, and we are not worrying about next winter. All of this will result in an increased demand and probable short supply next fall and winter, due to the difficulties of operation and transportation that are always with us in any normal winter. Labor itself will not be plentiful in the mining regions. It is important to know that over one-half million foreign-born, unaturalized laborers have applied to the State Department for passports to Europe, and of these the biggest proportion come from the mining regions of the country. This means obviously a still further shrinkage in mining labor to be added to the 30 per cent shrinkage of last year in that class of labor.

From the above facts it is evident that there will be no surplus coal this winter. Do not wait too long before getting your supply. Don't let yourself become indifferent or complacent over the reduced amount of fuel you used this winter. This has been an unusually mild season, and the records of the weather bureau show that the average temperature of this winter has been many degrees higher than normal.

It is not safe to count on next winter being like this past one. It is your business to prepare for the coming winter. Talk it over with your coal man. He will gladly give you any information he may have.
