St. Aldemar Commandery, No. 11, Knights Templar, handed church officers in a body at the Congregational church yesterday morning, there being about 75 of the members out in uniform. They occupied a section of the auditorium which had been reserved for them in the front of the church.

The following announcement in the Brattleboro Reformer will be of interest to many friends in Barre of Dr. Dewey S. Darling: "The engagement of Dr. Dewey S. Darling of South Ryegate and Miss Helen Badger of Lowell, Mass., has been announced this week. Dr. Darling, who is engaged in rural dentistry, is making his headquarters in Brattleboro."

Under the auspices of the civics department of the Barre Woman's club, Miss Louise M. Gridley, social welfare worker for the city, will outline the work being done. The meeting will be held in Howland hall Tuesday, April 22, at 2:45. Ladies are asked to bring needles and thread, thimbles and quilt pieces to cut. A large attendance is hoped for.

To-day is the last day on which any woman may go to the assessors' office and state her intention to vote at the March meeting. Ordinarily the last day allowed is the 20th of April, but, as that falls on Sunday this year, one more day has been allowed. Whether a woman owns property or not, if she wants to vote, she must go to the assessors' office and put in her application for this privilege.

Large audiences attended the Easter services in the churches of Barre yesterday, the pleasant weather of the morning serving to increase the crowds that wended their way churchward. At all the services special preparations had been made in the line of Easter sermons and music fitting for the occasion. Decorations also were in keeping with the observance of the day. In nearly all the churches the children had their parts in the day's observance, the Sunday schools being assigned special exercises.

A general fire alarm at 6 o'clock last evening was sounded from box 21 by a young man who happened to be standing near the City Wine Store in the A. Tomasi block on North Main street. William Mahoney noticed a blaze in the rear of the store, summoning immediately the young man to ring the alarm. Upon the arrival of the fire truck, the front door was found to be locked, whereupon Robert Stewart kicked the door open, breaking the Yale lock without damaging the glass. The contents of one chemical extinguished the blaze, confined solely to a barrel of rubbish, which stood near the wall. How or when the fire became ignited remains a mystery to those in charge of the place. Practically no loss was suffered by either proprietor or landlord, as only a small amount of plaster was removed from the wall to determine satisfactorily whether or not the danger was over.

Soldiers enough to form a good-sized squad met at the depot last night when about to return to their encampments. Most of them were members of the Yankee division, home for 72 hours' furlough. Among the numbers were: George Booth of the 101st ammunition train, Alexander Robertson of the 103d machine gun battalion, Clifton Trebley of the 18th company, Stanley Averis of the 101st field artillery, George Bartlett of the 102d machine gun company, Frank Paul of the 104th infantry, Cecil Dowers and Ernest Lafayette, Private Arthur Nicora of Camp Merritt, N. J., also returned to his post after a brief visit at his home on Beckley street.

About 30 friends and relatives of Pvt. Alex. Robertson met at the home of Arthur Pirie of Maple avenue Saturday evening to welcome the soldier back among his former acquaintances. Almost two years have elapsed since "Scotty" joined the colors at Fort Ethan Allen, and after several months' training he was transported overseas, where he came face to face with the Hun at Chateau Thierry, Verdun and Chemin des Dames.

Three gold stripes on his left sleeve indicate his 18 months' service overseas and, excepting three months' convalescence from a couple of wounds, the rest of the time was spent turning the Boches back toward the Unter den Linden, for which he also received the croix de guerre, also a citation from his commanding officer. Notwithstanding the hardships of trench life and the marks of the German scum from his friends were pleased to see him look much as he did two years previous. Dancing occupied the attention of the celebrators and at intervals songs were rendered by Mrs. James McLeod and Mrs. Alex. McHaffie. Refreshments were served by Mrs. George Robertson and Mrs. Pirie. Pvt. Robertson returned to Camp Devens last night, where he expects his discharge after the parade of the 26th in Boston this week.

NEW BLOOD GAVE HER ENERGY FOR DUTIES OF HOME

Found Housework a Drudgery Until She Tried the Tonic Treatment.

Many men and women are tired all the time. What most of these people need is a tonic that will revitalize the blood.

That tired feeling is one of the symptoms of anemia, and it is generally accompanied by a pallor, a palitation of the heart after waking upstairs, indigestion and sleeplessness.

Mrs. Stephen Murphy of No. 74 Dartmouth street, Manchester, N. H., might still be suffering as many other men and women are suffering to-day had she not discovered the right tonic in time. She is anxious therefore that others should share her good fortune. She says:

"Overwork and irregular eating hours undermined my strength and health about three years ago. My stomach was so weak that nearly everything I ate caused severe pain, and there was an almost constant pain in my left side in the region of the heart. I was very weak and could hardly do my work. I was melancholy and worried constantly. At night I rolled and tossed so that what sleep I got did me little good.

"A woman who had been benefited by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills one day advised me to try the remedy and I started the treatment. In two weeks' time my stomach improved and after I had taken the pills for nine weeks I was completely restored to health. I sleep soundly now and am rested in the morning. I eat anything I want without discomfort and the pains in my left side have disappeared. My housework is no longer a drudgery for I do not get tired easily. I have told many of my friends about what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me."

Your own druggist can supply you with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or you can order direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., enclosing 50 cents for one box or $2.50 for six boxes. Write to-day for the free booklet "Building Up the Blood."—Adv.
