John S. Lowe, general superintendent of Universalist churches, will speak at the Universalist church this evening at 9 o'clock instead of 8, the latter hour being chosen on account of the band concert. The subject of the speaker's address will be "The Reconstruction Period."

Mrs. R. W. Sollinger, a former resident of this city, for the past seven weeks has been visiting friends in Barre, among whom were Mrs. Clifford Gamache of 5 Laurel street. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Sollinger left for Burlington, where she intends to spend a few days before going to her home in Albany, N. Y.

There is an excellent opportunity for half a dozen men between the ages of 18 and 40 to enter the aviation service. Byron N. Clark, Y. M. C. A. secretary at Burlington has word from a captain in the service that he can use that number of men. Anyone interested can either send their name to Mr. Clark, give it to Charles Pamperl, Barre, or leave it at this office.

Mrs. Homer Sowles received a cablegram yesterday, informing her that her husband, Lieut. Homer Sowles, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Sowles of Beckley hill, had sailed from France on the Leviathan. His wife left last night on the midnight train for New York in order to meet her husband, who is expected to reach New York by Thursday morning. Lieutenant Sowles sailed with the 11th sanitary train of the 36th division.

Those desiring to attend the Spaulding alumni banquet to be given at Hotel Barre June 19 must signify their desire to the committee on or before Saturday, June 14. The committee is relying on the return of the cards recently sent to each individual and either a negative or affirmative answer should be given at once so that the exact number to cater for can be arranged. Give this your attention now.

A meeting open to the public and one which it is hoped will be largely attended will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the city court room to listen to the report of the committee appointed at a previous meeting to look into the matter of the purchase of a community house by the city. This committee was to investigate the advisability of making the purchase of the amount of rent to be available from the proposed move and whether it would meet the requirements of the city. This committee is now prepared to report. Let there be a large attendance to hear it.

Friends of John Aletti received word yesterday from him, stating that he had landed at Hoboken, N. J., and is now stationed for a brief time at Camp Merritt. From there he expects to be sent to Camp Deserres before the end of this week, the time set by him to receive his discharge from the 309th infantry of the 78th division. About a year ago he enlisted in Montpelier, together with several other men from Barre and was shipped to France with the 57th Pioneers, later being transferred to the 309th. He is a brother to Mrs. P. Cassinelli of 13 1/2 Cottage street.

Frank Fraquelli, wife and child, Raymond, bade adieu to their many friends in this city yesterday afternoon before starting their journey to Royal Oak, Mich., a small town 10 miles from Detroit. For a number of years Mr. Fraquelli has been a successful business man in this city with interests in the Vanetti Granite Co. and the Vanetti and Fraquelli fruit store on North Main street. Mr. Fraquelli for several weeks has been preparing for his departure, and to this end he moved all his household goods to Royal Oak as well as several carloads of rough granite. He enters the firm of the Royal Oak Monumental works, having purchased many shares of the stock from his cousins, who are at the head of the firm.

The two large windows at the front of the J. J. Hastings tire repairing shop at 371 North Main street, shattered to pieces when the vulcanizing machine exploded May 27, were replaced yesterday. This completed the setting of 34 windows broken by the explosion, in which two men narrowly escaped death. One man, the proprietor of the place, had been leaning over the machine just about 10 seconds before the explosion happened. In fact he had just straightened up from bending over the machine and was leaning upon the next vulcanizing machine, not two feet away, when a piece of iron flew to the ceiling and broke many of the boards. The addition that was then being built has since been completed, though the new vulcanizer, purchased to replace that destroyed by the accident, has not yet arrived.
