

HEALTH OFFICER SYSTEM STARTS

State Board of Health Announces Appointments for Nine of Ten Districts

DR. CLARENCE H. BURR IN BARRE DISTRICT

Cities and Towns of 5,000 Population May Have Own Health Officer

The Vermont state board of health announces the division of the state into 10 sanitary districts, according to the district health officer law enacted by the last legislature, and also the appointment of nine of the district health officers. Under the provisions of this act, all physicians will be required to placard houses in which occur cases of communicable disease coming to their attention. Placards for this purpose will be placed in the offices of the town clerks so they will be readily obtainable by physicians and others. Heads of families in whose household occur cases of communicable disease which are not attended by physicians will be required to report immediately to the district health officer and also under his orders secure suitable placard from the town clerk, which must be placed upon the house.

Cities and towns of 3,000 population and over may have the services of their own local health officer if they provide for the salary and expenses of such an officer and, in such cases, citizens should report to their own local health officer instead of to the district health officer.

The law providing for this system goes into effect July 1, and arrangements are made for its operation in all districts except that comprising Rutland county. If appointment is not made in this district before July 1, local health officers of all towns included in the district will be continued in their work until such appointment is made. Maps showing divisions in the state and headquarters of the district health officers will be posted in public places in all towns so that the citizens may be fully informed on the subject.

Selection of district health officers has been made with great care by the state board of health, over 40 applications having been considered for the positions. All district health officers will meet at the state board of health building in Burlington during the week beginning June 16, at which time every phase of the law will be gone over carefully in detail and a uniform method of procedure and policy decided upon for all conditions. Every man so far appointed is fully alive to the responsibilities of his office, and it is expected that all physicians and citizens will give their entire co-operation to this work.

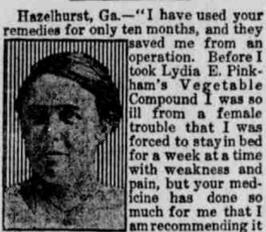

Vermont is one of the three states in the union to inaugurate the district health officer system this year, the other states being Ohio and Alabama. Several other states have such an organization in prospect and it is probable that the system will gradually extend. The Vermont organization, however, is unique in several important details and the whole country is therefore looking to this state for demonstration of the benefits of such an organization.

The list of towns included in the districts and the health officers who will preside in these districts is as follows:

THIS WOMAN FOUND HEALTH

And Escaped an Operation by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Hazelhurst, Ga.—"I have used your remedies for only ten months, and they saved me from an operation. Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was so ill from a female trouble that I was forced to stay in bed for a week at a time with weakness and pain, but your medicine has done so much for me that I am recommending it to all suffering women. It certainly is a great medicine and is a sure road to health for women. You may publish this letter if you like."—Mrs. W. C. LITTLE, R. F. D. A, Hazelhurst, Ga.

Women who suffer from headaches, nervousness, backache, the blues and other symptoms of a functional derangement should give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such ailments of women after other medicines have failed. If you want special suggestions in regard to your condition, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of long experience is a prompt service, and your letter will be held in strict confidence.

BUSINESS MANAGEMENT COURSES.
In Learning to Overcome Their Own Handicaps Disabled Soldiers Train to Become Managers.
Washington, D. C., June 13.—One of the courses given by the federal board for vocational education to soldiers disabled in the war, that opens up a promising future, is that of business management. The nature of this work is such as to require not only very special training, but the possession of certain personal qualifications. This necessitates a very careful survey of the applicants for this course, in order to insure their making good. Sound judgment needed in adjusting the relationships of the workers to the work, and a practical knowledge of the work itself are essential to success. The board is supervising the training of men in this course. Physical handicaps are not necessarily hindrances to success in the business manager's job. A high grade of intelligence is the chief requisite.

MONARCHISTS GROW STRONGER

German Volunteer Troops Give Only Surface Obedience to Present Govt.

MILITARISTS OPOSE SIGNING THE TREATY

Council of Four Reached an Agreement on Letting Germany into the League

Paris, Thursday, June 12 (By the Associated Press).—Latest American diplomatic information from Berlin indicates an increasing probability of the treaty being signed if a plebiscite in Silesia is granted and admission to the league of nations is promised.

Conference information, however, is derived largely from opponents of the existing government and is not highly reliable. Military reports from Berlin, on the other hand, reflect the French viewpoint that signature of the terms is improbable. Monarchist and conservative forces are described as developing increasing strength with the improvement of the discipline and numbers of volunteer troops, who are said to give only surface allegiance to the present government and whose leaders oppose the signature of the treaty, unless important changes in principle are accorded.

The council of four reached an agreement in principle on the admission of Germany to the league of nations last night and left the drafting of the details to Andre Tardieu, who completed his work to-day.

The departure of Colonel House for London means the first absence of an American delegate and marks the approach of the end of the conference.

The allied reply to the terms will be made by meeting and without ceremony. The five-day limit allowed the Germans will be supplemented by another three-day period, which is specified for denouncing the armistice.

The reply to the German counter proposals will be printed in French and English at the national printing works and will cover about 50 pages. It is expected it will be published in full after it is handed to the Germans.

THETFORD

The annual meeting of the trustees of Theetford academy was held Wednesday, June 11, in Lathrop memorial building. A proposition to the town was formulated, which will appear in the warning to the special town meeting to be called for July 1. The meeting was adjourned to Tuesday, June 24, at 1:30 p. m., when the selectmen, school board, superintendent and others interested will be invited to meet with them for a general discussion of the proposition. Those in attendance from out of town were T. W. D. Worthen from Concord and H. M. Miller of West Fairlee. George L. Worcester, who was in attendance at court in Chelsea, was excused to attend the meeting.

Mrs. Susan Simonds, 84 years old, who has boarded at East Theetford for two years, died at the hotel Wednesday morning. She once lived in Lyme and for many years in Lebanon. She was attended and cared for at the last by a son and daughter.

A. K. Sennott, for many years a workman at Portsmouth navy yard and late of Rochester, came to this town to engage in farming on the Mandigo place. Two or three days of it satisfied his longing and he headed back for his old job without waiting for his family to arrive.

Fred Garey is on the sick list. Rev. F. W. Bates and E. H. Sargent attended the Grafton-Orange association conference at Newbury June 6.

There was a bee at the hill Tuesday to grade the street. Good progress is being made with plans for the centennial celebration on June 27. Many old students are planning to come back and several class unions will be attempted. A caterer from Hanover will serve a banquet in a large tent at noon. It will be a great feed for $1. There will also be after-dinner speeches, a meeting in the church at 2 p. m. and a grand rally in the evening. The church is not without its historic interest, being the oldest church in continuous use in the state. All roads lead to Theetford the 27th.

Mrs. E. S. Locke and son, Raymond, of Waits River visited her sister, Mrs. M. L. Knight, the last of the week.

Mrs. Menta Taylor and daughter, Olive, from Laconia, are visiting at M. T. Pressey's.

A Vermont Rascal.
Most every town has got, I guess, A chronic case of wickedness, Some scout to whom no sheep belong Who smells of mutton mighty strong; Who, minus cow and apple trees, Enjoys his cider with his cheese; A gay old rat, with income slim, Yet outwardly it does for him; Of course, if he should break his leg He'd have to sue the town or beg.

He drives a horse that's adder blind And never has her shod behind; He teams a little—more or less, With that old long low seat express, The tailboard marks on which are thought By most to mean a charge of shot; He's been a met by Doctor Price; The night the butcher shop was burnt He went to home, the sheriff learnt.

His wife's the kind that likes to shine, And would if she was yours or mine; She likely comes from "down below" And likely dressmaked years ago; Her snow-white hair, black silk and veil Are all that keeps him out of jail; The moment that her dress departs For church, he greets his horse and carts To fish up Barrett's brook, and then Down Story's brook a-home again.

The boy that builds a dam and gets A pair of pretty trout for pets, Some summer morning wises his eye For old Bill Boyd has seen 'em fry; The day you put away your meat He's 'round a-looking sharp and sweet; Your new potatoes, however new, He's sure to taste ahead of you; You've got to watch your butnut trees The very night there comes a freeze.

No fowl will ever roost in peace Till Bill's dishonest breath shall cease; No scrubber door will rest content Till Bill's suspicious life is spent; All piggery pens will feel a chill Till exarvation tackles Bill; The one comfort folks can draw From this old life opposed to law Is, that it may be counted on He'll have no graveyard when he's gone.—Daniel L. Gady, in Burlington Free Press.

LEMON JUICE FOR FRECKLES

Girls! Make beauty lotion for a few cents—Try It!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost. Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless and never irritates.—Adv.

INVEST IN SAVINGS STAMPS.

Put Interest on Second Liberty Loan Into the Securities. Reinvestment of second Liberty loan bond interest in thrift or war savings stamps is urged upon the citizens of the city of Barre by Mayor Glysson.

The government will make a semi-annual interest payment on the second Liberty loan June 15, at which time $36,638,376.63 will be turned over to investors in the 11th federal reserve district.

"Many of our citizens own second Liberty loan bonds," said the mayor. "The treasury department has urged that all who can take this interest money and reinvest it in thrift or war savings stamps. It is profitable patriotism and I trust that the citizens of Barre who own second loan bonds will do as the treasury department has requested.

"Arrangements have been made so that you can exchange your Liberty loan interest coupons for thrift or war savings stamps at the postoffice. Our postmaster has a sufficient supply of these government securities on hand to exchange for your coupons and will be pleased to accommodate you. War savings stamps are always cashable at the postoffice on 10 days' written notice. "I appeal to all patriotic citizens of Barre who own second Liberty loan bonds to get thrift or war savings stamps with their interest coupons June 15. We have too much civic pride to do less than our neighboring cities. They are planning to roll up a big total in war savings stamps sales on June 15 and to do it largely through their interest coupons. Let's get busy and make Barre lead the procession."
