PIMPLES SO BAD COULD NOT WORK

On Face and Hands. Itched. Cuticura Healed.

"Little pimples began on my face and hands and they made me lose sleep. They always scaled over and were large and red. They were very sore and itched. I could not do my regular work and they looked badly. The trouble lasted two months before I used Cuticura. I wrote for a sample which did so much good I bought more, and I used two cakes of Soap and one box of Ointment when I was healed." (Sig. ed) Miss H. Daigle, R. F. D. 2, Fort Kent, Me.

Prevent further trouble by using Cuticura for the toilet.

DEMPEY CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY SPARRING

Challenger for World's Pugilistic Championship Is 24 Years Old—Willard Resumes Boxing After Day's Lay Off.

Toledo, Ohio, June 24.—Jack Dempsey, challenger for the world's heavyweight championship, will celebrate his 24th birthday to-day exchanging punches with his sparring partners in preparation for his title contest with Jess Willard here July 4. Children living in the vicinity of Dempsey's quarters, with whom he is a prime favorite, planned to surprise him with a birthday cake.

Willard planned to resume boxing to-day after yesterday's lay-off. The champion said he was entirely satisfied with the progress he is making and thought a day of idleness would be beneficial to his condition. Dempsey considers honors even for the jolting that Sergeant Bill Tate, a giant negro sparring partner, gave him in their workout Sunday. Dempsey knocked Tate out yesterday.

In the first round Tate went along easily, seemingly content to stay on the defensive and back away from Dempsey's driving attack. But when it came Tate's turn to face the challenger again, Dempsey tore into him and in less than 10 seconds had him stretched on the canvas.

CONSTANT PAIN AFTER EATING

The Tortures of Dyspepsia Corrected by "Fruit-a-lives"

Sr. MARTIN'S
"For two years, I suffered tortures from Severe Dyspepsia. I had constant pains after eating; pains down the sides and back; and horrible bitter stuff often came up in my mouth. I tried doctors, but they did not help me. But as soon as I started taking 'Fruit-a-lives' (or Fruit Liver Tablets) I began to improve and this medicine, made of fruit juices, relieved me when everything else failed."

SCAPA FLOW OUTRAGE TO BE STUDIED

To See If Terms of the Armistice Were Violated by the Germans in Sinking the Surrendered German Ships.

Paris, June 24.—The council of three has referred the question relative to the sinking of the German fleet in Scapa Flow to a commission of experts which will determine whether the armistice conditions were violated.

LONG TENSION WAS RELIEVED

When Word Came to Paris That Germany Would Sign

INSTEAD OF INVITING FURTHER INVASION

Final Day of the Strain Was One of Great Excitement

Paris, Monday, June 23 (By the Associated Press).—Long months of strain during the peace negotiations and weeks of doubt whether Germany would accept the conditions offered or would invite by her refusal of them a further invasion of her country ended to-day when a note announcing Germany's unconditional acceptance was delivered to the supreme council of the conference.

The announcement during the early morning of the council's decision to refuse a further extension of time in which Germany might answer inaugurated a day of extreme tension. It was generally known to the public and conference diplomats that only a few hours separated them from the portentous decision. The first light came in a press dispatch from Weimar about noon, stating that Germany had decided to yield, but nothing was heard from Versailles until shortly after 3 p. m. A telephone message from Versailles then announced the arrival of the German reply, which, it was known to a few of the initiated, was favorable. The first definite announcement, however, was made to American correspondents, at the French press headquarters at the Quai d'Orsay at 4 o'clock, it being stated that an affirmative reply had been delivered to Colonel Henri, liaison officer between the Germans and the peace conference, who was bringing it to Paris by automobile.

It was not long after the reply had been received and opened before the supreme council that guns began to boom from the forts around Paris and rejoicing crowds began to stream through the streets, having been apprised by the sound of the cannon that the Germans had accepted the allied terms. Allied flags were hung out from windows. Automobiles loaded with cheering doughboys and excited Poles passed through thoroughfares. Bells throughout the city were pealing everywhere and cheering animated throngs gave evidence of the joy with which the Parisian crowds welcomed the end of the long years of agony and tension.

The celebration soon assumed a more tumultuous character and by 8 o'clock in the evening Paris seemed bent on indulging in an excited demonstration of joy. Bands of students had taken possession of the German trophy cannons, ranged on either side of Champs Elysees from the Arch of Triumph to Place de La Concorde, and were dragging them in a procession through the city, each cannon carrying its burden of cheering youths. Special editions of newspapers, with huge captions: "Peace has come," were dispatched from news saloons by excited Parisians going home from work.

Plans for the ceremony attending the signature of the treaty were considered by the supreme council to-day. It is known that President Wilson favors making it as simple as is consistent with the nature of the event, and the original plans for the conclusion of "the second peace of Versailles" have been materially modified at his suggestion. The plenipotentiaries will be seated on a raised dais in the center of the vast Hall of Mirrors in the chateau of Versailles, upon which will be installed the table upon which the treaty will be signed. The program does not contemplate any set addresses, but it is believed that both Premier Clemenceau and the leading German delegate may make short speeches. The delegations will come to the table when called upon by Secretary Paul Dutasta to affix their signatures opposite the seals which will, prior to the event, be fixed to the instrument.

The announcement of Germany's acceptance of the treaty has thrown the Hotel de Crillon, American headquarters, into wild confusion. Because as to the uncertainty as to the date on which the treaty will be signed, experts, officers and clerks who will return on the George Washington with President Wilson have been ordered to be ready to leave on Tuesday night. Consequently, trunks, bookcases and military bags were to-day tumbled into the corridors in great disorder and American soldiers rushed about in an effort to get baggage to stations as quickly as possible so that the personnel of the mission might be ready to leave at once should the treaty be signed on Tuesday.
