RANDOLPH

The Orange County Suffrage Convention Opened Tuesday Afternoon.

The Orange county suffrage convention opened on Tuesday afternoon with a good attendance, and a good corps of speakers. The program was carried out as planned and was as follows: "Present Status of Suffrage in Vermont," Mrs. Olfendamp of Woodstock; "Status of Suffrage in the Nation to-day," Mrs. Wilson; "How to Make Vermont Safe for Democracy," Miss Ann Batchelder of Woodstock; "How to Win," Miss Shuler; "Political Aspects of Suffrage in Equal Suffrage States," Mrs. Brown. Mrs. Brown is a resident of Utah and is passing a few weeks in South Royalton. She said in her remarks, that her great grandmother had the right of ballot, her grandmother, her mother and herself, and knew of the effects of the right of franchise. In Utah, Mrs. Brown declared, "suffrage was as dead an issue as slavery." Her remarks from the first were very interesting and of great help to all. The evening session had a much larger attendance. Mrs. Melvin Church, her sister and her son, the latter just returned from service in France, arrived here on Tuesday from Springfield, Mass. Rev. Fraser Metzger went to Lawrence, Mass., on Tuesday to deliver the address before the graduating class of the high school at that place. BETHEL

William H. Hartwell, Aged 71, Native of Tunbridge, Died Tuesday.

William H. Hartwell, aged 71 years, died yesterday after a long illness with heart disease and rheumatism. His early life was spent in Tunbridge, his native town, but about 40 years ago he came to this village, where he resided ever since. He married Agnes Cowdery and after the death of her father bought the Cowdery property in 1882, which since was his home. His only son, John C. Hartwell, was killed by a high-power wire at the quarries seven years ago and his wife died two days later, without knowing of her son's death. Mr. Hartwell was a stonecutter and in company with the late Edwin Kittredge carried on a monument business several years. He also was associated at another time in the same business with the late Edwin Sturtevant. Bethel granite as a commercial product then was unknown. In the early days of the town the immense deposits of the whitest granite in the world, undeveloped until 17 years ago, were known as "the ledges." Occasionally a pair of patosts or a hitching post or a set of door steps were made from the granite which later was to enter into the construction of the nation's noblest buildings. Mr. Hartwell's funeral will be held to-morrow at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. Wesley Miller officiating, with burial beside his wife and son at Cherry Hill cemetery.

One of George Burrell's large horses was injured quite seriously yesterday at the playground when a jagged pointed stick of granite punctured a hind leg near the body. The horse stepped on one end of the stick in such a way as to drive the other end with great force into the flesh. Dr. G. A. Best was called and thought the horse could be saved. Grading the playground for a baseball field and other purposes now is in full progress and is a large task, which when completed will give Bethel the best municipal playground in this part of the state.

Prof. and Mrs. Perley B. Spalding and their niece, Miss Eno, of East Granby, Conn., arrived yesterday at E. E. Spalding's for a visit. Miss Elizabeth Pease is visiting Misses Ivy and Irene Wright at Hampton Beach, N. H.

Miss Grace Davis of Manchester, N. H., accompanied Miss Annie Davis home yesterday from a visit in that city. Miss Katherine Bartlett is home from Springfield, Mass., and Miss Margaret Bartlett from Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester S. Perkins of Leominster, Mass., are here on their wedding journey. The bride is well remembered here as Annie M. Swinney and she was married June 22 in Leominster by Rev. William Crawford of the Methodist church. The bridegroom, whose home was in Bucksport, Me., recently was discharged from the army.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Clifford of Burlington are visiting their son, C. G. Clifford. Mrs. Lizzie Avery of Washington visited her home, Mrs. Warren Tuller, recently. Mrs. Curtis of Orange visited her cousin, Mrs. F. J. Ackerman, Saturday.

F. J. Ackerman has bought the James Straw place and is to repair it quite extensively before moving in. George Jones is to work for M. B. Eastman during his vacation.

Carrie Darling of Malden, Mass., is with her mother, Mrs. Julia Darling. Mrs. Warren Tuller and Harrison accompanied relatives to Hanover Sunday.

Mrs. Cross and Mrs. Wiggins have returned from visiting the two sons of Mrs. Cross and Ray Cross and family are now visiting Mrs. Cross. A dance at the hall Friday evening. Soldier boys in uniform free admission. Mr. and Mrs. Don Orr, William Cheney and Mrs. Archie McCullough visited in Waitfield the first of the week. All roads will lead to Chelsea July 4, and to Post Mills Thursday for the Sunday school picnic. Clara Fuller has returned from Hanover.

Mrs. Bradbury and Ruth recently visited the former's sister in Hanover, Bernard Bradbury took them down in his car. Mrs. Frank Johnson and J. Trevithick were in Waterbury last week. Friends from Lyme, N. H., were at Ira Reed's Sunday. Mrs. Reed came home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lackey were at his father's Saturday and took his sister's youngest child for their own. Vershire Congregational church—Frank W. Thompson, minister. Order of service for week of July 6: Sunday, 11 a. m.; subject, "Our Faith; What We Believe About God." 12 o'clock, Sunday school, 7:30 p. m., sermon for young people, "Stones in the Temple." Thursday, 7:30 p. m., lecture, "The Religions of China." All are cordially welcome. The following are the leaders in the Sunday school extension campaign: Captain of the reds, Warner Ford, Eleanor Latrop; of the blues, Reginald Stacy, Lizzie O'Day.
