JEALOUS OF THEIR FLAG.

Belgian Patriotic Societies Wish to Prevent German Republic Using Colors.

Brussels, June 20 (by mail).—Belgian patriotic societies are forming to take action to prevent the German republic from adopting the Belgian national colors—black, yellow and red—for its flag.

Intense indignation is manifested, and this is a bit heightened by the plea that the colors in the new German emblem will be disposed of horizontally instead of vertically.

It is generally supposed that the Belgian colors of to-day were chosen by the patriots of 1830, but the revolutionists of that year merely took for themselves the black, yellow and red which had been legendary in Flanders and the Brabant since the middle ages.

The princes of Flanders bore on their arms a black lion on a field of gold, and those of Brabant a golden lion on a field of black. The trappings of both were red. From the 13th century, therefore, the Belgian colors have been black, yellow and red.

An argument against the use of the colors by the Germans is that the Belgians have actually employed the black, yellow and red horizontally in their emblems—notably in their mercantile flags—so they consider they still have a priority on that disposition of the colors as well as the vertical use. The horizontal bars were adopted by the patriots who overthrew the Austrians in 1789. In 1830 the first flag to fly from the Hotel de Ville in Brussels was the horizontal-barred black, yellow and red.

The Belgians scorn the plea of the Germans that they have the right to use the colors because of their use by the ancient Germanic empire, of which Austria was the center. They assert that the confusion resulting from the employment by Germany as well as Belgium of the black, yellow and red would be embarrassing to the nation which had fought four years to keep its colors unswayed.

Red Cross Home Service Section.

The state of Massachusetts has provided by an act just passed a bonus of $100 for all soldiers who served during the war with Germany. The home service section can provide the proper blanks on which to apply for this bonus.

Men holding distinguished service crosses are entitled to $25 per month extra pay. If this has not been paid on discharge, the discharged man should communicate with the director of finance, discharged men's pay branch, room 3300 Munitions building, Washington, D. C.

Keep up your war risk insurance. All discharged men who have not been paid the $80 bonus and who have forwarded their original discharge paper to Washington, should send an inquiry concerning this through the home service office of the Red Cross, Jackson block, room 3, Monday, Tuesday and Saturday evenings and Saturday afternoons; telephone, 692-W, and 523-M.

The famous double Andes range will burn wood and coal and gas, and bake all in one oven. Save half of your fuel bill. Get prices. E. A. Prindle, Worthen block.

"What will stop my hair falling out?" "Parisian Sage. It will make the hair thick and glossy and prevent dandruff." says E. A. Drown & Co., who sell it under guarantee of satisfaction.—adv.

Miss Hazel Mackay, bookkeeper at the city clerk's office, will be absent for the next two weeks while having her annual vacation. She plans to visit friends in Springfield and Boston, Mass., and also in Providence, R. I.

Work was begun on the roadbed of the Washington street branch trolley line yesterday. Near the entrance of Perry street old ties are being replaced by new ones and the imbedded track is being raised to a safe height.

J. L. Winchester, who may be remembered by some in Barre as a draftsman formerly employed here, has been honorably discharged from the service of the United States and is now calling on old acquaintances and relatives.

Mrs. F. W. Hudson of 68 Franklin street, who last Tuesday evening fell down the cellar stairs, breaking a wrist and sustaining bruises about the body and a rather painful injury to her head, is fast recovering from the hard fall.

Walter A. Boutwell, who was discharged from service at Camp Devens July 7, arrived in Barre Sunday to visit his sister, Mrs. E. M. Fenwick, and other relatives this week. Next week he will return to Worcester, Mass., to resume his old position.

Notice to berry pickers: I forbid anyone trespassing for the purpose of picking berries or for any other reason whatever on the premises I now own, known as the Barber pasture, and will prosecute to the full extent of the law any person or persons trespassing thereon. F. B. Martin.

Macabees, attention: Regular meeting of Harmon review, No. 1, will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Special work, draping the charter for the late Dr. Elizabeth M. Hooper, supreme examiner. Guards are requested to be present. The record keeper will be at the hall at 7 o'clock to receive dues, as it is nearly the 20th.

At the city building Saturday evening at 8 o'clock Miss Mable Tite of Winoski, daughter of Mrs. Nellie M. Tite of Barre, was married to Frank Greenough, also of Winoski. The groom is a restaurant proprietor and was recently discharged from the 20th division. They spent the week end with Mrs. Tite of the Bolster block and yesterday left for their home in Winoski.

A meeting of the directors of the Barre Board of Trade was held last evening in the office of H. N. Parks in the Howland building. A committee was appointed to proceed with the soliciting of funds for the much desired project of the Peerless knitting mills establishments. The committee of canvassers will start out tomorrow for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not there is $250,000 of Barre money ready to boost this movement.

The Universalist Sunday school will hold its annual picnic at Woodbury pond Wednesday, July 16. Autos will leave the church from 9 to 10 o'clock. Transportation will be furnished all who wish to go. Parents, as well as children, are expected to attend. Lemonade will be furnished. Games and contests have been arranged. Those wishing transportation call Mr. Reardon or Mrs. Robert Gray. In case of rain, the picnic will be postponed to Thursday, the 17th.

Last evening at his home on Laurel street Baron de Gieren gave a surprise by 36 of his friends who came to help him celebrate his 14th birthday. A very enjoyable evening was spent with music and games. There was a piano solo by Helen Rossi, vocal solos by Lena O'Connell and Olive Canton, a piano and violin duet by Helen Rossi and Allen Baigrie. Refreshments were served by Katherine McKerron, Madeline Rooney, Helen Rossi and Lucy Venner. During the evening Ruth McKinght presented Baron a silver ring, the gift of his friends. The guests departed at a late hour, wishing him many happy returns of the day.

Farmers of the surrounding hills drew a deep sigh of relief when old Sol hung back with his scorching rays this morning for dark and threatening rain clouds which promised a cool and fruitful rainfall. Though many fields are covered with fallen hay, one wetting was readily accepted for an improvement to the other growing crops. Streams that afford a watering place for cattle in the pastures were affected by the long hot days and caused the farmers some uneasiness lest their house supply need be used for the animals; and when the first drops of the shower began to fall the haymakers gladly withdrew for a short vacation.

Miss Gladys Carr of South Barre has gone to Burlington, where she will spend the summer with relatives.

Mrs. Russell Hoyt, a nurse, has come to spend a week with Mr. and Mrs. George Hoyt of 115 Summer street.

Charles R. Gallagher is manager of the Metropolitan life insurance office during the absence of A. J. Lyons, now on a two weeks' vacation.

Miss Nannie Mitchell of Summer street has left for Joe's pond, where she will spend a two weeks' vacation from her work in Holmes' bakery.

Dr. John Drouin and brother, Alphonse Dourin, pianist in the Globe theatre of St. Johnsbury, have been visiting Miss Annie McCarthy of Summer street.

H. Nelson Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown of 6 Cliff street, telephoned his parents last evening from Camp Merritt, having just arrived in the states from France. He is expected home sometime during the week.

Though the streams furnishing water supply to the numerous electric power plants had failed to produce the necessary supply, Barre's domestic reservoirs contained ample volumes that could have held out against two weeks more of such a drought. At the Bolster reservoir the water was on the brink of overflowing since the inflowing stream had not abated to a noticeable degree. The Orange reservoir had lowered about two feet. Superintendent E. O. Lee of the water department declared this morning that there was no imminent danger of a shortage of city water.

Friends and acquaintances in Barre of Mrs. M. H. Corker of Essex Junction, formerly Miss Bernice Whitecomb of this city, will be interested in the following clipping from the Essex Junction items in the Burlington Free Press to-day: "M. H. Corker has tendered his resignation to the Essex Publishing company to take effect the 18th. Mr. Corker has been linotype operator for the Essex Publishing company over six years, during which time he has made many friends, and will be much missed. Saturday morning Mr. Corker will leave for Winter Hill, Md., where he has purchased a newspaper and job printing plant, of which he will take charge. Mrs. Corker and the children will remain here until fall."

HUNGARIAN WOMEN GAY

Despite Sufferings Incident to Bolshevist Regime.

London, July 15 (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Of all the sufferers from the bolshevist regime in Hungary, the women he saw were the least unhappy, according to H. N. Brailsford, a well-known British journalist.

He says that during his stay there he met a good many aristocrats who were obliged to work for the first time in their lives.

"Some were certainly angry," he went on, "and a few were tearful. It may have been chance, but the majority of those whom I happened to meet, especially the women, were remarkably spirited and even gay."

"I sat once in a drawing room in which each lady in turn began to recount her experiences in getting work. Most had succeeded. Most had met with courtesy and helpfulness. These ladies seemed amusingly proud to discover that as linguists, teachers or musicians, they had a value, and a rather high value, in the labor market."

"The women in this company were much happier than the men, obviously because the revolution had emancipated them and ended a somewhat idle and useless existence."

WHERE THE ENTENTE IS REAL.

Practical Form of Anglo-American Courtesy in the Near East.

The Anglo-American entente is no idle dream. Out here in the Near East it has taken practical form. Wherever an American needs help, wherever a representative or groups of American relief workers need a lift, there bobs up a courteous British officer of soldier intent on cementing the entente.

Do American Red Cross personnel need to transport supplies of personnel from Athens to Rome, to Constantinople, to Asia Minor, to Salonica, the Rumanian coast? There is room aboard a British destroyer, "subchaser" or motor lorry. For meals and transportation no charge is made.

The Balkan traveler strikes a lonely town in mid-Serbia. British officers take him to their mess. They speed Mr. or Miss America on his or her way with a liberal supply of canned goods for the trip and place a motor truck or car at his or her disposal.

"Your people have been good to us elsewhere," they explain, "and we are only reciprocating. No charge. Chalk it up to the entente."

Between American and British naval officers there is a brotherly camaraderie. And even the "gobs" have come to the conclusion that the "bimess" after all is a "pretty good old skate."

At Salonica British officers find our Red Cross girls most bewitching. At Belgrade American and British officers mess and knock about ensemble. In Bucharest they sit at the same tables in the cafe or watch the one-round boxing matches at the Alhambra from the same box.

In Constantinople, American officers head at once upon arrival for the British officers' rest houses where the meals are superlative and the Sunday night concerts are wondrous almost as the army version of "The Chocolate Soldier" in the park near the Pera Palace hotel.

In Athens officers and men of both English-speaking countries toil up to the Acropolis together, and in Rome the Young Men's Christian association cinema shows and sightseeing tours for the city include both Tommies and Yanks in equal measure.—From a Constantinople news despatch.

Something Missing.

A city youngster was paying his first visit to his uncle's farm. Among the animals on the place was a rather small foal. As the boy stood gazing at the little creature, his uncle said, "Well, what do you think of him, Johnny?"

"Why—why, he's all right," said Johnny. "But where's his rockers?"—Boston Transcript.

MONTPELIER

Brother and Sister Met Last Evening for First Time in 44 Years.

Mrs. J. C. Cunningham of Cedro Woolsey, Wash., arrived last evening for a visit with W. H. Gauthier, her brother. It was the first time they have met in 44 years. Miss Ellen Gauthier of Antrim, N. H., also arrived last evening for a visit.

The certificate of the marriage of Achilles J. Bellucci of Montpelier and Louisa J. Margarati of Northfield has been filed in the city clerk's office, the marriage having taken place at Northfield July 9 and being performed by Rev. J. A. Lynch.

C. H. Stillwell, representative of the federal government on road work and who has charge of the construction of roads under the federal aid work in Vermont, was here to-day and in company with S. B. Bates, commissioner of highways, opened bids upon several pieces of construction that were offered two weeks since. Bids on the following pieces of road work were opened: Gravel road construction of 2.8 miles in Irasburg and Coventry; 0.9 mile in Williston; 4.3 miles in Sherburne; 1.6 miles in Marlboro; and 2.4 miles of bituminous macadam in Fairlee.

S. B. Bates yesterday afternoon received notice of the fourth consignment of trucks that have been allotted to Vermont by the federal government, such trucks to be used in road construction. They must be operated on federal constructed roads either in whole or in part. The trucks are not equipped for road construction, so that considerable repair work will have to be done on them. The new allotment included two miscellaneous light delivery, two G. M. C. three-ton trucks, four miscellaneous two-ton trucks, seven Pierce-Arrow two-ton, four light aviation, five miscellaneous three-ton, three Pierce-Arrow trucks, nine Packards and four high aviation trucks. The total now consigned to Vermont reaches well toward 70 trucks.

The A. M. Pond company of Richford has filed articles of association to conduct a business in Richford. Its capital stock is $25,000, while the subscribers are A. M. and Kate A. Pond of Richford and W. C. Cramton of East Berkshire.

Secretary of State Harry A. Black this morning received the certificate of the execution of George E. Warner, who suffered capital punishment at the state's prison at 3 o'clock last Saturday morning. The paper includes the warrant signed by L. C. Moody, clerk of the supreme court, and the certificate that the conditions in the warrant were complied with at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. The paper is signed by R. H. Walker.

G. O. Boyles this morning received his bicycle which was picked up by the police Monday. It appears that the wheel was left out Saturday evening, that someone knowing this placed it in the stairway of the Union block and Monday morning it was left in front of the Rivers drug store. Chief Connolly has been looking for a wheel stolen from a Mr. Galbreath and as no one claimed this one he took it to the station. Mr. Boyles identified the wheel later in the day and this morning Officer M. S. Murray went after the machine. A few nights ago one of the policemen took into the station a package the value upon which was marked at $101. He found it on the back steps of one of the stores on Main street.

News has been received in the city of the death of Mrs. Martha M. Doty of Worcester, which took place about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. While she was ill only about 10 days, she had been in poor health, due to advanced age, for some time. She leaves a son, Earl Doty, of Worcester. The funeral will take place from her late home at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Burial will be in the Robinson cemetery.

The members of the city council enjoyed a conference with S. B. Bates, commissioner of highways, at his office Monday evening. Mr. Bates called attention to the fact that the city has not been expending one-fifth of its grand list in summer road building in the past, as prescribed by the statutes. He also called to the attention of the council that unless the work is pushed the money cannot be expended this year. He showed that over $7,000 is available for state road work, that in 5 per cent money, permanent construction and resurfacing. He suggested that cement construction be commenced, a little being done each year and that bonding should occur in cities and larger communities. If this is not done he suggested widening the road near the Green Mount cemetery. He suggested resurfacing State street, where the road has been had, by putting on a six-inch amount of surface matter and that the traction company will have to raise its tracks. He also suggested that the upper end of River street should be resurfaced to save it. This does not include oiling. A special city council meeting occurs to-night to act upon his suggestions.

Miss Grace Martin is taking a vacation from the Montpelier Savings Bank & Trust company and, with her mother, left last evening for an outing in Grand Isle. Miss Dora Edson, who is taking a vacation from her work in the secretary of state's office, accompanied them.

Mrs. F. H. Tracy has returned from a visit in Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. Bernard Lewis and children of Malden, Mass., are visiting at her former home in the city.

Mrs. Pierpont Morgan and Miss Bly Morgan of New York stopped last night at the Pavilion on their way to the White mountains.

J. D. Whittier, who has been employed in the extension service at Burlington, will commence work with the beginning of the school year as supervisor of the elementary schools in the state and will give much of his time to the field work in the elementary schools. Miss Mary Bresnahan, who was employed in the music department of the Montpelier schools, will commence work in the state education department as assistant supervisor of junior high schools, working with Prof. Hutchinson, who is in charge of that work. Her work will be largely that of supervision, there being an increased number of junior high schools the coming year, it is expected. She will advise relative to the work and will supply when occasion requires in the junior high school.

George Milo is working in the W. M. Reed store in place of Maurice Leiden, who has completed his services.

A. K. Willey and family of Schenectady, N. Y., are visiting friends in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gardner of Buffalo have been visiting Mrs. Thomas Phinney, her mother.
