Refreshments of cake, coffee and ice cream were served, and the evening was spent in roasting corn, telling stories, playing games, music, etc. The affair was in charge of L. Sassoressi, A. Berini and John Frontini, assisted by Miss Margaret Lamperti and Miss Josephine Colombo.

One of the finest pieces of monumental sculpture ever produced in granite was carefully boxed and set for shipment yesterday at the Hoyt & Milne Depot square manufacturing plant. This beautiful piece of granite art, a large cross and life-like angel upon a double base, is almost an exact duplicate of the Dr. J. Henry Jackson memorial standing in Elmwood cemetery, Col. H. E. Parker of Bradford, publisher of the Bradford Opinion, and prominent lumberman of Vermont and New Hampshire, was the purchaser of this select piece of work, which will commemorate, among others, Mr. Parker's son, Lee, who died in the service of the United States navy during the great world war. It will be erected in the Bradford cemetery soon. Mr. Parker is completely satisfied with the monument, the contract of which was placed in the hands of F. T. Cutler of Barre and who later accepted the bid of the Hoyt & Milne firm.

Goddard First Team Clawed the Seconds.

The first football game of the season at Goddard took place yesterday afternoon on the seminary campus between the first team and seconds team. A fast game was played in four ten-minute periods, in which the first team scored four touchdowns and kicked two goals, with the second team not scoring, but causing the first the trouble of earning all their goals. Wilnot, star full-back, and showing great punting average, made two touchdowns and kicked two goals from the field and one from a touchdown. Gaughan, the snappy quarterback, scored one touchdown, as did Griffin. George Eastman, the new half-back substitute made a forty-yard run. Thompson and Tug Slayton, tackle, smashed up the second team line time after time. Wiley and Keiser, the two green players, are still improving.

The first team is badly crippled, but expects to give a good account of itself in defending the red and white at the Norwich game. Griffin has a sprained ankle, Wilnot has sprained the ligaments in his right arm, Wood also has a sprained ankle and Gaughan is nursing bruises about the body.

The lineup for the coming teams of yesterday's game is as follows:
First Team Second Team

Wiley, lg. Hardwood
Thompson, lg. Keiser,
Thompson, rg. Berry
Tug Slayton lt. Hoar
P. Slayton re. Tice

Special convocation of Granite lodge, No. 35, F. and A. M., Thursday, Sept. 25, at 1 p. m., for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late brother, Center L. Bates. Per order W. M.

AN INSPIRING CONVENTION

000; Congregational Education society, $125,000; Congregational Extension society, $60,000; Board of Ministerial Relief, $40,000. Vermont's share of this $2,000,000 is $48,000, divided as follows: American Board 27 per cent, Woman's Board 14 per cent, Congregational Home Missionary association 27 per cent, American Home Missionary association 13 per cent, Congregational Church Building association 8 per cent, Congregational Education society 6 per cent, Congregational Extension society 3 per cent, Board of Ministerial Relief 2 per cent. The Woman's Home Missionary union is asked to pay 14 per cent of the apportionment of the six homeland societies.

Three and one-half per cent from different apportionments is deducted for the work of Mr. Merrill in the state.

The way of making out this apportionment is to find what the church has contributed, the average expenses, etc. Ability and interest determine the church's share in missions. When the apportionment is determined, the women raise the amount apportioned for their organizations and the church the rest, or where there are no women's auxiliaries, the church raises the whole amount, which is divided according to the various branches of the missionary work.

Another vocal solo by Miss Ingila, "My Task," was followed by Miss Stella M. Jordan, C. E. S., who spoke of the work being done at the Schaeffer school for girls at Cleveland, O. This school, which was founded 30 years ago, has graduated 300 young women of 21 different nationalities, 14 different nationalities being there now. They reach their own people and are doing missionary work in many of the large cities among those of their own nationality, who otherwise could not be reached.

The principal talk of the evening was by Mrs. R. S. Emrich of the Woman's Board of Missions, who gave her own personal experiences with a Moslem woman in Turkey, where she and her husband have been missionaries for some years. This was particularly appealing and interesting. A comparison of womanhood in America and Turkey was the principal theme of her talk, the women of Turkey not being able to comprehend, when told, the freedom of women in this country, their high standing and the goodness of the men. Mrs. Emrich was given the rare opportunity of reading the priceless manuscripts in the men's quarters of a Turkish home, which no woman had before been allowed to gaze upon, the reason being that she was credited with the keen perception of a man. She brought out the new responsibility of the women of America for the womanhood of the world.

After the appointment of committees a social hour was held.

Another Government Sale.

Will Be Started Through Barre Postoffice on Sept. 25.

Another chance for the people of Barre and vicinity to buy subsistence stores and household articles at government prices will be given through a sale to be inaugurated at the Barre postoffice on Sept. 25, according to information received to-day by Postmaster Gorman. These commodities will be sold through the mail order department of the quartermaster's retail store in Boston, and the various commodities on sale are posted in a conspicuous place in the lobby of the Barre postoffice.

The order may be sent in on slips of paper which will be provided, or in any convenient way. Money covering the total amount of the purchase must be enclosed with each order, and the most convenient and desirable way of forwarding this is by postoffice money order.

The mail order department of the quartermaster retail store is established for the purpose of reaching household customers throughout the entire retail country. This is distinctly a benefit for the consumer. The sales will be limited to such quantities as are manifestly for the use of the household or for personal use. Sales will not be made to retail establishments or hotels.

Supplies put up in cans or small boxes may be ordered by the single can, single box or by case lot. Supplies in bulk, such as beans, rice or flour, may be ordered in five- and ten-pound lots or by the bag.

Mail orders should be addressed to the superintendent, quartermaster retail store, Boston, Mass. Postage is prepaid by the government on all mail order purchases. Mail order purchases of over $2 will be insured at government expense. Mail order purchases for amounts less than $2 will be shipped at purchaser's risk unless the purchaser remits a sufficient sum with the order to cover the cost of insurance.

By this arrangement all mail order purchases are delivered to the purchaser at his local postoffice at exactly the same price as if they were purchased over the cash counter of the retail store in Boston.

MONTPELIER

A new portrait of the late Governor Bell was hung in the executive office of the State House Tuesday by Sergeant-at-Arms Dwight Dwinell. It is over the portrait of Carroll S. Page on the right side as a person enters the office. A new state flag has also been purchased and placed in the standard holder in the executive office.

The branch passenger train from Barre was delayed this morning in coming to Montpelier for the early connection by the freight train going from Montpelier being unable to get up the grade, so that assistance had to be obtained from Barre by sending another engine.

Miss Ethel Ball, who has been on a vacation from her work in the state library, has resumed her duties.

Insurance Commissioner J. G. Brown is recovering slowly from lumbago.

The meeting of the state engineers, which occurs in the reception room of the State House Friday evening, is open to the public. Prof. G. H. Perkins gives an address upon geology in Vermont.

Dr. C. H. Dalton of Burlington was in the city yesterday afternoon in conference with District Health Officer Dr. C. H. Burr. They went over the organization of the district, which was completed last night in Barre when the Barre city board of health organized. Two local members of the city council in that city are to handle the nuisances. Dr. Burr is meeting with co-operation in nearly every town in the district and has the word for the fall well under way.

The body of Frank W. Holmes, who died Monday at the Warren home on Worcester branch, was taken by automobile ambulance in charge of H. J. Volholm to Johnson, where the funeral took place this afternoon.

Coach Thomas of Montpelier high school finds that his team is coming along in nice shape. There is good material. Michael Cohen, a veteran of the Yankee division, who was quarterback for Burlington high school one year, is playing with the team and if his leg will allow will probably be quarter of the team.

A conference was held last week between the trustees of Heaton hospital and the physicians of the city with the purpose of improving conditions. Several improvements were made as a result of the influenza epidemic and now, it is understood, the trustees want to better the advantages there further if it can be accomplished.

The will of Mary Coghlan, late of Montpelier, was proven in probate court this morning. She left a bequest of about $100 to the Catholic church and the remainder of her estate to close friends. The will of Jason O. Goodell, late of Woodbury, has been presented for probate. Harry D. McCrillis of Marshfield has settled his account as executor of the estate of Aaron J. Brown, late of that town.

Judge E. M. Harvey was in Wells River to-day.

Papers indicating that D. K. Lillie has bought the interest of J. C. Gillette in the Lillie Granite company were filed to-day in the city clerk's office for record. Mr. Gillette, although selling his interest, will still be employed by Mr. Lillie.
