NEWBURY

The big Packard car of Mrs. Ralph Wood of Lebanon, N. H., motored into town last Thursday with a bevy of blushing maidens, who immediately called at the office of the mayor and registered. (We copy their names: Mrs. Ralph Wood, Mrs. Carl Flanders, Mrs. Fred Simmons, Misses Florence Campbell, Catherine Campbell, Marie Fillet, Jennie Johnson and Carrie Sayre.) The keys of the city were given their charge, Mrs. Florence Perkins, and the girls were soon about the town, visiting all points of interest, the libraries, the churches, all the public buildings, the theatres, the schools, the parks and public baths. At the department stores they were shown every courtesy, and at the same time were under surveillance of the lynx-eyed clerks and secret service men, who mistook them for the band of typhoids who a year or two ago stole the buttons of the proprietor's vest. It was evident that these enthusiastic maidens enjoyed our old town, with its interesting past perpetuated in granite and bronze, and they left those whom they came in contact with a regret that their stay was so short. May they come again. The town and the mayor will receive them with open (and closed) arms.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bailey are in town with their baby daughter, who is a reproduction of her good-looking mother.

Miss Henrietta Bailey informs the scribe that Chester Richardson Cooley arrived Friday, Sept. 26, to make glad the hearts of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cooley of Peacham.

Somehow we had got the impression that the Newbury column was not read, and we had sort of formed the habit of storing all our secrets about old bachelors, widowers and "sich" away under the head of Newbury items, thinking they were as safe as if they had been given the meeting of the Red Cross or the Sewing society, or any place where the women folk gather, but we have had a rude awakening to the fact that our home papers do get out of their local environment. The following is an abstract from a letter of a fellow who lives in Boston: "I see by 'The Opinion' that you are guarding the matrimonial affairs of some of our mutual friends—though it seems to me that you are either brave or reckless to publish to the world what you have in mind regarding them, for many a man has been shot or mutilated beyond recognition for a less offense of that kind than you commit with such assurance and complacency." We have had a narrow escape and will be more guarded in the future.

The homes of Mrs. Freeman and Mrs. Helen Worthen have been wired for electric lights and now when the telephone is installed they will be living in the 20th century.

A short time ago we received a Topeka, Kan., paper and from the handwriting we concluded Robert J. Hibbard, a former resident of this town, sent it. We promptly looked through the police news and, not finding his name there, turned to the religious column, and it was not there either, so we came to the conclusion that Robert was still on neutral ground. We learn by the way, that Robert has made a large sum of money out in his adopted state and, not having a chick or child, he can make no better use of that which he must leave behind than in leaving a handsome legacy to his native town, or to the church of his fathers. (Topeka papers please copy this item.)

The Orbow chapter, D. A. R., entertained and held a reception in the spacious parlors of Mrs. Charles Frances Darling last Friday evening for the teachers of Newbury high school. There were 100 present, who came to grasp the hands of those who train the minds and have so much to do with the shaping of the careers of the youth of Newbury. The fathers and mothers and the taxpayers present have reason to congratulate themselves in having a school board given with such keen perception in recognizing ability and to them should be given the credit for the array of talent displayed, and it is not to be wondered at that our school is ranked one of the best in the state. The school does not depend entirely on the teachers in order that it should be one of the best in the state. It must have the co-operation and the backing of the citizens. Then let us stand by our school board, our teachers, and on every occasion let us speak a good word for our school. Let's see! When did you visit school?
