Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Sanders Celebrated.

About 60 friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Sanders of this place gathered in Washington hall on Thursday night, Nov. 6, and helped to celebrate the 25th anniversary of their marriage. It was an entire surprise, but a very pleasant one. After a space of time spent in playing cards, a short musical program was rendered, refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served and the remainder of the time until 1 o'clock was spent in dancing. A purse of money was presented the bride and groom as a token of regard from their friends and Mr. Sanders responded in a very pleasing manner. In spite of the bad roads, everyone who came seemed to have a pleasant time. Mr. and Mrs. Sanders wish to take this means of showing their appreciation and expressing their thanks to all who so kindly assisted in making the path-making one long to be remembered.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Hats on sale at 10 per cent discount. Mrs. E. A. Witham has a lot of new fall and winter hats and caps. Lamorey's. Usual Saturday night dance, Howland hall; Gilbertson's orchestra.—adv. Buy Peerless union suits now, as they will be scarce later on; $2.50 to $5.00. Lamorey's. Trucking Done—Anyone wanting light or heavy trucking done, call the Granite City Bottling Works.—adv. Mr. and Mrs. William Scielly of Montpelier have moved to Brook street, where they will make their residence. Largest line of new and second-hand ranges and heaters in Barre at lowest prices. E. A. Prindle, Worthen block. Reserve the evening of Wednesday, Nov. 12, to attend the chicken-pie supper at the Baptist church. Supper served from 5:30 to 7.—adv. John Dufrele of South Main street, who has been shipping his household goods to Burlington during the past week, left this morning with his family. John Forbes and Harry Ellen of White River Junction returned to their employment last night after spending a few days with acquaintances in Barre and Montpelier. Mr. and Mrs. George Vautier of Burlington are spending their honeymoon with the bride's sister, Mrs. A. Marin, of this city. Mrs. Vautier was formerly Miss Eva Poirier of Burlington. John Cassabella has started a little shoe store at 408 North Main street. Mr. Cassabella purchased the store of Mrs. Mary Berte, who has been doing a dry goods business in that place for the past few months. He has a full line of boots, shoes and rubbers. Service men, attention! Assembly for the first big social get-together of ex-service men will be at 8:30 o'clock on Tuesday evening, the 11th of November, at Howland hall. Tell your friends to come and make merry with us at our first annual armistice ball. Mess call at 11 o'clock and taps at 1. Admission, $1.25 per couple; extra ladies, 50c.—adv. With all expectations of a hard battle, 18 members of the Spaulding football squad, under the supervision of Coach Robert Ross, left on the 8:10 train this morning for St. Albans, where they play the St. Albans high team this afternoon. St. Albans has won every game except that played with Spaulding three weeks ago. James Sator, whose expert knowledge of the game has been displayed by his just decisions in both college and preparatory school games this season, was taken along with the team and will referee one-half the game. In this group of 18 was noticed Halfback Brown, who has been withheld from practice the past two weeks by dislocated ribs. Coach Ross does not intend to use him this afternoon if it can be averted, as he wishes to have him in the best of condition for the Montpelier high game at Montpelier next Saturday afternoon. Copies of the second edition of the Barre Estimating Book were received at the Granite Manufacturers' association office last evening from the printer's office. An edition of 1,000 copies has been ordered by the association and will doubtless be delivered today, which will enable Secretary Bell to have the large accumulation of orders filled very soon now. Only bound copies will be included in the new supply, as experience and observation have shown that outside of the ranks of the producers there is very little if any demand for the loose-leaf copies heretofore printed. And for the convenience of Barre salesmen this book has been made to conform with the requirements of a traveling bag, both in size and in text. A competent copy of mathematicians have, since the first edition was published, made corrections wherever necessary under the supervision of Thomas Blinn, jr., director of Estimating Book computations firm. Ever since the first edition supply was exhausted in September, orders for copies have continually poured into the office, so the book committee of the Manufacturers' association is encouraged to believe that this new book will be in as much demand as the first one, 1300 of these having been distributed in a few months.

Bear in mind that next Monday evening, Nov. 10, is the class "Birthdays party" observing the 10th anniversary of its organization. Supper at 6:30. Soldiers, bring in your army overcoats. We can dye them brown, blue and black. It will save you the price of a new coat, which means a good deal to you. Joe Kovalsky, Eastman block. "Phonies" 1923. The ladies of the Methodist church will hold their annual sale Nov. 18 and 19. There will be the usual number of booths, where articles of all kinds may be found, suitable for Christmas gifts. In connection with the sale, there will be a supper on Tuesday evening and a concert on Wednesday evening.—adv. Waldron Shield started on an itinerary yesterday afternoon that will include cities in Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas, as well as other western states. This journey, taken for business interests, will cover a period of two or three weeks and in the meantime, Mrs. Shield will visit with relatives in Columbus, O. The stubborn actions of one of the horses of the F. D. Ladd company caused a little excitement and the demolishing of a rear wheel of the delivery wagon of that company, when the driver attempted yesterday to drive into the alley way between the F. D. Ladd Co. store and that of the C. W. Averill Co. store, and the little horse backed the heavily loaded express wagon into the street, bumping it into another team and smashing the rear wheel of the delivery wagon. A most enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Miss Mary McMahon of South Main street last evening, when about 30 of her friends gathered to remind her of her 16th birthday. Many games were of an entertaining nature, while occasional piano solos by Miss Leola George and Miss Eva Carpenter were enjoyed. The violin solos given by Arthur Aldright and John McMahon were most pleasing. Albert Menard and John McMahon were also heard in several humorous vocal duets. Miss Merle Gundry, in behalf of the friends gathered to celebrate the anniversary, presented Miss McMahon a beautiful purse. Miss McMahon responded very pleasantly. After the dainty refreshments of ice cream and cake, the party broke up, it being at a late hour, wishing the guest of honor many returns of the day.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Usual Saturday night dance, Howland hall; Gilbertson's orchestra.—adv. This week's special—Ladies' hats in black and colors, $1.98, $2.98 and $3.98. Miss E. E. Whitney, 168 North Main street. All kinds of string instruments repaired. Violin bows rehaird. Landi Violin Repair Shop, room 12, Aldrich block, Barre.—adv. The herd of 12 cows belonging to Mrs. E. M. Fenwick were given the tuberculin test yesterday and every one of the animals was found to be all right. Mrs. Arthur Gordon and little daughter, Betty, went to Plattsburg, N. Y., yesterday afternoon to remain during the winter months with Mrs. Gordon's parents, since Mr. Gordon leaves soon for the oil fields in Oklahoma to begin a new enterprise. BOVINE TUBERCULOSIS. To Be Discussed at Meeting in Worthen Hall Monday Evening. An interesting meeting for all farmers, live stock owners and the public in general will be held in the Sons of Veterans hall, Worthen block, Monday night, Nov. 10, at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the Farmers' exchange. Matters pertaining to the benefits derived from the exchange and how to make the exchange even more useful to the farmer will be discussed by the county farm agent, the exchange manager and others. In connection with this meeting, Dr. A. J. DeFosset, inspector in charge of tuberculosis eradication of Vermont, will give an address on the eradication of contagious and infectious diseases with special reference to tuberculosis. Dr. DeFosset has had a wide experience in the control and eradication of all infectious and contagious diseases common in live stock, during his service for the United States government for the past 12 years; having taken an active part in the control of hog cholera in the middle west, also the eradication of scabies of cattle and sheep on the far western plains. In the last outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease, which had spread with great rapidity over a large area in the middle west, he was one of the first officials to be called and assisted in the organization of a large force of trained veterinarians for the campaign which was successful in stamping the costly disease from the United States. When the United States government undertook to control and eradicate bovine tuberculosis under the accredited tuberculosis-free herd plan, which has since become very popular in forty-four states, Dr. DeFosset came from Washington and took charge of this important work in Vermont, where he is now employed jointly by the state and the federal government. The war on this dreaded disease in Vermont is being waged under his direction. He has recently perfected a special eye test for the detection of the disease, which he applies in certain cases with wonderful success. He was requested to give an address and demonstrations at conferences in Springfield, Mass., and Chicago, Ill., before the leading veterinarians and state and federal sanitary officials. All live stock owners should be present and learn more of the methods employed in the control and eradication of bovine tuberculosis.
