

Keep The System Clean And You'll Be Healthy

Elimination helps to avoid colds, headaches and epidemics

ANYONE who has watched himself know that there is nothing so important to health and comfort as regular daily elimination. Half of the minor illnesses of life are due to neglect of this. The five million men who were in our army know the importance the doctor attached to this function.

By all means try to regulate yourself by intelligent diet and exercise, but when these fail you will need a laxative, one as near to nature in its action as skill can make it. In the opinion of many thousands of good Americans such a one is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. It acts promptly, gently and without griping and will with certainty regulate any tendency to constipation that you may have.

Take it when you feel drowsy, dizzy or bilious, when you feel a cold or a fever coming on, when there is an epidemic, when you have eaten anything about which you are in doubt. It is at such times that you need to be free of poisons and of fermenting foods. You can buy Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store. Thousands of families have it constantly in the house against emergencies.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over a million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION

Death of Arthur Hamilton Hazen of West Hartford.

Arthur Hamilton Hazen died at the homestead farm, West Hartford, on Thursday, April 15. He had been steadily failing since the death of his wife about a year ago, the general breaking up developing into creeping paralysis. He was born on the Hazen homestead, the brick house, West Hartford, 76 years ago and was the youngest and last surviving member of the family of Levi and Sarah Hyde Water of Danbury. Mr. Hazen was an able and honored official, widely known and universally respected and trusted throughout the town. He was an exceedingly genial and kind-hearted man, having a real genius for friendship and the touch of nature that made him kin with all the world. Sincere and keen and well informed, he had the sense of humor that is the best safeguard against cynicism, and the generous and charitable spirit that despises selfishness and scorns meanness and greed. At various times he was called upon to assume the care of the aged and helpless people and accepted the task with an admirable patience and graciousness. Until very recently his counsel was widely sought and generously given in business affairs and the administration of estates. Among the larger circles of active and friends that gravitated toward the old Dimick place, augmented in later years by many summer visitors, Mr. Hazen was a universal favorite. He was the type of the old New Englander that literary artists love to depict and interpret and that steadily and bravely vanishing from the earth. "Take him all in all we shall never see his like again." The funeral services, attended by a large circle of relatives and friends, was held at the West Hartford church, of which Mr. Hazen was a lifelong friend and supporter, on Thursday, April 18, conducted by Rev. David Wallace.

Mars became the evening star the 21st, and can be easily seen near the eastern horizon any clear evening as soon as darkness falls. If we are soon to open friendly relations with Mars, April 23 or later, it is quite worth while to get acquainted with other celestial dwellers.

Wagoner George Lavaraway, who soon after his return from overseas enlisted for one year in the regular army, has returned to East Montpelier.

Art thou stout and getting stouter?

Stop repining—cease to moan; Hie thee to the nearest drug store—Ask for "Tablets Arbolone."

Arbolone will stop that craving. Make thee normal—that's well known. Thou'lt forget that hungry feeling After taking Arbolone.

And the pounds away will dwindle—Wait no longer like a zone; Thou'lt be thankful to the maker Of those Tablets Arbolone.

Note.—This little poem was written by a literary woman of Los Angeles, Calif., as a testimonial to Tablets Arbolone. It so aptly and truthfully describes the virtues of this well-known anti-fat that the proprietors use it for advertising. Facts and gratitude are both expressed with admirable rhythm and metre.
