The Weather

Rain probable to-night and Sunday; moderate temperature; fresh east winds.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Buy pianos at Bailey's Music Rooms. First-class table board. The Woodbine, 37 Jefferson street; regular boarders desired.

Miss Rhoda Shamba of Springfield, Mass., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Lascor, of West street for a few days. B. I. Staples of Peru, New Mexico, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hoffman of North Main street for a few days.

Stereopticon lecture, beautiful pictures on "Christian Stewardship," Hedding Methodist church Sunday, 7 p. m.

Thomas Sibley, assistant station agent at Randolph, is visiting at his home on Hooker avenue for a few days.

The next two or three weeks, beginning Monday, June 7, my photographic studio will be closed while I am away, R. Cantu.

Miss Katherine Phelps, Miss Marion Carroll, Miss Eunice McLaughlin and Mrs. Russell Hoyt leave to-morrow for Lake Morey to spend a week camping. Children of the sixth and seventh grades of Matheson school, with their teachers, Miss Catto and Miss Bailey, went to Benjamin falls to-day for a picnic.

The junior class of Spaulding high school this morning left in auto trucks and private cars for Lake Morey to spend the day, the annual summer outing for the class.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Christie return this afternoon to their home in St. Lambert, Montreal, after a week spent at the home of Mrs. Agnes Walker of 11 Grant avenue.

Mrs. William Crueshank, for many years a resident of this city, left to-day for Albany, N. Y., where she is to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Duff.

An extraordinary unloading of late arrival woolen stock at our plant in Chicago makes it necessary that we cut the price home deep. The Royal Tailor Man, over Laid's store.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hill of Newport, who for the past week have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Tilden of South Main street, returned to their home to-day by automobile.

Tom Vanston, Frank Lascor, Fred Minnie and Emma Groleau have just returned from a two-day motor and fishing trip to Montreal, P. Q., Saranac lake, Plattsburgh and Malone, N. Y.

John Leslie, a salesman of Barre Granite Co., who covers territory in New York and Pennsylvania, to-day left for Boston on a few days' business trip.

Notice! Attention, Odd Fellows and Rebekah! Annual memorial service in I. O. O. F. hall Sunday evening, June 6, at 7:30. Rev. A. M. Markey of Williamstown will deliver the memorial address.

A number of men who have been working in the machine shops of Springfield and Windsor arrived in the city early this morning, among them being Louis Bottiggi, Jack Davidson, Bob Wright, Henry Nute, Andy Brown and A. Benzie.

The remains of George Gauthier of Boston, who died at the Barre City hospital Wednesday night after a week's illness with a complication of diseases, were taken to Northfield to-day for funeral services; to be held from the Catholic church at 9 o'clock this morning.

Attorney William Wislart of this city will make the address to the graduating commercial class at Goddard seminary Tuesday evening, June 15. Principal O. K. Hollister was pleased to secure Mr. Wislart for the occasion, since the latter is both a resident of Barre and a graduate of the school in '95.

Every candidate for the Knights of Columbus baseball team is urgently requested to be at Lincoln campus Monday evening at 7:30, or as soon after as possible, as the management wishes to have the team in readiness for a game very soon. Practice will continue until dark Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings of next week.

E. E. Blakely of Wintland arrived in the city yesterday, having been notified by the Barre police department that he was wanted for speeding. Blakely appeared before Judge E. L. Scott in Barre city court yesterday afternoon and pleaded guilty to the charge made against him May 29. A fine of $5 with costs of $6.05 was imposed. This he paid and was released.

The University of Vermont second baseball team which this afternoon opposed Goddard seminary's nine, has in its lineup some familiar figures to Barre baseball fans. Leonard Thompson, the third baseman of the Spaulding high school team in '17, is covering the same sack for the seconds; Sibley Young, who also played with the Spaulding '17 team in left field, will be out in center field this afternoon, and James Marr of Williamstown, formerly with Goddard seminary, will be in left field. Allan Johnston, also of Barre, who has been playing with the seconds, was shifted to the varsity squad to make the trip to Madison. It is said as one of the right-handed twirlers, U. V. M. plays on this trip Holy Cross of Worcester to-day, and Harvard at Cambridge June 8.

Among the Barre men to attend the Tufts-Dartmouth game at Hanover, N. H. yesterday and then the reunion of Vermont graduates of Dartmouth were Attorney John W. Gordon, Homer C. Ladd and sons, Leslie, Adolph H. Lane, City Engineer Sidney L. Rugles, and Mayo Lynde. The reunion was held at Woodstock and a banquet was served at Woodstock inn last evening. Here assembled about 50 graduates of the college, together with President Hopkins of Dartmouth and Professor Bartlett, the former being the principal speaker of the evening. President Hopkins spoke of the large number of applicants wishing to enter Dartmouth next fall, no less than 1,200 applications having been received, but of these only 600 could be admitted because of lack of accommodations. A new dormitory and a new laboratory are being built at the present time and may accommodate in time more students. Attorney John W. Gordon of this city read an original humorous poem, and George Wing of Montpelier, the oldest graduate of the college, being in Vermont, also addressed the assemblage. The election of officers placed in office the following: Fred Southgate of Woodstock, president; A. B. Lane of Barre, secretary; and V. A. Doty of Montpelier, treasurer.

MONTPELIER

Mrs. Harold Chamberlain Died Last Night of Tuberculosis.

Mrs. Elizabeth (Kelly) Chamberlain, a popular Montpelier young woman, died during the night at her home on North street of tuberculosis. She was born Nov. 8, 1891, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kelly of Moretown, and was for many years teacher in the schools of Ryegate, Troy and Moretown. She is survived by her husband, Harold Chamberlain, and a daughter, Elizabeth, aged one year; also by three brothers, Lawrence of Montpelier, Edward of New Mexico and Fred of Calais, and by her mother, Mrs. Anna Kelly, who lived with the deceased daughter. The funeral will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning at St. Augustine's church, with burial in Duxbury.

At 9:45 this morning, in the mayor's office at Montpelier, Mayor H. C. Shurtleff united in marriage Prudentio Lustria and Miss Josefa Arrote, both of Montpelier.

The matter of a calf being found dead along the bank of the Worcester branch was reported to the police Friday afternoon. Investigation showed that the calf must have been put in the stream early this spring. It had not appeared until the water became low in the mill dam at Wrightsville. As Andrews, who went near the spot fishing Thursday afternoon, was driven away by the odor. Orders to remove the calf from the water and bury it have been given.

The justices of the supreme court have been in conference for a couple of days on the St. Albans taxes case and getting rid of some questions before the argument on the 29th of this month in supreme court.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Richardson of Waitfield were visitors in the city yesterday afternoon.

There is some talk of forming an American Legion baseball team in Montpelier in order that the town may have summer ball this year. It has been a few years since the city has supported a team and it is felt that one could be supported this year and some good sport enjoyed.

F. C. Mayo and G. H. Kidder of the Montpelier and Wells River railroad and G. W. Groom of the Central Vermont railway were in the city last evening on railroad matters.

One of the child welfare workers who has been in the northern part of the state finds a condition in which there are over a dozen children in one town, who are of school age, but who are not attending schools and apparently no effort is being made to have them attend.

The Readsboro Chair company of Readsboro has notified the secretary of state that the management desires to increase the capital stock from $50,000 to $100,000 and that they proposed to issue stock to meet the increase.

Two expert pool players named Cannon and Baker entertained quite an assembly of people at the Daly and Meigs rooms in Montpelier Friday evening. They first played a game of pool in which Cannon ran 71 points in a single string, and could have run more but selected a hard shot in preference to an easy one which he expected to get later. Then he gave a demonstration of fancy playing and pool shooting. Following this he went to the Apollo club rooms, where he did some fancy shooting for the entertainment of the members.

Mrs. H. C. Lawson and baby have returned from Connecticut, N. Y.

The Delta Alpha class of Trinity church gave an entertainment in the church vestry last evening which was attended by a good-sized audience. Musical selections and a little play were presented, after which three young women, dressed as Japanese girls, served light refreshments.

WILLIAMSTOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Theron G. Williams, Mrs. Jane Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Blumard motored to Montpelier last Thursday to attend the field day of the Washington county fair bureau.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Hoyt, former residents and for several years past of Bristol, were in town lately as the guests of Mrs. Diana Sanders. Mr. Hoyt has closed out his business in Bristol and will move to Windsor.

A daughter, Eleanor Cecile, was born June 2 to Mr. and Mrs. Peter F. Passera of Montpelier.

For Sale: One electric ball bearing lawn mower in good condition, used only one season. Mrs. Malvina Carlin, Williamstown.

Not So Simple.

With a bashful smile on his honest, simple face, a countryman walked into a second hand clothes dealer's shop in the east end of London recently and said:

"You remember that coat I bought here yesterday for 10 shillings?"

"Yes; but I never take back any thing when once sold," said the dealer firmly.

"Oh, that's all right!" replied the customer. "I only wanted to tell you that I found a £20 note sewn up in the lining. Perhaps the owner will call for it."

"Of course he will!" exclaimed the dealer, capturing the note. "You are an honest man. Here is £1 for you as a reward. That will be all right."

And by the time the dealer found out that note was a bad one, the simple-looking lad from the country had vanished.—Answers.

YACHT COSTUMES PLENTY.

Sailor Girl Talks Races, but Slight of Old Ocean Makes Her Seaside.

"In the spring a young maid's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of yachts—"

So lightly, in fact, that aside from deciding upon whose yacht she can cruise for the summer months, she hardly gives them a thought.

But having arranged for these minor details—the yachting costume is the thing. Just now, the sailor girl is especially popular, in view of the coming yacht races.

If you are susceptible to seasickness, Broadway is no place for you until the races are over. Sailor hats, sailor caps, middies, and neckties make the old white way look like the afterdeck of a yacht with the crew out for full-dress parade.

And in case you aren't familiar with nautical terms, as a conversationalist, you are out. Whether you eat your corned beef hash here or your planked steak there, the girl next to you is talking yacht.

"Yes, I like to get out early in the races to see them hoist the gunwale and unfurl the tiller," says the pretty girl in the white flannel middie next to you. "Isn't it just thrilling to see the boys' spirit bellying in the breeze while the men sit calmly on the keel and smoke their pipes?"

And if you don't happen to know just what a gunwale is or how they unfurl the tiller, you are convinced that you're a sap.

The girl who sits next to you at the theatre may look like a stenographer, she may have all the earmarks of a shop girl, or she may look exactly like a girl who takes your hat check—but it's your mistake—she is a yacht woman and her entry is for the races.

Swearing like a sailor may or may not be one of the hardest things to affect in being nautically minded; but whether it is difficult or not, leave it to the New York girl to make good at anything she undertakes.

Yesterday a man in Norfolk tweed sat next to a girl in a blue sailor middie in the Seventh avenue subway. He listened with intense interest while she told another girl who sat beside her exactly how to pick the winner in the yacht races as soon as you laid eyes on the yacht. Seeing that the man in Norfolk tweed was learning something from the discussion, she waxed enthusiastic.

"Believe me, I'm an old hand at it. I just wish I could show Sir Thomas Lipton a few things."

The man was a philanthropic looking man—eager to show the girl—or himself—a good time.

"Pardon me," he said. "I have a boat entered for the race—I think your sail or outfit would make just the mascot I need. Won't you come along and help me pick the winner?"

The girl looked aghast—pale—dizzy. "Oh! Thank you—you're very kind," she said, "but I couldn't think of it. You know I get deathly seasick if I even look at the water."—New York Globe.

GRANITEVILLE

Mrs. Donald MacAskill has returned home, after visiting friends in New Haven, Conn., and Springfield, Mass. She also attended the delegation of Odd Ladies in Boston.
