

NEW SKIPPER FOR SHAMROCK

When the Cup Challenger Sails in the Race To-morrow

CAPTAIN BURTON HAS BEEN REMOVED

Mainsail of Resolute Re-cut and Bent on Triangular Course To-morrow

Sandy Hook, N. J., July 19.—Speculation above and below decks of the America's cup racing fleet at anchor to-day in the Horseshoe centered upon the successor to Captain William P. Burton, whom Sir Thomas Lipton plans to remove as skipper of the cup challenger.

Captain Albert W. Turner, sailing master of the Lipton sloop, who had the wheel of the Shamrock when she made some of her gains in Saturday's race, was being talked of as Shamrock's new skipper. It was said that Captain Turner would be given the wheel to-morrow and that Captain Burton would sail on the challenger, though he would not handle the tiller, but this was not confirmed.

Sir Thomas has not said who would succeed Captain Burton, but has told his friends that he likes Designer Nicholson. Colonel Duncan F. Meill, Sir Thomas' representative on the Shamrock, and Captain Alfred Diaper, of the 23-metre Shamrock, are also under consideration, it is understood, for the Shamrock's wheel. No information could be obtained as to whether Mrs. Burton would continue as timekeeper of the Shamrock. Crew members with superstitious tendencies believe a woman should not sail on a cup racing yacht.

The mainsail of the Resolute has been re-cut at City Island and will be sent on this afternoon. It was a new sail and showed signs of stretching after the wetting in last Thursday's rain squall. The staysail of Shamrock has also been re-cut.

The race to-morrow will be over a thirty-mile triangular course, ten miles to a leg. Saturday's triangular contest having been called off because the sloops could not finish, the rules provide that the race should be re-sailed on the next succeeding race day.

YACHT RACES CALLED OFF AT SECOND MARK

Cup Defender in the Lead by Four Miles When Time Limit Expired.

New York, July 19.—Leading the Shamrock IV by four miles, Resolute was unable to finish in the second race of the series for the America's cup yesterday, the contest being ended with expiration of the time limit.

The challenger now has one win to her credit, as a sop for what might have happened to her had the Hiram Woodhull sloop been favored with a live-lie breeze whilst the clock ticked off toward the setting sun.

Decent Citizen Is An Asset to Community.

Two men went to a man who keeps a small retail store on a residence street the other day and said: "We will paint your whole building every year if you will let us put a sign on the blank wall." And he said: "I can't do it." So they got contract to paint his store, paying $100. And then he told them:

"This is a residence street. The people are willing to have me here because I render service. That wall of mine doesn't make the street look and worse than is necessary."

They told him other men did it; that no one noticed it; that it didn't bring him a dollar's more business that he refused—all the arguments they could think of. His answer was that he owed something to the people of his neighborhood.

There is a citizen who is an asset to his community. And it is true there is no recognition in it and probably not a dollar in trade.

There are others like this man. The man who is holding vacant lots for an increase and ekes out the taxes by renting space for disfiguring signboards is criticised, but his pocket does not suffer—at least he is convinced that it doesn't.

The man who refuses to do this, who keeps the grass cut and allows no accumulations of rubbish is an asset. But there is no sign to remind his neighbors that he is a decent citizen.

No with the man who doesn't let his chimney smoke, who keeps his place in repair, who doesn't have the public sidewalk forever blocked.

And they aren't paid! Well, that depends on how they look at it. Some men are pretty well paid by the consciousness that they enjoy the society of a decent citizen and good neighbor when they are alone. —Milwaukee Journal.

GOV. COX IN COLUMBUS

Returns from Visit to President Wilson at White House

London Has Private Hotel for Babies.

A small private hotel for babies is the latest idea in domestic life. The baby gets a change and the mother gets a rest.

The baby's hotel or boarding house is the product of the shortage of houses and nurseries. Parents have been forced into hotels and furnished apartments, and as many hotels have not the conveniences of the nursery, the baby's hotel, where he or she may be received as a paying guest, is making its appearance. There is, of course, accommodation for the perambulator.

Two certificated nurses conceived the idea. They have established a nursery in Hampstead, London. The walls are decorated with ducks and chickens, and each little guest has a white cot with pink curtains. A medical man and a dentist are in attendance. The tariff is from £2 12s. 6d. (normally about $13) to £4 4s. a week. A few weeks old baby pays the higher charge. The little guests may stay a week, a year, or merely for the week end, while their parents go house hunting or holiday making.

"I have two babies who came when three weeks old," said the principal recently. "One young couple living in a flat, already too small, brought their three-week-old baby here. They are devoted to the child, but have no place to rear him. The parents come regularly to take baby out in the perambulator, or play in the garden."

"A young war widow, who has resumed her former post as secretary, brought her baby to the nursery, and on Saturday afternoon and Sunday they spend happy hours together, while another woman left her little one in charge while she rejoined her husband in the tropics."—London Mail.

A CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

Woman Linotype Operator of Grand Rapids, Mich., Enters Race

FOR REPUBLICAN NOMINATION

Thinks Laboring Women Should Have Representation in Congress

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 19.—Mrs. Wheeler of Grand Rapids, a linotype operator in the government printing office at Washington, D. C., to-day announced her candidacy for the Republican congressional nomination in the fifth Michigan district. Mrs. Wheeler said:

"I am a laboring woman. I think laboring women should have representation in the halls of Congress. Through my work in Washington I am more or less familiar with the workings of congressional politics and I believe I could fill the bill, if chosen."

EXCITEMENT IN CORK QUIETS DOWN

Most of Casualties in Last Night's Street Fight Due to Excitement Over Killing of Man from Belfast.

Cork, July 19.—Most of the casualties in last night's street fighting, which was occasioned by excitement over the killing of John Burke at Belfast, occurred in the northern part of the city. After midnight the streets were comparatively quiet, with the military patrolling them. There was an occasional volley of shots, however, up to two o'clock.

CHURCH CROSS REPLACED.

That on St. Johnsbury Church Blew Down at Easter.

St. Johnsbury, July 19.—The huge cross for Notre Dame church is completed and St. Johnsbury's steeplejack began Saturday the hazardous work of erecting the cross. It was completed Saturday night and yesterday for the first time in several months parishioners worshipped in a cross-tipped church. The cross was blown down on the Saturday before Easter last.

Fred Vermette, the steeplejack, has performed a hazardous task and, before attempting the work, a $10,000 insurance policy was arranged for by Rev. E. C. Drouhin, priest in charge of Notre Dame. To the steeplejack's great delight his 17-year-old daughter, Rose, declares she will take up her father's work and she has climbed the 200-foot church steeple to assist her father.

The new cross is of copper, gilded with gold leaf, and made by E. E. Drouhin of the H. J. Goodrich Co. The gold leaf was added by the E. N. Brunelle Painting and Decorating Co. and the design for the cross was made by Archie Dutil. The cross is nine feet high and four and one-half feet across and weighs 60 pounds. From the top of the 200-foot spire of Notre Dame, it is visible from all sections of the town and the work of erecting it has been watched by hundreds.

RAILWAY SERVICE INTERRUPTED

The Tien-Tsin Line to Peking Held Up by Collision

Tien-Tsin, July 18.—Railway service with Peking has again been interrupted by a collision near Yantseu. As a result there is much congestion of troop trains from Mukden. A repair train replaced the derailed engine, but was unable to proceed further because of congestion due to the Anfuite reinforcements.

The Peking-Tien Tsin line is single-tracked. Haphazard running of trains by inexperienced soldiers is also aiding in the almost hopeless confusion. Nine trains are stalled in one section near Yangstun.

The gates to the city of Peking were closed Sunday to keep out refugees and defeated Anfuites. One division of Anfu forces has reached here already from Mukden, another is on its way and a third is ready to start when trains are available.

Fighting has begun on the Chihli-Shantung border. Tien-Tsin is quiet.

JAPANESE INDUSTRY DECLINES.

Financial Depression and Depreciation of Cotton Yarn Force Hosiery Down.

Tokio, July 19.—The financial depression and the depreciation of cotton yarn have placed the hosiery manufacturers of Japan in a critical position. Production in nearly all centers has either ceased or been reduced owing to the market prices offered for the manufactured goods and the closing of the money market, which has cut the manufacturers off from their supply of funds.

Scarcity of exchange funds and the sudden advance of exchange rates—consequently upon the depreciation of silver quotations, have helped to kill the export trade. Where the fall of silver prices has seriously affected Asiatic countries, the export of hosiery from Japan has been very seriously interfered with, the buying power of the mercantile community coming to a standstill.

According to official figures issued from Nagoya the financial depression has dealt the severest blow to the hosiery industry in that district. The latest return from the municipal office shows that 115 of the 225 factories in Nagoya have closed their doors and 1,715 of the 2,050 knitting machines are idle. Thousands of operatives are out of employment and the Manufacturers' union has organized a support association for their relief.

COOLIDGE AT WINDSOR.

Shakes Hands with Several Hundred People Saturday.

Windsor, July 19.—Several hundred people assembled on the premises of the old Constitution house at the north end of Windsor's main street, at 3 Saturday afternoon to meet Gov. Coolidge of Massachusetts and Mrs. Coolidge. Among those present were Gov. Percival W. Clement of Rutland, Senator W. P. Dillingham of Waterbury and Representative Frank L. Greene of St. Albans. Other well-known Vermonters present were Sherman Everts, Henry S. Wardner and Frank S. Hale of Windsor, William B. C. Stickney of Rutland and Judge S. N. Gage of Weathersfield. Visitors from Cornish, N. H., were George Rublee and Albion E. Lang.

Gov. Coolidge was previously the guest of Henry S. Wardner at luncheon. He was escorted from the Wardner residence to the old Constitution house by a party of 12 young Republicans. For over an hour Gov. Coolidge greeted the townspeople, but he made no address nor did any one else.

Use for the Vice-President.

The problem of the vice-president has existed ever since the beginning of our government, but it has never been a very pressing problem and therefore is still unsolved. The constitution makes the vice-president ex-officio president of the Senate, a dignified office. He presides over the deliberations of that body, signs the bills passed and resolutions adopted by it and in case of a tie casts the deciding vote, but otherwise he has no part in its proceedings. As a presiding officer he is expected to be absolutely unbiased in his rulings and to exercise no influence whatever in legislation. As a successor in waiting, he is usually looked upon with a jealous eye by the president, and the delicacy of his position prevents him from assuming any share in the administration. He is thus made to stand apart, aloof, a high officer of the government with no active part in the government. And yet it should be possible to make the office of vice-president a real influence in the co-ordination of the executive and the legislative powers, and two men who have served by lieutenant-governor, an office of similar character in the state governments, should, as Senator Harding says, know how to accomplish this. McKinley knew how to do it, and did it.

The president," says Olcott, in his biography of McKinley, "took the vice-president (Barrett A. Hobart) into his confidence and made him a valued adviser. Although not constitutionally either a member of the cabinet or of the Senate, Mr. Hobart was treated by the president as though he were both. He achieved influence both at the White House and the capital, and for the first time since the earliest days of the republic, the office of vice-president was clothed with an appropriate dignity." If Harding and Coolidge should be elected, there is no doubt that their relations would be of a similar nature, and the abilities of Governor Coolidge given an opportunity for expression.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Esp.
