Miss Wilhelmina Ewen, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Athol R. Bell, of Liberty street for the past two weeks, left today for Hartford, Conn., to visit another sister, Miss Ethel Ewen, before returning to Washington, D. C., where she is employed.

Maurice White of Newton street, a student at Albany Business college, Albany, N. Y., during the past six months, graduated from the institution July 24, and after passing a week with relatives in New York, returned to his home in this city. Yesterday he began work in the H. H. Patch & Co. granite office.

John E. Miles, son of W. H. Miles, and a former resident of Graniteville, has, together with his father, been visiting friends in that town during the past few days. Yesterday they went to Brattleboro, where the elder Mr. Miles conducts a business similar to that formerly operated by him in Graniteville. John Miles is employed by the Claxon company in Ohio.

Miss Ida Seigel, who for the past two weeks was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. Gould of 161 Brook street, returned to her home in Glens Falls, N. Y., Sunday. Miss Ida Gould, her cousin, who likewise has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gould, her parents, for two weeks, left also for Glens Falls and from there expects to journey into the Adirondacks and the vicinity of Lake George before returning to her employment in Philadelphia, Pa.

J. Frank Hanley, ex-governor of Indiana, and the victim of an auto and train collision in Dennison, O., which occurred Sunday afternoon, will be remembered as a prohibitionist speaker in Barre some few years ago. Mr. Hanley addressed at one time a large crowd in the Barre opera house and later advocated prohibition in the Methodist church of this city, in a speech. In 1916 he was a prohibition presidential candidate.

With hopes of reviving the old time spirit and good times a picnic will be held at Caledonia park next Saturday afternoon by the Barre branch of the Granite Cutters' International association. It was the custom in days gone by for all or nearly all stone cutters with their families to meet annually at a picnic, but during the past few years this practice has been abandoned. Everything to make this a grand success will be the efforts of the branch association.

AN ANCIENT GRAVESTONE

On Gooley Farm, Erected to Memory of John Gooley.

In the midst of a row of bushes and young trees on the north boundary line of the Gooley farm and not a hundred yards from the site of the proposed tuberculosis sanatorium, was found yesterday a slate memorial of ancient vogue, which became an interesting spectacle to the finders. The slate was much the same as that seen covering graves of the early '80s, but bore in no way signs of being weather beaten. Except for the figures carved in it, one would have cause to believe it had been in that position but a few years, such preservation of the stone having been given by the bushes. However, the stone sets firmly in the ground at an acute angle, the foundation of the monument having sunken a few inches.

The distinct inscription on this tablet reads: "In Memory of Mr. John Gould Jun, Son of Mr. John Gould of Winchester, who died April 15th, 1793, aged 23 years, 11 months and 11 days. The Eye of Him that hath seen me shall see me no more. Thine eyes are upon me & I am not."

The letters are large and easily legible and give the tablet a neatness and appearance that could be improved but slightly to-day even with the modern conveniences for carving such material.

From one of the older and best informed citizens of Barre's history, John J. Sowles of Beckley hill, it was learned that John Gould, jr., was killed by a falling tree while clearing land to build a sawmill on the present site of the Smith, Whitcomb & Cook machine shop on North Main street. It is learned that this spot in mention and a small tract of land surrounding, which was later the old farm place of John Sowles, was the only cleared land in the vicinity of Barre and served as a burying ground for this young man and five other pioneer settlers, the Bigelow family. The five other graves are unmarked, though it is said their location was in the vicinity of the one in question. No record is known of a Gould family in the early history of Barre, but there were Gouldburys, and the gravestone may have been for one of the latter family.

Miss Emma Nichols of Portsmouth, N. H., is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Reuben King.

Miss Marie Stokes of Middlebury is visiting at D. B. Ryan's.

Miss Helen Carey returned from New York City Saturday, where she has been attending summer school.

Donald M. Campbell of Milan, P. Q., was very pleasantly surprised Saturday evening at the home of K. N. Campbell of Cassie street, when about sixty of his friends gathered to spend a social evening with him. A program of Scottish songs was rendered, the chief entertainer being Murdo K. Nicholson of Seattle, Wash., who is visiting in town. In behalf of those present, Alex Stewart presented Mr. Campbell a purse of money, for which the latter expressed his gratitude in a few well-chosen words. Ice cream and cake were served by Miss Emma MacDonald and Mrs. K. N. Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Comings and little son of New Haven, Conn., are visiting friends and relatives in town.

Mrs. Henry Turcot and children of Barre are spending a week with her parents.

Alex Imlah and Robert Mackie returned to their home in Cambridge, Mass., Monday.

Frank LoSasso started last week to work for the Union Clothing Co. of Barre.

The Baptist Sunday school held its annual picnic Saturday at Benjamin Falls. Three truck loads of light-hearted folks left here in the forenoon and arrived at the falls just in time to enjoy the scenery a bit and renew old acquaintances before lunch. Early in the afternoon the races, in charge of James Raverscraft, took part in them and everyone enjoyed the excitement. The crowd returned home happily over their day's outing.

WILLIAMSTOWN

The Ford car of Victor J. Bushey of Southbridge, Mass., which was in a local garage last week for repairs to a broken reverse drum, was put in shape so that it was driven to South Woodbury on Friday, and he, with his party, passed through the village about 5 o'clock Saturday morning on their return journey home.

W. H. Stewart has bought of Herbert N. Farnham his home and land on Brookfield street formerly owned by N. R. Farnham, and during the boyhood days of your correspondent, by Robert Ceaver. It is understood that Mr. Farnham will move with his family to some industrial center, probably in Connecticut, later in the year. Mr. Stewart, who has been living in A. A. Reed's house in mill village, buys for a home.

The hand boys met as usual for practice last evening. There will be no concert on Saturday evening this week, as the Barre men have an engagement for the afternoon of that day.

The Congregational church is to be closed during the month of August, while the pastor is away on his vacation. Mrs. Walsh and daughter, Dorothy are to remain in town for the present.

L. O. Morgan, with his wife and son, Bruce, took an auto trip of over 120 miles on the 1st, going via Pittsfield, over Mendon pass to Rutland and Proctor. On the way home they detoured via Woodstock and Barnard.

Horace Lasell of Springfield and William O. Martin of White River Junction, with some other members of Mr. Martin's family, were in town Sunday at Mrs. Ada Lasell's.

M. Clyde Hutchinson, for several years a letter carrier of Burlington, and who was lately married in that city, arrived in town with his wife yesterday for a visit to relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. David C. Gale and son, Hilton, of Proctor are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lester O. Morgan.

Mrs. Elsie Kelly of Washington has engaged rooms of Mrs. Annie Randall and will be in town the last of the week, to do dressmaking at homes or other work as desired.

WEST TOPSHAM

Mrs. Carrie Prescott of Passumpsic, who has been visiting her sisters, Mrs. Bernard Cilley and Mrs. John Sanborn, for the past four weeks, expects to return to her home the first of this week.

Mrs. Jane Hayward is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Keyes. Mrs. Hayward, although 86 years of age, is still strong and ambitious. Last winter she accepted a position at $4 per week and held it through the entire season.

Miss Avis Smith spent Sunday at her home in Graniteville.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hight gave a brook trout dinner to eight of their friends Saturday. There were 54 fish, and such good size that after each of the ten people present had eaten their fill, there were still some remaining. Mr. Sterns, who is laying the stone work of the new bridge, was the fisherman, and he caught 32 of the fish within an hour.

Wanted to Know.

"Why did your cook leave?"
"She wanted us to raise her wages."
"What were you paying her?"
"Fifty dollars month."
"And couldn't you raise that much?"
