

The Two Ways.

"There are two ways to be independent in life; one is to make money enough to cover all your wants; the other is to limit your wants so strictly that you don't need much money to cover them."

The foregoing quotation from a recent magazine article by Bruce Barton embodies a sane philosophy of life, a brand of philosophy which this country is much in need of at the present moment. The tendency in recent years has been to gratify wants rather than to limit them. There are some indications, however, that the tide is turning and that there is a growing tendency to purchase according to urgent needs rather than according to urgent desires.

These two ways are ever before us. There is always the appeal to spend; the shop windows abound with opportunities to buy desirable things; it takes resolution and courage to resist the temptation to buy things useful in themselves but which are not absolutely necessary. It takes courage to limit our wants to the absolute necessities of life—yet many are doing it to-day and more will be doing it to-morrow. If we would do the best by our country and by ourselves we must see to it that there is always a margin of safety between income and outgo; that there shall always be set aside some amount, no matter how small, for the savings fund, for life insurance or for investment. This alone is the safe way.

May we not help you to save by opening a savings account in your name?

terrible dreams and woke up in a fright. I also had a persistent irritating burning and aching pain in my throat glands, which set me to coughing, especially at night. My feet pained me so bad that I don't think it could have hurt worse had someone been cutting them with a knife. I got so weak and helpless that I couldn't do a thing about the house.

"I saw in one of the local papers what Tanlac was doing and began taking it, and the way two bottles of this medicine has built me up is simply astonishing. Why, the pain has gone from my feet almost entirely and to-day I'm up and about doing my housework and am able to go wherever I please. I'm no longer troubled with gas on my stomach, my throat is never irritated and at night I sleep just fine. The good I have received from Tanlac is worth hundreds of times more than the medicine cost me, and I give it my highest recommendation."

Tanlac is sold in Barre by the Barre Drug Co., in Northfield by Nat A. Wheeler, in Waterbury by Brisbin & Brisbin, and in Westerville by E. H. Nerney—Adv.

To Women Who Overdo

Thousands of American women in our homes are daily sacrificing their lives to duty. In order to keep the home neat and attractive, the children dressed and tidy, women overdo, so that a weakness or displacement is brought on and they suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse. For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved a boon and a blessing to women in this condition, by restoring their systems to a normal healthy condition. Why don't you try it?—Adv.
