

BURGLAR PUT TO ROUT AFTER SHARP BATTLE IN A NEW YORK HOTEL

Discovered in the Act of Prying Open Jewel Box, He Ordered Man to Hold Up His Hands But Was Himself Attacked By Plucky Guest.

LATTER'S WIFE ALSO FOUGHT THE THIEF

When the Battle Got Too Warm for Him the Burglar Turned and Fleed from Murray Hill Hotel, With Robert L. Ireland in Pursuit.

New York, Dec. 24.—The hope that New York's crime wave had begun to recede, engendered by an apparent lull in serious outbursts during the last two days, was dashed to-day when a hold-up took place in the Murray Hill hotel on Park avenue.

A short man with a scar across his face entered a suite on the fourth floor occupied by Robert L. Ireland, who was accompanied by his wife.

Armed with a revolver, Mr. Ireland was ordered by the intruder to get out of bed and throw up his hands. Ignoring the second command, the guest tossed off the sheets, sprang up and made a flying tackle.

The robber shook himself loose and a brief struggle followed. Then the intruder fled and Mr. Ireland gave the alarm.

Smarting under the taunt of another hotel break following on the heels of a sensational hold-up at the Hotel Astor last week, the police arrived on the double quick and were posted all around the hotel in the hope of catching the intruder who it was thought might have concealed himself in the building.

At 3:48 a. m., Mrs. Ireland heard the burglar and awoke her husband, who saw the intruder on the floor trying to pry open a jewel box with a screw driver.

Mr. Ireland seized a revolver while struggling with the burglar, but the latter hit him with a chair and knocked the weapon from his hand. Mr. Ireland had directed his wife to telephone for assistance, but the intruder seized her and placed her before him as a shield.

Returning to the fray with a piece of broken chair, Mr. Ireland landed several blows before the robber fled. The guest followed him in his pajamas through the corridor and down four flights of stairs, losing him when the robber made a dive into the basement.

Mr. and Mrs. Ireland had been guests at the hotel, located about a block from the Grand Central station, for about three years. Before his retirement from the business, Mr. Ireland, who is 54 years old, was connected with the Mark & Hanna company of Cleveland and associated with Dan Hanna in ownership of Cleveland newspaper properties.

Fifty-one arrests were made during the night, but most of them were for minor charges.

Police Commissioner Enright said the intense campaign against lawlessness would be continued relentlessly. He issued orders recalling to active patrol duty several hundred police who are on special detail. The order is effective Jan. 1.

Warren G. McConne, who said he was a former judge at Troy, was taken to police headquarters early to-day for refusing to untrap a package upon a writ issued by a justice of the peace. The package was found to contain only Christmas tree ornaments. He protested the procedure, claiming it was a violation of a citizen's constitutional rights.

ARGENTINA WILL RECEIVE COLBY

Will Send a Warship to Montevideo to Meet Secretary of State.

Buenos Aires, Dec. 23.—Doubts as to whether Bainbridge Colby, United States secretary of state, would be received by the Argentine government as the nation's guest were settled to-day by an announcement by the foreign office that he would be so received and that Argentina would send a warship to Montevideo, Uruguay, to bring him to Buenos Aires.

In this connection the foreign office made public a memorandum of Frederick J. Stimson, United States ambassador to Argentina, stating that the United States government considers that Mr. Colby's visit will show without any doubt that there does not exist and never has existed any vestige of friction on the part of the United States by reason of the policy followed by the Argentine government during the recent war.

The memorandum also stated Mr. Colby had no intention of "making reference to questions which have arisen during the last few years," but was only bringing assurances of the friendship of the United States.

WILL GIVE UP SANTO DOMINGO

United States Will Release Control of Dominican Affairs

NAVAL GOV. SNOWDEN MADE PROCLAMATION Under Direction of President Wilson After Over Four Years' Control

Washington, D. C., Dec. 24.—A proclamation announcing "that the government of the United States believes the time has arrived when it may inaugurate the simple processes of its rapid withdrawal from the responsibilities assumed in connection with Dominican affairs," was issued at Santo Domingo to-day by Rear Admiral Thomas Snowden, naval governor, by direction of President Wilson.

The proclamation was in the nature of a Christmas gift to the Dominican people and presaged the withdrawal of American control over the affairs of the West Indian republic which began more than four years ago.

Admiral Snowden announced that a commission of representative Dominican citizens soon would be appointed with a technical adviser to be named by President Wilson to formulate amendments to the constitution, revise the laws of the republic and draft a new election law.

A statement issued by the state department said complete tranquility had been maintained since the withdrawal of the republic and that the people for the first time in many years had been enabled to devote themselves to peaceful occupations without fear of disturbance.

"The finances of the country," the statement continued, "have been placed on a stable basis, great improvements have been brought about in public works, particular attention has been devoted to sanitation and public health, the educational system has been completely reorganized with the result that whereas there was a school attendance of about 18,000 pupils before the occupation, there are now 100,000 pupils attending school, and the result of the American administration the gross revenues of the republic have increased from a total of some four million dollars in 1916, to a total of over seven millions and a half in 1919."

Mr. Bowman quoted the president as saying: "Now I want you gentlemen to assist me. I want you to find a solution for those vexing problems which will be just as fair to the Germans and still please Mr. Clemenceau, which is to say France."

Boston, Dec. 24.—Harry R. TRADING WITH SPAIN OFFERS GOOD CHANCES

U. S. Trade Commissioner Arthur Young Points Out the Advantages.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 24.—Opportunities for trade with Spain are called to the attention of American business men in a report to the department of commerce by Trade Commissioner Arthur Young. Spain, he says, is the only European nation with a balance of trade in its favor as a result of the war and has a surplus sufficient to pay cash for American goods.

Spain's balance of trade at the close of the war, was $72,000,000, and the entire country prosperous. This is largely due, Mr. Young says, to the fact that Spain, the only large European nation, was able to export goods to the warring nations and received cash for its products while at the same time withstanding any ill effect from curtailment of imports.

The cost of living has increased less in Spain than in any other European country and there has been practically no inflation of paper money beyond that caused by the legitimate importation of gold.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Cards have been received in the city announcing the marriage of Rose M. Trow of 14 South Main street and Joseph Norton of Lynn, Mass., the marriage taking place at Lynn last week. Mr. Norton is engaged in the piano business in Lynn.

Students arriving last evening from the University of Vermont, which closed Thursday, were Alden Burke, John Shepard, James Kidder, Howard Cole, Allan Calet, Harley Grew, Edward Glysson, Frank Lawless, Wilfred Lovell, Clarence Carpenter and Dodge Lee, Clarence Carpenter, Dodge Lovell and Miss Emily Dodge. All will spend the Christmas recess at their respective homes in and about Barre.

People in the Washington street section of the city are becoming decidedly exasperated over the poor service, or lack of service given them by the traction company since winter weather set in. The Washington street car often doesn't run to the end of the line.

Coming to the defense of the company, the employes of the company say that most of the fault lies in the practice of automobile drivers in operating their vehicles in the car tracks, causing the snow and ice to pack down on the rail so that the electric car cannot penetrate the mass. One morning recently the sweeper cleared the track up the hill and was followed by two automobiles, which crashed the snow back onto the track so that the passenger car following required twenty minutes to "make" the run.

A black fox that has been seen occasionally during the fall by farmers and hunters in Graniteville and vicinity may be dead now or may still be slinking the dog hunters and as many dogs that were on his trail all day yesterday. For 48 hours he deceived the hunters and dogs and dodged 16 bullets, fired at him by the numerous hunters, yet at the last report was still enjoying the freedom of the land. The hunt started early Wednesday morning. Richard Bellay, Ross Finnegan, and two other starting dogs, chased with two dogs. All day Wednesday these hunters followed the trail, and all Wednesday night one dog continued the chase. With the dawn of day three more dogs were put on the trail and yesterday afternoon Graniteville men were searching for him. Twice William Riddle, a farmer in Graniteville, shot at the fox yesterday for it is in the vicinity of the Riddle farm on the mountain near it that the chase continues. The three young men had seen the fox only shot at him while hunting before, but not since Wednesday did they decide to run him down. Mr. Riddle declares the fox, as he saw him, was all black except the tip of his tail, which was white. Graniteville has before been the home of a black fox, about four years ago. At that time a fox hound owned by Frank Finnegan took up the chase and was still on the trail when a hunter in Lebanon, N. H., shot the fox and sent the dog back to its owner.

25 BARRELS OF WHISKEY

Were Seized By Customs Officials at St. Albans

SEIZURE WORTH ABOUT $25,000

Liquor Was in South-Bound Freight Car Billed from Montreal

St. Albans, Dec. 24.—Local customs officials to-day reported the seizure of 26 barrels of Scotch whiskey, each barrel containing from 100 to 125 quarts, in a south-bound freight car, which was billed from Montreal. No details regarding the consignee have been given out. Had the liquor been received by the consignee and sold, it would have brought about $25,000 at the place to which it was consigned.

It is customary when a freight train arrives for the local customs officials to give the cars a thorough examination and if there is any suspicion as to their total contents to set them aside for a more thorough examination. Whether a tip was received in this case is not known, but the car was set off when it arrived in the yards two days ago.

After a more thorough examination, an O. K. mark was allowed to be put on the Central Vermont freight depot, though he detected the odor of liquor. The contents of the cars were removed and the liquor was found.

$25,000 SUIT FOR WATER LOSS

East Montpelier Claims Corry, Deavitt, Frost Dam No. 2 R. Consible

SUES COMPANIES AN INDIVIDUALS Another Suit for $5,000 for Injuries Sustained on Railroad

Suit has been brought in chancery by the town of East Montpelier against the Montpelier & Barre Light & Power Co. and F. M. Corry, E. H. Deavitt and J. M. Frost, individually, to recover $25,000 damages alleged to have been sustained to the highway through the construction of No. 2 dam of the Corry Deavitt, Frost Electric Co.'s plant on the Winooski river between Montpelier and East Montpelier.

The plaintiff in the suit alleges that $5,000 of the $25,000 is for damages expended in the repairing of the road because of the damage done by the setting back of the water and that the remaining $20,000 is for general damage to the highway at that point.

Another suit just entered is that of Julia Andrews of Roxbury against John Barton Payne, as director general of the railroads in charge of the Central Vermont Railway Co. Damages of $5,000 are claimed. It is alleged that on April 1, 1919, the plaintiff was a passenger on a Central Vermont train from Randolph to Roxbury and that in alighting from a car she was thrown to the ground when a step on the car broke. The plaintiff avers that one knee was injured, several ribs were broken, her right side was bruised and that one kidney was loosened, all of which caused her much suffering. Hence the suit against the director general.

S. H. S. 1918 REUNION. As Many as 55 Recalled Their Old School Days.

Of a class of 93 who graduated with the class of 1918 from Spaulding, 55 returned to the school room last evening, seated themselves in their old school-day places in room A and subjected themselves to the discipline of the institution once again, but for a shorter period. Everything worked as scheduled, Miss Eva G. Smith took attendance at 8 o'clock, H. H. Jackson, former principal, led the way to assembly and Class-President Laurence Campbell presided at the special exercises. Mr. Jackson's impromptu address recalled the days of '18 and "Young America" and was delivered in that pleasing Jacksonian manner.

Kid trick and school-day stunts were recalled in the class history when read by Miss Mildred McGue, and the prophecies of Miss Vivian Marrow were rehearsed once again. Current events by Dean C. Davis reminded many that some of the prophecies had come to pass, that since several of the members of the class were married and now parents, it should be only in accordance with the progressiveness of the '18 class to hold a baby show at the next reunion.

Singing in unison, dancing to a four-piece orchestra, refreshments prepared by the young ladies in the domestic room, all covered the period of time from 9 o'clock until midnight, and then the largest reunion of 1918 ended, a joyous success.

FIFTH ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE. Leon Shontelle Had Succeeded in Bolt at Montpelier Jail.

The attempt was discovered by Sheriff Tracy, and now Shontelle, who had been given the liberty of the jail corridors, is in his cell and will probably remain there until he goes to state's prison or some other institution.

Using one of the case knives handed to him for his meals, Shontelle had made a saw and had half sawed one of the bolts in the door leading downstairs in the jail. Flight would have been easy had he gotten through that door.
