STOVE

A new business firm in Stowe is that of H. E. Shaw, Inc., articles of association for which have recently been filed with the secretary of state at Montpelier. The company is organized for the purpose of doing a general mercantile business, including the sale at wholesale and retail of food, flour, groceries, sugar, farm products, hardware, clothing, boots and shoes, paints and oils, automobiles, etc., and is capitalized at $50,000. H. E. Shaw, the senior member of the firm, began in the mercantile business in the employ of Miles, McMahon and company, where he worked for seven years, receiving for the first year his board and $50. He started in business for himself in September, 1895, with less than $1,000 capital. The other members of the new company are Mr. Shaw's older son, Gale H. Shaw, who has been employed as bookkeeper in the business since completing a course at the Lowell (Mass.) business college in 1915, with the exception of nine months' service in the United States navy in the World War; Mr. Shaw's daughter, Miss Ruby D. Shaw, and his brother-in-law, George W. Gale, who has been employed in the business 16 years. Mr. Shaw, who is one of Stowe's leading citizens, has other business interests, including a large lumber business and a butter packer's manufactory, and an interest in the Stove Butter Package company.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any drugist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Pinus with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

SEARCH MADE FOR PAVLIS VESSEL NEEDS PROMPT AID

Alleged By Police to Have Killed Mrs. Bessie Price of Stoughton, Mass.

Norwegian Steamship Ontaneda Sends Out Distress Signals

WOMAN REFUSED HIS ATTENTIONS FREIGHTER RUSHES TO POINT NAMED

Her Body Was Found By Little Son in Closet of Price Home

Stoughton, Mass., Jan. 11.—Search was made to-day for George M. Pavlis, alias George Brown, in connection with the murder of Mrs. Bessie Price, whose body with a bullet wound in the head was found in a closet in her home here yesterday. The police claim Pavlis, formerly a boarder at the Price home, killed Mrs. Price when she refused to accept his attentions. According to the woman's husband, Pavlis had threatened Mrs. Price on several occasions during the past three months.

The police state that at the time of the shooting of the woman's two sons, Seymour, aged seven, and Allen, aged four, were in the house. Seymour told the police that he heard two shots and then saw Pavlis come down stairs from his mother's bedroom. "Don't go up stairs," Pavlis admonished the boy, according to his story. "I have shot a rat and he might bite you." Pavlis left the house immediately. Seymour investigated and found his mother dying. He called a neighbor, who notified the police.

Pavlis boarded at the Price home previous to last June, Mr. Price said, and while a member of the household was attentive to Mrs. Price and the children, frequently buying them presents. Three months ago Mr. Price said he received a bill from Pavlis for $300 for the gifts that he had made. Price said that he paid the bill and since then Pavlis had threatened him several times. He had complained to the police about the actions of Pavlis on numerous occasions.

When it became apparent that Pavlis intended to make trouble, it was decided to appease him by asking him to return as boarder, Price said. Saturday Price went to Boston and returned with his father to help him solve the problem, and it was agreed that Pavlis would return. Yesterday afternoon Pavlis and Mrs. Price went with the father to the railroad station and saw the latter on a train. Mrs. Price and Pavlis did not return home together but the police believe that the man entered shortly after the woman and the shooting followed.

Iconoclastic.

H. G. Wells hasn't a very romantic vision of "the glory that was Greece." He says in his "Outlines of History" that if we could be plumped down in the Athens of Pericles we should find it rather a tawdry, music-hall sort of a place. Perhaps H. G. is right. Personally we have always discounted those stories of ancient grandeur and greatness, and we venture to assert, by way of example, that if "the topless towers of Ilium" could set down among our modern skyscrapers, they would make a mighty ridiculous showing.—Boston Transcript.

AMERICAN TRADE IS NOW HANDICAPPED

By Low Rate of Exchange and By Labor Conditions in Foreign Countries.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 11.—Better trade conditions between the United States and South America and the far east cannot be expected until low rates of exchange and labor conditions in foreign countries have been improved, according to a summary of world business made public by the department of commerce.

In practically every country of South America and the far east imports have fallen in the last few months and money has become hard to obtain.

Australia is represented to be awaiting lower prices before buying much in the American markets and banks have raised money prices. This, with the low rate of the pound, exchange, has brought about a virtual stagnation of the market.

The Japanese financial condition is most unsatisfactory. Commercial Attache Abbott cables from Tokio. He predicts a severe drop in the Japanese exchange rate. He reports banks have tightened the money market by raising rates. Japan finished the year with a large balance of trade against her and large stocks of gold against her in warehouses. The general stagnation of business has brought about a situation which will result in the cutting of wages.

Failure of many business houses in Chicago is foreseen by Commercial Attache Arnold of Peking, who cables that the ancient Chinese custom of paying all debts on the new year, Feb. 8, will force many places to close.

Low exchange rates have resulted in an overstocked market in India, according to Commissioner Batchelder at Calcutta, who says that exports have fallen off to an alarming extent.

Argentine exports and imports have dropped, while the money market has become tight. Commercial Attache Feeley reports. Double the number of failures were reported in December as compared with the same month a year ago. The Brazilian market is overstocked, money is "tight," exports are decreasing and an unfavorable balance of trade is increasing each month.

In Chile both exports and imports are reported to be decreasing and the exchange rate is unimproved.

Venezuela is reported as still in the midst of a financial decline and officials fear more serious steps are to come.

Commercial Attache Jackson reports many business failures are expected in Mexico. He asserts government finances are un sound, the cost of living is increasing, a general lowering of wages has begun and unemployment is general.
