WINTERS PLACING PEOPLE IN AND ABOUT HENDERSONVILLE

Quay Dotson has gone to Wake Forest where he will attend college this winter.

Noble Jordan and Marion Trice left Sunday for Raleigh where they will enter A. & M. College.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Carroll left today for Hendersonville, N. C., where they expect to spend two weeks.—York (S. C.) News.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. McAden and little daughter, Convere, and Lewis C. Burwell will leave this morning for Hendersonville where they will be joined by Mrs. Burwell and daughter, Convere, for Asheville. They will spend a week or longer at Grove Park Inn.—Charlotte Observer.

Edney-Pace. Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Jones Edney of Hendersonville, have issued cards announcing the marriage of their daughter, Sallie Kate, to Mr. James J. Pace, of Hendersonville, on Saturday, August 26, 1916, at Columbus, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Montgomery, Frank, Albert and Miss Lucile Montgomery, motored to Hendersonville Sunday, where they were joined by Miss Lois Montgomery, who has been spending some time in the mountains. They were accompanied home by Miss Anne Anderson of Augusta.—Spartanburg Herald.

Was a Charming Visitor.

Mrs. James A. Robinson, of Durham, whose presence at the Carolina Terrace for the past five weeks added so much to the social enjoyment of the season, and who entered so graciously into all of the social functions for the entertainment and pleasures of the guests, returned home Sunday, leaving a host of new-made friends who regretted her departure. Mrs. Robinson is supervisor of the primary grades of the Durham city schools, and is one of the foremost educators in the state, especially in the departments mentioned above.

Caught on the Curb

Tom Guice brought a rattle snake to town last week which had twelve rattlers and was very much alive. The snake created much interest on account of being an unusually large one.

J. D. Duff has returned from a business trip to New York.

B. F. Staton is spending a few days in Charlotte this week.

Miss Lula Alexander of Asheville, is the attractive guest of Miss Minnie Crane.

Miss Bell and Smith of Atlanta, were the guests of Miss Sara Miller last week.

Miss Grace Hanner of Siler City, N. C., is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. G. Jones, on South Main.

Miss Hazel Russ has gone to Wilmington where she entered the James Walker Memorial hospital to take training for a professional nurse.

Miss Dorothy McKamy has returned to her home in Riceville, Tenn., after an extended visit here with Miss Laura Stinespring.

Mayor and Mrs. C. E. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Brooks, Misses Jessine and Annie Brooks, and C. S. Fullbright spent Monday on a trip to Mt. Mitchell.

BREVARD WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE.

Lying in a clump of weeds, with a pistol still clutched in her fast stiffening hand, Mrs. C. M. Gallimore, sixty years of age and one of the prominent women of Brevard and Transylvania counties, was found dead Monday afternoon. She had been shot through the mouth, the bullet penetrating the brain and killing her instantly. The verdict of the coroner's jury was suicide.

Who is going to lease the new opera house?

This question has been asked by a great number of citizens. The city aldermen are anxious that it be rented this season with the proviso, that the house can be used by the city for public meetings, etc., not conflicting with show nights. While Hendersonville is abundantly supplied with moving picture houses it has been a long, long time since a fine opera house has been open here.

The speed mania of a few drivers of automobiles on the Asheville road has become actually unbearable at times.

Its almost a daily occurrence for a small car to be forced into a ditch by a big one or a car to fall in slowing down around the curves thus causing some hair-breadth escapes. This thoroughfare is no doubt the most traveled road in Western North Carolina by automobiles.

District Passenger Agent J. H. Wood, of Asheville, and J. W. Bailey, local agent, have given final notice to the hotel keepers and boarding house keepers that if they desire to be represented in the winter tourist booklet issued by the Southern Railway company that they must hand in the information at once.

It might even be too late now. The booklets are printed in lots of many thousands and distributed throughout the United States. Hendersonville is expecting a larger season this winter than ever before.

Who cornered the egg market? Can anybody tell. Of course this time of the year hens lay less eggs than at any other season, but it can hardly be remembered when they were so scarce.

Several days last week every merchant in the city was entirely out. One man said that he had all been bought up and carried to South Carolina by wagon. Others say that the demands are too great for the output in Hendersonville. Anyway it will have a tendency to cause more people to enter the poultry business for a livelihood.

RAISES GOOD SUM.

About $150 net was realized from the sale of tickets to the Masonic Minstrelists given by local talent here two nights last week. The money will be turned over to the Oxford Orphanage at Oxford.

AMUSEMENTS

AL FIELD'S PROGRAM FULL OF NOVELTIES.

A splendid example of the constant originality shown by Al G. Field in making his annual minstrel production entirely new each year is found in this season's program, which is replete with novelties from start to finish.

The very opening starts out differently from the conventional method. Three animated tableaux, unique in make-up, picture the development of minstrelsy from the plantation pastimes of Dixieland. Songs accompany these in a manner which produces many surprises.

In "A Modern Minstrel Cabaret," which is offered a shtetle of minstrel attainment up to date, one innovation follows another. Entrances, costumes, scenery, etc., are in a new vein. Even the galaxy of comedians make their fun a part of the performance in an entirely original way.

The singing, yodling, dancing, and specialty numbers likewise offer departures from past years.

The Ohio is also a succession of distinctive things. Ad. G. Field's fantasy, "Christmas Eve at Home," is individual not only in its story, fun, and songs, but in its settings. In the Saxophone Sextette number, directed by Theodore Murphy, both the instruments and musical selections are unique.

The travesty "The Battle of the Bats—Our National Pastime, or Chasing Villa," which is the finale of the program, is entirely unlike those which have in the past been associated with baseball burlesques.

As to the company, Field himself when organizing the advertising campaign for the year, gave positive instructions against making superlative descriptions of the members. "Present," he said, "the names of the comedians, singers and dancers. The public will know how funny they are, how well they can sing, and how well they can dance, for the public knows these artists as well as I do, and it knows what the 'Field Brand' in the way of production means."

Among the comedians and singers are some of the leading dancers of the organization, and in addition to these are such popular ones as Joe McCarty, Henri Neiser, Carl Nixon, Jim Conroy, Garner Newton, and others.

The Al G. Field Greater Minstrel are at the Auditorium at Asheville, for two performances, Saturday, September 9. The advance seat sale for both matinee and night performances will go on sale Thursday morning at 9 o'clock at the Paramount drug store. Out of town patrons can secure prompt attention by writing the management for tickets.

PAULINE FREDERICK IN SECOND SCREEN APPEARANCE.

Pauline Frederick, whose remarkable characterization as Donna Roma in the Famous Players Film Company's great spectacular production, "The Eternal City," brought forth unstinted praise of the American press and public, will make her re-appearance on the screen in that company production of "Sold" the famous emotional drama on the Paramount Program at The Vista, Saturday September 9.

In "Sold" Miss Frederick portrays the sacrificing young wife of a struggling artist for his financial betterment. Through a series of powerful climaxes, the story reaches the point where the wife, facing destitution through her husband's refusal to heed the demands of the art dealers for sensational pictures, deliberately arranges to pose for his successful rival in the nude, in order to save him from utter starvation. The husband hearing of her act, in a mad fury shoots at the painting of his rival and strikes her, hiding behind the easel. Miss Frederick, who proved undeniably in her portrayal of Donna Roma that she is the screen's greatest dramatic actress, will undoubtedly strengthen this position through her powerful rendition of this role. The spectator will be held breathless with excitement following the development of the characterization. The subject, with its sumptuous and artistic mountings, is far above the standard of even the most precocious type of features, and will make as distinct a sensation as Pauline Frederick did in "The Eternal City."

STORM STOPS WATCHES.

Ringling, Okla., Sept. 4.—Main-springs of 1,000 watches snapped within a radius of 20 miles of Ringling during a recent electrical storm. "This is not unusual," said a jeweler as three men came to his counter with "dead" watches. "All over the middle west, and probably in other parts of the country, electrical disturbances play havoc with the time o' day. I recall that a few years ago in Chicago a record was kept of the number of watches broken during an electrical storm, and the number reached 2,800. All of them stopped during a period of 15 minutes.

"I can't tell how many were affected," said the jeweler, "during the storm here, but I shouldn't be surprised if 1,000 are out of order in this section. All day long they have been coming to me, and in nearly every case it was the same trouble—a broken mainspring."

The electrical storm, traveling from southeast to northwest and passing over Ringling and the Healdton oil fields, lasted less than one and a half hours, beginning about 8 o'clock, yet some watches brought in for repairs stopped as late as 11:30 which the jeweler said was extraordinary.

AT SALISBURY.

W. A. Garren of this city, quartermaster of the uniform rank Woodmen of the World, is in Salisbury this week looking after the erection of tents for the annual encampment to be held there next week.

SEVERELY BURNED.

Ralph Hawkins, an employe of one of the local garages, had both hands and arms severely burned one night last week when someone overturned a lantern near some gasoline.

FRANCISCO MADERO DIES A REFUGEE IN NEW YORK.

Francisco Madero, father of the late President Madero of Mexico, and one of the largest land and mine owners in that country, was found dead in bed at his home in New York Sunday from heart disease. He was 67 years old. Mr. Madero fled to New York after the assassination of his two sons, Francisco, Jr., then president of Mexico, and Gustavo, who had been financial agent for the revolutionists. President Madero was killed on February 21, 1913, and Gustavo two days before. The family estate, said to have been valued at $6,000,000, including large holdings of land in northern Mexico, were confiscated by the Huerta government, but three weeks ago the Carranza government informed Mr. Madero that his property would be restored to him.

The body will be taken to Mexico for burial, according to the family. Friends of Mr. Madero assert that after the tragic deaths of his sons he never discussed Mexico with them or members of his family.
