

AGRICULTURAL.

Don't Mortgage the Farm.

There is in Bangor an ancient drug-store which for over forty years has been the headquarters of the farmers trading in that city. There they go for goods, to leave whips, robes and bundles, to loaf away the evenings when "down on the jury," and when in search of information, into it the other day there walked a sturdy yeoman, his bronzed face and hard, horny hands telling of exposure to the weather and of days of hard toil. His clothing was of good, honest material and on his feet were solid cowhide boots. Walking up to the proprietor of the store he inquired for Lawyer Blank.

Now the man from the farm had such an honest face, such an innocent look, that the druggist, knowing the man sought for to be a "sharper," in fact not a real lawyer at all—departed from his rule of minding his own business and asked the farmer what he wanted of the lawyer. In a few words the story was told. It seems the man had worked hard all his days, had bought and paid for a $1200 farm, had taken a wife, furnished a house and now, envious of some of his neighbors, wanted to build a $300 barn. To do this he proposed to borrow the cash, giving a mortgage on his farm. Said the druggist, after the story was told:

"Your farm is clear now?"
 "Yes, sir."
 "You love your wife?"
 "Yes, sir."
 "Well," said the merchant, "this is what you should do. Go home and earn the three hundred dollars first and then build your barn. If you borrow now, you will think each night as you lie on your bed that you are in debt. You will fret and worry; your young wife will do the same; sickness and accidents may come, or a poor crop be your portion; there will be a three hundred dollar skeleton in your house and, ten to one, you don't fret and grow peevish and have a row with your wife. Don't go into debt! Live within your income, be industrious, and when you do build your barn and own it, you'll be as proud of it as an Englishman is of his castle."

For a moment the young farmer hesitated. On each side were interested spectators, and all was silence. Gradually the head lowered and a tear rolled down the cheek. Though only a tiller of the soil, the man took pride in his occupation and wanted that barn. At last he said:

"Thank you, sir. To tell you the truth, my wife was crying when I left home because I was going to mortgage the place. I'll take your advice and go home as I came down, and she'll be glad to see me."

"There," said the Bangor man, "that fellow came to a good, wise conclusion. I have seen lots of misery on account of this mortgage business. He who gives one often gives peace, comfort and contentment with it."—Lexington Journal.

The Time to Apply Manure.

The proper time to apply manure is in the late fall or winter. Our grandfathers used to think there was no time to spread manure but in the spring. They were right then, but if we think so now we are wrong. Why? Things have changed since then. They had more snow in winter and more rain in summer, both of which have a great effect upon the soil. Then the winter was a very busy time of the year; besides their chores, they had husking and threshing to do, and there was no time to spread manure. There was wood to chop, and countless other things to do by hand, which are now done by machinery.

Very many objections will be raised to winter application. Some say manure spread in the fall loses a great part of its strength. How can it? It is soon covered with snow, and what would evaporate does not amount to much at all. Plant food does not evaporate. Then you say perhaps on some soils it may leach. I do not think you ever knew of a case of the kind, in land that was tilled. It may leach if left in piles, or in a barnyard, or under the eaves. Those are the places where leaching occurs. Then you say, if spread in the snow the best part of the manure will wash off in the spring. This is very seldom the case. The snow melts gradually, and the ground is thawing at the same time, and it takes up the plant food as fast as it comes in contact with it. I should not advise any one to spread manure on a steep hillside in the winter, neither would I advise you to spread land that was very much sloping on top of a hard crust of snow; there are exceptions to all things to all things. But, brother farmers, you will make money in more than one way by spreading the manure in the fall or winter. In the first place you will save leaching and other wastes in the barnyard, you will save time, which is money, and your crops will be enough better to pay for all the trouble.

Hog Cholera.

Many interesting things have been published in the Stockman in respect to the hog. Having had much trouble with the great hog disease I may venture a few remarks on this much worn subject. In August last I had hogs, ten in number, between ten and eleven months old, taken sick with cholera, and of which were quite sick. These two I separated from the rest of the herd. I immediately procured some mill feed and fed seed and oats, also one teaspoonful to each hog of the following: Ground ginger 4 oz., black antimony 2 oz., flour sulphur 2 oz., pulverized lime 2 oz., sulphate iron 4 oz. The eight hogs ate very sparingly of the feed but soon began to mend, in three weeks were quite well and on full feed again. These ten were fed until 14 months old and weighed 300 pounds. Now for the remaining two; they lay in the pen, refusing to eat anything for over one week, when they began to eat a little. I fed the powder in the slop, being careful to give no more feed than they would eat up clean. They fully recovered from the disease and ate well, but did not thrive in proportion to the feed they ate. I have been giving the above powder for some years, both for hogs, and as a preventive of hog cholera. It surely has some effect, as I have used it when my hogs were doing well, and it invariably restored the hair to a brighter color and caused the skin to become clean and healthy.—*Cor. Household Recipes.

Muffins.—One cup of milk, three eggs, small piece of butter, two teaspoons of baking powder, two cups of flour, one-half teaspoon of salt. Bake in muffin rings.

Sally Lun Gens.—One egg, two table-spoons of sugar, two table-spoons of butter, one cup of sweet milk, two cups of flour, one teaspoon cream tartar, one-half teaspoon of soda. Bake fifteen minutes.

Doughnuts.—One egg, one cup sugar, two table-spoons melted lard, one-half cup thick milk, same of sweet milk, three table-spoons of cream of tartar, one and one-half table-spoons of soda. Mix soft.

Cookies.—Two heaping cups of sugar, one-half cup of lard, one cup of butter-milk; dissolve one teaspoonful of soda and two of baking powder in the buttermilk, flavor with lemon, flour enough to roll easy.

Ham Croquettes.—Chop the ham very fine and season with pepper or mustard. With a little fat in hand, make up small balls and dip in beaten egg, roll in crumbs of bread or cracker, and fry to a light brown in hot lard.

White Cake.—One-half cup butter and two cups of sugar, worked to a cream, the whites of seven eggs beaten to a stiff froth, one-third cup of sweet milk, three cups of flour, flavor with vanilla, two table-spoons of baking powder.

Jelly Cake.—Two cups white sugar, three eggs, one cup lard whipped with a fork until it is light and smooth, one cup sour cream, one teaspoon soda, two table-spoons cream tartar, 3/4 of an hour. Flavor with essence of lemon.

Milk Frothing.—Ten table-spoons of sweet milk, one and a half cups of sugar; let boil six minutes; take off and stir until quite white; put in a little lemon, spread quickly before getting too hard, wetting the knife in cold water. Very nice.

Fig Pudding.—One-half pound figs, one-half pound bread crumbs, six ounces moist sugar, six ounces beef suet, two eggs, a little nutmeg, and a cup of milk. Figs and suet to be chopped very fine; mix all well and steam in a mould or steamer three hours.

Taffy.—Three pounds of treacle, two pounds of moist sugar, one-half pound of butter, flavor with a few drops only of essence of lemon or of peppermint; boil it one and a half hours, watching all the time, that it does not boil over (as it is apt to do if not attended to and stirred now and then).

Rice Cake.—One pound flour, one pound ground rice, three table-spoons of baking powder, one-half pound moist sugar, one-quarter pound butter, one-quarter cup of drippings, one egg, a very small quantity nutmeg. Mix with milk or with cold water. Bake in a quick oven, first having pulled the mixture into little rough cakes about the size of the top of a breakfast cup.

Broiled Mutton Chops.—Cut some chops from the best end of the loin or neck, trim them neatly, remove the skin or fat, leaving only enough of the latter to make them palatable. Place the chops on a gridiron over a very clear fire; turn them frequently, taking care that the fork is not put into the lean part of the chops. Season them with pepper and salt. When done put a piece of fresh butter over each chop, and send them to the table on a hot dish.

Cocoanut Pound Cake.—Beat half pound of butter and one pound of pulverized sugar to a creamy froth; stir in gradually one pound of sifted flour in which you have thoroughly mixed two table-spoons of baking powder, a pinch of salt and a teaspoonful of ground lemon peel—this may be fresh or dried; four well beaten eggs, a cupful of sweet milk, and a quarter of a pound grated cocoanut; beat this in rapidly; bake in buttered tins in a moderate oven.

Plant corn next year. When Jefferson Davis was President of the Southern Confederacy, in 1864, he ordered corn planted in the cotton fields. It showed his wisdom. He knew there could be no great suffering if there was a plenty of corn, while the people might die of starvation if only cotton were planted. It is just that way yet. TO MERCHANTS

And those about to enter into MERCANTILE PURSUITS.
 The unprecedented large sales by my House as evidenced by Railroad receipts for shipments between August 1st and 20th, of the nine hundred (900) cases and bales of goods, show how successfully my "Wholesale" business is. Yet far larger shipments would have been made were it not that my salesmen were prevented by the heavy rains from making all the trips mapped out. I will reimburse you for the loss of sales. I say come to Charlotte, see my colossal lines of Goods, from which you can make your selections far more satisfactory than from sample. And moreover, I will reimburse you for the loss of sales in full of your outlays. Is this not fair and liberal on my part?

A Word to New Beginners.

After 33 years of close observation in business, I am fully convinced that by far the greatest number of unsuccessful County Merchants is due to this section only, the chances are that the new beginner will buy the most unsuitable stock for his section; hence he has his shelves full, yet none to suit his customers. Fatal mistake No. 1. 2. In the excitement and rush of Northern Market he buys twice, perhaps thrice, as much as he can and ought to. Fatal mistake No. 2. 3. The injudicious and disproportionate quantities brought—too much of some things and not enough of others (generally the most needed)—the new beginner finds out, too late, that while he has more Goods than he can sell, yet he has sold more Goods to help sell off the badly bought ones, thus being loaded to heavily at the start—you can imagine the rest. This much more could be said, but a word to the wise is sufficient.

How to avoid all this:
 I have now been in business near you for 33 years, commenced from the stump up at a cross road and grown up with the country. Know exactly what and how you ought to buy, and I point (with just pride) to my record as a man and merchant, and say come to me and I pledge my record to take good care and protect you, and you will say, as hundreds of others have done, I owe my success to you.

A Creaking Hinge

Is dry and turns hard, until oil is applied, after which it moves easily. The joints of hinges, of the body are stiffened and inflamed by Rheumatism, they cannot be moved without causing the most excruciating pain. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by its action on the blood, relieves this kind of Rheumatism. It restores the joints to good working order.
 Ayer's Sarsaparilla has effected, in our city, many most remarkable cures, a number of which baffled the efforts of the most experienced physicians. Were it necessary, I could give the names of many individuals who have been cured by taking this medicine. It has certainly worked wonders, relieving me of after being troubled with it for years. In such cases, all other diseases arising from impure blood, there is no remedy with which I am acquainted, that affords such relief as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. W. H. Lawrence, M. D., Baltimore, Md.

 Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured me of Gout and Rheumatism, when nothing else would cure me. It has cured every case of disease from my system.—R. H. Short, Manager Hotel Belmont, Lowell, Mass.

I was, during many months, a sufferer from chronic Rheumatism. The disease afflicted me grievously, in spite of all the remedies I could find fault with, until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took several bottles of this preparation, and was speedily restored to health.—J. Frem, Independence, Va.

PURE, HARD AND BRILLIANT

Brazilian Axis Cut Pebbles.
 For sale by Hales & Boyne, Charlotte.

They are a natural stone, almost as hard as a diamond, take a high polish, will not scratch, nor will moisture collect on them in warm weather. They confer a brilliancy and a distinctness of vision with an amount of ease and comfort not hitherto enjoyed by spectacle wearers. They neutralize and prevent the irritating rays of light from entering the eye.
 They improve, strengthen and preserve the sight, thereby resting the optic nerves and in very many cases preventing headache.
 On account of the purity of the material of which they are made, they cause no dizziness or wavering of sight. Every pair warranted.
 The common, inferior Spectacles, which are sold and bought, regardless of their quality or accuracy, are made from glass material or imperfect Lenses discarded from better grades, they stimulate heat, irritate and fatigue the eye, they reflect the rays of light unequally and fail to correct all optical defects.
 We wish to impress upon the public the importance of taking good care of their eyes, and of securing the best glasses when the first symptoms of failing sight appear. Every genuine pair is stamped with Trade Mark "P." The Pebbles are set in Gold, Silver, Celluloid, Steel, Nickel, and Rubber Frames.
