ARTILERY PRACTICE AT FORT CASWELL

Of Interest To Military Men of the State Going to Encampment.

FULL COMPLEMENT REQUIRED

Letter From the War Department in Regard to Army Maneuvers at Fort Caswell This Summer.

Raleigh, N. C., April 14.—A letter just received at the North Carolina National Guard headquarters here from the War Department at Washington indicates that within a couple of weeks something definite will be known as to the assembling of the companies composing the Coast Artillery at Fort Caswell for ten days this summer for practice in coast defense. It would seem that this practice will certainly be held, although there is nothing definite as yet as to whether or not the regiments of infantry will have their usual encampment at Morehead. Salisbury, Wilmington, New Bern and Greensboro companies constitute the Coast Artillery. As to the encampment of the regiments of infantry this summer there is a question of whether or not there will be funds available for both an encampment at Morehead and for providing the full complement of equipment at Morehead and for providing the full complement of equipment that is necessary for the Guard to have in hand by January, 1910. This must under the Dick act measure squarely up to the regular army. Adjutant-General Armfield and others of the high officials of the Guard feel reasonably sure that there will be enough funds this year for both the equipment and for the encampment, but there is a possibility that there may not. Much depends on the report of the inspection of the companies of the Guard now in progress by an army officer. This report will show just what additional equipment must be provided this year. Then with this information at hand the officers of the Guard will be able to determine at once whether an encampment is possible or not. This inspection will be over and the report in before a great while now.

A new map of North Carolina railroads prepared and issued under the direction of the North Carolina Corporation Commission it is ready for distribution, probably within thirty days, certainly within sixty days and will be the most complete ever gotten out by the Commission. The proofs have all been approved and there only remains the completion of the plate and actual printing of the maps. They will be larger than usual this time, showing the full length of the State and a little beyond into Tennessee to illustrate connections enjoyed by North Carolina railroads. Then, too, it will be wider so as to show Seaboard Air Line and other connections, north and south, within a scope of country from Atlanta to Richmond. The map will show all roads and stations in operation, roads under construction and roads projected. The work has been done under the close supervision of Secretary Brown, of the Commission, and goes accurately into detail.

HOW TO GROW FAT.

A Lazy Stomach the Cause of Thinness Nine Times in Ten.

If you are thin or lean, have scrawny arms and neck, you can't grow fat unless your food properly digests.

People take on flesh in proportion to the nutritious matter which the organs of digestion absorb and pass into the blood.

Just as long as the nutritious matter passes along without being absorbed, just so long will you remain thin.

Perhaps your stomach, bowels and liver need a tonic. If your digestion is not perfect, Mi-o-na tablets will put it right at once.

Mi-o-na will cure indigestion and every conceivable ailment of the stomach promptly. It cures by building and toning up and not by encouraging a tired stomach to continue its shiftless and health destroying habits. It promptly drives away sour stomach, belching of gas, heaviness after eating.

J. H. Hill & Son sell Mi-o-na for 50 cents a large box, and guarantee it to cure indigestion, sea and car sickness, vomiting of pregnancy and all stomach diseases and distress, or money back.

Mi-o-na is sold by leading druggists.

YESTERDAY'S PRIMARIES.

Messrs. Dewey and Holmes Nominated for Board of Public Works, But No Choice for Mayor.

From Thursday's Daily.

Another primary will have to be held by the Democrats of the city to determine upon a candidate for mayor in the coming May election, as yesterday's voting between the adherents of the four gentlemen in the field resulted in not any one of them receiving the necessary majority of all the votes cast, so that, according to custom the two lowest in yesterday's voting will drop out and the two highest will come before the voters again next Monday, April 19, in another all-day primary.

The two who thus drop out are Messrs. I. F. Ormond, the present incumbent, and Capt. J. Wash Bizzell; and the two who will run again are Capt. J. E. Peterson and Mr. John R. Higgins.

Capt. Peterson's vote in yesterday's primary was 217, and the next highest, Mr. John R. Higgins, received 144. Capt. Bizzell received 135 and Mayor Ormond 99, a total of 595, from which it will be seen that the winning candidate needed to poll 298 votes.

DISAPPEARING FISH.

No section will more readily appreciate the wall of the Washington Post over the disappearing of the fish supply than that around the lower end of the Chesapeake bay. It says:

"Shad, that delight of the gourmet, is doomed to meet the fate which has overtaken the dodo and the ichthyosaurus. From every fishing ground comes the same tale of small catches, dwindling with each succeeding year. From the rivers of Florida to the rocky coast of Maine the greed of man has combined with lax laws and unscrupulous and shortsighted fishermen to destroy one of the greatest sources of cheap food the world has known. If the slaughter is permitted to continue for many years as it has during the decade or so past, the time is not far off when that gastronomic dream known as planked shad will be reserved exclusively for the tables of millionaires.

"The repeated warnings of the experts of the United States Fish Commission apparently have had little practical effect. The real remedy is beyond their jurisdiction; it rests with the states, notoriously slow to act when great industries are to be curbed or regulated. It is a problem in conservation that demands immediate attention, particularly in view of the fact that practically all food products have almost doubled within the past few years. It is a question in which the cities and towns within the Potomac basin are greatly interested."

NEWS IN GENERAL.

Carefully Gleaned and Billed Down For Busy Readers.

Greensboro, N. C., April 14.—Leonard B. Clore, the "Indiana Corn King," who has recently been asked by the Russian government to come to that country for three years and instruct Russian farmers in the methods of raising American corn, at a salary of $4,000 a year and all expenses, is the son of a Guilford county woman, whose parents emigrated to Indiana from this county when she was a fourteen-year-old girl.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—There are two vacant Federal judgeships in the South, one in Alabama and the other in North Carolina, and both are very much in the public eye. The idea has prevailed that in Alabama as well as in North Carolina Democrats would be named by the President. Before he left the city today Mr. Taft informed Representative Richardson, of Alabama, that he will appoint a Republican as judge of the Northern district of Alabama whenever he selects a man.

Atlanta, Ga., April 14.—The twelfth annual conference of education in the South was formally opened tonight, when the conference was welcomed to Atlanta and Georgia by Gov. Hoke Smith and listened to the annual address of the president, R. C. Ogden, of New York, as well as a paper on "The American Spirit in Education," by Dr. S. C. Metcalf, president of the University of South Carolina.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—The Democrats of the Senate had a harmonious conference today, but did not pass upon the attitude they will assume towards the tariff bill. An income tax was the principal subject under discussion, and it was agreed to support a graduated income tax in preference to an inheritance tax. Thirty-six states have inheritance tax laws, and the Democrats think it best for the general government to substitute an income tax. The tariff generally was discussed and the idea of all the speakers was to vote for reductions for revenue only. The discriminations against the South, which favor particularly New England manufacturers, will be fought vigorously. The general idea was to fight all prohibitory schedules.

Staunton, Va., April 14.—Tired of life because of ill-health, although he had plenty of this world's goods, being one of the largest real estate owners in the city, Harman Lushbaugh, who had reached the ripe old age of 86, ended it all today by shooting himself in the mouth with a pistol. He is survived by a large family.

New York, April 14.—Under the patronage of Mrs. Wm. H. Taft, Mrs. James S. Sherman, Mrs. Philander C. Knox, and a number of well-known New York women, Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture, appeared in concert at the Plaza Hotel tonight for the first time since her return after four years of social study abroad. Miss Wilson has grand opera ambitions.

The Southern Railway Company has placed engineers in the field to make surveys for a new railroad from Jello Creek to the Cincinnati Southern Railway. This proposed line will, it is said, reach one of the richest virgin coal regions in that section.

Frank Gotch, of Humboldt, Ia., last night at Chicago, retained the world's wrestling championship by defeating Usuf Mahmout, of Bulgaria, in a straight fall in a fast and furious match. The Bulgarian was as a child in the hands of the American.

After the stirring events of Tuesday and the early part of yesterday in the Turkish capital the successful formation of the cabinet and the issue of an imperial proclamation, ordaining the observance of the Sheri laws and the preservation of the constitution, served to bring about a comparatively peaceful situation at Constantinople last night.

In order to spread the sentiment for the creation of a permanent tariff commission, the Merchants, Association of New York is sending out subscription blanks to raise funds for an educational campaign, enclosing a circular adopted by the executive committee of the general committee of one hundred, appointed at the recent national tariff convention at Indianapolis.

FORTY FOUR YEARS AGO

Sherman's Army One Hundred Thousand Strong Marched Into Raleigh.

They Hung Lieut. Walsh Because He Fired Upon Federal Troops After The City Had Been Surrendered by The Mayor—The Day Opened With Drizzling Rain.

(Raleigh News and Observer.)

Today marks an anniversary memorable in the history of Raleigh and it will be recalled with vivid interest by the older people. A citizen, now counted among the old inhabitants who as a youngster witnessed the coming of Sherman's army from an elevated position on the top of the State Capitol, said yesterday:

"Forty-four years ago today (April 13, 1865) as a young man, I witnessed the entrance of Sherman's army into our beautiful city, and as some of the scenes witnessed by me may be interesting to your young readers, as well as some of the older ones, I will attempt to draw you a few pictures of that memorable event.

"The day opened with a drizzling rain as Kilpatrick's cavalry came dashing up Fayetteville street at a gallop, with oil cloths spread over their shoulders, and as their commander reached Hargett street he and his staff were fired upon from the head of Fayetteville street by Lieut. Walsh, who belonged to Wheeler's cavalry, who occupied the city on the night previous, committing many depredations on stores and public buildings. One of the public buildings ransacked was the railroad depot of the old R. & G. and N. C. railroad, now known as old Southern freight depot. After taking everything in the way of provisions, the building was fired to destroy ordinance stores in said depot, and many bombs were exploded in the burning building.

"After firing upon the advancing officers, Lieut. Walsh turned and rode rapidly west along Morgan street, being hotly pursued by some of Kilpatrick's men. He did not know that Morgan street was obstructed by the railroad, not having a bridge over the road. When he realized his mistake and attempted to retrace his steps so as to reach Hillsboro street by way of West street, in suddenly turning his horse at the corner of Morgan and West streets the saddle girth broke and he was captured. He was brought to the capitol square and was condemned to be hanged by the Federal officers, he having forfeited his life according to the rules of war, having fired upon the invading army after the city had been surrendered by the mayor, on the previous night.

"By the terms of the surrender every house was to be supplied with a soldier to guard the premises, and as the infantry entered the city shortly after the cavalry, a sentinel was placed at each residence to protect the premises. This was kept up for quite a long while. When the infantry began to enter the city one realized what Gen. Sherman's reputed language about war meant. In every company you could see such sights as a bag of meal on one man's shoulder, an old rooster or a hen on the knapsack of another, and occasionally a quarter of a sheep or hog suspended over the back and held in place by the bayonet of a musket being forced through the meat and the musket resting on the shoulder as a peddler would now carry his pack. These scenes could be witnessed during most of the day, as the army marched up Fayetteville street and turned aside to go into camp on the northwest and Southwest outskirts of the city, and by nightfall nearly 100,000 soldiers were in camp within three miles of the city and between here and Durham.

"But few of the people ever realized what a narrow escape our citizens had from mob violence on account of the news reaching the Federal soldiers while encamped in and around the city of the assassination of President Lincoln two nights previous, and had it not been for the prudence of Gen. Schofield in ordering double guards around all the camps, and not allowing any soldiers outside of camp for two days, our city might have been the scene of many a tragedy, so wrought up was the army over the sad news.

"After the surrender of Gen. Johnston at Durham a few days afterwards, Gen. Sherman mobilized his army

ROYAL ARCANUM MEETS.

Grand Council in Session at New Bern. Meet Next Year in Rockingham.

New Bern, N. C., April 14.—Marsden J. Perry and a party of friends spent much of the day here on an inspecting trip over the Norfolk & Southern Railroad. During the day they went on a special train to Beaufort and Oriental, leaving here this afternoon for Goldsboro. Before returning North the party will go over the entire system of the Norfolk & Southern Company.

The Grand Council of North Carolina Royal Arcanum met here this morning in regular session. ### COTTON PLANTING.

Indications Now Point to Planting for Another Thirteen Million Crop.

April is the month in which cotton seed is put into the ground. Some seed is planted in March, but outside of Texas April is the planting month in the cotton fields. Too little rain in Texas and too much rain outside of Texas rendered March planting this year difficult if not impossible, and the present month will, therefore, be utilized to the fullest possible extent in planting cotton with some incidental planting of corn. Thus far it cannot be said that the starting of the new crop has been favorable, but the present weather is enabling the farmers to hurry on preparations for planting and the planting itself.

The sales of fertilizer tags in this State point to preparations for another 13,000,000-bale crop, but the outcome depends upon the weather of the next seven months. All that can be said at present is that the farmers are planting freely for a large crop, and the seed will probably be put in the ground this month, for the weather is now highly favorable.

The world needs a crop of 13,000,000 bales grown in this country, and it will be fortunate indeed if it gets a crop of that size, for the pranks of the weather clerk are to be taken into consideration.

Chamberlain-McFarland.

The bride has a large circle of friends in this city, who will wish her a long life of happiness and prosperity.

Federal Judge Waddill, following the recent death of Thomas Fitzgerald, managing receiver of the Norfolk & Southern Railway, has entered a decree in the Norfolk & Southern litigation continuing Harry K. Wolcott and Hugh M. Kerr as sole receivers of the property, vested with all power and authority and charged with all obligations, responsibilities and duties heretofore given to Thomas Fitzgerald, Harry K. Wolcott and Hugh M. Kerr as receivers. Another order of court confirms all acts and contracts entered into by Receivers Wolcott and Kerr during the illness of Receiver Fitzgerald.

SUBSTANTIAL IMPROVEMENT.

No Say Traveling Men as to General Business Conditions.

"Last fall," said a traveling man today from Chicago, "we heard much about business conditions improving, but the improvement was not substantial. There was a disappointment all around. Since then business in the North and East has been greatly depressed. But now there is talk of improvement again. The trade situation is certainly better than it was two weeks ago, and the best of it is that the improvement this time is substantial."

"Recovering from depressed conditions has been slow and halting, but it is coming now in a way that means a steady revival. With fairly good crops this summer, business will be active and by the fall I expect to see a nice degree of prosperity. We are sure on the road to a new era of development and boundless thrills."

Ashville, N. C., April 14.—Fire broke out early today in the kitchen of Kenilworth Inn, one of the best known hotels in the South, three miles from Asheville. The guests were aroused and all escaped safely. Asheville fire department was called, and it looked for a time as if the hotel was doomed, but prompt and valiant work saved it from complete destruction.
