

A GREWSOME EXHIBIT

MADE BY THE STATE IN THE LUETGERT TRIAL

The Flesh, Bones and Hair Found in the Sausage Factory Vat Brought into the Court Room—Experts Put Upon the Stand to Prove They are Parts of a Human Body—The Defendant Examines These Without Showing Any Emotion

Chicago, September 9.—Both morning and afternoon sessions of the trial of Luetgert today were consumed in taking expert testimony. Through chemical analysis, the state must establish, not only the possibility of a human body being dissolved by the action of caustic potash heated to the boiling point, but also the fact that the bits of bone, hair and flesh and the scrapings of pinkish brown material from the interior of the vat in the sausage factory are portions of the body of a human being. If they can demonstrate these two propositions beyond a reasonable doubt, one of the most important portions of their case will have been accomplished. By circumstantial evidence, they have endeavored to prove Luetgert was anxious to rid himself of his wife and that he enticed his wife to his factory on the evening of May 1st. By expert testimony, they expect to prove that Mrs. Luetgert's remains are now represented by the bits of bone, flesh and hair.

Two expert witnesses have been called, Dr. Chas. B. Gibson and Professor Mark Delafontaine. Dr. Gibson, whose direct examination was begun Wednesday, offered further testimony for the state and was turned over to the defense for cross examination. Professor Delafontaine was examined by Assistant State's Attorney McEwen, the direct examination occupying the remaining time of the morning session and the entire afternoon.

The prosecution could not draw from Professor Delafontaine the assertion that the bits of flesh were human flesh. They might be human, but they might also be the flesh of an animal. The bones he was sure were human bones, but regarding the flesh he was very guarded and careful in his statements. He will tomorrow be turned over to the defense for cross examination. At no time during the day did the defendant display emotion, not even when the big dry goods box with its greasy contents of flesh and bone was placed a few feet from him near the jury. He handled the gummy sacks and inspected with curious gaze the bits of flesh and bone which were passed gingerly from attorney to attorney, but at no time did his hand tremble or his look excited. Innocent or guilty, the verdict of all is that Luetgert is possessed of more nerve than any other man who has ever been tried for murder within the precincts of the criminal court building.

The attorneys for the defense continue in their confident attitude and assert that when their prisoner is acquitted, a number of damage suits are to be commenced. They intend that those who have "manufactured evidence," as they put it, shall suffer for the wrong which they say has been done their client.

The Ohio National Democratic Convention

Columbus, Ohio, September 9.—The state convention of the national democrats today was not as large as expected, the attendance being limited probably to half a hundred delegates. The leaders of the party express themselves as well satisfied, however, and attribute the small attendance to the fact that business men generally are less apprehensive on the money question than a year ago. They believe also that the party has pursued a wise policy in nominating a state ticket. This was the only question in fact upon which a difference of opinion developed among the delegates.

Notwithstanding the committee appointed Wednesday night decided it was advisable to nominate a state ticket, the opposition succeeded in having a plank slipped into the platform declaring it inexpedient to nominate a state ticket. A lively discussion was precipitated by this coup of the minority and it developed that the question was whether the party organization could be maintained more effectively by nominating or not nominating a state ticket. The majority seemed to think that a ticket would give the party organization a prestige which it could not otherwise secure and this plank of the platform was defeated by a decisive vote. Next to the nomination of a ticket, the most important action of the convention was in endorsing a candidate for United States senator.

The platform denounces the Dingley bill and condemns the proposed annexation of the Hawaiian islands. The financial plank is as follows: "We declare for the maintenance of the gold standard, for the retention of the greenback and for the extension of the civil service merit system, wherever possible in the nation and in this state."

A full state ticket was nominated, Julius Dexter, of Cincinnati, being the candidate for governor.

More Courteous Than the Kaiser

Although President Faure's life has several times been attempted, and is known to be threatened at the present moment by the anarchists, yet he declined to permit any members of the French police or Parisian detective force to accompany him to St. Petersburg, declaring that it would constitute a slur cast upon the hospitality of the czar and of the Muscovite nation. In this he differs from Emperor William, who during his stay in the Russian capital a fortnight previously was guarded by a perfect horde of Berlin police officers, although no attempt has ever yet been made upon his life or his existence in any way menaced.

GOOD PROSPECTS

At Opening of the Agricultural College, Raleigh to Lay Thirty-Five Miles of Brick Pavements

(Special to The Messenger.) Raleigh, N. C., September 9.—The Agricultural and Mechanical college term began today with over 200 students present. Eighty new students stood entrance examinations. Chairman John C. Drewry, of the street committee, informs me that thirty-five miles of brick side walk will be laid here and that a chain gang will be established. Judge Purnell declines to limit the time for taking evidence in the case of Langdon vs. Waite.

Work has begun on the hospital at the agricultural college. The report of the sanitary engineer of the state board of health shows the necessity of a sewerage system for Goldsboro.

A HEAVY FAILURE. J. R. Willard & Co., Bankers and Brokers, of New York, With Offices in Several Cities Make an Assignment—Liabilities Estimated at $1,000,000—Assets Unknown.

New York, September 9.—James R. Willard, Elmer Dwiggins and Jay Dwiggins, who compose the firm of J. R. Willard & Co., bankers and brokers, with offices in this city, Buffalo, N. Y., Washington, D. C., Philadelphia, and Montreal, today assigned to James L. Starbuck, with preferences of $20,000 to William H. Osterhout. No statement of the condition of the firm is yet obtainable, but it is estimated that their liabilities will reach $1,000,000. Jay Dwiggins is at present traveling in Europe.

It was said at the office of the firm that Mr. Osterhout, the preferred creditor, resides in Ridgeway, Pa., and the amount due him was a personal loan. Many of the firm's customers gathered in the offices during the day and were loud in their condemnation of the action of the firm in closing them without notice. Confidential Clerk Arbogast admitted that he was the head of the firm of Arbogast & Co., of Chicago. He denied that the business had been closed by the Chicago police. "I am a member of the Chicago open board of trade and my reputation is well known in that city," said Mr. Arbogast. "My business dealings in Chicago were perfectly legitimate and I defy anybody to say aught against me. Arbogast & Co. were only in business about six months and they went out voluntarily."

It was said that the stock exchange firm of Moody, McClellan & Co., did considerable business for the defunct firm, but they were not involved by the failure. At the office of the firm all information as to their relations with Willard & Co., was refused. The assignee, Mr. Starbuck, is one of the book keepers of the firm. On his behalf another employe made the following statement: "It is difficult to tell what the liabilities of the firm are, but they will probably amount to as much as $1,000,000. It is even more difficult at this time to give any idea of the assets of the firm. Whatever they are, they consist mainly of cash in bank, outstanding accounts and securities. There is some prospect of a resumption of business, provided a reasonable settlement can be made with creditors."

J. R. Willard, senior member of the firm, has been a member of the consolidated exchange since September 23, 1895. He had represented the firm in Chicago and had a branch office in that city up to a few months ago, when it closed and the business was taken over by John Dickinson & Co. Elmer Dwiggins was the working head of the firm. He made application to be admitted to membership in the consolidated exchange on July 31st but was not admitted.

Elmer and Jay Dwiggins, who are brothers, are nephews of Zimri Dwiggins, who founded a large system of country banks in Illinois, Indiana and other western states, most of which failed in the panic of 1893. "The cause of the failure," said the assignee "is simply that the firm has been on the wrong side of the market. They have been short on stocks and grain. The firm has done a big business on the consolidated exchange within sixty days having run as high as $9,000,000 shares of stock daily."

"They don't make much fuss about it." We are speaking of De Witt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills for constipation, biliousness, and all stomach and liver troubles. They never gripe. R. R. Bellamy.

FRANCE AND ENGLAND.

To Prevent Interference in Cuban Affairs by the United States—They Give Spain This Assurance.

St. Louis, Mo., September 9.—Comte Henri de Penaloza, who has been visiting friends in St. Louis for a few days, said that the rumor of an understanding between Spain and other European nations looking to a check upon American interference with Cuba, was confirmed by information which came to him from high authority. De Penaloza has been introduced in St. Louis as a member of an old Spanish family whose sympathies are with the Carlist party, but whose connections with high politics in Spain keep them posted on most of the important developments in diplomatic circles. He said: "Some time last September, when the Cuban question was so much agitated in the United States even to the point of furnishing blanks to the declarations of presidential conventions. Senor Canovas del Castillo, the premier of Spain, received assurances from the English and French governments through their representatives in Madrid that they would not permit any action on the part of the United States other than a very perfunctory recognition of the belligerency of the insurgents. On August 5th, before leaving Paris, I learned from trustworthy sources that this assurance had been renewed in the general Azcarraga, the new premier, has received the French and English ambassadors, who have once more assured Spain and of their willingness to give her their 'diplomatic help.'"

"I crave but One Minute," said the public speaker in a husky voice; and then he took a dose of One Minute Cough Cure, and proceeded with his oratory. One Minute Cough Cure is unequalled for throat and lung troubles. R. R. Bellamy.

THE SANTA FE WRECK

Twelve Dead, One Missing and a Large Number Wounded Forms the List of Casualties—Geoman Ghoulis at Their Work.

Emporia, Kans., September 9.—Twelve known dead, one missing, (probably incinerated), and fourteen injured, two of whom will likely die, is the record of the terrible head-end collision on the Santa Fe, as known tonight. The first lists were mixed because of the confusion attending the wreck. Even tonight it is not positively known that the list given is complete, as it is believed that several were burned to death, and nothing left by which they could be recognized. The bodies of eleven have been found in the debris, three buried beyond recognition. William Firsbee, of Topeka, engineer of the eastbound fast mail, who was last night reported among the injured, arrived during the day, and Michael Glade and R. A. Doran, postal clerks, were found to have been wrongly placed in the list of injured. Nothing could be heard of the remains of Wells Fargo Express Messenger J. C. Sauer. He was supposed to have been incinerated.

Human ghoulis delved in the wreckage and plundered the mail sacks which strewn the ground. One tried to snatch a diamond from the breast of an Emporia doctor who, weak and nervous, was creeping slowly out of the debris. He had strength enough left to hit the brute a blow in the face which made him turn with a curse and sneak away. Mail sacks were dragged into the corn field and rifled.

The report at the Kansas City office is that practically all of the mail on both of the wrecked Santa Fe trains was destroyed. One pouch, however, for southern California on the westbound train No. 1, is said to have been saved. This train, when it arrived, had a large mail from New York City to California, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona. No official report has been received here.

Dr. Guiteras' Report.

New Orleans, September 9.—Up to tonight there had been no change in the fever situation. Two or three suspicious cases had been reported to the board of health—a material falling off from yesterday when there were thirty-seven. These were investigated with the usual results. This evening Dr. Olliphant and his corps realize that they have but one battle tonight—that of preventing any more importations from the coast towns—Biloxi and Ocean Springs. The news from the Mississippi south of the mouth of the river is pointing—satisfactory in that Dr. Guiteras and the other government experts had declared that yellow fever existed at Ocean Springs and Biloxi, confirming the judgment of Dr. Olliphant and his associates, and disappointing because the fears of the public have been realized. Of course the decision of Dr. Guiteras has set at rest all doubt here that yellow fever exists at Ocean Springs. One of Dr. Guiteras' doubtful patients, a child, died today. In Dr. Guiteras' opinion, the prevailing fever is not yellow fever, but there are isolated cases of that dread disease. This evening Dr. Guiteras pronounced the case of Ernest Beanges, now sick, as yellow fever. Late this evening the three cases heretofore reported as existing at Biloxi, were confirmed as yellow fever.

Anarchy in Guatemala

San Francisco, Cal., September 9.—News just received from Guatemala is to the effect that the country is in a bad way financially and politically. During last month failures amounting to $8,000,000 were reported. This total is a trifling misreading as it represents Central American money, which is very much depreciated in value.

Reina Barrios, the man who was president and who declared himself dictator of the republic a couple of months ago, is excessively unpopular, because of his recent high handed action and his cruelties. There is a demand that Prosper Morales, a lawyer and former minister of war, be chosen to succeed Barrios. To prevent this Barrios intends calling a session of the assembly very soon in order to have himself confirmed as dictator. If he is successful, war is almost certain, because the country will not longer submit to his oppression. If he is defeated war is just as sure, because he can afford to be in office. Ex-President Barrios, who made it possible for Barrios to succeed him, has declared he will never again draw his sword excepting to fight Morales, who has threatened to expose his financial operations.

Barrios is alleged to have killed a number of the more prominent citizens of his country because he thought they were not in sympathy with him. Besides these, 243 men of lesser prominence, are said to have been slain by his order.

Purvis on Trial—Hymen Bestows a Prize, News Matters Around Fayetteville.

(Correspondence of The Messenger.) Fayetteville, N. C., September 9. Not in a boastful spirit, but simply as germane to the recent reminiscences in Journalism of the Nestor of the North Carolina press, your esteemed and venerated Dr. Kingsbury, your correspondent ventures to recall the fact that he was newspaper editing thirty-two years ago, in 1865. The junior of the firm, the late Captain Benjamin Robinson—one of the bravest of confederate soldiers—carved the head for the paper from a piece of wood, printing material being very scarce with us, the office plant being supplemented from the delris of The Fayetteville Observer, that splendid paper wrecked by Sherman. In that year Captain Robinson was arrested and carried to Raleigh by order of the late General Grant, on account of the "rebellious tone" of the paper. Your correspondent was conducting The News in the Kyle building, corner of Hay and Donalson streets, when the would-be negro violator Beebe, was shot down on Market square, giving rise to the celebrated Tolar trial. He was correspondent of The Raleigh Sentinel in those stirring times when Dr. Kingsbury was on the staff, and the incorrigible and irrepressible Josiah Turner, Jr., was fighting Holden, "Reconstruction" and other works of the devil, and ringing the changes on "Kildee Lassiter," "Chicken Thief Stephens," "Blow-Your-Horn Billy," etc. He has been since 1865 up to the present time continuously engaged in newspaper work, though not always in editorial charge of a journal.

Purvis, the alleged murderer of the railroad flagman, was carried to Lillington this week to stand his trial at Harnett superior court. Comment is already general that, while never a man more deserved the rope than Purvis, the law will hardly hold him guilty of murder in the first degree. Fayetteville fully intends to press to the very front as a cotton market this year. Captain A. B. Williams, Mr. A. H. Slocomb and other buyers, will see to it that the cotton grower gets no better prices anywhere.

The marriage of Mr. Whitehead, of Scotland Neck, to Miss Ellen Woodward took place last evening at the residence of Mr. A. J. Woodward on Haymount. The bride is a sister of your esteemed townsman, Mr. W. J. Woodward. The groom was a brave southern soldier, bears a high character as an upright citizen, and doubtless merits his good fortune, which is being fully enjoyed by the people well know that to win one of the "Woodward girls" is to win a "pearl of price." The declination of Major E. L. Pemberton to serve more than one year as commander of the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry is a break in the conservative record of that splendid corps. It is a sort of unwritten law that the major commanding remains for two or three terms. This exception is in accordance with Major Pemberton's request when he accepted the position last year for one term only. The new commandant, Major B. R. Huske, is a very fine officer, and comes of a family closely identified with the interests of the company for generations.

The Fayetteville Military Academy opened its fall session last week. The number of boarders will be larger than ever before, and the attendance of day scholars certainly not less than last year. A new and valuable feature of this school which will be a course of lectures during the year.

The Fayetteville Gas and Electric Light Company are putting up their poles on Hay street, and the other electric light company, being the town of Fayetteville in its official capacity, expect to put up theirs in the future. "White necks Greek," etc. Colonel K. M. Murchison, of New York, is visiting relatives and friends here; Judge Bryan, of New Bern, is spending a few days with his son-in-law and daughter, Major and Mrs. J. B. Broadfoot, on Haymount.

John Griffin, of Zanesville, O., says: "I never lived a day for thirty years without suffering agony, until a box of De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cured my pills." For piles and rectal troubles, cuts, bruises, sprains, eczema and all skin troubles De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled. R. R. Bellamy.

On the Race Course

New York, September 9.—The weather was warm at Sheephead Bay today and until after the fourth race the seabreeze was stifling hot.

In the first race Archduke was an odds-on favorite. He went to the front at the fall of the flag and held that place to the end, although in the last furlong he crossed in front of Salabar, threw him against the Huguenot and nearly put both over the fence. Sloan and Martin claimed foul, which was allowed, and Archduke was displaced.

First Race—Five furlongs. Salabar, 6 to 1, won; Demagogue, 8 to 1 and 5 to 2, second; The Huguenot, 7 to 1, third. Time 1:02. Second Race—Five and a furlong. Maurice, 9 to 5, won; King T, 30 to 1 and 10 to 1, second; James Monroe, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:35. Third Race—The Belles. Futurity Course. Laogleta, 6 to 1, won; Kenmore Queen, 20 to 1 and 6 to 1, second; Rose in Hand, 40 to 1, third. Time, 1:11. Fourth Race—Six furlongs. Tromargo, 7 to 1, won; Yemen, 10 to 1, second; J. A. Grey, 11 to 5, third. Time, 1:16. Fifth Race—One mile. Tobias, 15 to 1, won; Fair Rebel, 100 to 1 and 30 to 1, second; Fireside, 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:42. Sixth Race—Russett, One and a half miles. Joe Miller, 5 to 1, won; Jefferson, 30 to 1 and 8 to 1, second; Renssaler, 6 to 1, third. Time, 2:24.

NOTABLE EPOCHS

In the Financial History of the World. Eras Marked by Changes in National Financial Methods—The Change That is Now in Progress.

Raleigh, N. C., September 9. Editors Messenger:

There have been several notable epochs in the financial history of the world, and it may not be devoid of interest to recall some of them, now that we are apparently entering on a new one.

The extension of the Roman empire and the government of distant nations by Roman satraps led to the transfer to Rome of all the gold and silver of the conquered countries, the result being that while Italy was enriched, the provinces were impoverished and began to decline, and the shadow of "the Dark Ages" cast its pall over the civilized world.

Europe becoming Christian, the dogma that it was an unpardonable sin to lend money on interest for centuries curtailed the use of money and repressed enterprise, until at length, the reformation having broken the hold which this teaching of the Catholic church had on the consciences of the people, capital again became active and money could be borrowed for business purposes. And almost contemporaneous with this, there being large importations of gold and silver from America, a new epoch was reached, industrial activities revived and the "Middle Ages" disappeared in the advancing progress of "Modern" times.

Still another era is marked by the introduction of paper notes, not merely as the representative of money, but to a large extent working the substitution of credit for cash. By this means industries have been greatly multiplied and the people have by rapid leaps attained their present enlightenment. It is plain that human progress, the elevation of the masses, the bettering of mankind, the enlightenment of the world have been chiefly effected by removing the prohibition on lending money for interest, by increasing the quantity of money, and by the use of paper which inaugurated an era of credit as a basis for business enterprise.

Now, in the progress of events, a new period has been reached. In our generation all things are done fast, and we make history with startling rapidity. Only some twenty years ago a movement began to discard silver as a money metal. Despite the reasons urged against it, the movement has progressed until it now appears to have entered on the last quarter of the course toward the goal.

It is said that the British government has taken measures to force the flow of gold to India as a preparatory step to putting India on a gold basis. If there should be no expectation of India's holding to silver, Mexico and all other silver standard countries must of necessity yield to the inevitable and change their systems; and the present silver currency of those countries will in that case soon reach a very low value, and eventually cease to circulate. So if nothing intervenes to arrest the progress of events, it seems we are now approaching a climax in this movement.

The attendant consequences may have no similitude in the history of modern times. Certainly we are reversing the former policy that has enabled the world to increase its financial ability, to multiply its industries and to promote the enlightenment of mankind. That calamity will befall the silver using countries is evident, but more than that—results of terrible moment may come to the people of Europe and of America. Although we may be powerless to interfere, the matter is of such deep significance that we cannot but regard the outcome with anxious solicitude.

No Patchwork!

One of the most encouraging features of a cure made by S.S.S. (Swift's Specific) is its permanency. Of all diseases, it is well known that those of the blood are the most obstinate, and therefore the most difficult to cure. The medical profession, in fact, have virtually admitted that a real, deep-seated blood disease is beyond their skill.

Of course, their admission is not made in so many words, but actions speak louder than words, and their inability to cure, after months and often years of treatment, is sufficient evidence that diseases of the blood cannot be cured by doctors. Their mercurial mixtures, although taken faithfully, only cover up the symptoms of the disease, inducing the patient to feel that he is being cured; but when he is sooner or later seized with stiff joints, pain in the bones, etc., the evidence of the doctor's patchwork is conclusive. Such results cannot be expected from the use of S. S. S. Being purely vegetable, containing no harmful mineral ingredients, it is the only blood remedy which acts on the true principle of forcing the disease from the system, building up rather than tearing down the health. No loss of hair, no stiff joints, no decrepit mercurial wrecks result from the use of S.S.S.

Mr. H. L. Myers, of 100 Mulberry street, Newark, N. J., made the mistake of relying upon remedies based upon mineral ingredients, and for the hundreds of dollars which he invested received only disappointment in return. He says: "I was afflicted with a terrible blood disease, which was in spots at first, but afterwards spread all over my body. These soon broke out into sores, and it is easy to imagine the suffering I endured."

"Before I became convinced that the doctors could do no good I had spent a hundred dollars, which was really thrown away. I then tried various patent medicines, but they did not reach the disease. When I had finished my first bottle of S.S.S., I was greatly improved and was delighted with the result. The large red spots on my chest began to grow paler and smaller, and before long disappeared entirely. I regained my lost weight, became stronger, and my appetite greatly improved. It was soon entirely well, and my skin as clear as a piece of glass."

S.S.S. is a sure cure for all manner of blood diseases, and disappointment never results from its use. It is Purely Vegetable and one thousand dollars will be paid for proof that it contains a particle of mercury, potash, or other mineral. S.S.S. is sold by all druggists.
