

AN APPEAL FROM TEXAS

THE ENTIRE STATE THREATENED WITH YELLOW FEVER

Dr. Guiteras Wanted to Investigate Suspicious Cases in Galveston, Houston, Dallas, and San Antonio—More New Cases and Deaths in Mobile and New Orleans—Mortality in Latter City One Per Cent. Less Than in 1878—Temporary Hospital Set on Fire in New Orleans

Philadelphia, September 24.—The following urgent dispatch was received today: "New Orleans, September 24.—Use your influence with Mr. Wanamaker and other prominent Philadelphians to appeal by wire to Surgeon General Wyman to order Dr. Guiteras to investigate immediately the very suspicious fever now prevailing in Galveston, Houston, Dallas and San Antonio. All Texas is threatened and should be guarded.

HORTER, TERTRON & CO.

This message was addressed to Geo. Horter, of Haddonfield, N. J., the father of the head of the New Orleans firm. Directly upon its receipt consultations were had with Mr. Wanamaker, Strawberry & Clothier; Hood, Foulkrod & Co., Colonel Grey and President Thomson, of the Pennsylvania railroad, as to the best means of securing a response to this appeal.

Mobile, Ala., September 24.—There have been three deaths and three new cases since the report handed out yesterday at 2 o'clock. Three patients were discharged. The deaths were: John G. Bourne, reported last night; Rev. Daniel Murray, of St. Vincent's parish, and Estis McDonald, of Savannah, aged 71 years, a new case. In addition, Frank Stewart, found yesterday afternoon dying in a negro's house on Water street, near Church. He had been on a spree for the past ten days and was not supposed last night to have the fever. When he died, however, he turned yellow and thus came under the definition of yellow fever death. Father Murray was 30 years of age and a native of Middleton, County Cork, Ireland. He preached at St. Vincent's last Sunday, telling the congregation to be prepared for the final summons. That afternoon he was attacked with his fatal illness.

The bulletin today says 41 cases, 6 deaths, 19 discharged and 16 under treatment. With one or two exceptions the sick are doing well. Dr. George A. Ketchum, president of the board of health, notes that the patients all sleep on the ground floor. He infers that the poison moves along the ground and attacks those first in reach. The steady effort to get the stringency of quarantine against Mobile modified is meeting with partial success. The river boats, and the Hardcash for the Timbigebe left tonight on the first trips for two weeks. They will go up these rivers about 200 miles, carrying heavy cargoes of all kinds of supplies, but no passengers. The railroads also are daily doing more work and bringing in cotton and general merchandise. They brought in 1,200 bales of cotton today and seven cars of grain.

New Orleans, September 24.—Eminent physicians believe that the work of the board of health is productive of good results and that the fever is not spreading, but, on the contrary, is being confined to localities. Thus far there have been a few less than 100 cases and 15 deaths. The death rate is in the neighborhood of 15 per cent. It was in 1878 16 per cent.; so that up to the present time, the disease is about as virulent as it was in the last great epidemic that has visited New Orleans.

One of the most interesting features of the day was the announcement that the board of health had decided to prosecute Dr. Monluzin for having failed to report a case of suspicious fever. In one of the morning papers a few days ago, Dr. Monluzin was quoted as saying that there was little if any fever in New Orleans and that the prevailing sickness was Burmah, or sun fever, which he described as contagious or infectious, and quite likely to be attended with about the mortality of yellow fever. This morning Dr. Monluzin reported to the board of health the case of Miss Dreyfous, who, he said, was suffering with yellow fever. It was not long after the report was received that the board had to report the death of Miss Dreyfous. An investigation proved that Miss Dreyfous was taken sick six days ago and that Dr. Monluzin had failed even to report the case as suspicious.

This was the record today: Deaths—Salvador Casimir, 123 Charles street; Frederick Gunn, 535 Marais; Miss Dreyfous, 36 Bourbon. There were also 8 new cases. Of the new cases, that in the Wood family was developed where two cases already existed. The case of Miss McCall, on Jackson street, is one of the most prominent avenues of the city. No previous case has appeared on the street.

Of the many odd cases in New Orleans from the beginning, but four have been among the negro population. There are still several serious cases among those who are ill, but the board of health is daily discharging patients as cured. Mayor Flower today ordered a force of policemen to guard the Beauregard school, which a mob made an attempt to burn last night. Only a portion of the building was burned and it is still possible to use the structure as a hospital for the treatment of yellow fever patients. It was shortly after midnight that the mob applied the torch to the school and thereby created intense indignation here and the outrage was bitterly denounced. Every newspaper in the city in ringing editorials has pledged itself to support the mayor in whatever action he might take to punish the culprits and carry into effect the original determination to establish the yellow fever hospital in the Beauregard school house. A committee during the day called on Mayor Flower to protest against the use of the building as a hospital. His honor fiercely denounced the outrage of last night. He said that such occurrences would do New Orleans more harm than all the yellow fever epidemics combined. The question had arisen whether there could be law and good order here or anarchy. He proposed to exhaust every power at his command to establish peace, and he said that if it required all the forces of the city and state he was determined that the Beauregard building should be used as a temporary hospital. A mob might threaten, but the city had decided on the location and all the threats in the world could not deter him from his purpose to protect the Sisters of Charity and the surgeon who would be sent to the school to receive and care for yellow fever patients. In the meantime, he said, he had summoned Chief of Police Gaston to the hall and no effort or expense would be spared in bringing to justice the men who had fired the building last night. The mayor has the support of well nigh the entire community.

The situation here is generally unchanged. Freight is moving slowly and there is practically no passenger traffic. The theatres are still open and amusements are not restrained. But that New Orleans is losing hundreds of thousands of dollars by quarantine is not to be doubted.

Washington, September 24.—Dr. Wyman's advice tonight include the following. At the Pontchartrain camp of detention 88 persons were admitted and 11 discharged; total now in camp 432. New cases at Edwards today 29, total to date 133.

From Atlanta Surgeon Sawtelle reports as follows: "Case reported last night doing well; no other cases in town and no suspects on incoming trains today."

From New Orleans Surgeon Carter reports that mails are now being thoroughly disinfected.

From Nashville, Tenn., the following telegram signed by the president and secretary of the board of health was received: "At a called meeting of the state board of health this morning all quarantine orders heretofore issued were rescinded. Parties coming from infected districts will be allowed to stop at any and all points in Tennessee, the western division of the state excepted."

San Antonio, Texas, September 24.—A telegram was received here today from President Olliphant, of the New Orleans board of health, inquiring as to the health condition of San Antonio and stating that this city was "strongly suspected." The matter was taken up at a meeting of the board of health here today and the following statement issued: "There is no case of yellow fever or smallpox in San Antonio and to our knowledge no case of yellow fever in all western Texas."

A PIEBALD POLITICIAN

The Political Faith of Governor Russell's New Railroad Commissioner J. H. Pearson, Hard to Define

(Special to The Messenger.) Raleigh, N. C., September 21.—Chairman Wilson, of the railway commission, was asked this afternoon whether John H. Pearson is a democrat and replied: "To my knowledge he has been recognized as a republican, though he may at times have voted for some scattering democrats. The first interest he showed in politics was by attending Keith's silver convention at Raleigh and next, the St. Louis convention. He did not attend Burke county's democratic convention, but was claimed to be a democrat at the last election and was taken up by the party because it was thought he would get some silver populist votes, and that his brother, D. C. Pearson, a well known republican, would give him his influence. During the legislative session he attended the democratic caucus which nominated Doughton for the senate, but in explaining his vote said he was ready then or at any other time to vote for Cy Thompson if by his vote he could elect him."

Otho Wilson says Pearson did not come in the commissioner's room today, but got no further than the clerk's office. Wilson told him that he was welcome to any of the chairs save three, which were reserved for the commissioners.

The Attorney General's Says Russell Cannot Suspend the Commissioners (Special to The Messenger.)

Raleigh, N. C., September 24.—Ex-Attorney General Osborne, R. O. Burton, John D. Shaw and J. C. L. Harris are attorneys of Major Wilson and Otho Wilson. Attorney General Waiser is said to have stated when last here that the governor had no power to suspend the Wilsons. Commissioner Abbott plainly announces that he stands with the Wilsons.

The public schools of Raleigh opened today with attendance of 896 white and 706 colored.

Judge Purnell is requested to sit with the United States circuit court of appeals at Richmond November 2nd and will attend.

The private stockholders of the Atlantic and North Carolina railway whipped out the Russellites men at yesterday's meeting at Morehead City and elected their four directors. There was much bitterness at the meeting.

THE FRAUD INVESTIGATION

INTO THE LEASE OF THE NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD

Witnesses Examined Before Commissioner Craig in Washington City—Officers of the Southern Who are Ordered to Produce Books and Vouchers Refuse to do so. Statements From Both Sides Regarding the Results of the Investigation so far Made

Washington, September 24.—The hearing before Hon. Kerr Craig, the special master appointed by Judge Simonton, to take testimony on the charges of fraud in connection with the lease of the North Carolina railroad by the Southern was continued here today. Several officers of the Southern railroad and a former auditor of the Richmond and Danville were subpoenaed by counsel for the state to produce books and vouchers which the latter claim contain entries to sustain their contention of manipulation of the Southern railway books, but on the advice of counsel for the Southern, the witnesses refused to produce the books and vouchers called for. The matter was certified to Judge Simonton's court, where a ruling will be asked. The hearing will be resumed at Raleigh, N. C., on the 28th instant.

P. W. Averett of Raleigh, one of the counsel for the state in speaking of the case tonight expressed the opinion that the charges alleged against the Southern railroad had been proven. "In the hearings in New York, before Mr. Craig," he said, "witnesses for the state were produced to prove that the Southern Railway Company falsely threatened the old directors of the North Carolina with the stripping of that road of all improvements placed on it by the Richmond and Danville railroad during the lease of 1871 and the following year. The state also claimed that the books of the Southern railroad had been manipulated for the purpose of inducing the directors of the North Carolina road to regard the later as having little or no earning capacity when, as a matter of fact, it was earning from $200,000 to $300,000 in expenses and the amount paid by the lessee for rent. The state also offered to prove that the Central Trust Company, of New York, to which the Southern had given a mortgage had no standing in the court in this case as the assignment of the lease of the North Carolina made in 1888 was in trust for the Southern bond-holders, was not made until four months after the beginning of this suit.

At the Baltimore hearing President Hoffman of the various railroads comprising the Seaboard Air Line system, testified that his roads had protested against the North Carolina road making the lease of 1885, six years before the lease of 1871 had expired, and his company was ready to pay $400,000 per year for a thirty years lease. "At the meeting at Raleigh the state will offer witnesses to sustain the charges that money was improperly spent by the old directors of the North Carolina to prevent an investigation by the legislature into the making of this lease."

Mr. Fairfax Harrison, general solicitor for the Southern and who appears in the present controversy, is disposed to regard the whole proceedings that are now going on as absurd. He says: "It is the laughing stock of the people and the whole state of North Carolina is amused at the testimony that has been brought out by the other side. The proceedings have now got to the stage of acute absurdity. After the other side have finished their testimony I will submit to the court a complete and elaborate discussion of the whole question so as to finally dispose of the entire charge of fraud, telling the story of the transactions leading up to the lease which were those of an ordinary business nature. Our case is already won. It was won when Judge Simonton granted the preliminary injunction restraining any interference with the operations of the lease and we have nothing to fear. The other side have not produced any evidence or suggested any line of testimony showing in any manner the improper use of money in the whole transaction. Concerning the assignment of the lease of 1885 to the Central Trust Company, it was made entirely independent of this suit and had nothing whatever to do with it. The assignment was made in the usual course of business and was hastened by this proceeding. There is nothing in the charges of fraud. The counsel for the state have abandoned the theory on which they started out that there was any actual fraud in fact, and are trying to build up a theory of fraud in law."

McKinley at Lenox

Lenox, Mass., September 24.—President McKinley, with other members of the party which, for the past four days have been visiting in Adams, reached Lenox this afternoon. They left Adams at 12:30 and arrived at Pittsfield at 1:15. There was an immense crowd about the station at Pittsfield to meet them and the enthusiasm was unbounded.

Hon. John Sloane, whose guest they will be until tomorrow noon, welcomed them and, as President McKinley and Mrs. McKinley in his victoria drawn by two handsome black horses in silver mounted harness, Mr. Sloane, with Mrs. W. B. Plunkett, wife of the president's host at Adams, then entered Mr. Sloane's buck board. Two of Mr. Plunkett's drags, which had come from Adams, were driven to the platform and the other members of the party entered them.

The drive started at once and led through the business portion of the town. Although the horses went at a rapid gait the crowd followed the party to the park and soldiers' monument. The crush of children around the carriage was tremendous, and it was only by exercising the greatest skill that the driver escaped knocking many down. So excited were the children that they jumped upon the carriage while it was in motion and as many as twelve hung upon the top as it was turned back. One youngster jumped upon the step beside Mrs. McKinley, and she was obliged to hold him in, for otherwise he would have fallen under the wheels.

The carriage was stopped in front of the park, which was filled with a struggling mass of Young Americans, anxious to see the only President ever to come to their town. President McKinley, as he said afterward, never received such a joyous reception from the rising generation as he did at this time. He had stated when he received an invitation to stop the carriage for a moment at the park, that he would not make any remarks, but the tremendous enthusiasm of the school children and his well known love for children in general, were too much for the president, however, and he rose in his carriage and made a short address to them.

WASN'T HUNG YESTERDAY

Luna Haynes Revivied by the Governor Till November 5th—He Makes a Statement Implicating White Men and Told Who Hired Him to Kill John Lee

Yesterday at noon Luna Haynes, colored, was to have been hanged at Whiteville for the murder of young Lee, but, as announced in the Messenger a few days ago, Governor Russell respited the condemned man at the solicitation of the solicitor so he can testify at the next term of court against persons who have been indicted as accessories in the crime.

The Columbus News, of Whiteville, under date of September 23, says: Yesterday afternoon Sheriff Ward received a telegram from Governor Russell, through his private secretary, as follows: "The governor revivies Lunnon Haynes until November 5th."

J. E. ALEXANDER, Private Secretary.

Last Friday afternoon Luna Haynes told Sheriff Ward that he wished to make a statement of what he knew about the murder of John Lee, and asked him to get several men (whom he named) to go up in the jail and hear it. Accordingly they went Friday morning, and after being cautioned to tell the truth, and that a confession on his part could not lighten his sentence, he told what he said was his entire knowledge and connection with the affair. He said that he was present at the killing and shot the second gun. He said he was paid $2.50 for his services on that occasion. He also told who was with him and shot the first gun, and also who paid him the $2.50, but we will follow the just and well established rule of well regulated newspapers and not publish those statements against other parties until they are arrested and put upon trial, where the statements will then be made under oath and the defendants will have the privilege of vindicating themselves if they can.

The main points of his statement were immediately written to Governor Russell and Solicitor Seawell, and the revivie was no doubt made upon request of the solicitor so that he may have Luna as a witness at our next term of court.

Preparations had been made for the execution, which was to have taken place tomorrow. Sheriff Ward went to Whiteville Tuesday and bought the rope with which to hang him.

The notice of the revivie was so late that there will no doubt be a large crowd of people here tomorrow, who will not hear of it till they get here. The following note, wrapped around a nickel, was thrown out of a window of the jail Monday afternoon to a colored boy who turned it over to the sheriff.

Will you get me a 5 cent file and come rite back and I will take it up here with a line nobody will not 'now it and I will not tell hoo give it to me J. L. Haynes.

LATER—Luna Haynes was not informed of his revivie till 11 o'clock this (Thursday) morning. At 10 o'clock a party of citizens was taken up in the jail to give him a chance to speak before going (as he then thought he would) to the gallows tomorrow. He again told the story of the murder in the same manner that he did Saturday without any material change. His story of the affair co-incides with Jim Haynes' story, except that Luna denies that he told Jim anything about who killed him in the short conversation they had on Richardson's railroad the morning after the murder. He professed to be prepared to die.

Hester's Cotton Report

New Orleans, September 24.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton, covering European ports, affoot for Europe and stocks at ports and interior towns in the United States shows a total of 1,233,533 bales, against 1,113,688 last year, and 1,852,854 last year. Of this amount 1,052,533 bales were American, against 1,052,533 last year; increase over last year 119,845; decrease compared with last year 618,521. Secretary Hester's weekly cotton statement shows a decrease in the movement into sight for the week of 18,000 bales under the week ending September 24th last year. The amount brought into sight is 318,561, against 321,704 last year; total crop moved into sight for the twenty-four days of the season 745,473, against 916,632 last year; receipts at all United States ports since September 1st, 531,613 bales, against 662,331 last year; overland to northern mills and Canada 12,562, against 13,188 last year; interior stocks in excess of those at close of the commercial year 126,941, against 149,516 last year; southern mill takings 77,057, against 73,557 last year, 64,089 year before last and 57,699 same time in 1894; foreign export since September 1st were 159,312, against 247,658 last year.

Chairman Wilson's Reply to Governor Russell

(Special to The Messenger.) Raleigh, N. C., September 24.—Chairman James W. Wilson, of the railway commission, today sent the following letter to Governor Russell in response to the latter's notification of suspension:

"Your favor of the 23rd, is hereby acknowledged. In reply I will say that I shall disregard your order to suspend, but will continue to do business at the old stand until removed by a court of competent jurisdiction and not by a self constituted star chamber."

The Monetary Commission

Washington, September 24.—The monetary commission resumed its sessions here today. A general discussion of lines of work occupied both the morning and night meeting. An adjournment was taken until Monday, when it is expected that President Edmunds will announce the committee. There will be three main committees, namely, on gold and silver, on United States notes, and on banking and currency.

THE COMPLAINT FILED

IN THE SUIT OF THE TREASURER AGAINST STEWART BROS

The Treasurer Refuses to Pay Salaries of Railway Commissioners Until the Courts Decide the Matter—Telegraph and Telephone Company Chartered—Pearsons Demanded on Otho Wilson and the Latter's Refusal—The Largest Library in the State Negroes Indignant at Proposal to Lease the Convicts

Messenger Bureau, Park Hotel, Raleigh, N. C., September 24. Complaint is filed in the case of the state treasurer against Stewart Bros. of Winston, ex-state printers. It sets forth that they have been paid by the state $10,000 in excess of the amount really due for work. The charge is a very serious one.

State treasurer Worth says he will not pay either the present railway commissioners or Governor Russell's appointees until the courts pass upon the matter. Yet the two Wilsons are de facto commissioners and will exercise all the duties of the office. The case may go all the way to the United States supreme court, as it involves a very grave constitutional question.

The secretary of state grants a charter to the Fayetteville Telephone and Telegraph Company. The principal office is at Tarboro and George A. Holderness, Job Cobb and A. M. Fairly are the incorporators. The charter gives it power to put up telegraph and telephone lines in Fayetteville and other towns and to connect the same. The capital stock is $10,000, the duration of charter thirty years.

The spicy letter of Railway Commissioner D. H. Abbott to Governor Russell, informing him that his authority to suspend railway commissioners was recognized causes no little comment. He took this step after able legal advice.

At 10 o'clock this morning John H. Pearson was sworn in as "railway commissioner" to succeed S. Otho Wilson and at once demanded possession of the office. Wilson in a polite way declined to surrender and so Pearson sued for possession as the governor directed him to do.

The state is arranging to pave the streets around the capitol square, using convict labor. The paving of some of the walks in the square was finished today. It cost $1,100.

Marshall Mott, son of Dr. J. J. Mott, is sick at Atlantic City. He has undergone surgical treatment there. It has been rumored that scarlet fever was epidemic at Greensboro. This is inaccurate. There are only twenty cases.

Some of the populists are wanting to know who gave Senator Butler such authority to speak for North Carolina populists, as he is neither a member of the state or district committee.

It is ascertained that the largest library in this state is of 50,000 volumes, and is in Mitchell county, near Bakersville. The owner employs a librarian and invites the people to use the library. The owner is an ex-professor of Harvard university. There are 35,000 volumes in the university library and about 40,000 in the state library.

The storm, which really was not a storm, this week has done no damage to the cotton crop. The removal of old buildings to make way for the handsome club house of the Capital Club here began today. A woman from New Orleans got off the train here night before last. She said she had lost her health certificate. She had two trunks, both of which are unclaimed.

Senator Pritchard is expected to arrive here this week. His friends are by no means sorry that Charles A. Cook fails to get the United States district attorneyship.

There is much clamor against leasing the convicts. Some of the negroes are greatly indignant and say "Governor Russell wants to sell them into slavery." Many people want all the convicts employed on the public roads. It is now said the Southern railway will build its new branch from Mocksville to Salisbury so freight will not go via Greensboro. This will save twenty-five miles or more and give a connection with the Norfolk and Western.

An Exciting Bicycle Race

New York, September 25.—Cycle racing in this vicinity was wound up for the season this evening at Manhattan Beach with a rattling international match race between "Jimmy" Michael, the Welsh champion, and Lucien Lesna, the Swiss rider, who holds the French middle distance record. The attendance was 14,000. The wind, which had been blowing pretty strongly during the afternoon, died out before the race.

The little Welshman had the advantage of having the best pace-making man, Lesna, and decidedly the best pace-makers. When the contestants lined up the little Welshman looked like a pigmy in comparison with his Swiss opponent. At the crack of the pistol Michael jumped off in the lead, right behind his quint, which, after the first lap, retired in favor of a quad. From the start to the finish the race was a procession, as Michael led all the way. At the end of the first mile he was 120 yards ahead, and he steadily increased his lead throughout the race. Lesna lost his pace-makers frequently, while Michael had no trouble in following his. Although it was a foregone conclusion early in the race that Michael would, bar accidents, surely win, Lesna stuck manfully to it. At no time, except when a change of paces was made, was Michael more than six inches behind his pacer. When ten miles was covered Michael was 100 yards one-half to the good and on the second lap of the twelfth mile he lapped Lesna for the second time. At the end of the hour Michael had covered 31 miles and held by himself. The thirty-third and last mile was traversed as quickly as the preceding ones, and Michael flew across the tape, a winner by almost five laps, in the excellent time of 62 minutes, 17 4-5 seconds.

He Will Be Burned at the Stake

Cincinnati, September 25.—A special to The Commercial Tribune from Hawesville, Ky., says: About 5 o'clock this afternoon at Petri, a station three miles west of this city, Miss Maggie Roberts, aged 16, white, while on her way to the station, was waylaid, assaulted by a negro and then terribly beaten with a couplin pin. Almost dead, she was barely able to make her way home and tell her father the horrible story. The neighborhood was quickly aroused and the negro was run into a thicket and surrounded by 1,000 men, while Roberts came to this city and formed a sheriff's posse. Every horse and wagon to be found were soon brought into service, but at 10 o'clock tonight no news can be heard from the mob. The negro is sure to be caught, as blood hounds have been sent for. He will be burned at the stake. Roberts is a well-to-do farmer. Miss Roberts may not recover.

Miraculous Benefit RECEIVED FROM Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Artillery and for thirty years of the Babcock & Munsell Carriage Co. of Auburn, says: "I write to express my gratitude for the miraculous benefit received from Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I suffered for years, as result of army life, from scatica which affected my heart in the worst form, my limbs swelled from the ankles up. I bloated until I was unable to button my clothing; had sharp pains about the heart, smothering spells and shortness of breath. For three months I was unable to lie down, and all the sleep I got was in an arm chair. I was treated by the best doctors but gradually grew worse. About a year ago I commenced taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and it saved my life as if by a miracle."
