

Stop! Do you know that you can save Big Money by reading Every line of the ads in the Review. We guarantee this to you. It's up to you to make good.

THE REVIEW

10 Pages this week, well worth your careful attention. The ads point you to the "Road of Big Values." Follow the sign and arrive safely

The Review is read and appreciated by that large body of people who buy four-fifths of the goods sold in High Point--the laboring people

Vol. 13, No. 26

High Point, N. C., Thursday, June 22, 1916

10 Pages

Summary of the News in this Issue of The Review.

President Wilson orders out entire militia of the United States. Wilson and Marshall are renamed by Democratic convention. Democrats adopt platform and adjourn. War depends on Carranza's action. Mexican troops advance. Democrats plan campaign. Russians move on. Austrians forced to evacuate Czernowitz. Carranza sends new threat. G. O. P. and Moose confer. Mexicans kill three in border raid. K. of P. annual meeting. Textile convention at Asheville. Col. Kerr dies.

New District Agent.

Paul Stamey is now district agent for the Saturday Evening Post, Ladies Home Journal and Country Gentleman and will be pleased to serve all former customers and many new ones. At present there are 275 copies sold here and Mr. Stamey expects to run the number up to 500 very soon.

Better Streets Discussed.

Mayor T. J. Murphy, of Greensboro, addressed a small audience on better streets, at the auditorium Monday night. The Mayor is an interesting talker and a good roads and good streets advocate. Normally High Point is for improvements but under the present conditions very indifferent.

Buys Peerless Machine Works.

Messrs. W. W. and H. L. Smith, of Greensboro have purchased the Peerless Machine Works from S. A. Nellum, who will engage in other business here. The Smiths will move their families here at an early date.

An Interesting Gathering.

The Missionary Societies of the Greensboro District of the Western North Carolina Conference, were in session at Wesley Memorial M. E. Church Tuesday and yesterday. Some 50 delegates were in attendance and an interesting and profitable meeting was held.

Ready for Service.

The soldier boys are eager for the expected fray with the greasers. Capt. Zollicoffer reports that two members of the company at Detroit are on their way here to join their company and that the enlistment has already exceeded the quota.

Aged Citizen Dead

Joseph F. Blair died at his home on Phillips street Friday morning, in his 76th year. The funeral services were held from the house Saturday morning, conducted by Revs. Sylvester Newlin and H. G. Kopenhaver. Interment was made in Oakwood cemetery.

Deceased was a confederate veteran, having served in the war between the states for a term of four years and had the remarkable remarkable record of never receiving a scratch. He was a member of Company A, 10th battery, artillery of North Carolina and an honored member of High Point Camp No. 1682, U. C. V. Seven children survive, as follows: three sons, Wesley, Edward and Carson; four daughters, Mrs. Erastus Canady, Mrs. Dora Gurley, Mrs. Gertie Livengood, Mrs. Florence Murphy and Miss Bula Blair. Peace to his ashes.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.

The annual picnic of the Wesley Memorial Sunday School will take place at Old Trinity tomorrow unless it rains. In that event it will take place in the Sunday School rooms. Autos have been asked for to transport the crowd, running at 3 and 1 o'clock. Lunch will be served at 6:30, rain or shine.

Clash With Mexican Soldiers

Washington, June 21.—General Funston reported late tonight that he had received official confirmation of a clash between Carranza and American troops early today near Carrizal Mexico. The number of killed and wounded is not known.

MEASURES REVIEW HAS ESPOUSED.

Several important matters that have been strenuously advocated by this paper have been crowned with victory.

The Review tries to "hew to the line and let the chips fall where they will" in all matters for the good of the public and of course is gratified to note that its efforts have been rewarded in many ways.

It's the mission of a newspaper to stand for a "principle not men." It takes nerve in the beginning, because of a fear of "hurting business" but in the long run you win out against the bugaboo "for policy's sake," which has been the downfall of many a newspaper which tried to serve the interests instead of the people.

The Review is pleased to note that there is to be an inspection of the meat and milk supply.

That the unsightly and unsanitary push carts or street vendors have been tabooed.

That the health department is paying close attention to the proper screening and handling of food products.

That Carter Dalton goes to the legislature from High Point and will be instrumental in giving the legislation desired and needed to overcome the present state of affairs.

These are some of the things the Review has espoused and worked diligently for and will continue to keep up the fight for better government, better health and a better High Point in general.

What Partisan Politics Does for a City.

High Point is the laughing stock for the people over the state as regards petty politics in the city Council over various interests affecting the welfare of the city which looks to the outsider, that three individuals are trying to ruin the city. And we must confess that the editor of this paper is rather alarmed over the matter because we know that High Point's good name has suffered and is suffering over the very unfortunate state of affairs, made possible through no fault of the people, because the 1915 legislature thrust the present existing circumstances upon us without giving us a chance as freemen to register our opinion by naming the people who would serve persona non grata for 2 years, or at least a majority of them could not be elected by a vote of the people.

We have recently traveled from one end of the state to the other and this is about the first thing you hear, after it is learned that you are from High Point. Just as sure as the night follows the day such things hurt a town and hurt it badly. There's no use denying it, and there should be some way to stop the "unfortunate affair" and save ourselves from "mine enemies" until the people get a chance to put an end to it at the polls.

Soldiers Called to Arms.

There was some little excitement on the streets Sunday night when it was learned that most of the national guardsmen had been called to arms. Early Monday morning Capt. Dallas Zollicoffer of the local military company was getting his men together in obedience to a demand from headquarters and by night the full quota was in hand. The soldier boys marched up and down the streets with serious but determined faces while their wives and sweethearts realized that perhaps that it would be a long time until they saw their faces again! Most of the boys seemed willing to go—that's the spirit of the Tar Heel, ready and willing to answer a call to duty.

Of course the calling out of the soldiers and their final disposition was the topic of conversation here all day Monday.

Large Number Conversions.

It is claimed that there were over 200 conversions as a result of the Black revival meetings which came to a close Sunday night. Apportioned among the various denominations the 200 are: Methodist Episcopal, 50; Presbyterians, 32; Methodist Protestants, 17; Baptists, 40; Reformed, 11; Friends, 18; Christian, 4; Episcopal, 3; Lutheran, 2; Primitive Baptists, 2; no preference expressed, 20.

THINGS PERSONAL AND OF A GENERAL NATURE

Mrs. B. B. Webb, of Statesville, is the guest of Mrs. H. A. Millis.

T. D. Gilliam is at Mt. Airy recovering from a serious operation.

$15.00 dinner set for $4.98 including a year's subscription to The Review. See ad.

See the extraordinary offer we are making in ad today of dinner sets at one-third value.

Geo. A. Matton and O. E. Wilson attended the good roads meeting at Wrightsville, this week.

The offices of the the Thomasville Spoke and Handle Works were destroyed by fire Saturday.

T. A. Cubit, of the Standard Mirror Co. reports good business with his company in the Carolinas and Virginia.

Mrs. C. M. Hauser entertained most delightfully Wednesday morning in honor Mrs. B. B. Webb of Statesville.

The Over-the-Tea-Cups Club will meet Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. G. W. Clark.

Mrs. R. B. Terry Saturday afternoon entertained a number of her friends at rook and bridge. Elegant refreshments were served.

Married—Sunday afternoon, Miss Phyllis M. Huddleston to Mr. Raymond R. Ronk, at the home of the latter, Rev. H. S. Kopenhaver officiating.

High Point defeated Thomasville by a score of three to one in an interesting game in the Chair town Saturday.

The Bellevue Hotel property was sold at auction Saturday for the sum of $4,650, being bid in by E. A. Bencini, subject to the confirmation of the court.

Eternally right, Mr. Tate, the voters of High Point are not going to vote more bonds until the bonds of disfranchisement are removed from them.

President W. C. Beavens, Secretary Royals and E. L. Allen of the Retail Merchants Association, attended the State Meeting in Winston this week.

The Black revival services are among the most successful ever held in High Point and it is believed that much tasting good for the town has been accomplished.

Mrs. Henry Turner and child, of Marietta, are now residents of High Point, stopping at the Colonial for the present. Mrs. Turner is well and favorably known here.

Wade Holden, alias Wade Holmes, colored, is wanted in Asheville for shooting a white man, and Chief Gray received a message asking him to look out for him.

If you want a 42-piece dinner set, the prettiest you ever saw, for $4.98 or the 32-piece set for $3.98 you had better hurry. See ad. These sets retail for $15.00 and $12.50 respectively.

The Great Council of the Improved Order of Red Men is in session at Asheville this week. Past Great Sachems W. E. Herndon and W. L. Stamey; Guard of the Forest O. R. York; and Representatives Bradner and Willians are in attendance from High Point.

The republicans are not anxious to help the democrats and the disfranchised voters are not going to vote for anything that those responsible for the state of affairs have anything to do with, and this is what comes partisan politics, and THIS is what will defeat any bond issue until the matter is remedied.

AT ASHEVILLE.

Lieutenant H. B. Hiatt left yesterday for Asheville to report to commanding officer of Field Hospital Corps for duty in Mexico, orders having been received by Dr. Haatt late Tuesday afternoon from Adjutant General Lawrence Young. The time Dr. Hiatt is to stay in Asheville or how soon to proceed to Mexico, has not been ascertained.

AN OVERSIGHT.

Through an oversight the date for this week on the insert was not changed from the 15th to 22nd.

WANTED—Two or three live boys to sell the Curtis publications: The Saturday Evening Post, The Ladies Home Journal and The Country Gentleman. Big money, valuable prizes. Apply to Paul Stamey, District Agent, at the Review office.

A TRIP TO THE LAND OF THE SKY

Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias—A Big Body of Men—Incidents There, Going and Coming—Makes One Feel Prouder of His State

The editor spent a portion of last week at Waynesville, 29 miles above Asheville, nestled 2,000 feet above sea level and at the foot of Junaluska mountain, about 6,000 feet high, upon which is situated Eagle's Nest, a very nice hotel owned by Mr. Satterthwait.

The Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias was in session at Waynesville Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, upon which the editor was in attendance and before talking of various incidents of the trip will dispose of this matter in which many of our readers are interested.

Monday evening the organization of the Grand Lodge was effected, adjourning at one o'clock in the morning. Wednesday and Thursday were taken up altogether with business of much importance to the order. The election of officers Thursday morning resulted as follows: Grand Chancellor, McBride Holt, of Graham; vice-chancellor, Dr. Byron Clark of Salisbury; Grand K. of R. & S., W. T. Hollowell, of Goldsboro; Grand Prelate, Rev. A. C. Owens, of Rocky Mount; Grand M. of E., Geo. T. Montcastle, Lexington; Grand Master at Arms, C. G. Sillers, of Mount Olive; Grand Inner Guard, W. W. Branch, of Rhoddis; Grand Outer Guard, G. L. Guire, of Canton; Supreme Representative, Thos. H. Webb. There were three towns in the race for next meeting place, High Point, Rocky Mount and Clayton. After the second vote Rocky Mount was declared the winner. The report from the Orphan's Home showed that the children were receiving every care possible and that the finances of the institution were in fine shape. High Point was among the leading lodges in regard to growth the past year, standing first up to Jan. 1, 1916 and third up to June 1st. This covers about everything of interest to the reader in regard to the meeting.

Waynesville is a very pretty place and a great summer resort, three or four thousand visitors going there in the months of July and August. It is the home town of Geo. H. Crowell, at one time superintendent of our schools. Mr. Crowell is now financial agent of the great Methodist institution at Junaluska, three miles from the city. Waynesville is a town of some three thousand people and is located, of course, on the several hills in the big mountain basin or valley, a town of magnificent distances. Eagle's nest, on the crest of Junaluska mountain, is a very attractive spot and is at an altitude of over 6,000 feet. This is the home of Miss Lucile Satterthwait declared by the moving world in the "Brains and Beauty" contest to be one of the five prettiest women in the world. This pretty little product of North Carolina is now in New York City taking training for the movies in which she is to receive nearly a quarter of a million dollars a year from getting into the limelight. The story goes that she entered the contest without even telling her parents, in fact the mother told our party this while there. Miss Satterthwait determined to try to meet the requirements both as to brains and beauty and she won both. At the time she weighed 140 pounds but the requirements called for 125 pounds, and that was easy, dieting herself on milk until her weight was reduced, then with the proper application of lotions she put herself in the pink of condition and if you will look at her or her picture you will readily agree that North Carolina has the greatest beauty in the world. "Father" has not exactly consented as yet to her entering the movies but "mother" talks suspiciously like it is going to end alright for her pretty daughter and the stream of gold will help to swell the already well-to-do purse of the family.

We were located at the White Sulphur Springs, a delightful spot, with fine sulphur water, plenty of good rations, comfortable beds, etc., and our stay was made very pleasant.

A side trip was taken to Canton, the home of the great Canton Fibre and Pulp Mills, the largest in the world, where paper pulp is made from chestnut and pine lumber. It would take your breath to tell how many hundreds of cords, how many hundreds of tons of coal, how many hundreds of cars of pulp and lumber are used and shipped weekly but it is enormous. And yet the pulp business is really a by product, because all of the best timber is saved for lumber, demanding a higher price, while the slabs and culls are made into pulp. It is one of the most complete plants you ever saw. The payroll is about $50,000 weekly. We watched the making of the paper pulp from the time the log was started on its journey until it was placed in the car for shipment; first it is cut up into fine chips, then turned into the great boiling vats, then run through the chemicals for bleaching purposes, carded on great rolls, run through the drying rollers to the cutting machines. The company had its own hospital within the building and "safety first" seems to be the motto.

The trip to Junaluska and a ride on the lake and through the mammoth Methodist building and over the grounds afforded a two hours pleasure never to be forgotten.

A stop off at Marion to see our mother revealed the fact that Marion is pushing forward in many ways and is destined to be a town of much larger population within a few years.

Changing the subject and talking about that which interests every one of caring, we can tell you a place to get the best lunch for 25c in the world, and that is at Connelly Springs and old man Wm. Jeff Davis, the proprietor, has become famous through the hotel lunches he sells to the hungry journeyers as the train stops at the depot. Why man you get plenty of chicken, ham, egg sandwiches, pickles, cake and other extras and for our lives we can't see how Davis does it, but he does. Perhaps this is one way he chooses to advertise. If one gets so much for a quarter what will he get at the hotel proper is the natural conclusion one reaches. But enough for this time.

With Our Friends.

Moffitt Furnishing Co. has a page ad in this issue, telling you of the big white week at this popular store and incidentally giving much other valuable information. We urge you to read every word in today's ad.

The Arctic Ice and Coal Co. is talking ice to you in their space today. Keep cool and thereby keep well is good advice, says Manager Joe Lee.

The High Point Milling Co. wants you to become a White Frost enthusiast for health's sake as well as for the benefit of your pocket book. See ad.

If you want one of those fine dinner sets you will have to hurry. Remember the offer is only for 30 days. They are offered at one-third their selling value.

Elect Officers.

The following are the officers for the ensuing term, of High Point Lodge No. 39, K. of P.

Chancellor Commander—W. W. Jones.
Vice Chancellor—A. H. Holton.
Prelate—L. W. Blackwelder.
Master of Finance—J. W. Walker.
Master of Work—A. E. Teeter.
Keeper of Records and Seal—W. L. Stamey.
Master at Arms—Geo. T. Woods.
Inner Guard—B. E. Moore.
Outer Guard—J. L. Chernaunt.
Master of Exchequer—Geo. A. Matton.
There was much excitement.

You Can Show Your Patriotism.

We notice where the Durham Hosiery Mills is going to do the right thing by the soldier boys. Those who were employed in their mills at Durham, High Point, Chapel Hill, Goldsboro and Mebane who have been called to the colors will receive the same pay as if at work, minus that part the government pays—in other words full pay—and the difference the company will pay the wife or dependent ones of said soldier.

This is a fine spirit and shows that while we all can't fight we can be patriotic and contribute to our country's defense in this way. High Point concerns could well afford to follow this very commendable course.

The Southern Retail Furniture Association is in session at Asheville this week.

Mrs. J. E. Hardie (nee Miss Connie Charles) is visiting her mother, Mrs. R. C. Charles.

Councilmen Terry and Smith's Letter.

Councilmen Terry and Smith did the right thing in remaining on the official Board even if they are in the minority on every matter in which the city is interested, because the "law" does not provide for the filling of a vacancy by a vote of the people.

Perhaps they can yet accomplish some good things by sticking and protesting, to help the town. Anyway it is better than having all five of the same opinion as the three that now constitute the majority. That was a very fine expression in the letter of Messrs. Terry and Smith: "We believe in an economical administration of public matters but will never concede that there is nothing more sacred than dollars." The letter in full, addressed to the citizens of High Point and signed by Messrs. Terry and Smith, follows: "To the Citizens of High Point:

"Inasmuch as our contemplated resignation as members of the city council seems to have been generally discussed, and since, after reconsideration, the same has been withdrawn, justice to ourselves compels a public statement of our position.

"After taking the oath of office as councilmen we determined, and have ever tried, to serve the citizens to the best of our ability; and have always favored and fought for all measures tending for the betterment and upbuilding of High Point in all of its departments.

"We believe in an economical administration of public matters but will never concede that there is nothing more sacred or important than dollars. In the beginning of this administration we fought with all the vigor at our command against dividing the different departments of the city and putting the school system under the personal supervision of one of the councilmen, and from day until this an effort was made by some members of the council to make it unpleasant for the superintendent of our city schools which finally with an ally of the same mind, caused in our opinion, the result that followed.

"Being hopelessly in the minority on questions of public interest, we felt it best for us to resign so that the majority might carry out their policies without the vain protest of the minority. Please understand—and we wish to emphasize this point—that our action was not the result of any particular difference of opinion on any one matter, but at all times an on all questions of public interest our presence has caused an utter lack of harmony and has made concerted action impossible.

"Our resignations have been withdrawn for several reasons: First: Because our successors under the charter, could not be elected by the people, but would be chosen by the remaining three members of the council, which would practically mean that a majority of those remaining on the council could select men who were in strict accord with their views, a condition which to our minds would preclude the people who hold ideas with us of even the privilege of making a protest, futile though it might be, against any action which in our opinion would tend to retard the proper development of the city.

"Second: Because our duty to our friends and the public will not allow us to do otherwise than to 'stick it out' and keep up our feeble fight for measures which we think essential to High Point's welfare.

"We recognize that no condition can justify the government of a city not elected by its citizens, and we stand ready to resign our positions whenever our resignations are asked for by the people of High Point. Until that time comes, or until our term of office expires, we have decided to stay on the job and do everything in our power—little though it may be—to advance the best interests of High Point and its people. In doing this we have laid aside our personal choice in the matter, and will ever stand for those things that we think the citizens of High Point demand.

First Car Yesterday.

The first electric car between High Point and Thomasville made the trip yesterday. The type of car is a "storage battery" which is charged when needed. The schedule calls for 30 minutes between the towns and the fare is 15c. A heavy car is used which is roomy and comfortable. Six round trips are made daily.