

COMMISSIONERS MEET

Two Juries Drawn. Homer Baldwin Appointed as Member Board of Review. Next Meeting Tuesday, July 6th.

The county commissioners were in regular monthly session last Monday, all five members being present, they being Chairman B. F. Reynolds, J. W. Capel, L. D. Frutchey, John A. McNeill and H. D. Hatch.

The Board will not meet on the first Monday in July, this falling on July 4th; but instead will meet Tuesday, July 5th.

The most important matter handled by the Board last Monday was the appointment of Homer D. Baldwin as a member of the Board of Review in place of John L. Everett who had resigned. The other two members are J. C. Leigh, of Hamlet, and D. A. Parsons, of Covington.

Lee Hogan and John Wood, both white, were granted permanent exemption from poll tax because of physical disability. Jim Nash LeGrand, Henry and Catherine Brown and Alfred Stanback were placed on outside pauper list at $3 per quarter.

Two juries were drawn for the July terms of Superior Court—24 for the civil term that begins July 18th, and 36 for the criminal term of July 25th. The jury for the civil term that begins June 20th was drawn on May 2nd, and has heretofore been published.

Hamlet Trimmed Twice.

Messrs. Sides and McAulay carried a team to Hamlet on Friday of last week, and won from the Railroaders in a diving finish—10-9. The score sawed until the ninth rolled around, with Hamlet leading 9-7. Rockingham got three on bases; Capt. Sides was at the bat with two down—and he came across with a beautiful triple, scoring three men and sewing up the game. Sim Cashwell pitched for Rham, and gave but 8 hits. The nine Hamlet runs were made chiefly on errors. Forbes pitched 7 innings for Hamlet, and then was relieved by Claude Gibson, who fared even worse.

On Saturday the Hamlet team came to Rockingham to even up, but were turned back to the tune of 10-7. Person pitched for Rham.

On Monday the Ellerbe team journeyed here and had things all their own way until the 8th inning, to that period being 10-2. In the last two frames the locals romped on Rankin for enough runs to net 7 runs, but this was not enough to win out, Ellerbe finally winning by score of 10-9. Rankin and Key was Ellerbe battery, while Cashwell, Allison Ormond and Medlin worked for Rham. Ormond, by the way, has promise of good stuff; he is a left-hander and played on Trinity Scrubs this past season.

The Morven team came over for a game Tuesday and won by score of 6 to 5. Jim Rogers pitched for Morven, and Capt. Sides for Rockingham.

Homer Baldwin Trustee.

At a meeting of the creditors of R. R. Little held in Rockingham Tuesday morning at the office of Sedberry & Phillips, Mr. Homer D. Baldwin was selected as Trustee. Mr. Little had filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy and J. B. Cheshire, Jr., U. S. Referee in Bankruptcy called a meeting of the creditors for June 7th to select a Trustee.

It is understood the liabilities amount to something like $78,000, with assets supposed to be something like $76,000. Inasmuch as a crop has already been planted on the lands of Mr. Little, the Trustee will go ahead with the farming operations and endeavor to work out the best way possible.

In addition to naming a Trustee Tuesday, the meeting appointed a committee of A. G. Corpening, Alfred Baldwin and R. E. Cochran to appraise and set a value upon the various assets.

That Microbe.

The musical comedy, "The Microbe of Love," presented in the opera house on Friday night of last week by Miss Bowden, under the auspices of the American Legion, was well received by the audience, and brought in a gross revenue of about $375. After paying the expenses and dividing 50-50, the local Post received as its share $150.

About 35 Rockingham ladies and gentlemen participated. With such an array of talent it would be invidious to single out any particularly shining light—all have promise of being drafted into higher company; but especially good was Mrs. Louise Williams. The chorus was comely and daintily gowned.

The Supreme Court Tuesday handed down a decision reversing the Richmond county Superior Court in the case of the State vs B. W. Barksdale, the man who some months ago was convicted of selling intoxicating liquors in soliciting orders and selling extracts that contained more than a certain per cent of alcohol. The Supreme Court, four to one, decrees that a new trial be granted to Barksdale, the representative of Garrett & Co.
