

Retires From Company.

Mr. Emsley Armfield has sold his interest in the Lambeth-Armfield Co., and has returned to Monroe. The incorporation of the company is now amended and the name changed to "Lambeths, Inc."

Since locating here last summer and establishing a Dodge sales and service station, Mr. J. A. Lambeth has built up a handsome business. The firm received this week two solid car-loads of new Dodge cars, and a car-load comes in about every week.

The personnel of the Lambeths, Inc., consists of J. A. Lambeth, general manager; Walter Scales, cashier and bookkeeper; Miss Silverstein, stenographer; Horace Neal, sales manager; Robert Steele, Jr., salesman; and M. L. Hancock, foreman in charge of the mechanical department.

Buys Ledbetter Home.

Mr. M. B. Leath a few days ago bought from W. B. Cole the John S. Ledbetter house and lot, fronting North Washington st. The lot is 100x270. Mr. W. S. Thomas and family are at present in the house, and it is not known as yet to what house they will move. Mr. Leath expects to move in early in January. He is offering his Watson Heights house for sale.

McLaurin Moving.

V. J. McLaurin will in a few days move his meat market to the larger building next to Biggs drug store; this building was formerly used by the W. R. Smith & Sons firm, but they 3 weeks ago moved to the Little building that was vacated by the Hub.

This large building will give V. J. more room for his market—and he runs a good one too.

Superior Court.

Civil term of Superior Court, with Judge Long presiding, begins next Monday. The calendar of cases is elsewhere in this issue. The following is the jury:

635 Hog.

T. C. Covington, Rt 4 Monday, killed a 3-yr-old Berkshire hog that weighed 635 pounds.

$152.09 from School.

The Rham school pupils voluntarily contributed $152.09 this week for the Oxford Orphanage.

Leath Elected.

Rham high school held an election Monday for president of the student council with the result that Thomas Leath received the honor. That he will worthily measure up to the trust is a foregone certainty.

Wren Gets Still.

Contable Wren, of Beaver Dam township, last Friday broke up a 40-gallon still about a mile from Hoffman.

Paper Day Earlier.

The Post-Dispatch is printed a day earlier this week, in order that no work may be done on Thanksgiving Day.

Carrier, Etc., Holiday.

The R. F. D. carriers will have holiday Thanksgiving Day, and the post office will observe Sunday hours. The banks will of course be closed for the day, and no business is expected to be transacted in town.

School Holiday.

The city school will have holiday Thanksgiving Day and Friday. It is expected that the high school pupils will move into the new high school building Monday. Supt. Bell hopes to make the transfer during the holidays and have everything in readiness for actual school work Monday in the new building.

Wins Ford.

In the auction sale of the Ellwanger tract near Hamlet last Friday by the American Realty & Auction Co., a new Ford was given away in the free drawing. The lucky name drawn from the box was that of Mrs. W. F. Songo, of Rockingham, and she received the car.

Football Results.

Sanford (it could so easily have been Rockingham) defeated Durham at Chapel Hill last Friday 6-0, and now goes up still another notch in the University eliminations. Sanford will play New Bern at Raleigh tomorrow (Friday) to settle who will represent the East at Chapel Hill Dec. 9th.

Monroe won from Greensboro last Friday 7-5, and Asheville beat Charlotte 13-0. This places Asheville and Monroe to battle for Western honors, the game likely to be at Charlotte on Saturday. The winner then plays the Eastern winner at Chapel Hill Dec. 9th for State championships.

Last Saturday State College won from Wake Forest 32-0. Harvard beat Yale 10-3, and Trinity beat Randolph-Macon 25-12.

Shut Down One Day.

Owing to low water in the rivers from which the Yadkin River Power Co., Carolina and Southern and other power companies get their juice, the scores of mills supplied by them in this and adjacent states have been forced to shut down for one day in the week. Most of the Rockingham mills were closed last Monday, and will be closed very Monday until the water supply catches up. Some of the mills have steam auxiliaries and so these of course are able to operate.

Clubs Here Dec. 16th.

Mrs. Jno. Sandy Covington requests the paper to state that there will be a meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs of the county at the courthouse on Saturday, Dec. 16th, at 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. Bickett has been invited to be the speaker. All the school teachers of the county are invited to be the especial guests of the clubs for lunch which the club members will serve.

Workers Remembered.

Employees of the Atlantic Coast Line Ry. who served in the shops during the recent nation-wide railroad strike are receiving gratuity checks ranging from $100 to $1,000 from the company.

Drop into Lambeth-Armfield's office Thanksgiving afternoon and hear the wireless continuous report of the Carolina-Virginia game; begins at 2:30. No admission and everyone welcome.

Prize Winning Rooster.

T. Berry Liles is gaining not only state, but now national, reputation as a breeder of fine poultry. His latest achievement was in carrying off first premium at the Capitol Show at Washington, D. C., last week. Fanciers and breeders from all parts of the country had entries, as this is conceded to be next to the Madison Square Garden, New York, annual show.

Mr. Liles sent a flock of four birds to Washington—a cock, cockerel, hen and pullet—all of the Single Comb White Leghorn strain. It was his fine cock that drew the blue ribbon. This bird is about 18 months old, and carried off first ribbon at the Columbia, S. C., Fair this fall. The sire of this bird won first ribbon at Madison Square Garden in 1920, and sold for $500.

Our folks are glad to have a Richmond county product gain renown, and we hope Mr. Liles will gain first ribbon at Madison Square Garden in January.

5 Cars Weekly.

Did you know that an average of five refrigerator cars of fresh and salt meats, and kindred products, are shipped to Rockingham every week? Just think how much money this represents that is sent out of the county—never to return—for products that ought to be raised at home! Some food for thought in this.

Elson Art Exhibit.

An exhibit of some of the World's most famous pictures will be held at the Rockingham high school Dec. 13-16. The object of this exhibit is to give the school and town an opportunity of seeing and learning about famous pictures. At this time the Parent-Teacher Association will put on a drive for securing pictures for the new building and the proceeds of the exhibit will also be used for this purpose.

Two Sales.

The McAulay, Crosland & Tyson Co., are advertising, on page 5, an auction sale of the square, in lots, on which the McLendon tent was pitched.

On the back page is advertised the auction sale of the John Morrison farm, at 10:30 Dec. 7th, and at 2 o'clock the J. T. Martin farm will be sold—this by the Carolina Land & Exc. Co., for which M. L. Mateer is making local arrangements.

Haywood's Toyland will be open every night until ten o'clock for the benefit of those who cannot come during the day. adv

Mill Lets Contract.

The Entwistle cotton mill today awarded the contract for its enlargement to the T. C. Thompson Company of Charlotte.

Assembling material will begin at once, and the project completed before the end of next summer.

The enlargement calls for the building of an addition of 135x486 feet, four cotton houses 50x100, and about 55 new cottages. When completed the addition will house 400 looms and 18,000 spindles—making the capacity of the mill 1000 looms and 45,000 spindles. In other words, almost a doubling of the size of the mill.

Entwistle is but falling in line with the recent action of Steele's, Hannah Pickett and Roberdel No. 2 mills in enlarging; and it is rumored that Hannah Pickett is shortly to again expand—and that Midway mill will make an important expansion.

COTTON GINNED.

The number of bales of cotton ginned in Richmond county to November 14th amounted to 14,835, as compared with 12,370 to the same date last year.

It looks now as though the total ginning for this county will be around 15,500. The total crop for 1921 was 13,501.

This year's crop will be the sixth largest the county ever produced, the largest being 23,744 in 1920 and the smallest in recent years was 9,259 in 1916.

25 YEARS FOR KILLING SHANKLE.

Robin Duke, of Norwod, plead guilty to second degree murder in Superior Court at Albemarle on Thursday of last week, and was sentenced by Judge B. F. Long to the pen for 25 years at hard labor.

He was placed on trial for his life on Wednesday, November 22nd, charged with the murder of Brantley Shankle, a former Richmond county citizen, at Norwood several months ago. A special venire of 50 men were summoned from which to select a jury. Practically two-thirds of the 50 were exhausted before a jury was secured.

After the evidence was introduced and before the argument of counsel, the defendant agreed to enter a plea of guilty to second degree murder, and the State accepted this. The judge then sentenced him to the pen for 25 years.

The following were the jurors in the case.

G. W. Smith, M. F. Eudy, W. S. Lambert, W. F. Moyle, J. C. Bursleson, Silas Lambert, W. C. Hill, R. D. Barbee, Sandy E. Smith, G. W. Chandler, Howell Almond and James Almond.

Appearing for the State were State Solicitor, W. M. Nash, of Hamlet, County Solicitor Hal C. Turner, and Messrs R. L. Smith and Son. The defendant was represented by Messrs H. F. Sewell, of Carthage, I. R. Bursleson, and Brown, Sikes & Brown, of the local bar.

It appears that the deceased, the defendant and Reubin Byrd, and Grover Morton, had been playing cards on the date of the tragedy; that some misunderstanding arose, whereupon Duke went home, returned with his gun, and shot Shankle without very little ceremony. In his testimony the defendant admitted that he shot the deceased, but pleaded self-defense, and, incidentally, the "unwritten law." He admitted that he and Shankle had been gambling, but said that he lost all his money and went home for more; that while he was at his home his wife informed him that she had been insulted by the deceased some time before, whereupon he secured his gun and returned. He said upon his return to where Shankle and the other men were that Shankle stood up and threw his hand to his hip pocket, and that, believing the deceased was going to pull out a gun, he fired on him to save himself.

Ten Commandery Initiates.

Rockingham Commandery of Knights Templar gave the degrees last Friday afternoon and night to ten candidates. The Shrine Ceremony at Charlotte Dec. 6th and 7th promises to be unusually large and fine.
