LOCAL OBSERVATIONS.

UNITED STATES SIGNAL OFFICE. Yankton, D. T., May 17, 1880. River three feet nine inches above low water mark. Slight fall. Maximum temperature up to 2 p. m. 92 degrees; minimum temperature in past twenty-four hours, 67 degrees. Saturday night 61 of an inch of rain fell during the storm. Maximum velocity of wind thirty-six miles southwest at 11:40 a. m. to-day.

LOCAL CAUSIVS.

The city council will meet in regular session this evening. The foundation for Purdy's new house on Pine street is nearly completed. The territorial grand lodge of masons will convene in annual session, in Yankton, on the 8th of June. Mendelssohn tickets are selling rapidly and there is no doubt about their being a good house for the club. In the supreme court argument was concluded this afternoon in the case of French against Lancaster. This closes the arguments before the court for this term. The Toohy dramatic company will produce M'Liss, a frontier drama of absorbing interest, at Turner hall this evening. To-morrow night they will present another attractive play. George Bailey, one of the bar tenders at Brown's Merchants hotel place, was mixing a lemonade this morning when the tumbler broke, cutting an ugly gash across the palm of his left hand. Dr. Wixson's funeral yesterday was attended by a great many Yankton people and a long procession followed the remains to the grave. Rev. John W. Trimble, of Christ church, conducted the services. There was a lively shower of rain Saturday night and of dust to-day. Things alternate. Like the most toothsome breakfast bacon, our weather furnishes a streak of fat and a streak of lean. More of the fat would do us just as well, however. The ladies' social organization of the Universalist parish will give a STRAWBERRY and ICE CREAM SUPPER at their chapel, on Tuesday evening, May 25th, commencing at 6 o'clock. Everything will be served in the best style and at the lowest prices. The Toohy dramatic association gave its second entertainment at Turner hall Saturday night, producing Fanchon with great credit to all the members of the company. The troupe will leave here for the up river military posts, where they will give entertainments. They will go on one of the Peck boats. A band of Sioux chiefs, including Red Cloud, Spotted Tail and ten other prominent heads of the original Dakota nation, are waiting at Rosebud landing for the government steamer Sherman to come down from above and transport them to Yankton. From here they are to go to Washington to ratify the treaty for the construction of railroads through the Sioux reservation to the Black Hills. The date of the arrival of this distinguished party is indefinite. They were looking for the Sherman at last accounts and may be looking yet. There was a row at the parlor cigar store last night and out of it all Marshall Riehnardt gobbled John White, Wm. Hagin, and one other. The third party was released, it appearing that he was acting in the capacity of a peace-maker, and White and Hagin appeared in the police court this forenoon to answer to a charge of disturbing the peace. White was found guilty and charged $8.10 and Hagin was acquitted. The disturbance grew out of an effort on the part of the crowd to evade payment for something purchased at the counter. Wiggie reached for a revolver and the row began. When it ended most of the windows were broken in. While Otto Konig, janitor at Turner hall, was lighting up for Saturday evening's entertainment, one of the chandeliers fell to the floor, breaking it into fragments and seriously cutting one of Mr. Konig's hands. He was standing on a step ladder, under the chandelier, and had nearly completed lighting it, when it came loose from its fastenings, overturned the step ladder and lamps, broke holders, step ladder and janitor were mixed up in one general wreck on the floor beneath. In falling the lights were extinguished and thus a conflagration was avoided. In lighting the lamps Mr. Konig turned the chandelier and thus unscrewed the nut on the upper end of the bolt hook which held it in suspension. As soon as the nut was screwed off the whole thing came down. The accident resulted only in the destruction of the chandelier and the injuries mentioned to the janitor. It might have been worse, and that it is not we are all truly thankful. J. S. Gardner, of the freighting firm of Daugherty & Co., says that business never was so lively as now on the Pierre route. Between the middle of April and the middle of May 1500 yoke of cattle left Pierre for Deadwood, hauling freight. These cattle represent a freighting capacity of 2,000,000 pounds per trip, and in addition there are horses and mules enough on the route to haul 1,000,000 pounds more, making it possible for the stock on the road to transport three million pounds each trip. There is an abundance of freight and it is probable that all this stock will be worked continuously until the close of the season. Mr. Gardner says there was nothing in the reported capture of a wagon, by Indians, near the Cheyenne crossing. The story originated from the fact that two Indians stopped at a freighter's camp and got some supper. The Indians are perfectly quiet along the Pierre route this summer. Not a horse has been stolen and no one molested.

MAXWELL'S CAPTURE.

The letter which gave him away contains something interesting about Ex-Jailer Peterson.

A special telegram of the 12th inst., to the Chicago Journal, from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, gives the following account of the capture of John W. Maxwell, the desperado who escaped from the Yankton county jail. At Cedar Rapids Maxwell was known as J. N. Scott.

About six o'clock yesterday evening two suspicious looking characters, giving their names as Scott and Gilmore, alias Martin, were captured by the city police, while engaged in reading a letter in the postoffice at Cedar Rapids last Saturday, addressed to J. N. Scott, and was taken out and opened by J. W. Scott, of this city, disclosing the information that the party for whom it was intended had committed various crimes in the region of the Black Hills country, and had offered the jailor at Yankton, D. T., $100 for his release. The letter being from a woman, and using the immediate payment of the money, as the "jailor was hard up and needed it badly." The letter advised Scott to make his stay brief in Cedar Rapids, and to not go further east, as he would find his likeness hanging around the matron's room with the $2,300 reward attached. He was advised not to return to Yankton, as he would be killed. The letter was given to the police who secured the arrest. The two men offered no resistance.

Sheriff Baker arrived on to-night's train bringing Maxwell with him. He was met at the depot by Deputy Osborn with a carriage and the prisoner was transported to the county bastille.

REMOVAL NOTICE.

MENDELSSOHN CONCERT.

The Mendelssohn Quintette Club, whose reputation and history is now national and well known, will give a concert at Turner Hall Wednesday evening. It planned the first seed of musical taste throughout the country, its small and compact number enabling it to visit remote sections of the country, giving concerts in towns and cities where larger troupes could not hope for remuneration. It has been an educative agent among our people, and repeated visits of the club to hundreds of places have had the effect to affix a standard by which musical performances are now judged.

The club takes pride in calling attention to the engagement effected with Miss Abbie Carrington whose appearances in opera in the largest theatres in Italy, and recently in the concert rooms of New York and Boston, have awakened an interest rarely equaled among connoisseurs. She is a native of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, and went to Boston four years ago and in two years graduated from the N. E. Conservatory. After a year's instruction in Italy she made her debut in Milan, making an almost unparalleled success, and after a year's engagements throughout all the principal cities of Italy returned to America. Upon her return her first appearance was with the Strakosch opera company in Boston, afterwards with Theo. Thomas and the Philharmonic society of New York. Undoubtedly she is the most distinguished artist that has ever appeared before a Yankton audience.

The originator of the Mrs. P. & Q. confab seems to be disgrusted with it. Tomorrow certainly is, and our citizens no doubt are too. A casual glance at the two show cases will quickly show where to get good pictures.

A TORNADO AT PARKER.

The Parker Era of the 15th inst. says that "a terrible windstorm visited that section on Thursday afternoon at three o'clock which destroyed upwards of a thousand dollars worth of property in Parker alone. The storm came from the south and was accompanied with a driving rain and some hail. The storm lasted only fifteen or twenty minutes and after it passed away, our reporter sallied forth around town and found the following damage done: Robbins & Pratt, lumber damaged to the amount of $400; Vale P. Theilman, stable demolished, $30; Henry Mills, stable, $30; G. G. Pratt, stable, $25; C. D. C. Co., saw office, damaged, $20; Dr. L. W. Cooke, stable demolished, $30; B. F. Crouch, smith shop and stable demolished, $50; Wm. Sheldon, corn crib wrecked, $20; Teabolt & Vallean, glass front blown in, $10; Teabolt & Vallean, lumber damaged, $50. Besides the above there were many losses of minor importance. The cyclone was the most severe known in years. Dry goods boxes, wash tubs, barrels, loose boards, gravel stones and the like were caught up by the gale and carried away over the prairie."

Follow the crowd and it will take you to H. W. Pike's new and elegant ice cream parlors to be opened Saturday evening. My new soda fountain is in full blast.

IN MEMORIAM. DR. FRANKLIN WINSON. "Sui ubi terra levit." Oft in verse hast thou embalmed The memory of the dead; And with the world, in noble lines, Hath thou, thy witness wed: What less can I, with humbler pen, Oh, brother, do for thee— Than pay this simple tribute to Thine earthly memory? Tho' thy voice is stilled—its hush— Thy pen tho' laid aside; The grateful measure of thy thought Doth still with us abide! We still may read, and reading think Thy noble spirit's near; And still may see on printed page, Thy Genius shining clear! Thou oft didst wish that thou couldst pierce, The veil that hangs between The opaque here, and hallowed THERE— This world and the world unseen! That happier world, of grander thought— Where the soul's unshackled—free! Where sweetness, goodness, beauty is— Where the just—the perfect be; That happier world where the PERPLEXED stand; Where none but they have stood; Where the soul's soothed in the tender light, That rays from the brow of God! Yankton, May 16. —H. M.

THE RIVER.

The steamer Western is advertised for Benton Saturday. The steamer Benton left Bismarck this morning for Yankton. The steamer Black Hills is nearly loaded and will leave for Pierre to-night. Captain King received a telegram from Bismarck which stated that the June rise had reached that point. This is gratifying information for river men. The steamer C. K. Peck arrived from St. Louis yesterday drawing four feet. She is taking on sixty-one tons of government freight and 105 mules and expects to get along swimmingly on the coming rise. Her cabin is so well filled that several passengers were turned away.

The steamer Niobrara arrived yesterday from Pierre and after a short halt here passed on for Sioux City. The Niobrara was under agreement to carry freight for the Peck line and there is a full Benton load here for her, which she was expected to take and which would have netted a handsome profit. We presume that the action of the Niobrara is considerable of a disappointment to Col. Akin, as he came up here Saturday to see that her Benton load was safely aboard her.

A WORD TO TOURISTS.

You cannot have a better companion on your journey than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. That prime medicinal agent will enable you to drink brackish water without running the risk of disordered stomach and bowels, will neutralize the influence of foul or miasmatic air, and will prove a most agreeable and wholesome stimulant and means of counteracting the fatigue of traveling and senescence. Change of climate, water or diet, is apt to induce harassing and often dangerous diseases. The three changes combined are fatal to thousands of emigrants and travelers every year. It is not, then, of the last importance to know that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are an absolute preventive of the hurtful consequences arising from these causes? Travelers, voyagers, and emigrants to new countries cannot be too often reminded of the fact that this agreeable vegetable tonic is the most reliable safeguard against disorders to which they are far more liable than the habitual denizens of healthy regions.

Who is Mrs. Winslow? As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has unflinchingly devoted her time and talents as a female physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitutions and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially in this case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it mothers—try it now—Ladies' Visitor New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich. Will send their celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts to the afflicted upon 30 days' trial. Speedy cures guaranteed. They mean what they say. Write to them without delay.
