THE TILDEN INCOME TAX SUIT. Washington Telegram. The reason for the postponement last spring of the case against Samuel J. Tilden for the non-payment of his income tax has just transpired. An officer of the internal revenue department says that the government was fully prepared then to begin prosecution of the case, but it was postponed until November at the suggestion of counsel for the government, the defendant, of course, interposing no objection to delay. The report is that the United States district attorney and special counsel for the United States in this case were both stalwart Grant men, and had the same faith in the nomination of Gen. Grant at Cincinnati which they had in the nomination of Mr. Tilden by the democracy at Cincinnati. The array of facts which the government had collected to sustain its case against Mr. Tilden, it is believed if made known before the convention met in Cincinnati would utterly destroy all hopes of his election by the democrats. That there might be no obstacle to his nomination, so far as they could prevent, it was decided not to press the suit at that time, but to allow it to go over to the fall term of the United States court. If Grant was defeated, then the case was to be pressed for trial in November, and the whole force of the accumulated facts was to be let loose to Mr. Tilden's detriment. The district attorney and the special counsel were both delegates to the Chicago convention, and belong to the so-called old guard. They lament that the programme was not carried out, but will, it is understood, now be more zealous for the prosecution of the case next fall, especially if the republican electors should be in a minority, in order that the next administration may not obscure the case by a change of counsel. This is the will of the secretary of the treasury, who does not see any good reason for further delay.

TAMMANY NOT TO BE CONCLICATED. New York, August 24.—Democrats who are more concerned for party success than the triumph of either local faction are doing everything in their power to harmonize the conflicting interests. The Express, the Tammany organ, says it doubts the efficacy of any effort that may be made to restore harmony or reorganize the state democracy for an effective campaign. It blamed Chairman Fuller for not calling the state committee together weeks ago and showing that it was anxious for democratic union before the breach became too wide to bridge over. Tammany is jealous of its dignity because it regards the present as a life and death struggle. In this campaign its existence is ignored and concessions it demands have not been made. Tammany thinks it might as well give up the ghost. It is probable that instead of harmony being restored the fight will grow more bitter as the campaign advances, in which event conservatives of both parties believe the state is certain to go republican. The state committee will meet next Friday. Faulkner, who is in frequent consultation with Tilden, is reported to be in favor of ignoring Tammany and Kelly.

HAMPTON'S SPEECH.

Wheeling, W. Va., Aug. 24.—The Intelligence of to-morrow will contain the following correspondence: Wheeling, Aug. 24.—To the editor of the Valley Virginian, Staunton, Va.: The democratic paper here charges that you are a carpet-bagger in Virginia, and that your report of Hampton's speech is a base forgery. Please give us the facts in the shape of a special dispatch. [Signed] EDG. DAILY INTELLIGENCER.

RESPONSE. Staunton, Va., Aug. 24.—To the Editors of the Wheeling Intelligencer: The Virginia of Thursday next will contain affidavits from democrats as to the correctness of its report of Gen. Hampton's speech, one of the signers being the editor of the Intelligencer, the only democratic paper which reported the speech. Another signer will be the gentleman who reported the speech for the New York World, which report, Hampton says, is "correct"; and another democratic canvasser whose father has a union-wide reputation. Gen. Hampton has placed himself in an ugly position by his denial. The correctness of our report is placed beyond question. As to being carpet-bagger, we have to say, that both editors of the Virginian were born in the valley of Virginia, as were their parents before them. [Signed] VALLEY VIRGINIAN.
