

The Illinois Central will send an excursion train from Sioux City to New Orleans in January.

The Chicago railway managers interested in the war in rates in the northwest have gone to New York to attend the coming conference with a view to peace.

The governor of Louisiana, after an exhaustive examination of the law and facts in the Kellogg case, has given the certificate to Kellogg in accordance with the returns of the thirtieth district.

Washington telegram, 5th: Springer to-day made his first bid for the support of the new members in his speakership contest by the introduction in the house of a resolution to have printed 2,000 copies of the rules, saying the new members would need them to prepare for their duties at the next session. His resolution obtained little support, however, and was defeated by a large vote.

Alexander Mitchell and S. S. Merrill, of the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul, left Milwaukee Tuesday for New York to take part in the conference of presidents and managers of the contesting northwestern roads to settle the rate war. Mitchell would not give his views as to the probable result of the conference. Merrill said he did not know how it would end, intimating that he was not very hopeful of a satisfactory settlement of the difficulties.

Arabi Pasha writes that he would prefer to live in Damascus, or if that is impossible, in London. He expresses contentment with his lot, because he knows his misfortunes will be the means of securing for the country he loves the liberty it deserves. He feels confident that when England carries out her good work she will permit him to return. She will soon learn that he was not rebel when he set himself at the head of the people who wanted nothing but justice.

Washington telegram, 4th: The rumor that the secretary of the interior intends to rescind his decision throwing open for settlement the Turtle Mountain country was current here over a week ago. At that time the attention of Mr. Teller was called to the report. He simply replied that the rumor was news to him, from which it was inferred that he had not at that time at least, any such intention. He had certainly not done so since up to the closing of the department yesterday, and officers of the general land office have no knowledge of any such intention on the part of the secretary.

Sioux City Journal: A gentleman high in the confidence of the management of the Milwaukee road, during a recent visit to Sioux City, informed an old friend that railroad building promised to be lively in Dakota during the coming season. The chance that the great Sioux reservation would be opened, he said, caused both the Milwaukee and the Northwestern to consider an extension west of the Missouri. If one company made a move to build the other would also build. If building west of the Missouri was postponed until another year, then both would devote the season to perfecting their system east of the Missouri, particularly the north and south lines.

The Utah commission in its report to the secretary of the interior, recommends that a marriage law be enacted by congress which would be an auxiliary in the suppression of polygamy. The commission says that owing to the peculiar state of affairs in Utah the territorial law allowing women the right of suffrage is an obstruction to the speedy solution of the vexed question, and should be repealed or annulled by congress. The commission says that the law is far from a decided success in excluding polygamists from the exercise of suffrage, but they are of the opinion that the steady and continued enforcement of the law will place polygamy in the condition of gradual extinction.

Senator Voorhees has introduced a bill giving to the state courts of several states and territories concurrent jurisdiction with the United States district courts in all matters where railroads that are in the hands of receivers are interested. The object of this bill is to prevent the great injustice that exists just now as instanced in the case of the Ohio and Mississippi road. That road being along the line of the road any person losing a horse or any other species of property cannot bring suit for the loss of property except in the United States court, and where the value is less than one hundred dollars they are barred. The object of this bill is to allow the citizen when he loses a horse or anything of less value than that amount to bring suit in the state court.

CAPITAL NOTES.

READY FOR TRIAL. Washington, Dec. 7.—The district attorney in the criminal court this morning announced the government was ready for the star route trials. Ingersoll moved to continue the case, S. W. Dorsey being sick. Judge Wylie overruled the motion and Ingersoll asked that a recess be taken to allow him to go to Dorsey's room to get his signature.

THE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE. The ways and means committee this morning unanimously adopted a resolution to proceed at once to the consideration of the tariff commissioner's report and to frame a tariff bill, and the clerk of the committee was directed to prepare proper schedules of the rates now existing and those proposed by members of the committee.

Wilson read a long affidavit signed by defendants, that they cannot safely go to trial the present term because of the acts of the government officers in endeavoring to influence opinion against them and intimidate witnesses and officers of the court, reciting the recent removals for sympathy with the defendants and for expressing a belief that defendants would be discriminated against in the selection of talesmen. That first Dickson and the appointment of McMichael, was a part of the scheme; that Judge Wylie was prejudiced and can't fairly try the case, and requests a continuance to the next term. Wylie said the paper was an insult to the court.

Ingersoll disclaimed any intention at the result. Judge Wylie said, "Well, you may file a paper, but I shall hear no more about it."

A motion for a continuance on account of Dorsey's illness was refused, and the motion of Wilson for a bill of particulars was over-ruled.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE. Washington, Dec. 7.—The bill introduced by Mr. Brown repealing the revenue act of '64 and all laws enlarging or amending it, was referred.

By Mr. Vest, a resolution directing the secretary of war to furnish copies and contracts made by the interior departments in regard to the leasing of the Yellowstone national park or any part thereof to any body or company, with the privilege of erecting hotels and running stages thereon, was adopted.

Mr. Beck called up the resolution for an investigation of political assessments of the last campaign and stated that he merely desired to vote on the question.

Mr. Hale thought the senate should investigate the democratic campaign as well as the republican, and he offered a substitute, giving the names of members of the congressional and executive committees of both parties, reciting allegations that the democratic committee levied contributions on liquor dealers, etc., and directing the judiciary committee to investigate these charges too.

Mr. Beck said they proposed to investigate matters beyond the congress, and embarrass legitimate investigation. The substitute was ordered printed and the matter went over.

HOUSE. Washington, Dec. 6.—Mr. Haskell presented a memorial of the non-Mormon residents of Utah. Referred.

The house then went into committee, Mr. Page in the chair, on the Indian appropriation bill. Total appropriated, $5,209,000—$1,517,000 below the estimates. The reduction was chiefly in the subsistence appropriation. After some discussion the committee rose and reported the Indian bill to the house.

At three o'clock the house again went into committee on the state of the union.

The Governor-elect of New York. New York, Dec. 5.—Maj.-Gen. Hancock and staff and representative democrats of this section attended a reception given by the Manhattan club to Governor-elect Cleveland. A grand banquet followed. The governor-elect, in the course of his response to a sentiment, said: "I am quite certain the late demonstration did not spring from any pre-existing love for the party which was called to power, nor did the people place the affairs of state in our hands to be by them forgotten. They voted themselves, and in their own interest. If we retain their confidence we must deserve it, and we may be sure they will call on us to give account of our stewardship. We shall utterly fail to read aright the signs of the times if we are not fully convinced that parties are but the instruments through which the people work their will, and when they become less or more the people desert or destroy them. The vanquished have lately learned these things, and the victors will not act wisely if they profit by the lesson. Let us not forget that an intelligent, thinking, reading people will look to the party which they put in power to supply all their various needs and wants. The party which keeps pace with the development and progress of the times—which keeps in sight its landmarks, and yet observes those things which are in advance, and which will continue true to the people as well as its traditions—will be the dominant party of the future."

Ex-Secretary Gordon of Georgia made the only other speech of the evening.

Milwaukee, Dec. 5.—Large deposits of iron and lead have been discovered in Jackson county, Wis., at the place John C. Humbird, John C. Spooner and A. J. Goss of Hudson filed articles of association with the secretary of state of the Jackson County Iron company; capital, $600,000.

INDICTED. Taylorville, Ill., Dec. 7.—Miss Bond had another violent paroxysm yesterday. The grand jury returned indictments against J. O. Montgomery, W. J. Montgomery, Lee Pettis, Emanuel Clements and Dr. Vermillion.

Another Indian Massacre. Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 7.—A Journal's Albuquerque, New Mexico, special says: News was received of a terrible massacre of a party of Americans and Mexicans by Ju and his band of Apaches near the town of Casagrande in Chihuahua. The Indians have been very active of late in predatory excursions, stealing and raiding, and the settlers formed a party of about fifteen men and started in pursuit. They were surprised near Casagrande by Ju and his band numbering two hundred, and completely surrounded. One of the party escaped through the lines and went to the settlement for aid, soon returning with a band of thirty men. The Indians, however, held the succeeding party at bay, and in the meanwhile massacred the entire party which had been surprised and then retreated toward the mountains.

Denver, Dec. 7.—The man who led the small band that was massacred by Ju and his Indians was Jeff Politics, a Mexican. He led thirty men from a rancho adjoining his. They reached the Indians unexpectedly and were at once surrounded by 200 savages. One escaped to Galtiano, gathered seventy men and started for the scene. Ju held them off with a part of his force and deliberately slaughtered the thirty. They then retreated to the Sierra Madre. Friends of the victims buried the dead and found besides the Mexicans, four Americans from Grant county, New Mexico. The Americans were cattle merchants who had been in Chihuahua.

Cold Weather. Chicago, Dec. 7.—It was extremely cold last night and to-day, the wave extending over the whole of the northwest and the thermometer ranging last night from zero to 15 below.

The Weather. Washington, Dec. 7.—Upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys, cold and fair weather will continue, variable winds, high but falling barometer.

The Internal Revenue Bill. Washington, Dec. 3.—It is understood that an attempt will be made to have the internal revenue bill now pending in the senate recommitted, in order to clear the field for the preparation and presentation of another bill more comprehensive, increasing the amount of reduction to $75,000,000 or $80,000,000. It is apparent from the statements of Judge Wm. D. Kelley, chairman of the ways and means committee, that he prefers the passage of the pending bill and for the reduction by means of another bill. Mr. Kelley is still anxious to secure the abolition of the whole system, but he says that he will not oppose any measure that by its radical character might prevent any reduction of taxes whatever the coming session. He has not had an opportunity to confer with senators and representatives upon the subject, and cannot tell what action he may favor until he has talked with them and especially with the members of his committee. He is in a practical way ready and desires to co-operate with others in the support of those measures which may seem most practicable. In his opinion to press a bill for the abolition of the entire system at the coming session would endanger all. He would like to see the internal taxation entirely discontinued, but if he cannot get all he wants now he will take a part. He desires the passage of the house bill now pending in the senate, and would then favor a separate bill relating to the tax on tobacco, or the tax on tobacco and spirits.

It is announced that the tariff commission will present its report to the president Monday in manuscript, and send manuscript copies to the two houses of congress.

record of burials at the cemetery showed that in two months fifty-five bodies had been buried in one grave. The state-ment created a sensation among the audience. The defendants were committed in default of $5,000 for a further hearing.
