Many Cases On Short Calendar

Another continuance of a week was granted during the short calendar session of Superior court yesterday morning in the alimony pendente lite matter in the divorce action of Earle Brooks Hoskins against Fanno Ross Momand Hoskins. Judge Frank D. Haines was on the bench.

Another divorce action for some weeks on the short calendar list was stricken from the trial list by the judge upon motion of Attorney John Keogh. The plaintiff, represented by Edward O. Jansen is already behind $120 in payments of alimony pendente lite, and a settlement for $75 agreed upon by counsel had not been eliminated.

In the foreclosure action of George W. Campbell against Earl W. Jones, counsel interested are to stipulate the amount and report ready for completion of the matter on the third Monday of January.

Joseph H. Slomansky, upon an application to change his name to Sloman, appeared before Judge Haines during the session.

In the divorce action of William B. Marden against Cora Ethel Marden an alimony pendente lite motion was marked off and permission granted the plaintiff to amend the complaint.

Stipulation by agreement of counsel will be made in the case of Roy L. Brower corporation against Raoy A. Young, being the Bridgeport Salvage company, there having been a motion for default and a motion for judgment.

"The Grace Dodge Hotel offers committee rooms, lounges, rest rooms, an information booth on activities before Congress and the House of Representatives, waiting rooms, with electric irons, supplied by the hotel. SHE TOOK HER FRIEND'S ADVICE
Now is in the Best of Health Because she took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Mich.—"I was not feeling well for several years and never was able to eat any breakfast and always coming. When backaches and headaches or tired feeling which at times required me to stop my work and rest, I have never had a physician and never took any medicine for it until yours was recommended to me by a neighbor whom I used to visit frequently. I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I am in the best of health and enjoying doing my work every moment of the day. It surely put life and 'pep' into my system."—Mrs. L. M. DARRAS, 46 Howard St., Detroit, Michigan.

It is not always in business that a woman is forced to give up her work on account of ill health. It is quite as often the woman who does her own work at home. When backaches and headaches drive out all ambition, when that bearing-down sensation attacks you, when you are nervous and blue, the one great help for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

MINING INDUSTRY HAS CONVENTION
Chicago, Oct. 22.—Three thousand representatives of the mining industries and of the manufacturers of mine machinery and mine equipment are meeting in Chicago, October 17-22, to plan for prosperity and to develop, if it is possible, a constructive industrial platform for the mining industry, according to its officers. The Twenty-fourth Annual Convention of the American Mining Congress held in conjunction with the National Exposition of Mining Equipment, has been arranged to bring out the problems which are of special significance to American industry.

There are three general divisions to the work of the convention. The general sessions of which representative industrial leaders will present latest forms of machine equipment and to prepare their plans for purchase of the equipment necessary in the development of renewed mine production.

In the general session of the convention, it is announced that special attention will be given to the relationship between the railroad and the mining industry, the relationship between the mine operators and the labor union, the standardization of mine equipment as relating to greater efficiency in mine production, the effect of our foreign policy upon domestic industry, the possibility of a greater co-operative combination in the production of metal products in the domestic market, and the importance or benefit to be derived by permitting the use of metal products in the production and distribution of mine products.

Each of these questions will be discussed from different angles. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central railroad, will present the point of view of the railroad company in considering the question of the relationship between railroads and present transportation rates and industry generally. Governor Mabey of Utah, and John J. Cornwell, former governor of West Virginia, will discuss the problem from the standpoint of the general public and the principles involved in this labor struggle.

Two final days of the convention will be devoted to discussion of the standardization of mine equipment and mining method. A. A. Stevenson, president of the American Engineering Standard Committee, J. M. Wainwright, Assistant Secretary of War, Dr. S. W. Stratton, Director of the Bureau of Standards and others will analyze and discuss the whole question of the practical application of standardized methods in the production of mine equipment and mine machinery and in the carrying on of mine operation, and it is expected that Herbert C. Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, will talk to the general convention on "Standardization as a Means for Efficiency."

TEACHING FASHIONABLE FLAPPERS HOW TO SHOOT IS TAME COMPARED TO SHIPING GOPHERS, SHE AVERS
Many Former Teachers and Office Women Are Living on Homesteads, and Many of Them Will Remain, Says One Who Is Trying It Out.

St. Louis Mo., Oct. 22.—Teaching the young idea how to shoot in a fashionable girls' boarding school in St. Louis is not half so exciting as learning how to "shoot up" gophers, snakes, and other rodents and reptiles that infest the average homestead. So says one who has tried both.

—Mrs. Elma H. Benton, for nine months each year principal of fashionable Hosmer Hall at St. Louis, the other three months being spent in proving her homesteaded land in Montana.

Left a widow several years ago with two sons to support, Mrs. Benton began to look around for some place where she could make an investment that should benefit her boys during Summer months, and provide a living for her when she quit the teaching profession. At that time she was county superintendent of schools in one of Wisconsin's leading counties. She had heard of various business and professional women who had "gone West" to try homesteading, but given up later on account of not being able to carry it through.

With her two boys and some cash she went West one Summer and "staked" off some land and began at once to have a "shack" erected to comply with her contract. The improvements have gone steadily on and at present she has a fine house, outbuildings and 320 acres of land in her name. Part of the land is sown to alfalfa and some to trees. There she journeys every summer with a party of friends and her faithful dog "Bob."

During the last Summer she procured her final deed and no prouder homesteader exists. She has been head of Hosmer Hall several years, and much as she loves her work is not averse to alfalfa and some to trees. There she journeys every summer with a party of friends and her faithful dog "Bob."

EARTH IS FLAT IN ZION CITY
Zion, Ill., Oct. 22.—Zion schools of which Wilbur Glenn Voliva, the overseer of the colony, is president, have adopted his new theories of a flat world and the absence of gravitation, and the 700 grade and high school pupils believe them implicitly, according to their teachers.

The public school maintained by the State Board of Education and attended by the children of non-members of Voliva's Christian-Catholic Apostolic church still teaches, however, but its really is a globe moving through limitless space and that it was the attraction of gravity which caused the apple to fall on Isaac Newton's head.

That the earth has no motion, but remains stationary in space.

That the sun is not millions of miles in diameter and 91,000,000 miles away, but is really a little orb 32 miles across and only 3,000 miles from the earth.

That the law of gravitation is a fallacy and when objects are thrown into the air they continue to rise until the force which propelled them is expended, and then fall back to earth because they are heavier than air.

A standard map of the world, on Christopher's projection, is used in the schools to demonstrate the flat earth theory. This map, which is used by navigators and scientists in making time and longitude calculations, differs from the usual globe in that it shows the earth as it would look to an observer directly above the north pole, with the continents and seas projected on a flat plane. As a result the north pole is in the center, and instead of a circle, the Antarctic regions are indicated by a white ring about the outer circumference of the circle. This ring, according to Voliva, is the ice barrier which keeps mariners from falling off the edge of this flat world.

The Christopher projection was made 30 years ago, prior to the discovery of the south pole and before much was known about the Antarctic regions, so only a bare outline of portions of the southern ice land is shown.

Miss Mary Thompson, principal of the Zion school system, and an ardent believer in the Voliva theories, has propounded a question which she believes will trip scientists and navigators. Showing on her flat map that the tropic of Cancer, 43 degrees from the north pole, was a much smaller circle than the tropic of Capricorn, 47 degrees farther away, Miss Thompson says:

"Navigators on a globular earth would find if they were to sail completely around either of these tropics that they would be identical the same length. On a flat earth, however, the tropic of Capricorn would be much larger than the tropic of Cancer and would take much longer to sail around, because on a flat earth Cancer would be nearer the center, or north pole. Why don't some of the globular earth believers try sailing around the two tropics and find out whether they or we are correct? The globular people certainly can't prove curvature of the earth."

Miss Eva Baker, teacher of geography, demonstrates to her classes that the sun is only a tiny orb a few thousand miles away instead of an "orb" millions of miles in diameter and 91,000,000 miles from the earth. If the sun was so large, she says, it would light up all the world, instead of confining its hottest rays to a 3,000 mile wide belt between the two tropics.

Voliva himself, in a recent sermon at Shiloh Tabernacle, said God certainly would not have made a sun to light the world and then placed it so far away.

"A man would be a fool," the over-

HUNGARIAN GENERALS BECOME CLERKS AND TAILORS
London, Oct. 22.—Hungarian generals and statesmen, and a majority of the nobility who played brilliant roles during the war and at the court of the ex-emperor, are following the example of Field Marshal von Kowess, the conqueror of Lvograd, who recently opened a cigar shop in Budapest, by setting up in business as clerks, tailors, carpenters and clerks.

The Baroness Dora Banffy, daughter of the former Hungarian Premier, has opened a hat shop with Count Eugene Kielesberg has become a mounted policeman on probation.

Count Albert Apponyi, the veteran Hungarian statesman, writes two articles monthly for a New York newspaper, and Herr von Szepessy, member of an old family of aristocrats, is about to marry a dressmaker and plans to become a women's tailor.

Famous dancers and singers unable to live on their salaries have opened manicure saloons, and the greatest tragedienne of the National Theatre, Emilia Markus, is employed in a soap works.

PHILADELPHIA IS BIG "NATIONAL RESERVOIR"
Philadelphia, Oct. 22.—This city is known in "boot" circles as one of the "national reservoirs" of the bootlegging industry. Price lists of booze are freely circulated, and delivery can be obtained within three or four days for case goods, and even less for small quantities. Drinks can be purchased in almost any saloon, and the resisters put to a fair business. Motor truck fleets of the liquor syndicates arrive and depart with great regularity. The seizures made by the enforcement officials are regarded as trivial by those acquainted with the situation. A shake-up of the local prohibition bureau has been ordered from Washington.

MOVE TO SET VERDICT ASIDE
Middletown, Conn., Oct. 21.—Motion to set aside the verdict of guilty of first degree murder was filed today by Judge Gustaf B. Carlson as counsel for Emil Schutte, Haddam storekeeper and former constable, convicted yesterday of the triple murder of Joseph, Mary and Jacob Ball in the Superior court here. The motion filed with the clerk of the court sets forth five grounds on which the defense will ask that the verdict be set aside.

LIMITED ACQUAINTANCE IS ONLY PROHIBITION

It has resulted in fewer arrests for intoxication to an appreciable degree, police records show. "Booze" is not being sold openly. Bootleggers and proprietors of "speak easy" places are thriving.

Miss Thompson, principal of the schools, says the children prefer their new flat world to the old-fashioned round one in which Columbus believed.

"The students in Zion schools," she says, "grasp the theory of the flat earth readily because their minds are not full of globular earth teaching such as older folks have drilled into them. Therefore, they accept the flat earth teaching without questioning, not because they have to, but because it appeals to them as rational. I don't believe there is one child in the grade who has questioned the flat earth theory."

The flat earth seems more reasonable to them. The globular, unreal."
