

DRESS WARM AND KEEP FEET DRY

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts and Get Rid of Uric Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grape and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.—Adv.

FAIRFIELD FIREMEN ELECT.

The annual election of officers of Fairfield Fire company No. 2 was held in the Tunxis F. I. house Tuesday evening. The following were elected for the year: president, William Bauer; vice president, Joseph Yonhouse; financial secretary, Fred Erickson; recording secretary, Martin Nelson; treasurer, Louis Jones; chief, Sigfrid Anderson; assistant chief, Leander Hedberg; and superintendent of the building, M. P. Norell. The men of the house voted to hold a whist and pinocle on Tuesday evening, February 21. A committee to arrange for the social was appointed.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.—Adv.

800 AT ENTERTAINMENT.

A very successful entertainment and dance was held Wednesday night in Madison school auditorium by the people of St. Patrick's church for the benefit of the school building fund. Much credit is due to the committee, chairman, William J. Carroll, who was in charge of the general committee, and the members of all committees, for their earnest work in the affair. Between the dances, local talent was presented in songs and dances. About 800 guests were present.

JUNIOR CHAMBER DANCE

A dance will be given by the members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Friday, Feb. 24 at the Farm. An entertainment will precede the dance and many surprises have been arranged for by the committee in charge. The committee on arrangements consists of D. C. Root, chairman; Earl Naramore, Gerald W. Linebarger, C. F. Stubbs, Paul Green and F. J. Miller.

INVENTOR TALKS TO PRINTERS.

Stephen H. Horgan, editor of the Inland Printer, inventor of half tone engraving and one of the leading authorities on process engraving in this country, was the speaker at a recent meeting of the local Typographers on Cannon street. Mr. Horgan reviewed the history of photo engraving, which began about 100 years ago and illustrated his address, showing various stages of photo engraving. About 25 local printers and engravers were present in addition to which were Schuyler Gillespie and Alfred Pawlette of the Gillespie Bros. company and Harry Fox of the Fox Press of Stamford.

STOP RHEUMATISM WITH RED PEPPER

When you are suffering with rheumatism so you can hardly get around try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quickest relief known.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Instant relief, just as you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Frees the blood circulation, breaks up the congestion—and the old rheumatism torture is gone.

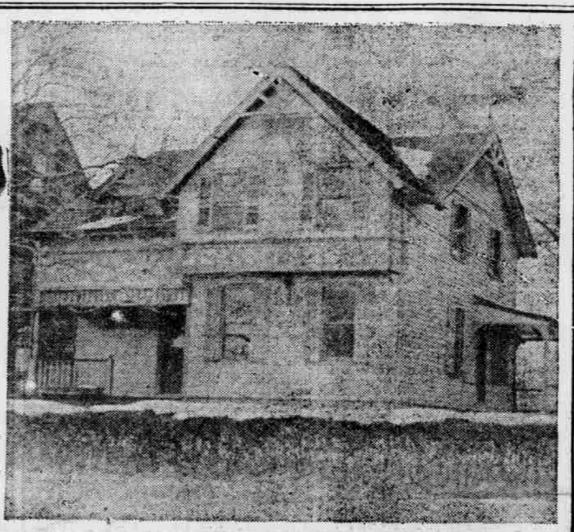

Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, costs little at any drug store. Get a jar at once. Use it for lumbago, neuritis, backache, stiff neck, sore muscles, colds in chest. Almost instant relief awaits you. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package.—Adv.

WEDDING ON BEACH IS PERFORMED IN WEST

Here is something new in nuptials. A California miss and her lover, wishing to be different, arranged to have the knot tied on the beach near Los Angeles which they both frequented during the days of their courtship. The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Del Carmen, were married by the Reverend Dr. C. D. Cole.

LOVE IN A COTTAGE ENTERS LIFE OF WEALTHY AMERICAN DIVORCEE, WHO WEDS YOUNG RUSSIAN

Mrs. Anastase Vonsiatky. The cottage in which they are living.

Chester, Pa., Feb. 10—"I shall stay and work at Baldwin's—how long I do not know," replied Anastase Andrevitch Vonsiatky-Vonsiatky, 23, when questioned as to his intentions following his marriage to Mrs. Marian Stephens, 45, heiress to $40,000,000, in New York.

"The house at No. 505 Swarthmore avenue, where we will live, it is to be mine. I may take out citizenship papers for America, but that is not certain. I would return to my own country if they would restore the Czar, for I am a monarch. Affairs in Russia now are chaos—I do not even know if my brothers and sisters live. I have seen horrors. I have lived horrors. My wife is younger than her years; but I—I am older than my years, for I have seen men dying, suffering wounds, death!"

He shuddered and seemed to visualize the last stand of the shattered remnants of Admiral Kolchak's army against the encircling hordes of the Bolsheviks. Anastase was aide to General Denikin and Admiral Kolchak before they were overwhelmed in the rising Red tide.

Before his marriage Vonsiatky lived like an average American here. He roomed at the Y. M. C. A., where each morning an alarm clock roused him from bed in time to punch the time-clock at Baldwin's before 7:30. In the big Eddystone shops he may be seen, in acid-spattered overalls, at work in Shop No. 1, Contract No. 16, in his capacity as chemical tester. He is well liked by his fellow workmen, to whom he is known as "V. V."

Ever since he came to Baldwin's he has been working to establish the home at Ridley Park, on which he has paid a month's rent in advance. The love-nest for the $40,000,000 bride is of the familiar Pennsylvania Railroad school of Swiss architecture so frequently found in this section, but its lack of artistic merit does not bother Anastase.

He is proud of it and delighted to be ordering furniture for it from Camden. Also, he prides himself on the acquisition of a second-hand automobile. He paid $100 down on the car and displayed a telegram signed "Marian" to the salesman in which the balance of the sum of $1,600 was guaranteed.

Dislikes the Publicity. After several encounters with groups of newspapermen he has assumed a bored expression, which plainly says that he would rather face the hordes of Lenin and Trotsky ten times over than run the gauntlet of questions and telephone calls he has had to submit to since he sprang into the limelight.

Anastase prides himself on having been aide to both the famous leaders of the "White" Russian forces.

His romance with Mrs. Marian Stephens, wealthy divorcee, was the result of a chance meeting in Paris, in which the air of romance surrounding the twenty-three-year-old soldier made a deep impression on the heart of the one-time leader of Chicago north-side society.

Anastase's career as locomotive builder commenced some time ago, when a highly-polished limousine drove up to the offices of the Eddystone works and deposited him armed with a letter of introduction to Samuel M. Vauclair, president of Baldwin's. A conference with William Thomas, labor superintendent, followed, and the next day "V. V.", as his fellows know him, started work on a testing gang in Shop No. 1, Contract 16.

Hopes for New Czar. Since that time he has worked daily from 7:30 to 5.

"I do not want my wife to live in any house but mine," he said, "paid for with my own money. The car she is to pay for—it will cost $1,600—the furniture also."

Smiling, young Vonsiatky referred to his own fortune of 1,200,000 rubles, which he modestly values at five dollars. The aristocratic Russian family from which he descended formerly ruled over vast estates in Southern Russia. These were all seized by the Bolsheviks during the revolution, for the family were pronounced monarchists. Anastase himself, while resident in Paris, following the collapse of Admiral Kolchak, wrote "The Diary of a Monarchist," which he says, would not prove popular if published in this country, let alone in Soviet Russia.

He plans work to establish himself in a position where some day he may be able to be one of the leaders in the restoration of a new Czar.

WOMAN'S ILLS MAKE UNHAPPY HOME

There is no question but what the ills of women conspire against domestic harmony. The husband cannot understand the troubles and the physician finds it hard to cure them; therefore the overworked wife and mother often find themselves around day in day out with headaches and backache, fretful and nervous.

Such women should be guided by the experience of women who have written for us and are continually publishing in this paper. Many of them declare that they have been restored to health, strength and consequent happiness by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after doctors and all other medicines had failed to help them. They will surely pay women who suffer from such ailments to try it.—Adv.

SMALL INCOME TAX.

Forms 1120 for reporting corporation returns and forms 1065 for reporting partnerships under the income tax law have not arrived at the Internal Revenue office according to information received there today. Many have applied at the office for these forms and Division Chief William J. O'Connell said that the forms are not expected to arrive before February 1 and if they do arrive ahead of time notice will be given through the newspapers.

Many returns are being received at the office but a great many people do not understand that the local office is also a receiving office for income tax returns. Returns may be received at the Bridgeport office as well as the Hartford office.

Lake Co. Expect S-48 To Return Here Shortly

General Manager Brill of the Lake Torpedo company denied a report that the B-48 would not return to Bridgeport until late in the spring due to the great deal of repairing needed on the submarine after making a fatal plunge off Penfield Reef last December while undergoing tests. It was said that the mechanism of the undersea boat was so badly damaged that it would require the rest of the winter and a greater part of the spring to complete the repairs which is now being done in New London. Mr. Brill said that the sub would return to Bridgeport shortly.

RECEPTION TO FOLLOW.

The reception to follow the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Bassick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Webb Bassick of 1001 Fairfield avenue, and Tracy Campbell Dickson, Jr., son of General Tracy Campbell Dickson, commanding officer at the Watertown Arsenal, at St. John's church, Saturday evening, February 18th, at six o'clock, will be held in the old Bassick home, 1171 Fairfield avenue. Rev. Stephen Fish Sherman, Jr., rector of St. John's church, will perform the wedding ceremony.

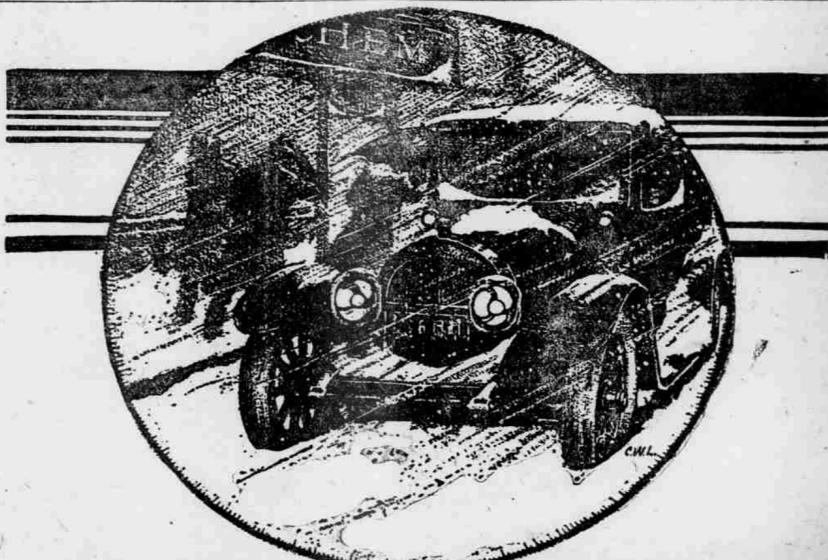

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Frederick Bassick of 255 Park avenue entertained the members of the Little Sisters and a few friends at a bridge party in honor of Miss Bassick. The guests were Miss Caroline Chapman, Miss Lois Cole, Miss Alice Curtis, Miss Elizabeth Seelye, Miss Phyllis Tomlinson, Miss Bassick, Mrs. Gerald Bryant, Mrs. Donald Choate, Mrs. Andrew Smith, Mrs. Wilmet P. Wheeler, Mrs. Dudley Morris, Mrs. Webster Walker, Mrs. Frank Butler, Mrs. William Webb, Mrs. Ralph Sperry and Mrs. Carl Simon, Jr.
