

INJUNCTION IS ISSUED AGAINST CHIROPRACTORS

State Claims Association Is Operating Contrary to Laws of State of Illinois.

Writ of temporary injunction against the Universal Chiropractors' association to prevent that organization from acting under the constitution and by-laws under which it is reputed to exist, was issued yesterday afternoon by Joseph L. Haas, master-in-chancery, acting in the absence of a judge of the circuit court. The writ was obtained upon plea of the people of Illinois through Francis W. Sheperdson, director of the department of registration and education; Edward J. Brundage, attorney general of Illinois; and Benjamin S. Bell, state's attorney of Rock Island county. A bill for permanent injunction was filed with Circuit Clerk G. W. Gamble at the same time.

The bill for injunction asks that the Universal Chiropractors' association be restrained from carrying out the terms of what is alleged as an unlawful agreement with each other, from contributing or paying any part of fines and costs and also expenses and attorney fees that are assessed, or the expenses incurred by any person prosecuted in an individual case. The list of defendants named include H. N. Mettler, Charles J. Brutus, Philip H. Griggs, Jessie G. Newman, Dora K. Yunker, F. W. Linsemeyer, Emma Calvin, R. E. Davenport, B. A. Clayton, Mrs. E. E. Clayton, A. H. Morrow, Lena M. Warrick, Pheron L. Warrick, Mary E. S. Fullerton Tiska, A. W. Tiska, J. O. Underwood, W. J. Buchanan, Riley E. Bowman, E. T. Henry, S. F. Stewart, L. H. Beckholt, Emma S. Rooks, R. W. Peerman, Elizabeth Goss, J. L. Hubbard, B. J. Palmer, Thomas N. Norris and Fred Hartwell.

Association of 1909. The bill alleges that the association is composed of more than 100 persons, graduates of chiropractic schools, and that there is no information to show that it is incorporated under the laws of any state. It charges that more than 5,000 patients have been treated in Illinois alone within the past two years by members of the association, who are without education or training necessary for treatment of human ailments. It is charged that as the organization of the Chiropractors exists, it is aiding and abetting in the violation of the Illinois state law, which does not provide for the licensing of chiropractors under the terms of the medical and surgical license act.

The defendants named are located in various parts of the state of Illinois, excepting B. J. Palmer, Thomas N. Morris and Fred Hartwell, and they are charged with having practiced the theory of chiropractic upon persons afflicted with human ailments without the proper license of the law. It is set forth that the association is organized for the purpose of furnishing the members with every assistance possible in order to evade the law when brought to trial, and to lighten the burden upon individuals found guilty. This is held unlawful on the grounds that the law of license is being flagrantly violated and laughed at.

B. J. Palmer Listed.
B. J. Palmer, head of the Palmer School of Chiropractic, in Davenport, is listed as a defendant on the grounds that he is secretary of the association. Norris and Hartwell are attorneys of La Crosse, Wis. They are named as national attorneys for the Universal Chiropractic association, and as such are giving advice and aiding the members in violating the medical laws of the state of Illinois.

Attached to the bill of complaint is an alleged copy of the constitution and by-laws of the association. In section two of article one, the object is set forth as follows: To advance the philosophy, science
