CANT SPLIT
COURT PLAN
AND LEAGUE

unsolvable. Upon this many difficulties the second Hague conference in 1907 went to disaster. No way has, up till now been found of solving the conflict of interest between the big powers who claimed the right always to have a representative on court and the little powers who refused to recognize any system of selection destroying the theory of the equality of sovereign states... The existence of the league solved this problem immediately. Already in the organization of the league had been made the distinction had been made between the big powers who are always represented on the council and the little powers who sit on the council by rotation and who form the assembly of the league... Around this scheme it was possible to weave a system of joint selection of judges by the council which gave the big powers reasonable assurance of constant representation on the court without, at the same time, forcing the little powers to recognize the representation as a matter of right... This solution, it should be noted, was proposed and put through by Elihu Root.

Court Depends on League. "The constitution of the court, therefore, will depend entirely upon the existence of the rest of the league. If there were no league, there would be no method of selection of judges and consequently the world would be in exactly the same state as in 1907 when the Hague conference created a full court project without being able to agree on the method of securing its personnel. From this viewpoint it follows that a nation not a member of the League of Nations could not take part in the selection of the judges of this court for it would be represented on neither the assembly nor the council of the league."

"But if the court is essential to the league, the league is a thousand times more essential to the court. It is through the league that the field of international agreements is going to be enlarged. The league already has functioning bodies for the creation of international understandings international labor, health, transportation, disarmament, financial, etc. While every one of the agreements arrived at in international conference under the auspices of the league must be approved by the individual governments before becoming effective for those governments, nevertheless the existence of a constant machinery of conference assures the developing of a whole vast series of new agreements between nations."

All Parts Essential. "Indeed, the assembly, the council and the various permanent commissions of the league are as essential to the laying down of understandings for the court to interpret and administer as the senate and the house in the United States are essential for the laying down of agreements of the supreme court to interpret. The league may never attempt to enforce any of the decisions of the court any more than the government of the United States has attempted to enforce any of the decisions of the court as between the states of the union. But the league will always be a very powerful force behind the court of international justice supporting it by the mere prestige of its presence and in the final analysis by the knowledge of every state within the league that the league may at any time attempt to enforce any of the decisions against a nation violating the covenant. The court is able to handle only questions of pure law. It is not empowered to handle mediation, arbitration or good offices which functions are entrusted to the council of the league."

Will Need Council. "In other words, the settlement of a mere question of law might still leave untouched the more basic political questions involved and such questions are wholly beyond the competence of the court. The court, therefore will need the council as an essential corollary in those cases which it may itself be unable to handle."

Root Impressed. "This argument, it may perhaps be stated, has made a deep impression upon Mr. Root. He was much pleased that the council did not itself endeavor to settle the legal points in the dispute about the Aland islands between Sweden and Finland, but instead referred it to a committee of jurists. He also admitted that the decision of that committee of jurists on legal points involved may still leave some action necessary and recognizable a wholly legitimate field of activity for the political branch of the league."

The foregoing analysis, made upon the spot, by persons not a part of America's political controversy, gives some inkling, however, of what Elihu Root's difficulties will be in reconciling some recent Republican utterances with his own experience abroad.

GO SOUTH WILL BE NEW SLOGAN,
STEVENSON SAYS

"Go south, young man, go south," will be the latest slogan, Dr. and Mrs. John McGown Stevenson, who returned last night from an extended automobile trip in the south, believe. When asked about the south, Dr. Stevenson said:

"It was a new land to me and all the time I was being startled by some new discovery. It carries the finest possible opportunity for the energy of the north. We used to say 'Go west, young man, go west,' but we will soon be saying 'Go south, young man, go south.' We did not find it very warm. In New Orleans they have had rain every day since the beginning of June. Even the rice fields were too wet this year and much of the crop spoiled. The boll weevil has destroyed large sections of the cotton, but there is going to be a fine crop this year."

The planter is worried just now, mainly about the price. Thousands of bales of black cotton have not yet been sold from last year's crop, not that they have been holding it for higher prices but the rains came so early last year that they could not get it in. Last year in western Kentucky the farmers were offered 25 cents a pound for their tobacco and would not take it, they wanted 30 cents. Eventually some of them were glad to take 12 cents and those who could hold out have in some cases lost their crop on their hands and a big crop this year. It was pathetic to see the number of abandoned farms between Springfield, Ill., and Memphis, Tenn. Let me say that they did not seem to be the best of the farms."

"The colored folk of the south, well that is a long story, but to be brief, they are not held down as most northern people think. I honestly believe that they are happier in the south. Imagine my surprise when I was in the north and saw that house - it was quite a nice one, and all this plantation, some hundreds of acres, it belongs to a colored man. He has a Packard car and is one among several around here. They are very happy and full of leisure and the contagion is quite catching. Fancy finding in the middle of the afternoon - this is not exaggerating - from twenty to thirty men of all ages gathered around a game of checkers in front of the grocery store. One fellow said 'We all come to town in the afternoon, that's the trouble with us down here, we don't like to work well enough.'"

THOMPSON DEPIES LOWDEN. Chicago, Sept. 6. - Mayor Thompson challenged Governor Lowden to sue him for charges he had made that the governor was a "liar."

A unique and picturesque custom in Korea is the handing down of a family hat from father to eldest son. This hat, made from the hair of family ancestors, is a priceless possession, and is so carefully handled that it never wears out.

According to careful estimates, three hours of close study wear out the body more than ten hours of hard physical exertion.

COX UPHOLDS
LABOR'S RIGHT TO ORGANIZE

tion aid, agricultural extension and road building. Problems of Agriculture. In working out the problems of American farm life, he said, "the extension of transportation systems, the building of good roads and the creation of modern school facilities in the country, go hand in hand. It is now possible also to bring even the most remote rural district the entertainment facilities to be found in the more populated centers. Farm work should no longer be drudgery. Labor saving machinery, long since reduced the period of toil in the fields. It is now possible to apply the same method to making more enjoyable the existence of the farmers' wives."

The governor also reiterated his advocacy of federal regulation of cold storage, declaring that it would "break the circle of profiteering."

Unites Labor Program. Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 6. - (By United Press.) - Governor Cox today outlined in detail the labor program which he will follow if elected to the presidency. He made a series of pledges which, summarized, are:

1. Checking of profiteering by forcing the operation again of the law of supply and demand and eliminating "artificial control."

2. Improved transportation and marketing facilities.

3. Federal laws limiting the time of food products in cold storage.

4. Labor should have the right to organize and through representatives of their own choosing negotiate collective bargaining.

5. Public opinion must settle industrial disputes, and the force of government must not be used to give an advantage to either capital or labor, but only to protect life and property and to maintain law.

6. The government should not be made oppressive in maintaining the laws of the land.

7. The right of free speech, free press, orderly assembly guaranteed by the constitution, must not be infringed.

8. The federal government should investigate nation-wide strikes and make a public unprejudiced finding of the facts in dispute.

9. Enactment of progressive federal labor laws, including legislation to conserve child life and welfare.

10. More extensive Americanization work with insistence upon full cooperation of employers.

11. Increased pay for postal employees.

Cox devoted his address to agriculture, the League of Nations and labor. Battleships and Roads. Ten paved highways can be built entirely across the United States for the same expenditure necessary to build 48 battleships, he said. This number will be necessary within the next generation if the league is not operative, the governor asserted.

A practical farm statistician has figured out that the cost of one battleship would reclaim two million acres of good land, an area greater than many of the prosperous states.

BIG TRUCKS IN SMASH AT FIRE
THIS MORNING

Aerial Ladder and Pump Trucks Temporarily Out of Commission - Called to Basement Fire.

The big aerial ladder fire truck and the big pump truck at the central fire station were badly damaged in a collision early this morning close to 2518 Fifth avenue, where the trucks had been run in response to a fire alarm. The radiator on the aerial truck was smashed and the body on the pump truck was jammed loose from the frame.

Just how the accident occurred has not been clearly drawn. Commissioner William H. Fitzsimmons, in charge of the department of public health and safety, said Chief Schmidt were not prepared to say this morning which one of the trucks ran into the other.

At 8:30 o'clock this morning the alarm received a call to the house of M. Gendler, 2518 Fifth avenue. The aerial truck was the last to arrive. The pump truck was backing west to prepare for a hose connection with the hydrant. Whether the aerial truck rammed it from the rear or had been stopped and was backed into by the pump truck has not been clearly stated upon, it was said.

Fire Small One. The fire at the Gendler home was in the coal pile in the basement. There was a big smoke and a little fire. Water from a line of hose soon extinguished it.

PUBLIC NOTICE. After this date I will not be responsible for any debts unless contracted by myself.
