St. John's Methodist church, Davenport, was this morning the scene of a double wedding in which more tri-city young people will be interested than in any wedding for some time past. Before he modulated into the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," which announced the approach of the brides, Rev. Rollo R. Rilling of Davenport sang "Because." While the vows were being spoken the organist played "O Promise Me," "Love You Truly" and "At Dawning." Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was the recessional.

The altar was one mass of greenery, brightened here and there with chrysanthemums in the rainbow shades, yellow, pink and orchid. Two little nieces of Mr. Langwith and Miss Langwith, the Misses Olive and Jeanette Douglas of Muscatine, led the way down the aisle to the altar. They were dressed similarly in dainty frocks of imported French organdy with inserts of real lace, and hair bows and wide ribbon sashes in the rainbow colors. Each carried a charming French basket filled with mixed flowers. In each one was hidden a wedding ring.

The two brides walked together. They were both dressed in handsome white bridal costumes. Recipes For a Day.
Pork Chops with Scalloped Potatoes—Wash, pare and slice the potatoes, place in layers in a buttered baking dish, sprinkle salt, pepper and small pieces of butter onto each layer. Add milk until it can be seen all around the place on top of the pork chops previously seared in a hot spider. Bake until potatoes are done. This is an easily prepared dish and one we like very much.
Tomato Salad—Peel tomatoes and place whole on fresh lettuce leaves. Cover with a boiled dressing made of three eggs well beaten, one tablespoon mustard, one tablespoon sugar, one teaspoon salt, two tablespoons melted butter, one cup cream of milk, one cup vinegar, and cook in a double boiler until it thickens like a custard.
Sour Milk Fudge Cake—One cup sugar, one egg, one-half cup grated chocolate dissolved in one-quarter cup boiling water, one-half cup of sour milk, pinch of salt, one-quarter cup butter (bezo), one teaspoon anilla. This has proved a very good way to use sour milk.
Veal and Ham in Cream Sauce—Boil together one and one-half pounds veal steak and one-half pound ham until tender. Season with nutmeg and bay leaf. When done cut in small pieces and pour over all this cream sauce. This sauce is made by melting one tablespoon butter, then adding one tablespoon flour, three-quarters cup meat stock, salt and pepper. Meat cooked this way is delicious. Any left over meat stock may be kept for soup.

Good Cake Recipes.
Black Spice Cake—Place in mixing bowl one cup of sugar, one-half cup of shortening, one-half teaspoon of salt, use brown sugar if possible. Cream and then add two eggs, one-half cup of black coffee, three cups of flour, one-half cup of cocoa, two level tablespoons of baking powder, two level teaspoons of cinnamon, one level teaspoon of nutmeg, one-half teaspoon of allspice, one-half teaspoon of cloves, two cups of finely chopped peanuts. Beat to mix and then turn in loaf-shaped pan and bake in slow oven for 50 minutes.

Butter Sponge Cake—One cup of sugar, yolks of three eggs, cream until light, lemon color and then add four tablespoons of melted butter, cream again and add one and one-half cups of flour, three level tablespoons of baking powder, six tablespoons of cold water. Beat again and then cut and fold in stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Turn in the greased and floured angel cake pan and bake in slow oven for 40 minutes. This cake weighs about one and one-half pounds when baked.

DISCOVERIES.
Sprinkle a little lemon juice over bananas or apples for fruit salad: it will keep them from turning dark before they are served.
Put cranberries through the fine part of the meat grinder for an easy way to prepare sauce.
Wrap cheese in a cloth wrung out of vinegar, put in a paper bag and hang in a cool place and it will keep moist and fresh a long time.

IF YOU DON'T LIKE COFFEE.
Cocoa Coffee—Two cups milk, one cup cocoa, two cups black coffee, two cups boiling water, four tablespoons sugar, one tablespoon vanilla.
Scald the milk and add the boiling water. With a little of the mixture rub the sugar and cocoa to a smooth paste, then dilute and add to the milk and water. Simmer for five minutes, then add the cocoa, a pinch of salt and vanilla. Heat throughout and serve at once. If a rich beverage is desired, serve with whipped cream.

Here is another way of taking coffee in mild form:
One-half cup of ground coffee, two cups boiling water, two cups milk.
Prepare the coffee, then strain into the serving pitcher, add the scalded milk and place in boiling water for five minutes. Serve at once.

Plain Cocoa—Two cups water, two cups milk, three tablespoons cocoa, three tablespoons sugar, pinch of salt, one tablespoon vanilla.
Boil the water. Add cold water to the cocoa and sugar and rub to a smooth paste; then stir into the hot water. Cook for 10 minutes, then add the hot milk, salt and vanilla. Whisk with an egg-beater and serve at once.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

A little school girl was heard to complain the other day because there was nothing left to do but "ordinary things." She said that by the time she grew up everything would be as prosaic as school teaching once was and she would have nothing "different" to do. It probably does not look that way to most girls, especially today, since so many girls are doing so many extraordinary things. Every day brings news of some woman who is trying out or succeeding in some new field, and there is really no cause for alarm, for this will continue as long as the world goes on. There will always be something different for the little girl to do who really wants to strike out into new fields—there is always a chance for the pioneer.

A Champion Shot.

In the National Rifle association shoot held recently at Camp Perry, Ohio, Mrs. Mary Crossman, wife of Captain L. C. Crossman of Washington, made a perfect score of 10 buyse in the 1,000-meter range in the adjutant general's cup match.

Poet Praises Women.

Maurice Maeterlinck has thrown a bomb into conservative French literary circles by declaring that women should be admitted into the French academy. He says that both Countess de Noailles and Mme. Collette, distinguished authors, ought long ago to have been academicians, and that several other women writers are as worthy of the honor of membership as many men now in the academy. He hopes the recently formed Belgian academy will decide to admit women.

At Present Maeterlinck is writing another book on a psychic subject.

New evidence of the spread of feminism in France was shown in the vote in the grand lodge of French Free Masons in favor of admitting women to membership.
