

MAN CAR DEFEATED IN DAVENPORT

Small Town Against Every Reason of the Tri-City Highway Company.

Every request of the street car company for concessions that would enable it to decrease operating expenses was denied by the city council of Davenport in session last night. The special committee which investigated the complaints of the company offered no approval of the move that would curtail service in Davenport on any line, and also voted against the request for a trial of the one-man car system.

The committee's report was adopted as read, the Socialist majority in the council voting solidly for it. Just what the street car company will do in the future would not be stated by President B. J. Donnan, although he admitted there were other moves to be made. Previously he has intimated that the court action would again be resorted to if the council failed to act for the company.

When the council denied an increase in fare the company went to court to secure an injunction preventing the street car from interfering with the collection of a higher fare.

Refuse Out in Service. In addition to its request for permission to install one-man cars on one of the Davenport lines for trial purposes, the company asked the right to discontinue the Fourth street car line, eliminate owl service and turn the bridge cars at Scott instead of Warren street.

City Attorney Greenwald gave his opinion that the granting of any of these requests would be in violation of the franchise as voted for by the people. Installation of one-man cars would be sufficient to cause a revocation of the franchise, he said, as would discontinuance of the owl service.

Abandonment of the Fourth street line was strongly opposed, especially by Alderman Fock, who declared the people of his ward could not do without the line.

"HOLD UPS" GET DIAMOND LOOT

New York, Nov. 27.—Two tin boxes containing diamonds worth $60,000 were the loot of four daylight holdup men who today attacked David Saylor, messenger for a jewelry house, as he was leaving the Pacific bank at Forty-ninth street and Seventh avenue, where he had removed the jewels from a safety deposit vault.

Saylor was set upon as he stepped from the bank door to the sidewalk, which at that time was bustling with activity. Crowds gaped in wonderment while the messenger struggled momentarily against the heavy odds. Then the four thugs broke away and escaped in an automobile which waited for them around the corner.

VETERANS GIVE TO ASSIST FUND FOR POOR KIDS

John Baird Post, Grand Army, Contributor to Argus Santa Claus Committee.

The old soldiers of Rock Island want the poor kiddies of Rock Island to have a happy Christmas. John Baird post, Grand Army of the Republic, today contributed $5 to the Argus Santa Claus fund.

The donation was left at The Argus by W. M. Mitchell, post quartermaster. "When the suggestion was made at the post meeting that we do something to swell the Santa Claus fund there was an immediate response," Mr. Mitchell said. "Our only regret is that we couldn't make our share much larger. Members of the post are familiar with the great good that is done each year by the Argus Santa Claus.

We know of many poor families where there are children who must be looked after by others if the little folks are to enjoy Christmas as youngsters ought to enjoy that day, and the Argus committee is performing a noble work in Rock Island each year, an enterprise that should be supported by the people generally of the city.

Christmas is crowding upon us. The Santa Claus fund committee is all ready to put through its program without a hitch and in full assurance that every poor child in Rock Island will have a visit from Santa Claus. The committee has begun checking over the hundreds of names that it has on its lists to make certain none will be missed. The committee exercises great care in handling the campaign. All letters addressed to the committee are verified before gifts are purchased for the writers. Homes are visited by members of the committee and interviewed. If it is found that the little folks have been writing Santa Claus and making appeals that are unwarranted by conditions in their homes, of course the committee does not presume to provide gifts for such children, merely turning the letters over to the parents.

The committee aims to direct its activities wholly in the interest of those children who, because of family circumstances, might be neglected at Christmas. Christmas is childhood's great day. Childhood has faith in Santa Claus and it would be a terrible blow to the heart of a youngster to have Christmas day pass without some little remembrance to keep alive his belief that there is a good old man who each year at that time brings gifts and goodies to the little folks. The Argus Santa Claus fund committee has only one purpose for existence and that is to prevent disappointment on Christmas day among the poor children of Rock Island. Your duty is to see that the committee has enough money to provide the gifts necessary to go around.

FIGHT IMPENDS FOR 2 CENT FARE

Brundage Will Carry Case Before U. S. Supreme Court if Necessary. Springfield, Ill., Nov. 27.—Attorney General Brundage announced this morning that the fight against the interstate commerce commission's order that interstate railroad rates be put into effect in Illinois, will be carried, if necessary to the supreme court of the United States.

The commission yesterday ordered that Illinois rates be made to conform to interstate rates. It will mean a raise from 3 to 3.6 cents a mile for passenger travel. This order is opposed by the attorney general on the ground that the Illinois law prescribes a 2-cent rate.

"Under the circumstances there is only one course that can be pursued by my office," Mr. Brundage said, "and that will be done promptly. We shall file a bill for injunction in the federal court to restrain their companies and the interstate commerce commission from putting into effect the fare of 3.6 cents on interstate travel. If the federal court should refuse to grant the injunction, the case will be promptly appealed to the supreme court of the United States."

HOLD HEARING TUESDAY. (Special to The Argus.) Springfield, Nov. 27.—The state public utilities commission today set for hearing in Chicago next Tuesday before Commissioner Shaw the petition of the Illinois Northern Utilities company of Dixon for authority to increase its rates for gas service in Geneseo. The city is objecting to the proposed increase.

OLD MINSTREL RECALLS EARLY SHOW DAY HERE

Frank McNish, Who Played in Rock Island First in 1879, Tells of His Experiences.

Two of the last survivors of the old American school of minstrelsy met in Rock Island today. They are George Wilson and Frank McNish. Wilson is being featured with the Gas Sun minstrels appearing tonight at the Illinois theatre. McNish is playing in the sketch, "Ella Comes to Town," at the Palace in Moline. McNish and his sketch open at the Columbia, Davenport, tomorrow.

Mr. McNish recalled at The Argus office today and recalled some of the pleasant experiences he had in Rock Island and named many old friends whose acquaintance he made here in other days.

McNish came to Rock Island in 1879. "You'll find my John Henry on the register of the Harper house in that year if you will look over the records," McNish said. "Our company played at Harper's theatre. The finest time I had in your city was when the month I spent here rehearsing the Rock Island club minstrels—I think that was about twenty years ago. You will recall that the show was given at Harper's theatre, and if Rock Island talent ever gave a better performance than that bunch put over I'll have to be shown. It wasn't good because I was the director but its success was due to the fact that there was a crowd of dandy fellows, each willing to contribute to the fun of the evening. I had just finished an engagement in Davenport when Meyer Loeb of Rock Island met me. He said the club was discussing the staging of a minstrel show and asked me if I would undertake the rehearsal of the men. I agreed to accept. It was immense. One of the boys who took part in that show today is known in the Belasco of burlesque. He is Roger Imhoff. Imhoff has earned a fortune on the stage. In the Rock Island club show he took part in a sketch in the olio. The home folks didn't pay much attention to him, but he kept plugging along and today he is at the top of the profession. He is a great comedian."

CITY TO SEND DELEGATES TO PLAN MEETING

Commission Invited to Attend State Meeting at Decatur to Consider Zoning. An invitation to O. Z. Cervin, chairman of the Rock Island city planning commission, and to other members of the commission or any one interested in better city planning has been received from the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, which will sponsor a state meeting on city planning at Decatur Tuesday, Dec. 7.

Delegates to the meeting will be appointed by the Rock Island Chamber of Commerce by Monday of next week. Dr. E. M. Sala, J. F. Witter, T. B. Davis and J. A. Weisner, heads of the various chamber bureaus, will appoint the delegates. Speakers at the session will include Edward H. Bennett of the Bennett-Parsons company of Chicago, who has been employed as the Rock Island city planner; H. P. Chandler, legal adviser of the city planning commission of Chicago; Myron West, well known Chicago planner, and Eugene S. Taylor, lecturer of the Chicago plan commission.

The meeting will consider the new zoning law for the state of Illinois and other questions of zoning and city planning. The committee appointed by the state for recommendations on housing zoning has been asked to be present at the meeting. The session will be of especial interest to Rock Islanders, since this city is just launching upon a planning proposition. Decatur, the seat of the meeting, has already started its plan.

The Rock Island city planning commission will hold its regular meeting at the city hall next Tuesday evening.

BANKERS START RYAN INQUIRY

Will Act to Prevent Receivership as Securities for Loans of Capitalist Lose Value. New York, Nov. 27.—Plans for the formation of a committee of bankers to inquire into the affairs of Allan A. Ryan, capitalist, whose corner in Stutz Motors stock started Wall street last April and resulted eventually in his expulsion from the stock exchange, after he had himself announced his resignation, were considered today at a conference of bankers and attorneys at the offices of the Guaranty Trust company.

The action of the banking interests is understood, is being taken in an effort to prevent a receivership, as the recent depression of the stock market is reported to have contracted the value of securities on which Mr. Ryan's extensive loans were based.

Liabilities involved are reported to approximate $16,000,000, while Mr. Ryan's assets are given as between $30,000,000 and $25,000,000. He is confined to his home by illness.

The corner in Stutz engineered by Mr. Ryan last April gave the stock exchange one of the most exciting periods in its recent history. Stutz went up and under Mr. Ryan's pressure on "shorts" until a corner in the stock resulted.

The board of governors of the exchange promptly suspended dealing in the stock and Mr. Ryan, in a statement bitterly criticizing the governors, announced his resignation. Instead of accepting the resignation, the governors conducted hearings which ended in his expulsion. Mr. Ryan now has pending a large suit for damages against the board.

The Ryan interests include, in addition to the Stutz Motor Car company of America, the Stromberg Carburetor company, Continental Candy company, Chicago Pneumatic Tool company, and Hayden Chemical company.

FUND IS STARTED TO ASSIST STARVING BABES OF EUROPE

A Rock Island citizen who asks that his name be not published has started a local fund to help the starving children of Europe. He sends a check for $10 to The Argus with the following letter: "I am wondering if you would not try to urge the people of Rock Island to do something for the starving children of Europe. I am sure The Argus would be glad to forward funds which may be sent to you and I am enclosing check for $10. I wish to make this amount larger in the very near future, but do not know just how much. If you will not publish my name I would be glad to give dollar for dollar for each one contributed up to $100. This is simply done in order to call attention to the great need of Europe."

"The other day I read a little clipping which, if it were heeded, would enable America to save the children of Europe without hurting ourselves the least, and in fact it would no doubt be a benefit to us. Here it is: 'In this age of active prohibition why not give a little thought to the intoxication or poisoning which comes from eating too much? Food temperance means the avoidance of that excess in eating which eventually results as bad as the practice of any other excess upon the human system. It is the excess, or the little too much of anything that always hurts. Why not put out the little excess of overeating and thus be cheerful and healthy?'"

The Argus will be glad to receive help for the children of Europe and will see to it that such contributions as are made by local people will reach the proper hands.

COURT ENJOINS NEW RATE RAISE

New York Railroads Restrained from Charging Prices in Excess of Those of May, 1918. New York, Nov. 27.—All railroads operating in New York state have been restrained from raising their intrastate rates next Monday. Deputy Attorney General Edward A. Griffin announced here today in making public temporary injunctions issued by Supreme Court Justice Crosse late last night.

In two orders the roads are instructed to show cause why the injunctions should not be continued pending trial of an action for a permanent restraint of the lines from charging rates in excess of those in effect prior to May 25, 1918—the state claiming that the war powers have expired by which rates were increased above that limit.

The first order names the Long Island and the Staten Island Rapid Transit railroads. The second names the New York Central, the New York, New Haven and Hartford, the Pennsylvania and the other companies.

The railroads previously had announced to the public service commission that they intended to raise passenger fare 20 per cent along with other rates in accordance with the interstate commerce commission's recent ruling allowing advances to the roads of the country in intrastate business, the attorney general's office declared in making known Justice Crosse's order.

Examiner for Emergency Fleet Mentions Collector of Norfolk At Shipping Inquiry. New York, Nov. 27.—The name of Norman R. Hamilton, collector of the port of Norfolk, Va., today was again mentioned in testimony before the congressional committee investigating the United States shipping board.

Harold F. Hanes, examiner for the emergency fleet corporation, formerly an investigator for the board, said that while in Norfolk he had been advised that if his inquiries included Mr. Hamilton, it would be well for him to "lay off."

His informant said, Hanes testified, that Mr. Hamilton was the "closest man in Virginia to President Wilson."

He added that he understood the man talking to him was related by marriage to Mr. Hamilton. Hanes said that the alleged warning did not deter him from continuing his work but he added it was not completed by him.
