

Harvest Time Is Here . . .

And soon upon its heels will follow the days of fall cleaning and the rearranging of the home. You may or may not know that there is one place in the three cities where you can find the latest of everything in the furniture line. Not for a few days spring and fall do they think of their trade, but all the year round they plan to give those who patronize them the best and latest the market affords at fair prices.

This Fall the Stock Will Be Superb

Their line of carpets which is always away ahead of the others, is constantly added to. New effects are out for 1898 that will surely please you. In the other branches it is the same; many pretty novelties will be shown that cannot fail to please you. Remember this then and come here when you are ready for fall purchases.

Worship of the Most High in the M. E. District Camp Meeting.

THE ORDER OF YESTERDAY.

A Number of Strong Discourses Preached by Prominent Members of the Clergy Present—Epworth League Day Plans—Prominent Arrivals on the Grounds—Notes.

Tidall's Grove, Aug. 24.—The regular 8:30 bible study meeting yesterday opened with its usual interest. The "Doctrine of God" was taken up as a topic for a few minutes' consideration. After giving permission to ask any questions that the topic might suggest, the leader, Rev. Dr. C. O. McCulloch, of Rock Island, presented as the new subject for consideration "The Origin of Man." He said man was not an evolution but a devolution. "Man's Nature" was the next subject considered, and was presented and illustrated by numerous scriptural references, as were the foregoing topics.

At the 10:30 service Rev. Dr. Clark, of New Boston, preached from the text: "Jesus Christ Himself Being the Chief Cornerstone." He did not dwell at any length on the theological or historical Christ, but made the impression that He was a living Savior, the same today as during His ministry on earth. We should acquire a personal friendship with Christ Himself. We should love Him, because He first loved us. We should be devoted to His cause and the principles it represents. We should do everything for Jesus' sake. Religion is more than an emotion, and we should have constant faith in the Personal Savior and love Christ now and forever.

The 1:30 Junior League service was divided. One division under the age of 12 years, held its meeting in the Epworth League tabernacle, while the oldest division held its services in the large tabernacle. The district president had charge of the younger division, while Miss Carrie Altz, of Moline, led the older division. At this meeting interesting speeches were made by the district president and vice president of the Epworth League. The attendance of the juniors at the meeting numbered 35, while the interest was very good.

Rev. C. F. Crane, pastor in charge at Sunbeam, preached the afternoon sermon. He took for his text that clause of Acts 1:8:

"And ye shall receive power."

These are the words of Christ to his disciples, and they were not only given to the disciples at that time, but they come with equal force to those who meet the scriptural conditions today. God works through means in the spiritual as well as in the natural world. Pentecostal power is the direct result of religious earnestness. Religion once assumed means work and not play; it requires concentration of power; it must have first place; it requires determination, earnestness and sincerity. In christian unity there is strength. Inactivity is christian work causes spiritual paralysis. We should be his witnesses as were the disciples of olden times.

Rev. M. A. Head, of Galva, conducted the 7:30 preaching service. He chose as his text John 14:12:

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do, because I go unto my Father."

Some thoughts presented were as follows: When Christ left the earth He committed His work to human agents. Every christian has a work to do. How is it possible to do greater things than Christ? Christ had to do with the material realm, while we have to do with the realm of the mind, spirit and soul. Sin is the cause of all disease. The darkened and disordered mind is the result of sin. Will power propels everything. Heart power, the love and the affections are strong motives to powers. The carnal mind is at enmity with God. God gives the power to live, labor and work. Our work is for heaven and eternity. We paint on canvass immortal.

The first Epworth League service was the 6 o'clock prayer meeting, and was led by Mr. Dice, of Alledo.

Cleanings.
Today Rev. M. V. B. White, of Woodhull, came upon the encampment.

We are glad to note that Rev. W. B. Shoop, of Bradford, is in our midst.

Rev. A. M. Stocking, pastor of the Alledo appointment, is now on the camp ground.

Rev. O. J. Nelson, the local preacher of the Ellison charge, is now upon the grounds.

Rev. J. F. James, of Buda, is numbered among the late arrivals on the encampment.

Tomorrow is Epworth League day and there will likely be a large assemblage if the rain does not interfere.

Rev. J. A. Edmonds, of Atkinson, is present.

Dr. Alice Gray, of Muscatine, is in attendance at the meetings.

A SOLDIER'S LAST SLEEP.

Arrival and Burial of the Remains of Walter Nagel.

The remains of the late Private Walter Nagel, of Company B, 50th Iowa volunteers, Davenport, arrived from Jacksonville over the C. B. & Q., last evening, accompanied by the father of the deceased, Prof. J. J. Nagel, Miss Edith Risley, of Davenport, and Private Robert Risley of Company B, who came from Jacksonville on a furlough. The body was met at the station, at the foot of Sixteenth street, by a squad of the Company B home guards, a delegation of press representatives and other friends of Davenport. The body was taken across the river to Davenport, the funeral being held at the Nagel home on West Locust street this afternoon at 4:30, a private service preceding this time by half an hour. The public services were conducted by Revs. G. S. Rollins and H. O. Pratt. The dead soldier was buried with full military honors, a detachment of regulars from Rock Island arsenal, tendered by Maj. Blunt, Company B reserves and August Wentz, Post, G. A. R., attending and conveying the remains from the house to Oakdale cemetery. The exercises consisted of a song by the Apollo quartet, a prayer, a brief address by Hon. S. F. Smith, the interment, the salute in honor of the dead by the Post guard, and "taps" played by Prof. Toenniges. The Ariel quartet sang at the service at the house. The pallbearers were James Y. Cantwell, B. F. Tillinghast, John Hornby, Frank Camp, S. D. Cook, H. E. Downer, R. W. Cram and Clark Hall.

Thus with honors most befitting was laid to rest one who though yet so young, had proven himself deserving of them, and the fact that this should have been so must have come as a soothing thought to the parents and others whose hopes have been so cruelly blighted by the adversities of war. As was said of Private Bledsoe, of Company A, who perished at Camp Alger, Walter Nagel gave his life for his country just as bravely as he had fallen upon the field of battle. He responded to the nation's call and went to the extent of the demands upon him. Death found him at his post of duty.

The determination on the part of Davenport and other Iowa cities having companies in the 50th Iowa at Jacksonville to have the regiment either moved to more sanitary surroundings or mustered out is still being manifest. Mayor Baker, Postmaster Metzgar and other representatives of citizens of Davenport returned home from Des Moines this morning, having interviewed Gov. Shaw.

The untimely death of young Nagel is likely to produce further testimony, all too sad, of the shameful mismanagement and indifference which have from the first characterized the war department's handling of precious lives that noble impulses have placed in peril for a nation's honor.

PERSONAL POINTS.

John F. Martin left this morning for Beardstown.

Miss Belle Rice has returned from her eastern trip.

Mrs. J. M. Knox is visiting relatives in Taylorville.

O. H. Olson returned to his home at La Crosse, Wis., today.

J. E. Clarkson is in Beardstown attending the Old Fellows' picnic.

The invitations issued by Mr. and Mrs. L. S. McCabe for a reception in honor of Miss Pauline Woltmann, at Black Hawk inn Thursday evening, have been recalled, owing to illness in the family.

Hon. William Jackson and family will return from Asbury Park, N. J., after their summer sojourn, Friday of this week. In company with Hon. J. W. Simonson, of Fort Byron, Mr. Jackson had the good fortune of an advantageous position to view the triumphant entry of Sampson's fleet into New York harbor last Saturday.

Messrs. Jackson and Simonson were on a steamer and sailed alongside of the fleet as it passed Fort Wadsworth and afterward almost to Grant's tomb.

RELIEF IN A STORM.

Wind and Rain Break the Torrid Spell in Rock Island.

RIVER EXCURSIONISTS SCORED.

Steamer Verne Swain With the Broadway Sunday School Party Lays Up at Hampton and the Passengers Come Home by Train—The Street Railway Service Impaired—Horse Is Struck.

A refreshing wind and a cooling rain last night broke the spell of torrid heat under which humanity has been sweltering the past three days. The clouds bore a threatening aspect as they assembled overhead, and a young tornado was expected, but happily no serious damage accompanied the storm, and after it had passed the populace extended the weather regulator a vote of thanks.

Fears for the safety of the Broadway Sunday school excursionists were felt by anxious parents and relatives last night when the rain and wind storm blew over the city about 7 o'clock and the steamer Verne Swain, with some three hundred people, mostly children, aboard, failed to arrive in port at the accustomed hour. These were allayed, however, when the comforting information came that all were safe, and were coming home on the Milwaukee passenger train from Hampton, at which point they were transferred from the steamer. The train, its coaches crowded to the doors, pulled into the depot at 10 o'clock, a half hour behind time. The excursionists had their outing—and a delightful one it was, too, only for the unpleasant experience attending the home-coming—at Woodward's grove, Cordova, to which point they were taken on the Verne yesterday morning. The little ones, who were accompanied by their Sunday school teachers, and some by their parents, ate, and played games and romped from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m., when the hour of departure was announced with the arrival of the Verne. The boat had only traveled a few miles when Capt. Fuller Smith was attracted by the ominous clouds and put for shore, where he remained until the blow was over. The journey was resumed, and again the storm began to rage, and it was with difficulty that a landing was made at Hampton. It was now 7 o'clock and dark, and Capt. Smith realized it would be dangerous business to attempt to cross the rapids, and so it was agreed that the passengers travel the rest of the way by train. The Verne remained at the village until daylight.

The Tri-City Railway company experienced considerable loss in Davenport through the storm last evening, in that the cars in that city stopped running at 6 o'clock and did not move again until after midnight. In Rock Island the service was knocked out at intervals. The cause was found to be a "ground" break between the Rock Island bridges. The construction force was out all night.

Horse Struck.
A horse belonging to the Schick Transfer company, of Davenport, succumbed to the heat on Nineteenth street late yesterday afternoon. The sufferings of the animal were ended by a bullet.
