PROSTRATING SNOW STORM

Telephone and Railroad Communication Seriously Interrupted.

The beautiful had its first fall today. And it was a real, nasty, disagreeable storm, too. Humanity remained indoors the greater part of the day. Telephone and telegraph lines were interfered with, and at several places about town wires were blown down. Trains were also delayed, and general traffic discommoded.

Late this afternoon the effect of the storm upon the telephone wires amounted to a complete prostration of the system, the wires being generally knocked out. The electric street car system was also beginning to show the results of the storm.

Surmounting the Obstacle.

Her Papa—I'm afraid, young man, that you and my daughter would not be happy together. You might get along all right for a long time and agree on important matters, but what would happen when the little things came to worry?

CONSTIPATION

"I have gone 14 days at a time without a movement of the bowels, not being able to move them except by using hot water injections. Chronic constipation for seven years placed me in this terrible condition; during that time I did everything I heard of but never found any relief, such was my case until I began using CASCARETS. I now have from one to three passages a day, and I was rich I would give $500 for each movement; it is such a relief."
