John Hynes was taken desperately sick at his place of business on Twentieth street yesterday afternoon. He had locked the door and it was necessary for those who had been called to his aid to climb through the transom in order to reach him. Dr. C. T. Foster said the attack was caused from eating something that did not agree with him. Mr. Hynes was taken to his home in South Rock Island in a carriage. He is all right today.

The order of the Knights of the Globe has invited propositions from cities in Illinois having a population of 15,000 or over for the permanent location of its headquarters, which is now at Freeport. Rock Island is already the home of two great orders, but she has room for more, and will in all probability make an effort to secure the Knights of the Globe. And, by the way, here is another tip for the Rock Island Club.

The directors of the Tri-City Railway company, at their meeting Saturday, again considered, among other things, the propositions of the Moline Central for the purchase by the Tri-City of that corporation. The offer has been made in various forms, but the negotiations are still pending. General Manager Lardner, of the Tri-City company, hopes to have a couple of vestibules for the lines on this side of the river ready in a few days, and thereafter they will come pretty regularly.

Jacob Bleuer, a carpenter, is laid up at his home, 726 Thirtieth street, with a broken right arm and other injuries, sustained by falling from a building on Twentieth street, that will disable him for work for several months. The accident was caused by the giving away of a brace supporting a scaffold on which Mr. Bleuer was standing. He fell two stories, striking an obstruction in the descent, which badly bruised his side, and when he alighted a pile of lumber came down on his right arm, fracturing it near the shoulder. Dr. C. C. Carter dressed his injuries.

A Lost Opportunity.

The Chicago Record says that some time ago a young organist secured permission to practice on the big organ in the Auditorium. An elderly man walked in and took a seat a few rows away from the musician. The young organist noticed him, and was encouraged to "show off" and do a few tricks of playing for his audience. He rambled on for an hour, and the elderly man sat there, apparently impressed. The young man tired at last and was about to lock the organ when the elderly man approached him and said in broken English that he wished to play for a few minutes.

"They don't allow any one but an experienced organist to touch the instrument," said the young man loftily. With a little gesture, suggestive of meekness and humility, the stranger presented his card, "Alexandre Guilmant, Paris."

Then it was time for the young organist to swoon. He had missed the chance of his life. For an hour he had been entertaining the great master with homemade drivel.

The Difference.

Dr. Pellet—All you need is 25 cents' worth of soda bicarbonate, dissolved in water. You'll get it at the drug store—at the drug store, remember, not at the grocery.

Patient—But what difference does it make, doctor?

Dr. Pellet—It will make a heap of difference to you. If you go to the grocery, they'll give you so much that the dose'll kill you.—Boston Transcript.

Peculiar to the State.

"So far as I know," said the doctor in answer to a question, "the shortest word of four syllables is 'Ohioan.'"

"Well," observed the professor, removing his cigar from his mouth a moment, "it's the same way as regards the office. The Ohioan always gets there with fewer letters than anybody else."—Chicago Tribune.
