FINDING OF THE BODY.

Coroner L. V. Eckhart Testifies
at the Treglown
Trial.

FIRST STORY OF ANNIE'S MOTHER.

Denies a Baby is Born. But Finally Wits and Points Out the Place Where the Remains Are Buried—What Postmaster
T. J. Murphy Saw—Mrs. Hyland's Evidence Barred.

Mrs. Annie Krakow was placed on the witness stand in the murder case in the circuit court yesterday afternoon after both sides had done with Arthur Treglown. Mrs. Krakow said she was a neighbor of the defendants at Coal Valley, and while she did not know any of the details of the crime beyond what she had heard, she noticed that the day previous to the birth the curtains in the Treglown house were drawn, something unusual.

Coroner L. V. Eckhart told of his trip to the Valley Nov. 27, and conducting a hearing relative to the birth of an unknown child. John Treglown, he said, denied all knowledge of the existence of the infant or of its burial. Margaret Treglown told the coroner that a child had been born, but it was born dead. She said she had given the body to a Moline woman. She afterward admitted to the coroner that the body was buried in the Treglown yard, but would not specify as to location. Upon the strength of this testimony Coroner Eckhart said he arrested John Treglown, locked him in the village jail, and with a number of townspeople went to the Treglown house and demanded to know where the remains of the child were buried. Mrs. Treglown took them to the barn and pointed out where the infant's body was concealed.

Condition of Remains.
Postmaster T. J. Murphy, of Coal Valley, who saw the body disinterred, related at length the condition of the remains when removed from the box—a raised box, the lid of which was nailed shut. The legs and arms were doubled up. The body was nude save the covering which the flour sack afforded. Around the neck there was a rag tightly folded, while in the head and neck there were distinct depressions. The court would not permit Mr. Murphy to tell any conversations he might have had with the defendants, in which either implicated the other. The cross-examination of the witness was directed chiefly to showing that the condition of the body when discovered might have been caused by the weather.

Testimony as to caring for the body was given by Undertaker William Myers, of Coal Valley, and Undertaker B. F. Knox, of this city, the latter stating that it had been turned over to him Dec. 29, and was now in the same condition it was then.

Judge Ramsay would not permit the introduction of the testimony of Mrs. Catharine Hyland, of Coal Valley. If allowed to tell her story she would have said that before the birth of Annie's child Mrs. Treglown came to her and asked her for medicine which she intended using for a criminal purpose.

D. H. Moran, John T. Hass, S. L. Stafford and George Wilson, all of Coal Valley, corroborated the story of Mr. Murphy as to the appearance of the body.

At 12:30 adjournment of the trial was taken until 2 p. m. Monday.

Rheumatism Cured in 24 Hours.

T. J. Blackmore, of Haller & Blackmore, Pittsburg, Pa., says: "A short time since I procured a bottle of 'Mystic Cure.' It got me out of the house in 24 hours. I took my bed with rheumatism nine months ago and the 'Mystic Cure' is the only medicine that did me any good. I had five of the best physicians in the city, but I received very little relief from them. I know the 'Mystic Cure' to be what it is represented, and take pleasure in recommending it to other poor sufferers."

ALREADY IN MUDDLE.

Morning Paper Presents a Spectacle of Utter Demoralization.

OFF ON ITS DATES AT START.

Calls Its Party For Evening Caucuses Anent the Spring Campaign and Forgets All About Its Pet Primary Election
Law—A Gay Flirtation With Prospective Candidates.

Quite apparent is it that the Union, even at this stage of preliminary discussion of the spring campaign, has found itself afflicted with a most distressing and discouraging case of utter demoralization. Adopting as a suggestion the announcement that a meeting of the republican city-township committee is to be held this evening at the office of Chairman Donaldson to agree upon the call for the nomination of candidates to be voted for on April 4, it proceeds to forecast what the committee—at its meeting tonight—is apt to do.

The primaries, the morning authority on the movements of the local party of republicanism assures its readers, have been virtually settled on for Thursday evening, March 16, with a convention the following day—the 17th. But the Union is not next in either of the announcements attributed to it.

There has been no meeting called for tonight at Chairman Donaldson's office—not that the chairman himself knows about. The meeting of which the Union has indistinctly heard of was held Thursday evening of this week, and on that occasion it was practically determined to hold the primaries on the 15th, and not in the evening, but during the afternoon, as required by the primary election law, a phase of local republican politics to which the party stands committed, a fact that the Union seems to have lost track of, notwithstanding that it was so conspicuous in bringing the party under such regulations—in the ante-post-office appointment days. And the convention will follow on the 17th, which being St. Patrick's day, the morning paper felicitates itself, is a fine opportunity for such a job. Just where the philosophy of the argument comes in is not made clear.

Seeks a Bold Champion.

But the oracle goes on to discuss candidates on the republican side. All are ready, ever eager, it says discussing the situation from the republican standpoint, to "catch sight of a Plumed Knight or a Black Eagle in our politics." Then it prays aloud that a bold champion may step forward from the ranks and unfurl his banner and see the enthusiasm with which he will be swept away, etc. It then goes on to speak of the way the republican hunt for candidates is progressing and despite the memories of its last complimentary reference to McConchie—again in the ante-post-office appointment days—it says he may yet be shouted to "come out here Mac," while the next shout may be "Where are you, Frank?" and Frank's cheery voice will respond, "I am here."

Ah, There—Stay There.

So that the campaign, as the Union views it, is a case of "Ah, there!" with the candidates so far in the field—McConchie and Knox—but when election day comes around the people of Rock Island who know when they are well off will say to either, or any other who may come out of the woods in response to the flirtation now going on on Eighteenth street, "Stay there!"

Riches Beggar on Earth.

The richest beggar in the world lives in Russia. He was born without feet or arms, and his physical defects have brought him great sympathy and much cash. Sympathy would be better if it were given to the army of industrious men in this country who overwork themselves and break down their health. These men lose their appetites, and their stomachs "go back on them." Their nerves are shattered and they cannot sleep. There was a way for these men to recover their health to take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is intended particularly for those who suffer from any of the complaints mentioned. This remedy is so well known that it is recognized as one of the world's standard medicines.

Drink Grain-O.

After you have concluded that you ought not to drink coffee. It is not a medicine, but doctors order it, because it is healthful, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grains and has that rich seal brown color and taste like the finest grades of coffee and costs about one-fourth as much. Children like it and thrive on it, because it is a genuine food drink containing nothing but nourishment. Ask your grocer for Grain-O, the new food drink. 15 and 25 cents.

As the season of the year when pneumonia, lagrippe, sore throat, coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis and lung troubles are to be guarded against, nothing "is a fine substitute" will "answer the purpose," or is "just as good" as One Minute Cough Cure. That is the one infallible remedy for all lung, throat or bronchial troubles. Insist vigorously upon having it if "something else" is offered you. For sale by T. H. Thomas, A. J. Reiss and M. F. Bahnsen, druggists.

No-To-Bac for Fifty Cents.

Guaranteed tobacco habit cure, makes men strong, blood pure. 50c. All druggists.
