FRIDAY, JULY 28.

AUSTRIA is just as glad, apparently, to see Dewey as though he had never whipped Austria's friends, the Spaniards.

CZAR NICHOLAS' usual tip for servants when on a visit is $5. The kaiser usually gives about $1.50 for the same service.

MOUNT ETNA is now in active business and is fully justifying the pictures that are sent out every year by the insurance companies.

PRINCE FREDERICK LEOPOLD, of Prussia, brother-in-law of the kaiser, is popularly known as the "Gigler-König," or "King of Dudes."

HARPER'S WEEKLY grows candid and critical. It remarks: "We wonder if Mr. McKinley knows what some good men—not gold democrats or ingenuous, but old-time republicans—are saying of him. They are saying that he has done more harm to the country than Mr. Bryan could have done. No one can regret more than ourselves that this is the fact. We are not prepared to assent to it, but it is certainly worthy of Mr. McKinley's serious reflection. He is alienating the friends who made his election possible and whose support may be absolutely necessary to his party next year."

Individual Prosperity.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.
That prosperity is here and in full tide cannot be doubted even by the most skeptical. The grain crop of the west and northwest is enormous; every blast furnace in Pittsburgh is producing to its full capacity; the coke ovens are all hot; pig iron cannot be put on the market fast enough to fill the demand; the copper production is the largest ever reported; exports are rising, immigration is increasing. The more wealth the country has the stronger will be its position in the political as well as financial world. But it is not enough for a nation to be rich. Real prosperity depends not only upon the quantity of wealth, but upon its equitable distribution. Unless all the people receive each his just share of the annual increment the story of prosperity is a glittering dream—or nightmare.

The Truth Will Out.

New York Herald.
To keep the public ignorant of the real state of affairs in the Philippines is impossible. No one with a grain of common sense would suppose for a moment that the country would be satisfied to take its news solely from the president or the secretary of war or the general in command of our eastern forces. The reputable press of the country is the direct medium of information between the people and their officials, civil or military, and any attempt to shut the mouths of the correspondents of reliable newspapers will always be resented promptly and emphatically by the public.

CHewed REDHOT CHARCOAL.

An Arab Accomplished This Feat Without Burning His Mouth.

A small brazier, full of redhot charcoal, was brought. Seating himself on the floor in front of this, the Arab picked out with a pair of iron pliers a big lump, which he broke into small fragments, one of which he put into his mouth. Swaying his body to and fro, uttering a series of semisuppressed groans, he munched the hot charcoal between his teeth. When he had retained it nearly a minute, he spat it out and took up another piece. The operation appeared to cause him great pain. He rolled his eyes wildly, and at times the saliva dripped from the corners of his mouth.

Persians are said to be utterly callous to human suffering, but Mahmoud Bey was so much upset that he got up and went out of the room. The prince, too, was visibly affected. To me the performance appeared a mere piece of vulgar trickery. By practice a man might easily retain a small piece of hot charcoal between his teeth in such a manner that it should not scorch his flesh.

When the Arab had crushed some five or six pieces we begged him to stop. He rose and seated himself on the divan, remarking that there was no reason for any anxiety; that the operation was quite a simple one and could be learned in a few weeks by any novice. Despite his placidity, I suspected that his tongue and lips were burned. I was therefore surprised to see him swallow a few minutes afterward a cup of hot coffee and smoke a cigarette, apparently without any inconvenience.—Gentleman's Magazine.

READ ALL OF THIS.

You Never Know the Moment When This Information May Prove of Infinite Value.

It is worth considerable to any citizen of Rock Island to know the value and use of a medicine, for if there is no occasion to employ it, in the meantime, frail humanity is subjected to so many influences and unforeseen contingencies that the wisest are totally unable to gauge the future. Know then, that Doan's Ointment will cure any case of hemorrhoids, commonly known as piles, or any disease of the cuticle or skin, generally termed eczema. One application convinces—a continuation cures. Read this proof: Mrs. F. Shindler, of 2021 Fifth avenue, says: "I had an irritation of the skin in a very aggravated form. I saw Doan's ointment advertised and so highly recommended as a specific for this complaint that I was induced to get a box at the Harper house drug store. The very first application gave me immediate relief and the continued use of this remedy for a short time removed all traces of the distressing complaint."

Doan's Ointment are for sale by all dealers, price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

Springer, of 1125 Howard street, Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this royal cure: "It soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the throat, chest or lungs. Price 50 cents and $1. Is It Right for an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard, N. C.

It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this medicine in our family for 20 years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past 20 years. For sale by all druggists.
