KRELL & MATH.

Wishing to retire we will dispose of our entire business at a reasonable figure to any person or persons who wish to enter into a profitable and well up-to-date business. This will include our ENTIRE PLANT, stock fixtures, tools, machinery, brick bake oven, horses and wagons and every thing as it now stands in our present building, including good will, etc., etc., to a responsible party. The good will and reputation established is alone worth more than we ask for the entire plant. We will also lease the store room in the present building to the persons buying our business for a long time at low rent. We mean business and shall not listen to any one talking of buying us out without first showing us that they mean business and have ready cash to buy with. This is a chance you do not get every day to buy out an old-established good paying business. Our business will stand the closest inspection in every respect, and satisfactory reason for selling will be given to parties desiring to purchase.

To our trade—do not let the above mislead you into believing that we are going to quit business at once, as we are not. We shall continue to keep up our stock, and shall at all times try to please our patrons until we sell out to a responsible party.

GREENE-DART UNION.

Pretty Wedding at the Jackson Residence on Twentieth Street.

REV. EDGAR P. GEE OFFICIATES.

Ceremony Witnessed by a Company of Fifty Relatives—Beautiful Decorations of the Home—Couple to Live in Pasadena, Cal. Where Groom is a Well Known Architect.

One of the season's pretty weddings occurred last night at the residence of Hon. and Mrs. William Jackson, 824 Twentieth street, where the destinies of Henry Mather Greene and Miss Emeline Augusta Dart were united in the presence of a company of 50 people, mostly relatives of the contracting parties.

The decoration of the home was beautiful in its simplicity. Bride's roses, carnations and similar were used, and arranged in a manner that produced an effect that was highly artistic.

The ceremony was solemnized at 8 o'clock, Rev. E. F. Gee, of Galesburg, formerly assistant at Trinity church here officiating. Miss Louise Dart, of Rock Island, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, and Sidney Mathers, of Minneapolis, best man. The bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, rendered by Grabe's orchestra, which was stationed in the library.

The Episcopal ring ceremony was used, and while the binding words were being impressively spoken the notes of Treumerer softly issued from the library, the couple kneeling on a silken pillow and beneath a floral marriage bell. The bride was given away by her mother, whose wedding anniversary the day marked, and in honor and memory of which event her daughter wore the same white organdie gown in which she was attired when she took vows at the marriage altar 28 years ago. A bouquet of bride's roses and maiden hair fern was carried by the bride. The maid of honor wore white organdie and carried carnations, asparagus and ferns.

The only out-of-town guests present were Mr. Mathers, of Minneapolis, and Miss Bessie Hulbert, of St. Louis. When the congratulatory season had been finished the bridal party and company sat down to a delicious feast.

THAT COUPON.

Well, what did you think of our advertisement in Monday's ARGUS?

Pretty clever scheme, don't you think?

Did you clip that coupon?

Judging by the number who presented coupons in part payment for the purchase of shoes the idea was not only clever, but opportune. Possibly some of our patrons overlooked the announcement in Monday's paper (Aug. 21), and for their benefit we explain just what the advantages of the coupon are and reprint this much of the original advertisement. Here's the plan:

You clip the coupon and come to our store to buy shoes. Nobby shoes, swell shoes, stylish shoes, serviceable shoes—what's the kind of shoes we sell and with each cash purchase your coupon represents 20 per cent.

No trouble to show shoes. No trouble to send out shoes on approval. No trouble to answer questions about shoes. We're in the shoe business. We never advertise a fact and then go back on it, and when we said that this little coupon would only appear once, that was the whole truth.

Therefore, if you would profit by this bit of liberality on our part look over your Monday's ARGUS and cut out the coupon.

It's worth money to you. One-fifth the gross amount of any cash purchase you make at this store prior to Sept. 1 will pay you for the trouble of looking it up, don't you think?

For instance: Suppose you buy a pair of $5 shoes, the coupon is worth 20 per cent or one-fifth, in other words you get the shoes worth regularly $5 for the coupon and $1. Simple plan, isn't it?

Most anybody will pay cash to save 20 per cent. Do you see where we get our ax?

No charges, no bad account, no books to buy, no collector to pay, no losses—consequence—you make the saving.

Do you buy your shoes here? Certainly the above facts coupled with the statement that our stock embraces the newest creations in footwear are sufficient to warrant your most earnest consideration.

Leave for the West.

Mr. and Mrs. Greene departed on a late train for the west, taking an extended tour before returning to their future home at Pasadena, Cal., where the groom is a prominent architect. His bride is a Rock Island girl, was born here, and is the daughter of Mrs. C. A. Whitridge. They have lived in California for several years and came to Rock Island to spend the summer with relatives.

HENRY IS BROUGHT BACK.

Grand Rapids Authorities Return Him to His Home.

George B. Henry arrived in Moline from Grand Rapids this morning at 3 o'clock and was conveyed in the Moline ambulance to the home of his mother in South Moline, from which he was spirited away a few weeks ago. While at Grand Rapids Mr. Henry was taken before Judge Newham, of the superior court, and pleaded not guilty to the charge, that of the forgery of a note to the amount of $300, alleged against him. He demanded an immediate trial. The court was not convinced that Mr. Henry was physically able to undergo a trial and issued an order that he be examined. Three of the leading physicians of Grand Rapids, Drs. Griswold, Reikie and Montgomery, examined him and found him suffering from chronic cystitis, enlargement of the liver, the right kidney badly affected and rheumatoid arthritis, which has produced a contraction of the right leg at the knee, the limb becoming entirely useless. The doctors pronounced him incurable. Mr. Rogers, prosecuting attorney, in his address to the court, remarked that it would be a disgrace to the officers and the state to proceed and attempt to convict a person in such a helpless condition. He therefore asked that Mr. Henry be discharged. The Michigan people were very kind and generous in their treatment of Mr. Henry while he was there and had great sympathy for him and he expresses his gratitude to Sheriff Woodworth and his deputies.

The judgment of the Michigan physicians confirms that of Dr. A. H. Arp, of Moline, who certified to the governor of Illinois, before Henry's departure, that he was in a helpless condition.

Obituary.

The funeral of Robert H. Trenamann occurred from the home of his son, John M. Trenamann, 619 Sixth street, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. C. E. Taylor conducted the services. The pallbearers were: Postmaster T. H. Thomas, David Don, Peter Gottsmann, Frank Ill, Joseph Schaab and Charles Engel. Interment was made at Chippewa.

Harry J. Frysinger has written THE ARGUS from Baltimore giving an interesting account of the life of his father, Jacob Frysinger, who died there last Saturday of blood poisoning. The deceased was born May 11, 1818, being 81 years, 3 months and 7 days old. He was born in York, Pa., and when a boy learned the trade of a tanner and worked at that business until he was 18 years old. He went to Baltimore, Md., and secured employment in a mercantile business with Patrick Caughy, later his father-in-law. In 1837 he married Agnes Caughy, who died March 19, 1897. In 1839 Mr. and Mrs. Frysinger came west and located at Galea, Ill., and later lived in Savanna, Ill. Then later on they moved to Rock Island and started a liquor store in Davenport, as Mr. Frysinger could not get a building to suit his business in Rock Island. Later he moved his store to Rock Island, on the levee. Then he leased the Rock Island distillery and ran that some time. He afterward built the distillery at Milan. In 1897 Mr. Frysinger went to Baltimore to live with his son, Harry J. Frysinger. He leaves surviving him three sons, George P., now in Nogales, Ari., William B., of Chicago, and Harry J., of Baltimore.

SIGNS WITH BLOOMINGTON.

Tim O'Rourke to Play in I-I League the Balance of the Season.

Tim O'Rourke has signed to play the balance of the season with Bloomington, in the Illinois-Indiana league. He will return to Rock Island and hang his bonnet up here for the winter.

Eugene McGreevy has resigned the captaincy of the Bloomington team, and Reed has been elected to fill the position. Dooley, Langford and McCarthy will be released. Their successors will be Myers, of Terre Haute, catcher; Keefe, of Shreveport, La., third base man and pitcher, and Selvey, formerly of Ottumwa and Danville, first base man. As reorganized, Bloomington will have five pitchers—McGreevy, Fisher, Gregory, Easton and Keefe.

CLOWNS AND THE CIRCUS.

Important Part Which the Funny Men Play With the Tented Show.

The Ringling Bros' circus will exhibit in Davenport Saturday, Aug. 26, and the clown will blaze forth in all his glory. You could no more have a circus without clowns than you could have a masquerade without masks, or pink lemonade without any pink in it. Clowns are even a little more important in a circus than the acrobats. In the Ringling Bros' circus the time-honored clown is given the full prominence he deserves in the eyes of everyone who ever attended the performance of "10 allied shows in one."

The circus clown dates his origin back to the very beginning of the circus itself, and from time immemorial he has been one of its most important features. During the growth, development and improvement in everything else he has by no means been left behind. He is funnier now and can do more tricks than ever before. In the old days one clown sufficed to satisfy the demands of all show-goers. Today even an ordinary show needs two Marks, two Toppies and four St. Berian bloodhounds. In the early days the one clown's star performance consisted in his entrance in the character of a drunken man, staggeringly mounting a steed and then standing and shedding four suits of clothes in every direction as he galloped about the ring.

That accomplishment single-handed would not go far today. The clown of the present must be a first-class humorist, acrobat, tumbler and musician all combined. Clowns must be great masters in the "knockabout" act. If they were not there would be a few dozen broken bones every afternoon and night. But the acrobatic work is only a small part of the clown's performance. You can scarcely find a humorous phase of life which the clowns do not touch, or a heroic feature which they do not burlesque. Every character of any interest whatever is imitated or caricatured; politicians, capitalists, artists are given attention which delights the crowd, for one of the things which most pleases an American audience is to see some one made fun of. Probably no one ever enters a circus ring to whom the clown does not appeal. To the older folks there is more fascination about the clown than they would like to acknowledge, for there is enough of the boy and girl in every man and woman to rivet the gaze on every antic of the clowns. Circus people keep their finger tips pretty close to the public, and the ever present clown is a sure indication that his presence and his didos are immensely pleasing to show goers. For many years clowns never appeared without the traditional whitened face and baggy costume, which the brilliant mule afterward used to pretend to mistake for hay, but with the burlesquing of the former and every body else the clowns who do the caricaturing find it necessary to lay aside their white paste and ghostly attire and adopt exaggerated imitations of the striking points of the dress of the characters they are imitating.

So popular have become the clown features of a great circus in recent years men are beginning to have rivals and competitors in the field that are not to be sneered at. It goes without saying that there must be plenty of fun and merriment at a successful circus, and the proprietors are willing to adopt any expedient or to go to any expense to obtain it. So anxious are they to widen and improve the field that they have had other than human material, so we have animals of the more intelligent families taking a hand in doing "stunts" that will amuse human beings. No circus is now complete without a number of animals trained to do funny turns in addition to a full quota of human clowns. So intelligent are some of these clown animals that they almost appear to see the humorous side of the tricks they are performing.

At the Theatre.

Few musical farce comedies are managed in the liberal manner which has made the Jolly Old Chums famous throughout the country. Every actor is required to be a first-class comedian and able to sing his or her part in the various musical and operatic selections assigned them. This season the company engaged for this play is composed of artists whose vocal ability is beyond comparison with any other farce comedy company. Splendid dances and other novelties are also introduced and a special feature is also made of the operatic orchestra which accompanies the organization. All the latest music, both vocal and instrumental, will be heard and many gems from the late comedy operas will also be introduced. Elegant and appropriate wardrobe and costumes are worn in the different acts, and special scenery and effects are shown when possible. The company numbers 30 people, and although owned by a Cincinnati syndicate, is under the personal direction of M. E. Rice, well and favorably known here. Special prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents. Choice seats, 50 cents. Harper's theatre, Sunday, Aug. 27.

Carnavaux and Pauline delighted another audience at Harper's theatre last night with their novel feats of mind reading and hypnotism.

Galesburg Makes Big Preparations for Its Carnival Oct. 3 to 7.

Galesburg declares that there will be "More fun than last year" at its carnival this fall, and judging from the preparations that are being made for the event, which is to take place Oct. 3 to 7, the promise will be made good. The Galesburg Carnival association has scoured the country for the latest and best attractions, and no money or pains will be spared to make the carnival even better than last year's entertainment, which was acknowledged one of the most successful in the country.

During the week President William McKinley, President Diaz, of Mexico, and many other celebrated men are to be present. An effort is being made to secure Admiral George Dewey, and the Galesburg people believe that the hero of Manila will be with them one day.

Miss Woltmann's Concert.

A more delightful entertainment has not been enjoyed in Rock Island than that given at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium by Miss Pauline Woltmann, the brilliant young vocalist, who is now a member of the faculty of the New England Conservatory of Music, and whose mezzo soprano voice seems to grow sweeter and stronger with each succeeding public appearance. The audience was a very enthusiastic one. Miss Woltmann's program was varied and demonstrated remarkable capacity on the part of the singer, whose numbers included the Italian aria, German selections, cradle songs and English ballads, all of which were beautifully rendered.

Miss Woltmann, concluding with "Sacred Redeemer" by Gounod. Miss Woltmann was assisted by Miss Elizabeth Chamberlin, violinist, and Mrs. L. S. McCabe, and Miss Bruening, of Davenport, accompanists. Miss Chamberlin's execution was artistic and even surpassed the anticipations of her friends. Miss Chamberlin is to return to Chicago for another year's study.

Edwards Pleads Guilty.

Raymond A. Edwards today pleaded guilty to the charge of embezzlement made against him by his former employers, Scott & Wangelin, of the Gem laundry, and was bound over to the grand jury by Magistrate Stafford. His bail was fixed at $500. It is claimed Edwards' speculation will amount to upwards of $150.

AT MCCABE'S.

There's a completeness about a full 100-piece dinner set which is really satisfying. Buying from open stock patterns has its advantages, but many prefer to buy a regular dinner set and so have something not likely to be on other tables.

During this August clearing sale we sell $7.50 dinner sets, full 100 pieces, decorated, choice of three colors, for $3.87. Good plain white sets would cost as much.

The variety in decoration and price, starting from $5.87, is great. Hundred-piece dinner sets at $7.50, $8.50, $9.55, $10, $11.50, $12.65 and so on, up to handsome Haviland china dinner sets to cost $65 and $75.

It is really surprising how much less dinner sets can be sold for now than five years ago, and how great the improvement in quality and decoration has been.
