EAGLE WILL SCREAM

How the Fourth of July Will be Celebrated in Rock Island and Vicinity.

FIREWORKS AND PIONIO ORATORY

Excursions on River and Railroads, Baseball and Other Attractions.

Tomorrow the eagle will scream throughout the length and breadth of this mighty land. Millions of people will assemble in thousands of groves to hear read that concise and logical statement to which our forefathers were patriotically inspired to subscribe, to see the neighbors, to eat a picnic dinner and to gratify a hundred and one other unexplainable desires.

Tomorrow the small boy will spend his hoarded pennies for explosives and his pa will foot the bill of damages; the young member of the bar will vociferously thunder forth that creation of his fertile brain over which he has been sweating for the past two weeks; the refreshment vender will yell himself hoarse and be compelled to talk in a whisper for a week.

The Fourth of July will be observed in Rock Island the same as elsewhere. There will be as much noise, as many accidents and as large a number of sore heads on the fifth as in any town of its size in the west. There will be no general congregation for picnic purposes, private enterprise having triumphed over public spirit in this direction heretofore. In spite of this, however, there will be many strong attractions to tempt the truly patriotic to wander abroad and spend their money.

Attractions and Outings.

First there are the Watch Tower and Prospect park, the management of both of which have taken pains to let the people know what will be doing. Then there is the mighty Mississippi right at hand and as attractive as ever. Excursions have been advertised by packets and there will be a number of private launch parties. Also there are cheap railroad rates to surrounding towns which will draw many away from home. Lastly, there is the alternative open to all of remaining decorously at home, which will no doubt, be the fate of many. The ball game at Davenport between the teams from that city and Rock Island will be one of the most interesting of the year. No doubt hundreds of the fans from this side will be on hand to see that the Shamrocks' good playing does not spoil for want of approbation.

The Rock Island Naval Reserves are making an effort today to find enough primers to enable them to fire a 21-gun salute tomorrow morning at sunrise. If successful the firing will be done at the armory.

All county and city offices will close for the day.

The postoffice will close at 10 a. m. There will be one delivery of mail, leaving the office at 9 a. m.

Business will be generally suspended. The Argus, with the others, will take a holiday.

Picnics in Country.

Out of the city a number of country picnics within easy distance of Rock Island are scheduled to take place. At Port Byron and Rapids City in the upper end, at Sherrard in the central part of the county and at Edgington and Illinois City in the lower end, big celebrations with all the old time attractions have been announced.

$200,000 WATER SYSTEM PROPOSED FOR MOLINE.

Engineer D. W. Mead has recommended a $200,000 water system for Moline. The city, however, has only about $30,000 in sight at present. Mayor Wessel hopes that some generous-hearted citizen will step forward with an offer to establish a monument to his memory through a liberal donation to be used in carrying out the plans that Engineer Mead has prepared.

The $200,000 represents either a low sand filter, gravity filter or artesian well system with a standpipe and reservoir on the bluff, a new pump at the waterworks, new mains and everything else to make a perfect system.

Not in Quarantine.

Probably by misunderstanding, possibly by being misinformed, some of the tri-city papers stated that the Hartz & Bahnsen company wholesale drug house had been quarantined. This, we are glad to state, is not the case. It happens that the house has employees, who are filling important positions, who are in quarantine, and this has put it to some inconvenience in its work of filling its orders with the promptness and accuracy for which it is noted, but it has managed to get there, and has not been quarantined as stated. There is little if any danger that its employees will come down with smallpox, but precautions are being taken, notwithstanding.

It is easier to keep well than get cured. DeWitt's Little Early Risers taken now and then will always keep your bowels in perfect order. They never gripe, but promote an easy, gentle action. B. H. Bieber and Hartz & Ulemeyer.

TRAIN HITS PEDDLER AND BREAKS HIS LEG.

The rig of I. Meyers, a peddler, who lives at Eleventh street and Eighth avenue, was hit by the Glebe coal train on the Q in charge of Conductor Brown and Engineer Feighor, at Forty-fourth street late this afternoon.

His wagon was overturned and he was thrown out, breaking his right leg just below the knee in his fall. He was taken to St. Anthony's hall in the ambulance and his injury was dressed by Dr. E. M. Sala.

MORE TROUBLE WITH THE RESERVOIR SEWER

One point of stoppage in the sewer laid at such heavy expense last winter to drain the settling basin at the reservoir has been found, but it has been discovered there are other impediments in the pipe. The stoppage found was due to a collection of mud, and it is likely that this will cause much trouble in the future. Searching for these clogged portions of the pipe is very costly work, owing to the fact that they are laid about 20 feet deep and the sides of the excavation have to be walled up with plank to prevent their caving in.

MAY STOP THE PLOW TRUST

Failure of Deal With Moline Company Checks Combine.

Because an option for the purchase of the Moline Plow company, to be merged into the plow trust, was allowed to go by default when it expired July 1, it is rumored that the proposed combine, incorporated last week as the American Plow company, may not go through. The Moline Plow company is the second largest factory in the trade and has refused to enter the combine, but gave an option to sell for $5,000,000 cash. Until the last hour of the time of the option it was supposed that the deal would be closed, and the failure seems to indicate a disagreement. Moline men returning from the trust meeting in New York say that the date when the constituent companies are to be taken up has been deferred till Oct. 1 because several failed to file complete inventories of their assets at this meeting.

The beauty thief has come to stay. Unless you drive the pimples and blackheads away. Do this, don't look like a fright. Take Rocky Mountain Tea tonight. T. H. Thomas' pharmacy.
