DEATH VERY SUDDEN

Mrs. Samuel Ebey Stricken by Heart Disease While Riding in Street Car.

WILLIAM HESS, SR., PASSES AWAY

A Long Time Resident of Rock Island County--Fred Pfaff.

Mrs. Samuel Ebey, whose home is at 429 Forty-fifth street, died very suddenly of heart failure about 8 o'clock last evening at the home of Charles Burnett, 2800 Seventh avenue. Mrs. Ebey, in company with Mrs. Welch, of Davenport, left the former's home last evening to call upon Mrs. Jerry Mansfield, on Twenty-eighth street. When they boarded a car Mrs. Ebey complained of a pain in the region of her heart. When Twenty-eighth street was reached on the Elm street line she was unable to walk and was taken into the Burnett home. Death came before a physician, who was summoned, arrived.

Mrs. Ebey was 37 years of age and had lived in this city two years. She came here with her family from Okaloosa, Iowa, which was her native town. The husband and two daughters, Una, aged 16, and Vera, aged 9, survive, together with the mother of the deceased, Mrs. J. Williams, of Eddyville, Iowa; Mrs. Mansfield, her sister, and three brothers, Allen and Jesse Pettit, of Carson, Ia., and William of Omaha.

The remains will be taken to the former home at Okaloosa for burial, leaving this city on the early morning train.

William Hess, Sr.

William Hess, Sr., passed away at 5:40 Saturday afternoon at his home, 1007 Seventeenth street, from the effects of the complication of ailments which had rendered him an invalid for the past four years. He was 61 years of age and had been a resident of this county since 1869. He was a native of La Chute, Quebec province, Canada, from which place he removed with his parents to Watertown, N. Y., when he was 16 years of age. Coming west in 1864 he first located at Elmwood, and after five years settled on the farm in Rural township which remained his home up to six years ago, when he retired from the farm and took up his residence in this city. In 1866 he married Miss Ann Goodlow, at Elmwood. The wife and three children survive: William J. and George, of the grocery firm of Hess Bros., and Miss Elizabeth Hess, at home. Mrs. Sarah Hess, the aged mother of the deceased, also survives, as do a brother, Jacob, of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. John Wilkinson and Mrs. George Weiss, of Jackson, Minn. Mr. Hess was one of the best citizens of the county and all who knew him will regret to learn of his death.

The funeral was held from the home at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. C. O. McCulloch, pastor of the First Methodist church, was in charge of the ceremonies, and he was assisted by a quartet composed of Prof. E. L. Philbrook, Keith Collins, Miss Lulu Harris and Miss Mae Lidders. Interment was made at Chippianock cemetery. The pallbearers were F. G. Young, F. W. Freeman and R. C. Benson, of this city; J. H. Gilmore and Hugh Gilmore, of Milan, and L. M. McDonald, of Orion. Mrs. Charles Boone, of Beardstown, and the two sisters, Mrs. Wilkinson and Mrs. Weiss, were here to attend the funeral.

Fred Pfaff.

Fred Pfaff died at 6:30 this morning at St. Anthony's hospital, where he had been confined for the past three weeks with pulmonary trouble. He was 24 years of age and the son of Jacob Pfaff, whose home is at 800 Fourteenth-and-a-half street. He was a cigar maker by trade and a member of the local union of the craft. He was also a member of Camp 209, M. W. A. He is survived by his father, two brothers, Peter and Philip, and two sisters, Mrs. Kate Ferkel and Mrs. Annie Winkler, all of this city.

DEPARTMENT PUTS OUT SUNDAY MORNING FIRES

A fire started in a pile of rubbish in the rear of the Hurst block on Twentieth street about 2:45 a. m. Sunday. It was discovered by Night Captain Barney McCabe and an alarm sent in. Before the department arrived a party of citizens did good work with buckets and the fire ladders ended the danger with a chemical. The flames had reached the porch of the building, however, and if the discovery had not been prompt a bad fire would probably have resulted.

A little earlier the same night the department put out a fire that had started by spontaneous combustion in a pile of slack at the street car power station on Twenty-third street.

Saturday afternoon the workmen of the Banker & Marks' stair factory in Davenport quit work as is usual on that day at 3 o'clock. A few hours later the building was nothing but a shell. There was a fire left in the boiler room when the factory closed for the day and this is supposed to have been the origin of the blaze that destroyed the factory. The loss from the fire, it is thought, includes all the fixtures that were then in the shops, the destruction of the whole plant of machinery, and a nearly total loss of the lumber that was stored on the first floor. The total loss is $20,000.

Because there was no water nearer than three blocks, the residence of Perry Ullman, 1633 Second street, Moine, was damaged by fire Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock to the extent of $700, and furniture belonging to C. Harson, up stairs, will bring the total loss to $1,000.

MAY SOLVE THEFTS

Seven Persons Are Under Arrest for Stealing Wire and Brass Hereabout.

CONFESSION IS OBTAINED FROM ONE

B. F. Klugger, Local Junk Dealer, Accused--Held in $1,000 Bonds.

At last the police of this city and Davenport believe that they have solved the mystery of the thefts of metal and wire that have been going on since early last winter in the three cities. Following the arrest Friday by Officer Moody of William and George Winters, wanted in Davenport for the alleged theft of two bells from locomotive engines, two Davenport couples, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Helm and Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn, with whom the Winters lived, were taken into custody, and all six are in the Davenport jail.

Yesterday one member of the party, when put in the sweat box, weakened and made a confession, implicating the others and furnishing information upon which Manager J. F. Lardner, of the Tri-City Railway company, swore out a warrant for the arrest of B. F. Klugger, the junk dealer who keeps on Fortieth street in this city. At a preliminary hearing yesterday afternoon Magistrate Johnson fixed the latter's bail at $1,000 on a continuance till tomorrow morning. Security was furnished and the prisoner released.

How Wire Was Stolen.

According to the confession, the Winters and Klugger took part in the wire theft that occurred in South Rock Island several weeks ago, when about eight hundred pounds of heavy copper feed wire was cut from the poles with a long-handled pair of nippers and hauled away. The party who confessed says Klugger hauled the plunder away in his wagon and buried it some place south of town. Later it was dug up and shipped, and then, it is charged, Klugger failed to make a fair divvy. The confessor also stated that Klugger furnished a saw with which the engine bells were cut away and taken.

It will be recalled that when the brass letters that were to be used on the new McCabe building were stolen from the Mager foundry in this city last winter and later found at Klugger's yard, the junk dealer claimed to have received the stuff from a boy named Krohn. When it came to the trial, however, he would not swear to the identity of the prisoner and so the prosecution had to be dropped. Now it is understood one of the Winters did the job and Klugger came near implicating an innocent youth to shield him.

Light on Other Cases.

The parties who took a large quantity of brass from the People's Power company remain undiscovered, as do those who tore up the return wire from a line of the Tri-City Railway company in west Davenport, and it is expected that before the present case is settled they will be brought to light.
