The following quoted from the Philadelphia Times in regard to one of the four $300 scholarships awarded in competitive examinations by the Bryn Mawr school of the Quaker city comes as a high compliment to Mrs. Cora L. Eastman, under whose private tutelage the successful competitor referred to became proficient in a number of branches.

"The first competitive entrance scholarship for the western states has been awarded to Miss Alice M. Melge, of Keokuk, Iowa, prepared by Mrs. Eastman's school at Rock Island, Ill."

Miss Melge is a granddaughter of Mrs. Mary A. Lynde, of this city. The other successful candidates in the examinations were without exception prepared in schools of high standing, and Mrs. Eastman is justly proud to be mentioned in the above connection.

Comets of the Past Century. During the nineteenth century 235 new comets were discovered as against 62 in the eighteenth century. The nineteenth century also beheld a greater number of large and brilliant comets than did its predecessor. The finest of these were the comets of 1811, 1843, 1868, 1881 and 1882. In the year 1800 only one periodical comet was known, Halley's. Now many are known, of which at least 17 have been seen at more than one return to perihelion.
