OBITUARY RECORD

Henry Goldsmith, Victim of Western Railroad Wreck, Buried at Chippianock.

SERVICES HELD IN MILAN CHURCH

Death of Mrs. John F. Diemer—Passing of A. J. Streeter—Other Obituary.

The remains of Henry Goldsmith, the Milan young man who was killed last week in a head end collision on the Santa Fe near Needles, Cal., arrived at the home in Milan last evening and the funeral took place from the Presbyterian church in the village today. Services were conducted by Rev. Marion Humphreys and interment was made at Chippianock. The remains were accompanied here by W. H. Williams, the fireman on whose regular run Goldsmith was riding when he was killed. It appears that the latter had experienced considerable bad luck during the few months he had been running out of Needles. He met with two accidents which laid him up a number of weeks and then his engine was disabled and had to be sent to the shops, leaving him with nothing to do. As a consequence common among railroad men Williams had voluntarily laid off in order that Goldsmith might take his run and earn a few dollars.

The act saved Williams' life, but cost that of his friend. Williams says the report that the engineer and conductor on one of the trains forgot their orders, which was sent out in the press dispatches, was false. The order to sidetrack was not given and the fatal blunder was made in the dispatcher's office.

Mrs. John F. Diemer.

Mrs. John F. Diemer, wife of the fruit grower living two miles southwest of Milan, died at 2 o'clock yesterday morning at her home of dropsical trouble. She was about 60 years of age.

Besides the husband seven children survive. Mrs. Alice Russell, of New York City; Mrs. L. L. Vanderslice, of this city; Mrs. George Barber, Miss Grace Diemer and Arthur and Elmer of Davenport, and Roy at home. The funeral will be held from the Milan Methodist church at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Ethel Morgan.

Miss Ethel Morgan, daughter of Mrs. Etta Morgan of Port Byron, died at her home in the village Saturday night of diphtheria. The funeral was held at 10 this morning and interment was made in the Port Byron cemetery.

Judson Birkemeyer.

Judson, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Birkemeyer who live on Eighteenth avenue in South Heights, died yesterday afternoon of pleurisy of the heart following an attack of diphtheria. The funeral, which was private, was held from the home at 2 this afternoon. Rev. F. L. Litrodt officiated and the remains were buried in Chippianock cemetery.

Remains Interred Here

Mrs. S. K. W. Field, of Medicine Lodge, Kan., arrived from the west this morning with the remains of her husband, who died about a year ago. The remains were interred at Medicine Lodge, but later it was decided to bring them here. They were taken from the train this morning and placed in the family lot in Chippianock. Mrs. Field is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Sears, of Sears, and she will visit with her parents.

John Jacobs.

John Jacobs, who held extensive interests in the county, and visited occasionally at the home of J. H. Wilson, died Saturday at his home in Philadelphia, aged 92 years.

George R. Sweeney.

George R. Sweeney, a brother of W. L. and E. D. Sweeney, died Friday at Excelsior Springs, Mo., of Bright's disease of the kidneys. He was 60 years of age and a widower, and is survived by five children. He was superintendent of the coal mines of Keith & Perry, at Kansas City, where deceased resided for a number of years. The interment took place today at Port Scott.

Mrs. Gustaf Peterson.

Carrie, wife of Gustaf Peterson, of Walker's Station, died at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon after 15 months' illness with Bright's disease. She was born in Ericsburg, Westergotland, Sweden, May 12, 1832, and came to Milan in 1872, where she had lived ever since. Besides her husband she leaves three daughters, Mrs. Ben Meline, Mrs. Charles Chiland and Mrs. Frank Miller, all of Milan; also a son, Claus Peterson, of Walker's Station.

A. J. Streeter.

A. J. Streeter, equally well known in agricultural and political circles of Illinois, died Saturday at his home at New Windsor after an illness of six weeks of diabetes with complications. Mr. Streeter's political career began in 1872, when he was elected by the democrats as minority representative in the Illinois legislature, where he served with credit. He became a member of the Greenback party in 1874, and in 1878 was its candidate for congress in the Tenth district. Two years later he was the candidate of the same party for governor, receiving over 28,000 votes. He was elected to the state senate in 1884 by a fusion of the democrats and greenback parties. Mr. Streeter reached the height of his political career in 1888, when he was the candidate of the union labor party for president. In 1891 he came within a few votes of defeating John M. Palmer for the United States senate. Mr. Streeter was a native of Rensselaer county, New York, and was 78 years of age. The family came west in 1836, settling in Lee county, Illinois. The father, Roswell Streeter, died in 1851 in Iowa while en route to California. The mother died at the age of 73 at her son's home near New Windsor. Mr. Streeter's youth was spent on his father's farm, and he related how they hauled charcoal to Grand du Tour on Rock river, where John Deere, subsequently of Moline plow fame, had a blacksmithshop. His wife and six children survive.

Social Affairs

The ladies of Sacred Heart church are to give a card party at the school, corner of Fifth-and-a-half avenue and Twenty-eighth street, this evening.

About 75 friends of Miss Ella H. Zahn, of Milan, attended the graduating piano recital held at the sales rooms of the Bowley music house. The program, in addition to the recitations of Miss Zahn, who acquitted herself with the greatest of credit, consisted of readings by Mrs. Laura Schwab Humphreys, of Milan, an eloquentist of considerable experience and exceptional ability. Miss Zahn has just completed a full 6-year course under the instruction of Prof. S. T. Bowley.

Members of the Augustana college athletic organizations known as the Milo and La Calceira clubs gave a social at the Harper house Saturday evening. After enjoying a dinner served in the ladies' ordinary a program of toasts was carried out and then the company passed into the parlors, where the remainder of the evening was spent with music and social pastimes.

BALL IS AGAIN WRITTEN UP

Chicago Paper Devotes a Page to Astronomer Who is to Lecture Here.

Sir Robert Ball, the eminent English astronomer who gives an illustrated lecture at the Curtis Dec. 12 under the auspices of the Tri-City Press club, is given a page in yesterday's Chicago American in an article on the canals on the planet Mars. The extent to which the distinguished visitor is being noticed in the press of the country indicates the eminence to which he has attained in his profession and the interest that is generally felt in the subject he presents. His lectures, like his articles written for publication, are entirely devoid of scientific terms and mathematical intricacies that tend to confuse the average person and the simplicity of his speech is coupled with a lucidity of explanation that holds his audiences in absorbed interest.

Perfectly Plain.

Uncle Rastus, who was seeking information concerning mushrooms, had been referred by a preternaturally solemn student to the professor of botany, and, with hat in hand, he was addressing that dignitary.

"Would you mind tellin' me, Mistah Mandrake," he said, "how to 'stinguish a mushroom I'm a toadstool?"

"Willingly," replied the professor.

"In the first place, you must remember that the Amanita phalloides, or deadly agaric, closely resembles the Agaricus campestris, or edible fungus, which is our common variety and absolutely innocuous. Next, it will be necessary to fix firmly in your mind the distinguishing marks or characteristics of the Agaricus campestris, which are these: A pileus not covered with excrescence-like scales; gills of a brownish purple when mature; stalk solid and approximately cylindrical; ring near the middle of stalk; base not bulbous and not sheathed by membrane. The distinguishing characteristics of the Amanita phalloides, or deadly agaric, are these: Pileus destitute of distinct excrescences; white gills, hollow stalk; large ring and prominent bulb at base, with membranous upper margin. Bearing these points of differentiation fully in mind you will never be at a loss to determine which variety you encounter in any given case."

"Yes, sub," said Uncle Rastus, turning his hat round and round in his fingers. "I un'stan' dat all right, but how's I gwine to tell 'em apart?"—Chicago Tribune.

O'ROURKE SIGNED

Local Favorite to Again Play Baseball in Rock Island.

CONTRACT IS RECEIVED HERE

Thanksgiving Football Games to be Warm Affairs—Notes.

Tim O'Rourke is the first player secured by Manager Frank Donnelly for the 1902 Rock Island team in the Three-I baseball league. O'Rourke's contract was received by Secretary L. G. Eddy today. Manager Donnelly sending it on from Springfield, O'Rourke will hold down either second or third base. He is now at Shreveport, La., having been with the club of that town in the Southern league the past season, and having led the second basemen. O'Rourke was with Rock Island in 1899 and made a record for himself here that endeared him to the fans, all of whom will be gratified to know that he is to return next year.

All Stars and Armours.

The M. W. A. All Star football team has been strengthened by Coach McCaskrin by the addition of three new players who have distinguished themselves in past encounters on the gridiron and the entire team meets for signal practice every evening in preparation for the Thanksgiving game with the Armour institute. Arthur Jens, of this city, plays fullback on the institute team, and his brother Roy plays fullback on the local team. Although the team that is to come here is a strong one Mr. McCaskrin and his men are certain the contest will be close and expect the majority of the points to be on the right side of the account.

To Meet Davenport.

Every player on the high school football team is husbanding every energy, concentrating every faculty in preparation for the game with Davenport high school in the latter city next Thursday. The boys are aware they have great odds to overcome, but not one on the team or among the substitutes but is courting the hope of victory for all that is in him. To the disadvantage in weight the local team will have to contend with the added handicap of being in the enemy's territory.

The enthusiasts who have been watching the local team this season hope it will at last be able to duplicate its showing against Moline in the last game and thus leave the schools for the three cities on a practical equality as the result of the season's work. This, if it can be accomplished, considering the make-up of the three teams, will have all the trimmings of a victory for Rock Island. The game will be played at the ball park in the west end of Davenport, and will be called at 2:30. The gate receipts will be divided.

Resolutions Adopted.

The following was adopted at last week's meeting of the Three-I league in Chicago:

"At a meeting of representatives of all minor baseball leagues in the United States, held at Chicago on the 6th day of September, 1901, preliminary steps were taken toward the organization of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues by the election of P. T. Powers, of the Eastern league, and John H. Farrell, of the New York State league, to the offices of president and secretary, respectively, and,

"Whereas, at the first meeting of the National Association Baseball leagues, held at the Fifth Avenue hotel, New York City, on the 24th day of October, 1901, the acts of the meeting of Sept. 6th, at Chicago, were ratified and approved by a unanimous vote, and the association put upon a firm and substantial basis, by the adoption of a 10-year agreement by the representatives of every minor league in the United States (with one exception), as well as by the representatives from a majority of the individual club members of the various leagues, then and there present and participating in the proceedings. Therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Illinois, Iowa and Indiana League Baseball clubs, in annual convention assembled, do hereby express our appreciation of the importance of said movement, and the far-reaching influence of the future acts of said association in its conduct of the affairs of the national game, and herewith pledge our cordial and earnest support of the officers of the National association, and express our intention to comply, both in letter and spirit, with all of the provisions of the new national agreement, and with the decisions and rulings of its officers and the national board of arbitration, and be it further

"Resolved, That in President P. T. Powers we recognize a faithful, honest and fearless officer, of marked impartial and executive ability, which, together with his unselfish and magnanimous action in refusing to accept remuneration for the arduous and perplexing duties he is about to assume, should, and will secure to him the unqualified support and cooperation of every league, party of said agreement, and be it further

"Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of this organization, and copies thereof given out for publication, and sent to the officers of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues."

At the meeting of the Chicago Record-Herald yesterday, says: "A word for the minor leagues. Trouble is bound to crop up here and there until the machinery gets to working properly, and even then there often will be cases for the organization to decide. The only trouble so far has been in the Western association, where one or two men have decided to pull out, as they think they can better themselves. Even this is not a difficult problem to solve. The minors will naturally seek to strengthen their different leagues as best they can, and I am sure all will work out on the lines mapped out at their meeting in New York. The National association is bound to live and remain bigger than any opposition from within or without. The president of every club in every minor league should take a deep interest in this move."

W. F. Kreig may get a chance to manage a club in the New England League next season. He is now at Chillicothe, Ill.

TWICE TOLD TALES.

No Meat Extracted From Them by Some Who Most Need the Facts.

We have more than twice told the reader of the fact that he or she may perhaps easily discover the cause of the daily ill feeling and the experiment is not difficult to make.

But there are readers who think truths are for some one else and not for themselves.

Some day the oft told fact will flash upon us as applicable when the knowledge comes home, that day after day of inconvenience and perhaps of suffering has been endured, the cause not being recognized or believed, although we may have been told of the cause many times over, but never believed it applied to us.

It would startle a person to know how many people suffer because they drug themselves daily with coffee. We repeat it, it is a powerful drug, and so affects the delicate nervous system that disease may appear in any part of the body, all parts being dependent for health, on a healthy nervous system.

Relief from coffee for 30 days has cured thousands of people who never suspected the cause of their troubles.

The use of Postum Food Coffee is of great benefit to such, as it goes to work directly to rebuild the delicate cell structures from the elements nature selects for the work. Relief from a heavy drug and the taking of proper nourishment is the true and only permanent method.

Great Luck of an Editor.

"For two years all efforts to cure Eczeema in the palms of my hands failed," writes Editor H. N. Lester, of Syracuse, Kan., "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for eruptions, sores and all skin diseases. Only 25c at Hartz & Ullemeyer's.
