JUMPING THE DEER.

A Style of Hunting That Looks Easy

Till You Try It. "Jumping a deer" is a highly attractive phrase, quite apt to make a tingling in the back hair of the tenderfoot who hears it for the first time. It is also intensely satisfactory to the chap who always has to share before wooing nature. You may, indeed, get a good shot in this way, and it is generally the only way to see the grandest of all the sights of the woods-deer running through a windfall. To see the glossy curves of fur curl over the loves the rifle as 1 do, more for what little babe to mourn her loss, besides can, there is no such target elsewhere. several sisters, brothers and her par- But for the tyro who is dying to get that first deer, "jumping a deer" generally means out of sight and out of hearing both. For the deer that goes off to lie down after feeding does not glaciers. life easy. Once in a great while one falls into a doze, but almost always the head is well erect and all senses keen for danger. And even if one is in a doze it may slip away without your suspecting its existence, for sleep deadens little of the senses of this wary animal. The man who "wouldn't shoot and the Puget Sound region, such an innocent creature as a deer" should by all means see one getting out | the Rockies, and, best of all, a stop who loves game that can get away can | l'ark. here find the attraction of the woods at its climax,-"Hunting the Virginia

The Ant's Toilet. A naturalist has been making observations on the tollets of certain ants, and has discovered that each insect goes through most elaborate ablutions. D. J. Webb and family, of Moline, They are not only performed by herself, but by another, who acts for the time as lady's maid. The assistant starts by washing the face of her companion, and then goes over the whole body. The attitude of the ant that is being washed is one of intense satisfaction. She lies down with all her limbs stretched loosely out; she rolls over on her side, even her back, a perfect picture of ease. The pleasure the little insect evinces in being thus combed and sponged is really enjoya-

The Way of the World.

We met the people going one way with their arms loaded with beautiful flowers.

"Whither do you drift?" we asked. "We go," they exclaimed, "to adorn the graves of our dead heroes.' Later on we met them with their arms full of bricks. "And now where?" we asked again. "To throw these at our living heroes," they again explained, with pitying smiles at our dumbness.

A Startling Surprise.

Very few could believe in looking at A. T. Hoadley, a healthy, robust blacksmith, of Tilden, Ind., that for 10 vears he suffered such tortures from rheumatism as tew could endure and live. But a wonderful change followed his taking Electric Bitters. "Two bottles wholly cured me," he writes, "and I have not felt a twinge in over a year."
