High School Notes The red and yellow standard under which the ruber band marched Saturday afternoon occupies the background of the assembly room stage and the "12-5" written upon it brings joy to the hearts of the students every time they see it. Everyone is still talking about the "great game." Yesterday Miss Gaston spoke for a few minutes to the school, setting forth the harmful effects of cigars and urging the students to form a league and work against this obnoxious evil. Some afternoon this week it is thought an organization may be effected. Report cards were given out yesterday. This marks the end of the first quarter and tells the pupil of his chance of escaping the finals at the end of the half. The net proceeds of the game Saturday were pleasing to those interested in lessening the debt of the Athletic association. It is thought probable that the proceeds from the Thanksgiving game will clear the remainder of the indebtedness.

At the meeting last night of the creditors of J. N. Warr, the Moline defaulter, a committee was appointed to institute proceedings to have the printing establishment, of which Warr was at the head, declared bankrupt. The purpose is to convert this plant into cash before it deteriorates in value, the money from the sale to be held in trust by a committee from the Moline Building & Loan association for those having preferred claims against Warr. The latter is to have his preliminary hearing tomorrow afternoon on the charge of embezzlement. It is thought he will be physically able by that time to leave his home and appear for trial.

Book Soon Ready. Word from Aledo says work on the forthcoming book by Miss Tona Dunlap is progressing rapidly. The book, it will be remembered, is to treat entirely on the famous Dool poisoning case of last year, in which Miss Dunlap was the defendant, charged with the murder of her friend, Allie Dool. The work of compiling statistics for the book was started during the past summer and it is being written under the supervision of Miss Dunlap's attorneys. Considerable financial encouragement has been accorded Miss Dunlap within the past few months in sums of from $5 upward, some of the donations coming from California.

A Policeman's Testimony. J. N. Patterson, night policeman of Nashua, Iowa, writes: "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least half a dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two-thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world. Sold by all druggists."

Nothing Tangible in Rock Island Dynamite Case Three suspects have been arrested by Rock Island railway detectives who are engaged in trying to run down the gang of blackmailers who threatened to blow up the railway if $1,000 was not forthcoming. The men who have been arrested have been taken to the office of the superintendent over the passenger station in Des Moines and subjected to a sweating process. In each case there seemed nothing to warrant placing them in jail and they were accordingly released. The detectives and other officials are more active in this case than at any time since one week ago, when it was expected to spring the trap that would result in the capture of the entire gang. A dozen detectives are devoting their time to the case and none of the precautions started a week ago has been discontinued. Section hands, armed to the teeth, still patrol the track day and night, while armed guards accompany each limited train. In advance of each of the latter trains a solitary engine is invariably run day and night through the "danger belt," as western Iowa has come to be known, and hope of ultimate detection of the criminals was never greater than today. The wounded prisoner at Mercy hospital in Des Moines is still the object of great speculation and constant inquiry. Despite repeated and studied efforts on the part of the detectives to induce the man to talk, he tries to give the impression that he is a dumb man. He has betrayed, however, that this is not true, on several occasions. His motive for silence is a question that can only be solved when he is well enough to be discharged from the hospital. His attitude at that time will then determine whether he will be set free or transferred to jail.
