CASE WON BY THE CITY:

PLUMBERS ARE ASSESSED

The city was acquitted of liability in the verdict of the jury in the personal injury suit of Monroe Gingles returned in the circuit court at 4:15 yesterday afternoon, but Rosenfield Bros., the plumbers, were found "guilty" and assessed $500.

The suit was based on an accident caused by failing to protect with signal lights an excavation made in the street by the plumbers at Fourth avenue and Ninth street. Gingles drove into the opening and claims to have sustained permanent injuries. The mishap occurred on the evening of Nov. 25, 1901.

Gingles sued for $20,000. The municipality and Rosenfield Bros. were made defendants, but the latter defaulted, while the former was represented by City Attorney Scott. H. M. McCaskrin appeared as attorney for the plaintiff.

The trial of the case was occupied with hearing the evidence in the ejectment suit of Thompson & Root vs. C. F. Hemenway, et al. No jury was called in this case, which is the result of a dispute over the ownership of three lots on First avenue and Sixteenth street, Moline, which belonged to Hemenway when he failed in 1898, and on which two creditors foreclosed, Thompson & Root, a Wisconsin lumber concern, and the Moline State Savings bank. Thompson & Root are represented by Jackson & Hurst, of this city; Judge James O'Neill, of Neillsville, Wis., and James Wickham, of Eau Claire, Wis., while Hon. C. M. Osborn, of Chicago, and Wood & Peck, of Moline, appear for the defense.

The audience that assembled at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last evening to hear Hon. W. H. Stead, of Ottawa, lecture on "The Trail of the Yankee" was disappointed. During the afternoon Mr. Stead was taken ill and was unable to deliver his lecture in the evening. So the engagement was canceled.

This will be your last chance for a bargain in a fine residence lot in Columbia park; east front, 50 by 150, up to grade, with good brick walk. If taken within the next five days can be bought for $150 less than the listed prices of lots in same block. First come, first served. Call at E. J. Burns' agency, room 11, Mitchell & Lynde building.

TRIAL OF AUGUST LEUTH AT TIPTON, IOWA, PROGRESSING

The trial of August Leuth, the German farm hand at Tipton, Iowa, for the alleged kidnaping of Mrs. John Telsrow for a ransom, is proceeding. When the case was begun Mrs. Telsrow collapsed in court and a postponement had to be taken. Both Mr. and Mrs. Telsrow confess that they saw the face of the defendant but once, but they say that they are certain that he is the guilty party. The sole object of the prosecution seems to be the securing of the $1,000 reward that was offered for the capture and conviction of the kidnaper. Leuth is a beardless youth of 19, does not speak English, and is further described as the last person one would expect to be associated in such a crime as Mrs. Telsrow was the victim of.

IN THE SOCIAL REALM

Black Hawk tent, No. 146, K. O. T. M., is arranging for an oyster lunch and entertainment on the occasion of the review of the tent Friday evening of this week.

Miss Mary E. Johnston entertained her class from Augustana last evening at her home on Seventeenth street. The evening was whiled away in games and musical selections, both vocal and instrumental, and also several readings by Mrs. O. J. Penrose, who is the class instructor. Theodore Heine and Frank Leonard gave a scene from "The Rivals." Refreshments were served.

River Riplets.

Instead of tying up at St. Louis, as was announced at the close of the river season in the north, the steamer J. S. has opened the winter excursion business in the south, with headquarters at New Orleans. Capt. Streckfus at first stated that his boat would be taken into dock at St. Louis, and there to be overhauled and tied for the winter, but has later changed his mind and will instead keep the big boat at work in southern waters.

River forecast for 48 hours ending 8 a. m. Friday, Nov. 20, 1903: The Mississippi will continue to fall slowly between Dubuque and Davenport. The stage of water was 5.60 at 6 a. m. and 5.55 at noon. The temperature at noon was 21.

MENACE IN ATTITUDE.

but the fault is not that of the isthmus. The ties of affection, however, never can be broken."

LOOKS LIKE WAR WILL FOLLOW

Colombian Commissioners Say That Country Will Not Submit.

Senor Insignares, in answer, expressed his deep sorrow at finding that the hopes of reconciliation were impossible of realization, and that the actions of the people of the isthmus of Panama were irrevocable. He declared that all the people of Colombia would unite in an effort to enforce the rights of the republic on the isthmus of Panama even at the cost of great sacrifices. Senores Arosemena and Morales then delivered addresses in which they expressed views similar to those enunciated by Senor Arias.

The threat of Senor Insignares that the republic of Colombia would enforce its rights in isthmian territory did not cause apprehension to the Panamanian commissioners, who received it with equanimity, and did not give it any serious consideration. It was officially announced by the Colombian commissioners that Gen. Reyes, representing the Bogota government, was coming to the isthmus to confer with the provisional government of Panama.

Dr. Pablo Arosemena, a lawyer of Panama, who will sail for New York on the Segurana, will act in an advisory capacity with Frederico Boyd and Dr. Manuel Amador, the commissioners of the new republic at Washington. A dozen marines from the United States stowship Dial, have been ordered to remain ashore to act as signalmen for the communication of routine messages between the shore and the United States fleet.

Panama Commissioners Arrive.

New York, Nov. 18.—The City of Washington has arrived here. On board of her were the special commissioners from the Panama junta sent to negotiate a canal treaty with this country. They are Dr. Manuel E. Amador and Frederico Eoyd. A dispatch from Colon says that Dr. Pablo Arosemena has been appointed as advisory counsel of the aforesaid commission.

Refers to the Venezuelan Affair.

Panama, Nov. 18.—Dr. Pablo Arosemena, appointed as advisory counsel to the Panama canal treaty commissioners, did not participate in the session of Panama, but he advised the Colombian government to "act like English statesmen. Accept with philosophical calmness the inevitable."
