The Money Goes

swiftly enough of course, it is a peculiarity of money. But while it is going you can at least make sure that it is bringing good returns by getting your supply of Garden Seeds from us. Remember the best of seeds are none too good. Cheap seeds means bankruptcy to the grower. The high class seeds are the cheapest. Why? Because they produce the largest and best crops. If your vegetables are of excellent fine quality you are justified in getting the highest price the market affords.

The Ideal Winter Route to California

via El Paso.

It takes you through orange groves and across a sea of salt, past the crumbling ruins of old missions and under the shadow of mountains, compared with which Gibraltar is a plaything; across rivers and plains glittering in the rays of the most brilliant sunshine in America; through towns that have grown up in a night, and others that were old before New England was new.

Climatically, no other transcontinental route compares with it. No high altitudes, little or no snow, and for three-fourths of the way no cold weather.

Through trains daily to Los Angeles and San Francisco. Standard and tourist sleepers, coaches, chair cars, diner. Full information and California literature on request.

TALE OF TWO DOGS.

Two shivering canines were admitted within the portals of police headquarters last night. One was a cute water spaniel that had the appearance of having lived well, while the other was scruffy and starved looking—just a common dog. After they had been allowed to hug the station warden for a time they were led into the cell room and locked in for the night. One of the attaches of the station night shift who claims to be up on dogology and to understand the language, says the following conversation took place between the canine prisoners during the night:

"My people would be shocked if they knew of my putting in a night in this dump," remarked the water spaniel. "You see, I have a good home, but somehow I wandered away with a bunch of fellows, and was not able to find my way back. One of the fellows said that he knew where there was some easy picking at the rear of a down town hotel, so off we hiked. He gave us the right steer, all right, but after we got our fill we went out for a lark. We made faces at Black Hawk and the girls and the boys up a Spencer square, then played high jinks in the court yard, just to make Sheriff Heider sore. We lit out for the lower mill to turn some-thing in the sawdust, but I lost my pals while we were chasing around the lumber piles. Say, old boy, you are about all in. See, I can stand these hard knocks for a time, because I am fed up to the limit. Just feel my coat. Ain't it a bird? That garment of yours wouldn't keep a flea comfortable."

"You needn't swell up simply because you have a full stomach and a warm coat. You'll get yours when you show up at home. I moved in the exclusive set, too, before my downfall. They say I was the handsomest member of our family when I was young. I made the meat market daily, had milk at all three meals, and had a few spots to sleep on alongside the fireplace in the winter, but, like you, I got frisky one night, and went out for a ramble and lost my way. When I returned three days after, I had lost my home. A terrier from a neighboring house butted in, and your uncle cut the door slammed in his face when he rapped for admittance. That's my story. I have been on the tramp ever since. Had a younger brother who wore barrios diamonds in his collar. Oh, he was a dude for fair. Last summer he went broke, pawned his jewelry and one day was run into the booby hatch. Folks would not listen to his appeals, and next day he was sent to the happy hunting ground."

"Wonder if we could get something to gnaw on? I'm getting hungry and nervous. Whenever I go against coffee I can't sleep. Had a bowl at the back of the hotel and it is just getting to me. Never allowed to have coffee at home. Had an order of pork chops yesterday morning. Wish you had been along, old man. What's the matter with that left pin of yours? Hit with a street car. That's too bad. Well, you've got three good ones left. Not as bad off as our masters. When they get too close to the cars and get a wheel disabled it's they to the hospital and then a month or so with a crutch. We're not such unucky dogs after all, budgie. Cheer up. Got a

AN ORDINANCE

An Ordinance Regulating the Construction of Public Halls in the City of Rock Island, Illinois.

It is ordained by the City Council of the City of Rock Island, Illinois, that the following regulations and requirements, and the same shall be built, constructed, and maintained under the direction and supervision of the Chief of the Fire Department:

All auditorium floor theatres shall be fire-proofed, either by deadening the same with at least one inch of mortar, or have the under side of joists lathed with iron and plastered with at least one heavy coat of mortar.

Sec. 5. Partitions in theatres. Construction.

All partitions for rooms and passages in theatres, if not made of fire-proof material, shall be plastered on both sides on iron or wire lathing or tiling.

The preceding sections apply to theatres and public halls that are now or hereafter be erected or constructed.

Sec. 7. Opening in halls, etc., heretofore built.

All egress openings in public halls shall have the word "EXIT," conspicuously placed over them, in plain letters six inches in size and shall conform to the requirements of section two of this Ordinance.

The aisles or passages in such halls shall at all times be kept unobstructed. Red lights shall be placed over each exit.

Sec. 8. Ventilator over stage.

All theatres or other places of public amusement having a seating capacity of over five hundred persons, shall have a ventilator over the stage, and using drop curtains or shifting scenery, shall have a suitable ventilator in connection with the main floor. The space above the stage. Such ventilators shall be arranged with valves, or shutters, or that the same can be readily opened automatically in case of fire, and shall be so constructed that it will pass over the stage and outward through such ventilator, and shall be equal in area to one tenth of the stage.

All such buildings shall have a water stand-pipe and water plug; to be placed on the stage or platform, or in its immediate vicinity, and shall be connected with the pipes or street mains of the city water works system, and shall be put in under the direction and to the satisfaction of the Chief of the Fire Department.

Sec. 9. Hose Attached to standpipe.

Hose shall be attached to such standpipe, of such size as may be directed by said Chief, and shall have nozzle and hose attached to such hose shall be of sufficient length to extend to the farthest limits of such building or place of amusement and shall at all times be ready for use and repair, and ready for immediate use.

Sec. 10. Other standpipes required.

All public halls, with accommodations for five hundred or more persons, shall have at least one standpipe in the street or alley if the outside of the building from ground to roof, with hose attachments, close to a window, which shall be of sufficient length to extend to the farthest limits of such building.

Sec. 11. Fire alarm box.

Such hall shall also be provided with a fire alarm telegraph apparatus, connected by the necessary wires to headquarters of the city fire alarm telegraph, or such other place or places as the Chief of the Fire Department shall direct.

Sec. 12. Fire extinguishing apparatus required.

It shall be the duty of all owners, agents, lessees and occupants of such public hall to provide such fire extinguishing apparatus at such points about the buildings as the Chief of the Fire Department shall direct.

Sec. 13. Shall employ firemen.

Such hall shall be provided with a fire alarm telegraph apparatus, connected by the necessary wires to headquarters of the city fire alarm telegraph, or such other place or places as the Chief of the Fire Department shall direct.

Sec. 14. Fire proof curtain.

Every public hall having a stage, with movable scenery, and drop curtains; shall be equipped with a No. 1 fire proof asbestos curtain.

Sec. 15. Automatic Sprinkler.

It shall be the duty of the owner, agent, lessee, or occupant of such theatre with accommodations for one thousand or more people to install, under the direction and supervision of the Chief of the Fire Department, an automatic or dry sprinkler system over the stage, the same to be satisfactory to said Chief.

Sec. 17. Penalty—A violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars or more than one hundred dollars for each offense, and the offender to be liable to a civil action for the purpose to remedy the same, shall be held to be a separate and distinct offense.

Passed January 18th 1904.
Approved: THOMAS M. SCHMIDT, Mayor.
